Given 2023 rate base and earnings in IL will be under the sunsetting formula rates law, we continue to assume rate base growth in 2023 vs 2022 (~$1B). However, we then reduce ComEd rate base in 2024-26 to keep flattish with YE22.

Under the scenario, a CAGR could be ~5% before any capex redeployment outside IL. If much of the $2.0-2.5B/yr of capex proposed in ComEd's 2024-26 plan goes to other jurisdictions, we think EXC can maintain its 6-8%.

Opportunities outside of current plan. EXC has pointed to transmission capex upside mostly outside of its 2023-26 capital plan. But some of the $800-900M Brandon Shores transmission project could be added to 2025-26. The numbers above do not include that upside. Every $100M is ~$0.01 EPS.

Company Description

Chicago-based EXC is a large T&D (wires-only) regulated utility company, providing mostly electric service to roughly 10 million customers in the Mid-Atlantic and northern IL. It has no coal or other generation. ComEd serves northern IL and is EXC's largest utility sub, representing ~40% of rate base. Pepco serves DC, DE, MD and southern NJ and represents 25% of rate base. PECO, which serves southeastern PA, and BGE, which serves Baltimore, each represent nearly 20% of rate base. A little over 90% of EXC's total rate base is electric, with the rest gas LDC.

Investment Thesis

We believe EXC is a low-risk utility stock with an above average EPS growth target. It is a mostly electric T&D utility with no coal, constructive regulation in most of its jurisdictions, flexible B/S, and LT EPS growth of 6-8%.

Valuation

Our $41 PT is based on our utility group average P/E on 2025E. Risks are less capex, lower returns, less cash or more equity needs, and unfavorable regulatory outcomes.

Bottom Line:

Today the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) issued decisions in the inaugural electric MYRPs for EXC and AEE in IL. The decisions were worse than feared as the ICC outright denied both companies' grid plan filings and adopted some of the lowest ROEs in the US. In rejecting both utilities' grid filings, the ICC cited a lack of transparency in the workshop process for the grid plan that was expected following approval of the order and insufficient information to effectively perform required cost-benefit analysis and appropriate equality considerations associated with the 2021 Climate and Equitable Jobs Act (CEJA) legislation amongst other factors. This ultimately led the commission to conclude that as filed the plans did not satisfy the requirements of CEJA. However, notably absent from the decision was an explicit disallowance of any discrete capital spending.

Key Points

While the grid plans were rejected as filed, the companies were directed to refile their plans in compliance with the requirements outlined in the CEJA within 90 days. It is our understanding that once a grid plan is ultimately approved, the revenue requirements and rate base test years from the orders will be updated to reflect the compliant grid plan.

Now the really bad news... While the commission's rejection of the grid plan removed any near-term certainty on both utilities 2024-2027 revenue requirements and rate bases, the one thing that was clear was the punitive authorized ROEs of 8.905% for EXC and 8.72% for AEE. Even though we believe most investors' expectations were significantly dampened by the mid-November final orders in the Illinois gas utility rate cases, from our conversations investor outlooks had coalesced around the 9.3-9.4% levels. Which, given the sensitivity of ~$0.04 of EPS per every 50bps change in ROE for both companies, in our opinion could have resulted in a derisking event given the modest impact relative to a ~9.5% US average ROE. Regarding the equity layer, the commission authorized a 50% (pre-goodwill) and consistent with the proposed orders did not approve a return on the pension assets.

As discussed more inside, taking all of this into account we expect a disproportionate effect on 2024 earnings for each company given the lower initial level of approved rate base combined with the reduction in ROE. In both of our previous forecasts for EXC and AEE, we had assumed a ~9.7% awarded ROE. As we describe above, although 2024 earnings may reflect the lower level of approved rate base, we expect a normalization with the ultimate approval of the capital plan. Specifically, until we receive more clarity from the company's revised grid plans in 2024, our revised forecasts reflect the base, non-MYRP upside, capital plans as presented by both companies in their 4Q22 outlooks as our base case capital plan. Inside we present the assumptions behind our estimate changes for each company based on our current understating of today's orders.

Following today's significant ~690bps relative underperformance, even on our downwardly adjusted estimates we see AEE trading in-line with the broader group and EXC trading at ~5.5% discount before considering any potential mitigation efforts. Maintain Outperform ratings; AEE and EXC targets to $81 and $40, respectively.

IL-Communication – Time to Root Down

Bottom Line: Today the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) issued decisions in the inaugural electric MYRPs for EXC and AEE in IL. The decisions were worse than feared as the ICC outright denied both companies' grid plan filings and adopted some of the lowest ROEs in the US. In rejecting both utilities' grid filings, the ICC cited a lack of transparency in the workshop process for the grid plan that was expected following approval of the order and insufficient information to effectively perform required cost-benefit analysis and appropriate equality considerations associated with the 2021 Climate and Equitable Jobs Act (CEJA) legislation amongst other factors. This ultimately led the commission to conclude that as filed the plans did not satisfy the requirements of CEJA. However, notably absent from the decision was an explicit disallowance of any discrete capital spending.

While the grid plans were rejected as filed, the companies were directed to refile their plans in compliance with the requirements outlined in the CEJA within 90 days. It is our understanding that once a grid plan is ultimately approved, the revenue requirements and rate base test years from the orders will be updated to reflect the compliant grid plan. In this regard, we see today's decision on the company's initial multi-year rate plans as more representative of receiving an incomplete on a test rather than a failing grade. And in fact, in our review of the record we see broad stakeholder alignment on the proposed capital plans aligning with the legislation and following a remediation of the identified deficiencies in the plans we continue to believe a constructive level of capital deployment will ultimately be approved. However, without an approved grid plan, the commission reverted to an alternate method of establishing rate base and revenue requirements. For rate base, they chose to use the last approved rate base numbers for each company as filed in their 2022 year-end reconciliations. In the absence of any approved capital deployment the rate base levels were relatively unchanged at ~$13.76bn for EXC and ~$3.87bn for AEE. The revenue requirements included updates for certain known expenses. As filed, the order provides for a cumulative increase of $506mm for EXC compared to their updated request of ~$1.5bn and ~$58mm for AEE versus their $448mm request.

Now the really bad news… While the commission's rejection of the grid plan removed any near-term certainty on both utilities 2024-2027 revenue requirements and rate bases, the one thing that was clear was the punitive authorized ROEs of 8.905% for EXC and 8.72% for AEE. As discussed more below, taking all of this into account we expect a disproportionate effect on 2024 earnings for each company given the lower initial level of approved rate base combined with the reduction in ROE. In both of our previous forecasts for EXC and AEE, we had assumed a ~9.7% awarded ROE. As we describe above, although 2024 earnings may reflect the lower level of approved rate base, we expect a normalization with the ultimate approval of the capital plan. Specifically, until we receive more clarity from the company's revised grid plans in 2024, our revised forecasts reflect the base, non-MYRP upside, capital plans as presented by both companies in their 4Q22 outlooks as our base case capital plan. Below we present the assumptions behind our estimate changes for each company based on our current understating of today's orders.

Exelon Updates for Both IL & MD Final Orders

For EXC, we are lowering our initial base case 2024 and 2025 EPS estimates to $2.37 and $2.66 from $2.50 and $2.72, respectively. As presented in Exhibit 1 below, the ~80bps reduction in the authorized ROE contributes ~$0.06-0.07 of EPS headwind while the lower approved rate base level creates a ~$0.07 hurdle relative to our previous forecast. Furthermore, based on stakeholder support for the capital as proposed in the plan we continue to model a level of rate base growth consistent with the current base capital plan management outlined on their 4Q22 call. Thus, although 2024 approved rate base is likely to remain unchanged until the grid plan is approved, assuming the final approval occurs at some point in 2024 our modeled 2025 weighted average rate base is largely unchanged reflecting the capital spent in 2023 and in our opinion likely to be spent in 2024 and 2025. While some many argue that at a sub 9% ROE the company will likely not make the same level of investments that it outlined in its 4Q22 presentation, given its past history as precedent when under IL's formula rate construct the company earned ROEs in a similar range (and sometimes below), we believe the company's distribution capital plan is likely to remain in the ~$2bn range with potential upside from additional transmission opportunities. Thus, more than half of our current 2024 EPS impact is effectively a timing-related impact and when the company begins to collect the revenue requirements under its revised grid plan it should help mitigate the ultimate impact in 2025 to ~$0.06.

*2026 Based on Consensus EPS

Source: BMO Capital Markets, Company Reports, FactSet

Furthermore, using 2026 consensus as a starting point we see the implied ~$0.07 reduction from the lower ROE yielding an illustrative 2026 EPS of $2.83. Importantly, this would still imply 2022-2026 EPS growth of 6%, which is within the company's current stated 6-8% EPS CAGR, albeit towards the low end.

We also note that our estimates assume the impact of the lower ROE is left unmitigated. Aside from traditional cost management efforts, we would highlight that the company sees additional investment opportunities including those referenced above within their transmission business that could help smooth a lower capital investment program on the distribution side. We await further guidance from management on their year-end call when they roll forward their 4-year capital plan.

Mind the Credit Gap

While most investors' primary attention will be on the EPS impacts to 2024-2026 related to the lower ROE and initial rate base in 2024, we would also highlight that until we have additional clarity on the company's revised grid plan in support of the 2021 Climate and Equitable Jobs Act (CEJA) and the associated revenue requirements, there could be at least a temporary impact to ComEd's funds from operations (FFO) that lowers consolidated FFO as well. Using our current base case impact to 2025 of ~$0.06/share, we see roughly a $70-80mm impact to operating cash flow. Assuming the company continues to target a cushion of 100-200bps above its current downgrade threshold of 12% (CFO Pre-WC / Debt) on average though 2026, at the lower end of its 13-14% outlook we could see the need for an additional $550-600mm of incremental equity needs or ~1.5% of potential dilution. While we have not incorporated an additional equity in our current forecast pending the final resolution to the company's IL MYRP later in 2024, we will be watching closely the rating agencies response to today's order including any change in business risk. As a reminder the parent (EXC) has a Baa2/Stable outlook at Moody's and BBB+/Positive outlook currently at Standard & Poor's. Similarly, ComEd is rated A2/Stable at Moody's and A-/Stable outlook at Standard & Poor's.

Lowering Our Target Price to Reflect The Increased Uncertainty in the Illinois Regulatory Construct

Given the significantly lower-than-expected ROE, especially relative to national averages of ~9.5%, and the uncertainty of the final financial impact of the ICC's order in the company's inaugural MYRP proceeding, we believe investors will likely place a significant discount on ComEd's forward earnings in their sum-of-the-parts valuations. As such we have moved our 2025 multiple for ComEd's distribution earnings to a 15% discount or 12.8x relative to our mark-to-market, peer average electric multiple of 15.1x. Despite the nearly 5% absolute upside move in the utility sector since we last marked our EXC target price to market, today we are lowering our target price to $40 or nearly 10% below our previous $44 price objective. However, even with this our lower base case EPS outlook and lower implied consolidated trading multiple (in line with the average utility due primarily to the premiums we ascribe to transmission and PECO), we still see a 10% total return in EXC shares and maintain our Outperform rating.

Maryland Rate Case – Better Than Feared

The company also received final orders in their BG&E rate cases in MD. Overall, we believe the final orders in the company's BG&E electric and gas case were largely better than feared with only a modest reduction in rate relief versus staff's June position and an in-line/unchanged ROE and equity layer of 9.5% and 52%.

On the electric side, the company's 2024-2026 MYP will include ~$179mm in cumulative rate relief or about 57% of the company's mitigated request of $313mm and staff's June recommendation of $193mm (~93%). This includes increases of $93mm, $61mm and $25mm in 2024-2026 based on an adjusted rate base of $4.790mm, $5,025mm and $5,197mm, respectively. Total rate base disallowances were a modest $110mm. Of note, the Commission found BGE's proposed PIM program would not likely to lead to reasonable rates and was denied.

On the gas side, the company's 2024-2026 MYP will induce ~$229mm in cumulative rate relief or about 79% of the company's mitigated request of $289mm and staff's June recommendation of $232mm (~99%). This includes increase of $148mm, $41mm and $41mm in 2024-2026 based on an adjusted rate base of $3,241mm, $3,517mm and $3,801mm, respectively. Total rate base disallowances were slightly higher at 6% or $208mm with ~$121mm of this in 2026 related to its STRIDE investments, gas meter conversion costs and leak prone pipes program.

Ameren Updates for IL Final Order

Similar to EXC above, we see the same moving parts with AEE. Accordingly, we are lowering our initial base case 2024 and 2025 EPS estimates to $4.48 and $4.93 from $4.69 and $5.02, respectively. As presented in Exhibit 2 below, the ~100bps reduction in the authorized ROE contributes ~$0.08-0.09 of EPS headwind while the lower approved rate base level creates a ~$0.13 relative to our previous forecast. Furthermore, based on stakeholder support for the capital as proposed in the plan we continue to model a level of rate base growth consistent with the current base capital plan management outlined on their 4Q22 call. Thus, although 2024 approved rate base is likely to remain unchanged until the grid plan is approved, assuming the final approval occurs at some point in 2024 our modeled 2025 weighted average rate base is largely unchanged reflecting the capital spent in 2023 and in our opinion likely to be spent in 2024 and 2025. While some many argue that at a sub 9% ROE that the company will likely not make the same level of investments that it outlined in its 4Q22 presentation, given its past history as precedent when under IL's formula rate construct the company earned ROEs in a similar range (and sometimes below), we believe the company's distribution capital plan is likely to remain in the ~$650-750mm range. Thus, more than half of our current 2024 EPS impact is effectively a timing-related impact that as the company begins to collect the revenue requirements under its revised grid plan should help mitigate the ultimate impact in 2025 to ~$0.09.

We also note that our estimates assume the impact of the lower ROE is left unmitigated. Aside from traditional cost management efforts, we would highlight that the company already has a $48bn+ pipeline of investment opportunities with additional upside drivers from generation modernization. Furthermore, the company has a strong track record of successfully managing capital between their jurisdictions (i.e. before MO passed PISA legislation). We await further guidance from management on their year-end call when they roll forward their 5-year capital plan.

Given the significantly lower-than-expected ROE, especially relative to national averages of ~9.5%, and the uncertainty of the final financial impact of the ICC's order in the company's inaugural MYRP proceeding and recent modestly disappointing gas order, we believe investors will likely place a significant discount on AEE IL's forward earnings in their sum-of-the-parts valuations. However, we also note the company's IL subsidiary contains a significant portion of transmission spending that we still consider a ~25% premium business and largely offsets the electric distribution and gas LDC discounts. As such we have moved our 2025 multiple for AEE IL's earnings to a 5% discount or 14.3x relative to our mark-to-market, peer average electric multiple of 15.1x.

Despite the nearly 8% absolute upside move in the utility sector since we last marked our AEE price target to market, today we are lowering our target price to $81. However, even with this our lower base case EPS outlook and lower implied consolidated trading multiple (still a ~9% premium primarily due to the value we ascribe to transmission and MO), we still see a 11% total return in AEE shares and maintain our Outperform rating.

Methodology and Risks to Target Price/Valuation for Ameren Corporation (AEE-NYSE)

Methodology: Our target price is based on a sum-of-the-parts methodology. Our framework begins with the relevant sector average P/E multiple using 2025E EPS as a base which we then adjust (premium, discount, or no change) to reflect the relative fundamentals of that segment.

Risks: AEE's regulated profile exposes the company to business risk including but not limited to: federal and state regulatory risk, federal and state political risk, environmental policy, interest rate risk, access to capital markets, construction risk, changes in customer demand trends, changes in customer affordability, extreme weather, natural disaster, and equipment failure. Ameren Illinois formula rates also directly expose 20% of the company's consolidated rate base to fluctuations in the 30-year Treasury yield.

Methodology and Risks to Target Price/Valuation for Exelon (EXC-NSDQ)

Methodology: We value EXC using our sum-of-the-parts valuation analysis to derive our target price. Our valuation takes into account the quality of EXC's assets relative to its peers and the company's regulated business rate base growth and funding sources.

Risks: Adverse outcomes in the company's inaugural MYRP filing in IL, DE electric rate case and 2025 PECO electric GRC. Despite having nearly a 1% cushion over its 12% downgrade threshold, the ability to meet its stated credit metrics given adverse impacts from severe storms, fuel deferrals, and other unforeseen expenses.

Ratings Key (as of October 2016)

We use the following ratings system definitions:
OP = Outperform - Forecast to outperform the analyst's coverage universe on a total return basis;
Mkt = Market Perform - Forecast to perform roughly in line with the analyst's coverage universe on a total return basis;
Und = Underperform - Forecast to underperform the analyst's coverage universe on a total return basis;
(S) = Speculative investment;
Spd = Suspended - Coverage and rating suspended until coverage is reinstated;
NR = No Rated - No rating at this time; and
R = Restricted - Dissemination of research is currently restricted.

The total return potential, target price and the associated time horizon is 12 months unless otherwise stated in each report. BMO Capital Markets' seven Top 15 lists guide investors to our best ideas according to different objectives (CDN Large Cap, CDN Small Cap, US Large Cap, US Small Cap, Income, CDN Quant, and US Quant have replaced the Top Pick rating).

Additional Matters

This report is directed only at entities or persons in jurisdictions or countries where access to and use of the information is not contrary to local laws or regulations. Its contents have not been reviewed by any regulatory authority. BMO Capital Markets does not represent that this report may be lawfully distributed or that any financial products may be lawfully offered or dealt with, in compliance with regulatory requirements in other jurisdictions, or pursuant to an exemption available thereunder.

To Australian residents: BMO Capital Markets Limited and Bank of Montreal are exempt from the requirement to hold an Australian financial services licence under the Corporations Act in respect of financial services they provide to wholesale investors (as defined in the Corporations Act). BMO Capital Markets Limited is regulated by the UK Financial Conduct Authority under UK laws, and Bank of Montreal in Hong Kong is regulated by the Hong Kong Monetary Authority and the Securities and Futures Commission, which differ from Australia laws. This document is only intended for wholesale clients (as defined in the Corporations Act 2001), Eligible Counterparties or Professional Clients (as defined in Annex II to MiFID II) and Professional Investors (as defined in the Securities and Futures Ordinance and the Securities and Futures (Professional Investor) Rules under the Securities and Futures Ordinance of Hong Kong).

To Canadian Residents: BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc. furnishes this report to Canadian residents and accepts responsibility for the contents herein subject to the terms set out above. Any Canadian person wishing to effect transactions in any of the securities included in this report should do so through BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc.

The following applies if this research was prepared in whole or in part by Colin Hamilton, Alexander Pearce or Raj Ray:

This research is not prepared subject to Canadian disclosure requirements. This research is prepared by BMO Capital Markets Limited and distributed by BMO Capital Markets Limited or Bank of Montreal Europe Plc and is subject to the regulations of the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) in the United Kingdom and the Central Bank of Ireland (CBI) in Ireland. FCA and CBI regulations require that a firm providing research disclose its ownership interest in the issuer that is the subject of the research if it and its affiliates own 5% or more of the equity of the issuer. Canadian regulations require that a firm providing research disclose its ownership interest in the issuer that is the subject of the research if it and its affiliates own 1% or more of the equity of the issuer that is the subject of the research. Therefore each of BMO Capital Markets Limited and Bank of Montreal Europe Plc will disclose its and its affiliates' ownership interest in the subject issuer only if such ownership exceeds 5% of the equity of the issuer.

To E.U. Residents: In an E.U. Member State this document is issued and distributed by Bank of Montreal Europe plc which is authorised and regulated in Ireland and operates in the E.U. on a passported basis. This document is only intended for Eligible Counterparties or Professional Clients, as defined in Annex II to "Markets in Financial Instruments Directive" 2014/65/EU ("MiFID II").

To U.S. Residents: BMO Capital Markets Corp. furnishes this report to U.S. residents and accepts responsibility for the contents herein, except to the extent that it refers to securities of Bank of Montreal. Any U.S. person wishing to effect transactions in any security discussed herein should do so through BMO Capital Markets Corp.

To U.K. Residents: In the UK this document is published by BMO Capital Markets Limited which is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority. The contents hereof are intended solely for the use of, and may only be issued or passed on to, (I) persons who have professional experience in matters relating to investments falling within Article 19(5) of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Financial Promotion) Order 2005 (the "Order") or (II) high net worth entities falling within Article 49(2)(a) to (d) of the Order (all such persons together referred to as "relevant persons"). The contents hereof are not intended for the use of and may not be issued or passed on to retail clients.

To Hong Kong Residents: In Hong Kong, this report is published and distributed by Bank of Montreal. Bank of Montreal (incorporated in Canada with limited liability) is an authorized institution under the Banking Ordinance and a registered institution with the Securities and Futures Commission (CE No. AAK809) to carry on Type 1 (dealing in securities) and Type 4 (advising in securities) regulated activities under the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap 571 of the Laws of Hong Kong). This report has not been reviewed or approved by any regulatory authority in Hong Kong. Accordingly this report must not be issued, circulated or distributed in Hong Kong other than (a) to professional investors as defined in the Securities and Futures Ordinance and the Securities and Futures (Professional Investor) Rules under the Securities and Futures Ordinance of Hong Kong, or (b) in circumstances which do not result in or constitute an offer to the public in Hong Kong.

Price Target Change — December 14, 2023

Regulated Electric Utilities

Our Call

No mincing words. The ICC's orders on AEE's & EXC's MYRPs & grid plans were onerous and threaten the targeted EPS CAGRs. We reduce estimates and lower our PTs. We maintain our OW on AEE, but shares could be in the penalty box near term.

Grid Plan Rejection. The ICC rejected EXC's & AEE's electric distribution grid plans, citing among a litany of items, a lack of information and supporting data underlying the capital plans. The companies were given three months to re-file. We believe a large portion of EXC's & AEE's '24 IL electric distribution capex relates to the grid plans, so it will be interesting to see how much the companies scale back until clarity is achieved.

MYRP — Low, Low, Low ROEs. Maybe we should have seen this coming after the recent natural gas utility rate orders (9.4-9.5% ROEs vs. the ALJ rec. of ~9.8%). However, we view the clean energy transition as a priority in IL and thought the ICC was likely to adopt the ALJ rec. of 9.24% (AEE) & 9.28% (EXC). Not the case! Instead, the ICC approved low allowed ROEs of 8.72% (AEE) & 8.905% (EXC). These are among the lowest ROEs approved in '23 and are well below the national average of ~9.5%.

Our Thoughts. We now view IL as one of the worst regulatory jurisdictions in the U.S. (nipping at CT's heels). We think the totality of the recent orders suggest that the regulatory balancing act between customers and investors is currently heavily skewed toward customers. As a result, we wonder if AEE & EXC will allocate capital away from IL. Keep in mind, IL represents ~25% of both AEE's & EXC's total rate base.

AEE. We lower our 24-27E EPS to/from $4.50/$4.70, $4.85/$5.05, $5.15/$5.40 & $5.50/$5.70. The revised outlook results in a 6% CAGR, which is at the low end of the 6-8% guidance. We think there could be factors that mitigate the EPS impact (pull forward of capex and/or re-allocation of capital away from IL). We will likely have more clarity on the Q4 release (capex refresh, etc.). We lower our PT to $84 from $86 premised on a 0-5% P/E multiple premium to peers vs. a 10% premium previously.

EXC. We lower our 24-27E EPS to/from $2.43/$2.50, $2.65/$2.73, $2.81/$2.92 & $3.00/$3.11. The outlook results in a 6% CAGR, which is at the low end of the 6-8% guidance. Like AEE, there could be factors that mitigate the impact of the IL orders. Lastly, we lower our PT to $41 from $42 premised on a 5% P/E multiple discount to peers vs. an in-line multiple previously.

Our Overweight thesis reflects AEE's strong 5-yr annual EPS growth prospects of 6%, long runway of capital investment opportunities (including electric transmission projects in MISO) and management's strong financial track record.

Target Price Valuation for AEE: $84.00 from $86.00

Our $84 price target is based on (1) a P/E analysis ($82/sh) (75%)—apply a 0-5% premium to the '24 Regulated Electric median of ~16.5X on our 25E EPS of $4.85 and (2) a three-stage dividend discount analysis ($89/sh) (25%), which employs a ~8% discount rate.

Risks to Our Price Target and Rating for AEE

Risks include the potential failure to achieve earned returns near the utilities' allowed ROEs, regulatory-related risks, particuarly in IL, and the risk that upside capex opportunities do not materialize as expected.

Exelon Corporation (EXC)

Investment Thesis

Our Equal Weight rating reflects our view that the current share price adequately reflects EXC's risk/reward proposition. Positive attributes including a healthy projected EPS CAGR (7%) and wires-centric asset mix are balanced by modest balance sheet concerns and our view that the company's regulatory jurisdictions are average to below average.

Target Price Valuation for EXC: $41.00 from $42.00

Our $41 price target is based on a P/E multiple analysis. We apply a P/E of 15X to our 25E EPS of $2.65. Our multiple represents a 5% discount to the '24 Regulated Electric peer group median as we balance positive features (strong 7% EPS CAGR and predominantly electric wires strategy) with our perception that EXC's regulatory jurisdictions are average to below average. We apply the '24 median to our 25E EPS due to the forward-looking nature of our price target.

Risks to Our Price Target and Rating for EXC

Risks to our thesis include favorable/unfavorable regulatory developments (upside/downside) and greater-than-expected ESG appetite for a wires-centric company (upside).

Important Disclosure for U.S. Clients

This report was prepared by Wells Fargo Securities Global Research Department ("WFS Research") personnel associated with Wells Fargo Securities, LLC ("Wells Fargo Securities").

WFS Research may, from time to time, provide clients with short-term trading views in its research reports regarding subject companies on which Wells Fargo Securities currently has equity research coverage. A short-term trading view offers a view on how the market price of a subject company's common equity may trend in absolute terms during the 30 days following the date of the short-term trading view. A short-term trading view on a subject company's common equity does not impact our fundamental investment rating or price target for that company, which reflect our view of how the subject company's common equity may perform over a one-year period. A short-term trading view may reach a different conclusion than the firm's fundamental investment rating and price target for a subject company and, therefore, short-term trading views could result in short-term price movements that are contrary to our fundamental investment rating and price target. Short-term trading views are not ratings and the firm does not intend, nor undertakes any obligation, to maintain, update or close out short-term trading views. Short-term trading views may not be suitable for all investors and have not been tailored to individual investor circumstances and objectives, and investors should make their own independent decisions regarding any short-term trading views discussed in WFS Research reports.

Exelon Corporation

EXC's ComEd rate case ruled at 8.9% by ICC, grid plan rejected, to be refiled

NYSE: EXC | USD 37.90 | Sector Perform | Price Target USD 45.00

Sentiment: Negative

Our view: We believe the decision justifies our concerns of the increasingly negative regulatory environment EXC is operating in. The Illinois Commerce Committee's (ICC) 8.9% ROE announced today during their open meeting is significantly below EXC's previous ROE in Illinois, which was at 580 bps + the 30Y Treasury rate, implying around a 100-bp decline from this decision. We believe the increased scrutiny seen from the disallowances as well as the rejection of the grid plan shows the regulatory environment in Illinois has become significantly more unfavorable. We also note the additional headwind from the possibility of credit rating downgrades; Moody's has pointed to a negative outcome from pending general rate cases and an authorized ROE well below the industry norm could result in a negative action. While the written order has not yet been released, we would not expect a significant departure from the disappointing commentary provided by the ICC during today's meeting.

The ICC ruled on Commonwealth Edison's rate case at an 8.9% ROE, below EXC's request of 10.65% and the ALJ recommendation of 9.28%. In addition, we note that significant portions of their proposed rate base increases were disallowed, meaning the decision implies a lower rate base and a lower return on that base than expected. ComEd's grid plan was also rejected, with the Commission citing transparency and equity concerns. ComEd will now need to refile a new grid plan next year that addresses the concerns the Commission pointed to in their 4-1 denial decision. Further details will be provided when the written order is released.

Explanation of RBC Capital Markets Equity rating system

An analyst's 'sector' is the universe of companies for which the analyst provides research coverage. Accordingly, the rating assigned to a particular stock represents solely the analyst's view of how that stock will perform over the next 12 months relative to the analyst's sector average.
Ratings
Outperform (O): Expected to materially outperform sector average over 12 months.
Sector Perform (SP): Returns expected to be in line with sector average over 12 months.
Underperform (U): Returns expected to be materially below sector average over 12 months.
Restricted (R): RBC policy precludes certain types of communications, including an investment recommendation, when RBC is acting as an advisor in certain merger or other strategic transactions and in certain other circumstances.
Not Rated (NR): The rating, price targets and estimates have been removed due to applicable legal, regulatory or policy constraints which may include when RBC Capital Markets is acting in an advisory capacity involving the company.
Risk Rating
The Speculative risk rating reflects a security's lower level of financial or operating predictability, illiquid share trading volumes, high balance sheet leverage, or limited operating history that result in a higher expectation of financial and/or stock price volatility.

Distribution of ratings

For the purpose of ratings distributions, regulatory rules require member firms to assign ratings to one of three rating categories - Buy, Hold/Neutral, or Sell - regardless of a firm's own rating categories. Although RBC Capital Markets' ratings of Outperform (O), Sector Perform (SP), and Underperform (U) most closely correspond to Buy, Hold/Neutral and Sell, respectively, the meanings are not the same because our ratings are determined on a relative basis.

Exelon Corporation

Valuation

Our $45 price target assumes a 16.7x P/E multiple on 2025E utilities EPS of $2.75. Our multiple reflects a slight 3% discount to our base case blended electric and gas multiple of 18.6x. While we believe Exelon utilities have a similar profile to industry peers (6–8% EPS CAGR and 7–8% rate base CAGR), we give consideration for some regulatory overhang and lower ROE at ComEd. Our price target supports a Sector Perform rating.

Risks to rating and price target

- Stagnant ROE performance at ComEd
- Credit metrics deteriorate due to significant borrowings
- Inflation drives up O&M costs
- Corporate minium taxes become a drag on cash
- Approval of upcoming multi-year plans at favorable levels

Negative Rate Case Outcome - Rating and PT Under Review

What Happened?

The Illinois Commerce Commission issued it's ruling in Exelon's ComEd multi-year rate plan filing today. The ICC deemed ComEd's grid plan deficient under what is called for in the Climate and Equitable Jobs Act and rejected it, requesting the company to refile within three months. While the capex and rebase numbers will have to determined in the subsequent refile the commission authorized a ROE of 8.95% and an equity ratio of 50%.

What's Our Take?

The actions taken by the ICC today call into question, in our view, the regulatory backdrop in which EXC operates. We are reviewing our earnings and valuation for EXC given the development. The stock is reacting to a well below average ROE and the lack of knowing what the amount of capex and rate base will be over the next four years. As a sensitivity, every 50bps of ROE is worth ~$0.04/shr and every $100mm of rate base is worth $0.01/shr.

What's Next?

The company will need to refile the grid plan with the next three months. Exelon is also awaiting a final decision in it's BG&E case today in Maryland.

Valuation:

We have placed our rating and price target under review.

Company Description

Exelon owns six regulated utility subsidiaries: Atlantic City Electric, BGE, ComEd, Delmarva Power, PECO and the Pepco Subsidiaries, which deliver electricity and natural gas to about 10m customers in Delaware, Washington DC, Illinois, Maryland, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania.

Valuation Method and Risk Statement

Our valuation methodology for the group is price to earnings based. The adjustments applied fall into 5 categories. These are as follows: 1) Group Valuation Bias: Flowing from our valuation work comparing Baa corporate yields to group dividend yields and RU price to earnings ratios to those for the S&P 500, we incorporate a positive or negative adjustment to our group multiple representing the gap we calculate to the nearest 5%; 2) Growth Adjustment: We adjust our valuations based on the growth quartile each utility occupies. First quartile receives a 5% premium, second quartile a 2% premium, third quartile a 2% discount and fourth quartile a 5% discount; 3) Regulatory Adjustment: Our valuation adjustments for regulation are based on our proprietary Regulatory Rankings. First quartile jurisdictions receive 5%, second quartile 2%, third quartile -2% and fourth quartile -5%; 5) Multi Utility Diversified Valuation: For multi utilities (those with more than 15% diversified or foreign earnings), we perform a sum-of-parts analysis applying business/region appropriate valuations to those diversified businesses; 6) One-off Adjustments: In special situations, we value risk on an issue specific basis. Common areas where we apply such an adjustment include: ESG advantage, large project construction risk, legal risk, and announced M&A completion risk.

We have placed our rating and price target under review. Our Price Target of $47 premised on a 6% premium to the group multiple or 17.0x our $2.77/share earnings forecast for 2025.

Specific risks for Exelon include regulatory risks at the utilities, weather, and interest rates.

KEY DEFINITIONS: Forecast Stock Return (FSR) is defined as expected percentage price appreciation plus gross dividend yield over the next 12 months. In some cases, this yield may be based on accrued dividends. Market Return Assumption (MRA) is defined as the one-year local market interest rate plus 5% (a proxy for, and not a forecast of, the equity risk premium). Under Review (UR) Stocks may be flagged as UR by the analyst, indicating that the stock's price target and/or rating are subject to possible change in the near term, usually in response to an event that may affect the investment case or valuation. Short-Term Ratings reflect the expected near-term (up to three months) performance of the stock and do not reflect any change in the fundamental view or investment case. Equity Price Targets have an investment horizon of 12 months.

EXCEPTIONS AND SPECIAL CASES: UK and European Investment Fund ratings and definitions are: Buy: Positive on factors such as structure, management, performance record, discount; Neutral: Neutral on factors such as structure, management, performance record, discount; Sell: Negative on factors such as structure, management, performance record, discount. Core Banding Exceptions (CBE): Exceptions to the standard +/-6% bands may be granted by the Investment Review Committee (IRC). Factors considered by the IRC include the stock's volatility and the credit spread of the respective company's debt. As a result, stocks deemed to be very high or low risk may be subject to higher or lower bands as they relate to the rating. When such exceptions apply, they will be identified in the Company Disclosures table in the relevant research piece.

This document is a general communication and is educational in nature; it is not an advertisement nor is it a solicitation or an offer to buy or sell any financial instruments or to participate in any particular trading strategy. Nothing in this document constitutes a representation that any investment strategy or recommendation is suitable or appropriate to an investor's individual circumstances or otherwise constitutes a personal recommendation. By providing this document, none of UBS or its representatives has any responsibility or authority to provide or have provided investment advice in a fiduciary capacity or otherwise. Investments involve risks, and investors should exercise prudence and their own judgment in making their investment decisions. None of UBS or its representatives is suggesting that the recipient or any other person take a specific course of action or any action at all. The recipient should carefully read this document in its entirety and not draw inferences or conclusions from the rating alone. By receiving this document, the recipient acknowledges and agrees with the intended purpose described above and further disclaims any expectation or belief that the information constitutes investment advice to the recipient or otherwise purports to meet the investment objectives of the recipient. The financial instruments described in the document may not be eligible for sale in all jurisdictions or to certain categories of investors.

Options, structured derivative products and futures (including OTC derivatives) are not suitable for all investors. Trading in these instruments is considered risky and may be appropriate only for sophisticated investors. Prior to buying or selling an option, and for the complete risks relating to options, you must receive a copy of "The Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options." You may read the document at https://www.theocc.com/publications/risks/riskchap1.jsp or ask your salesperson for a copy. Various theoretical explanations of the risks associated with these instruments have been published. Supporting documentation for any claims, comparisons, recommendations, statistics or other technical data will be supplied upon request. Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future results. Transaction costs may be significant in option strategies calling for multiple purchases and sales of options, such as spreads and straddles. Because of the importance of tax considerations to many options transactions, the investor considering options should consult with his/her tax advisor as to how taxes affect the outcome of contemplated options transactions.

Mortgage and asset-backed securities may involve a high degree of risk and may be highly volatile in response to fluctuations in interest rates or other market conditions. Foreign currency rates of exchange may adversely affect the value, price or income of any security or related instrument referred to in the document. For investment advice, trade execution or other enquiries, clients should contact their local sales representative.

The value of any investment or income may go down as well as up, and investors may not get back the full (or any) amount invested. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. UBS has policies and procedures, which include, without limitation, independence policies and permanent information barriers, that are intended, and upon which UBS relies, to manage potential conflicts of interest and control the flow of information within divisions of UBS and among its subsidiaries, branches and affiliates. For further information on the ways in which UBS Global Research manages conflicts and maintains independence of its research products, historical performance information and certain additional disclosures concerning UBS Global Research recommendations, please visit https://www.ubs.com/disclosures.

UBS Global Research will initiate, update and cease coverage solely at the discretion of UBS Global Research Management, which will also have sole discretion on the timing and frequency of any published research product. The analysis contained in this document is based on numerous assumptions. All material information in relation to published research reports, such as valuation methodology, risk statements, underlying assumptions (including sensitivity analysis of those assumptions), ratings history etc. as required by the Market Abuse Regulation, can be found on UBS Neo. Different assumptions could result in materially different results.

The analyst(s) responsible for the preparation of this document may interact with trading desk personnel, sales personnel and other parties for the purpose of gathering, applying and interpreting market information. UBS relies on information barriers to control the flow of information contained in one or more areas within UBS into other areas, units, groups or affiliates of UBS. The compensation of the analyst who prepared this document is determined exclusively by UBS Global Research management and senior management (not including investment banking). Analyst compensation is not based on investment banking revenues; however, compensation may relate to the revenues of UBS and/or its divisions as a whole, of which investment banking, sales and trading are a part, and UBS as a whole.

For financial instruments admitted to trading on an EU regulated market: UBS (excluding UBS Securities LLC) acts as a market maker or liquidity provider (in accordance with the interpretation of these terms under English law or, if not carried out by UBS in the UK the law of the relevant jurisdiction in which UBS determines it carries out the activity) in the financial instruments of the issuer save that where the activity of liquidity provider is carried out in accordance with the definition given to it by the laws and regulations of any other EU jurisdictions, such information is separately disclosed in this document. For financial instruments admitted to trading on a non-EU regulated market: UBS may act as a market maker save that where this activity is carried out in the US in accordance with the definition given to it by the relevant laws and regulations, such activity will be specifically disclosed in this document. UBS may have issued a warrant the value of which is based on one or more of the financial instruments referred to in the document. UBS and its affiliates and employees may have long or short positions, trade as principal and buy and sell in instruments or derivatives identified herein; such transactions or positions may be inconsistent with the opinions expressed in this document.

Within the past 12 months UBS may have received or provided investment services and activities or ancillary services as per MiFID II which may have given rise to a payment or promise of a payment in relation to these services from or to this company.

Options and futures are not suitable for all investors, and trading in these instruments is considered risky and may be appropriate only for sophisticated investors. Prior to buying or selling an option, and for the complete risks relating to options, you must receive a copy of "Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options". You may read the document at https://www.theocc.com/about/publications/character-risks.jsp or ask your financial advisor for a copy.

Investing in structured investments involves significant risks. For a detailed discussion of the risks involved in investing in any particular structured investment, you must read the relevant offering materials for that investment. Structured investments are unsecured obligations of a particular issuer with returns linked to the performance of an underlying asset. Depending on the terms of the investment, investors could lose all or a substantial portion of their investment based on the performance of the underlying asset. Investors could also lose their entire investment if the issuer becomes insolvent. UBS does not guarantee in any way the obligations or the financial condition of any issuer or the accuracy of any financial information provided by any issuer. Structured investments are not traditional investments and investing in a structured investment is not equivalent to investing directly in the underlying asset. Structured investments may have limited or no liquidity, and investors should be prepared to hold their investment to maturity. The return of structured investments may be limited by a maximum gain, participation rate or other feature. Structured investments may include call features and, if a structured investment is called early, investors would not earn any further return and may not be able to reinvest in similar investments with similar terms. Structured investments include costs and fees which are generally embedded in the price of the investment. The tax treatment of a structured investment may be complex and may differ from a direct investment in the underlying asset. UBS and its employees do not provide tax advice. Investors should consult their own tax advisor about their own tax situation before investing in any securities.

Important Information About Sustainable Investing Strategies: Sustainable investing strategies aim to consider and incorporate environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors into investment process and portfolio construction. Strategies across geographies approach ESG analysis and incorporate the findings in a variety of ways. Incorporating ESG factors or Sustainable Investing considerations may inhibit the portfolio manager's ability to participate in certain investment opportunities that otherwise would be consistent with its investment objective and other principal investment strategies. The returns on a portfolio incorporating ESG factors or Sustainable Investing considerations may be lower or higher than portfolios where ESG factors, exclusions, or other sustainability issues are not considered by the portfolio manager, and the investment opportunities available to such portfolios may differ.

Within the past 12 months UBS Switzerland AG, its affiliates or subsidiaries may have received or provided investment services and activities or ancillary services as per MiFID II which may have given rise to a payment or promise of a payment in relation to these services from or to this company.

Energy: Electric Utilities

Midweek Thoughts — CNP, EXC, D, FE, NEE, WEC, SO, AGR

Sophie Karp / (917) 368-2361 / sophie.karp@key.com
Sangita Jain, CFA / (917) 368-2354 / sangita.jain@key.com
Madison Lehan / (917) 368-2293 / madison.lehan@key.com

This week, CNP files an electric rate case in IN; EXC files the settlement details in its DE electric rate case; VA ALJ recommends the SCC deny D's VA IRP; PJM awards $5B of transmission projects as part of its RTEP W3 process; Cardinal-Hickory Creek transmission line owners announce the energization of the eastern portion of the line; SO announces Chris Womack as the executive chairman of the board; AGR begins rolling out smart meters for NY State customers; and EIA releases its December Short-Term Energy Outlook.

Industry News and News from Companies in Our Coverage

CNP — CNP files IN electric rate case: CNP's subsidiary, Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Co. filed an electric rate case (Docket: 45990) with the IN URC. CNP seeks a $119M revenue increase over three phases, premised on a 10.4% ROE and 46.95% equity layer. The three-phase rate increase would implement a $42M revenue increase in October 2024, or shortly after a final order, with incremental increases of $25M (47.44% equity) and $52M (48.29% equity) in 2025 and 2026, respectively. CNP filed the rate case due to the infrastructure investments it has made and expects to make in the future and the recovery of higher operating costs. CNP was also required to file a GRC before its 2017-2023 TDSIC Plan expires at the end of 2023. CNP expects an IN URC final order by October 2, 2024. CNP was authorized a $29M increase, premised on a 10.4% ROE and 43.46% equity in its last rate case filed in 2011.

EXC — EXC files settlement in DE electric rate case: EXC reached a comprehensive settlement with the DE DPA and several other intervenors, agreeing to a $42M (net $28M) revenue increase, premised on a 9.6% ROE and 50.5% equity. The parties also agreed to a significant storm expense rider, allowing EXC to recover costs for any storm that results in more than $5M of expenses. For storms that cause expenses between $5M-$15M, EXC can defer the expenses and recover them over 24 months. For storms exceeding $15M in expenses, EXC will earn a return at the long-term cost of debt and recover the costs over a period determined on a case-by-case basis. The settlement compares to EXC's initial request of $72M (net $58M), premised on a 10.5% ROE and 50.5% equity. The DE PSC Staff has not agreed to any of the settlements, which recommended a $36M revenue increase, premised on a 9.38% ROE and 50.5% equity. The net amount excludes $14M for the DSIC rider. The procedural schedule has no upcoming dates, although an ALJ proposed decision is likely in the forthcoming weeks. A PSC final order is expected in April 2024. Interim rates of $56M went into effect in mid-July.

D — ALJ recommends the SCC deny D's VA IRP: The ALJ recommended the SCC find that D's IRP was not reasonable given its short-term action plan calling for 970 MW of natural gas by 2028, and does not fully consider all in-state and regional resources as alternatives. The ALJ does not believe D should be required to file a new IRP but recommended the Company hire a third party to conduct a load-forecast analysis and verify D's projected forecasted load growth prior to its next IRP filing. D should also include a scenario analysis that models D's participation and exit of the RGGI. Comments are due by December 29 and an SCC order is expected in the near term. As a reminder, D filed rebuttal testimony noting that it incorporated PJM's load forecast into its data center forecast and defended the credibility of its forecasts since they incorporate EE and DR programs and use county-by-county load forecasts based on customer commitments. The 2023 IRP covers the 15-year period starting in 2024-2038 using 2023 as the base year. The 25-year planning period extends to 2048. The plan considers PJM-projected annual peak and energy load growth of 5% and 7% over the next decade, respectively, driven by data centers and less so by electrification trends. D is projecting the addition of ~20 GW of resources in the 15-year period and ~32 GW (net of retirements) in the 25-year period. We wrote on D's initial IRP filing here.

D, EXC, FE, NEE, PEG — PJM awards $5B of transmission projects: PJM awarded ~$5B of transmission projects across its service territory as part of its Regional Transmission Expansion Planning Window 3 process. The RTO requested proposals to help meet forecasted electricity demand growth, generation retirements, and future capacity needs. PJM expects ~7,500 MW of increased demand from new data centers and 11,000 MW of generation retirement. PJM received 72 proposals and prioritized projects that could meet system needs by 2028.

- FE: PJM awarded FE's Potomac Edison and Mid-Atlantic Interstate Transmission (MAIT) three transmission projects. The projects include an upgrade to an existing 24-mile transmission line from Adamas County, PA, to Carroll County; an upgrade to a transmission line in Frederick County and Montgomery County; and an upgrade to a 36-mile transmission line in VA and WW. The awards are for ~$135M, $235M, and $392M, respectively.

- NEE: PJM selected NEE's subsidiary NextEra Energy Transmission Mid-Atlantic to build the Mid-Atlantic Resilience Link, a new ~130-mile, 500kV transmission line and a new substation. NEE will finance, develop, own, construct, operate, and maintain the project.

WEC — Owners energize the eastern portion of the Cardinal-Hickory Creek transmission line: The co-owners of the 100-mile, 345-kV Cardinal-Hickory Creek transmission line announced that the eastern half has been energized and is operational. The eastern half covers the portion from the Hill Valley Substation to the Cardinal Substation and was built and is operated by ATC. The western portion has ~1.5 miles left of construction to complete. The owners expect the entire project to be completed and in service by June 2024. Litigation in federal courts delayed the line's construction and caused several delays to the timeline. The project is being developed jointly by WEC's subsidiary ATC, ITC Midwest, and Dairyland Power Cooperative. When complete, the transmission line will be entered into MISO and help supply renewable resources to the region.

SO — Chris Womack announced as Tom Fanning's replacement as executive chairman: SO announced that Chris Womack will replace Tom Fanning as executive chairman of the board of directors effective at the end of the year. Mr. Fanning joined SO in 1980 and served as CEO from 2010 until earlier this year. In April, Chris Womack also replaced Mr. Fanning as SO's CEO and president. Mr. Womack has been with SO since 1988. We view the announcement as the final transition, as Tom Fanning will no longer have an official post at SO.

AGR — AGR rolls out smart meters in NY: AGR announced that NYSEG and RG&E have installed ~250,000 meters in upstate NY. The installations are part of a larger plan to install 1.3M electric smart meters and 600,000 natural gas modules for NY customers. The meters enable NYSEG and RG&E to transmit usage and meter status data to bill customers on actual usage. Other benefits include a reduction in on-site visits and quicker response to outages.

EIA's December Short-Term Energy Outlook: Renewables continue to increase share, with expectations of solar and wind contributing more generation than coal in 2024, marking the first occurrence. Driven by an increase in solar generation of 23GW and 37GW of new capacity in 2023 and 2024, respectively, solar and wind are expected to contribute 5.5% and 11.2% in 2024, respectively, up from 4.1% and 10.7% in 2023, respectively. This compares to the forecast for coal to contribute 14.6% in 2024, down from 16.6% in 2023. In addition to the more significant contribution from renewables, an increase in natural gas generation is driving the decline in coal. Natural gas prices are expected to be lower, averaging $2.80/MMBtu during the 2023-2024 winter season, down ~$0.60 from the $3.40/MMBtu November forecast. The lower prices reflect a warmer-than-average start to winter and high natural gas production. Natural gas storage inventories are higher than average and are forecasted to end the winter 22% above the five-year average. Natural gas prices are expected to average $2.79/MMBtu for all of 2024, down from prior estimates of $3.25/MMBtu. As a result, electricity prices are expected to average $12.65/MWh for all of 2024, relatively flat from 2023, or $12.64/MWh.

Energy: Electric Utilities

Heads Up — The Week Ahead in Utilities: FE, AEP, ETR, ES, POR, EXC, DTE, AVA, AEE

Sophie Karp / (917) 368-2361 / sophie.karp@key.com
Sangita Jain, CFA / (917) 368-2354 / sangita.jain@key.com
Madison Lehan / (917) 368-2293 / madison.lehan@key.com

This week, we are tracking proceedings in FE's Grid Mod II case, AEP's electric rate case in IN, ETR's AR FRP, Aquarion's rate case appeal in CT, POR's IRP, and EXC's electric rate cases in DC and MD. In other news, DTE raises its five-year capital plan and issues 2024 guidance; the PA PUC approves FE's settlement to consolidate its PA utilities; the ID PUC denies AVA's request to modify its power cost adjustment mechanism; and MISO selects two companies to develop transmission projects.

Regulatory Calendar

FE — Hearings in FE's Grid Mod II proceedings begin on December 11: FE is seeking recovery of $626M of capital costs over four years. The plan includes continued investments in AMI by adding 700K more customers, installing distribution automation, and integrating additional volt/var control distribution circuits. The Grid Mod II filing also includes three pilot projects: a lateral electronic circuit protection pilot, a distributed energy resource front-of-the-meter battery energy storage system pilot, and a residential and commercial electric vehicle charging pilot program. The schedule is slightly behind the ESP filing, but FE will also seek to reach a settlement on this docket.

AEP — Rebuttal testimony in AEP's IN electric rate case is due on December 13: The Office of the Utility Consumer Counselor recommended a $43M revenue increase, premised on a 9.3% ROE and a $5.4B rate base. The OUCC recommendation compares to AEP's $116M (net $41M) revenue request, premised on a 10.5% ROE and 51.2% equity. The OUCC's lower ROE recommendation was the primary driver of the delta, further compounded by adjustments to O&M and depreciation. The OUCC supported AEP's proposal to phase in the increase over two steps, with a portion of rates going into effect shortly after a final order, followed by an incremental step-up in 2025. As a reminder, AEP sought an $84M initial increase, followed by an incremental $33M revenue increase. The OUCC recommended the denial of the Grants Project Rider to recover costs for projects eligible to receive state and federal grants. Hearings are set to begin in January, followed by a Commission order in June 2024. New rates are expected to go into effect in mid-2024.

ETR — Final order in ETR AR's FRP is due on December 13: Parties reached a settlement in ETR AR's 2023 formula rate plan, agreeing to a $87.7M revenue increase. The revenue change comprises a $49.8M deficiency for the 2022 historical test year and a $129.0M deficiency for the 2024 forecast year, although state law only allows a 4% maximum revenue increase. Settling parties included ETR, the AR PSC Staff, the Office of the AR Attorney General, and others. ETR AR submitted the FRP application seeking approval of an $89M electric revenue requirement. The FRP included $50M for the 2022 historical test year and $81M for the 2024 forecast year, limiting ETR to the $89M request given the 4% revenue constraint. As a result of the settlement, the evidentiary hearings were canceled. New rates are expected to go into effect on January 2, 2024.

ES — Hearings in the Aquarion rate case appeal are set to begin on December 14: ES filed the appeal with the Superior Court after PURA authorized a $2M revenue decrease, premised on an 8.7% ROE and 50.35% equity. The order compared to ES's three-year rate request for a ~$27.5M rate increase in RY1, ~$13.6M in RY2, and ~$8.8M in RY3. ES's request was based on a 10.35% ROE, 53.06% equity, $1.05B RB, and a 2021 test year. ES obtained a stay from the Superior Court on the PURA decision and must place any collected revenue above the amount authorized in the PURA order in an escrow account until a final ruling is received from the court.

POR — Staff's report and final recommendations in POR's Clean Energy Plan and IRP are due on December 14: Staff's initial comments provided insight into some low-regret actions or opportunities, challenges, and vulnerabilities that need to be addressed. Staff's 29 recommendations for POR to address in reply comments included adopting a scoring metric for GHG reductions, redesigning the Preferred Portfolio without assuming 800 MW of additional transmission, providing an accounting of banked RECs, and a detailed assessment of its small-scale renewable resource compliance strategy including how it plans to meet the compliance obligations and projected shortfalls. POR's CEP includes a set of near-term actions to achieve the targets outlined in HB 2021. The Preferred Portfolio emphasizes solar and wind resources, with ~3.5 GW expected to be online by 2030. POR will issue an annual RFP for up to 520 MW of non-emitting resources through 2028, plans to add 632 MW of storage, energy efficiency (248 MW), and distributed resources (136 MW). The Company will study the addition of community-based renewable energy to reach 155 MW by 2030. This is POR's first CEP/IRP filing since the enactment of HB 2021.

EXC — Intervenor testimony in PEPCo's DC electric rate case is due on December 15: EXC made a compliance filing to reflect a traditional test year, supporting a $108M revenue increase, using an adjusted 12-month period ending December 31, 2023. EXC was required to make the compliance filing to enable the PSC to analyze the multiyear plan filing relative to a traditional rate case while also considering authorizing a traditional one-year rate case. As a reminder, PEPCO filed a three-year electric rate case with the DC PSC seeking a cumulative $191M revenue increase ($116M in RY1, $37M in RY2, and $37M in RY3). New rates would go into effect on February 15, 2024, with the step-ups effective January 1, 2025 and 2026, respectively. The rate increase request is premised on a 10.5% ROE and 50.5% equity layer.

EXC — Intervenor testimony in PEPCo's MD electric rate case is due on December 15: PEPCO MD filed an electric MYRP (Docket: 9702) in May seeking a cumulative net increase of $214M, premised on a 10.5% ROE and 50.5% equity (net $74M revenue increase in 2024, $60M each in 2025 and 2026, and a $20M revenue increase in April 2027-December 2027), allowing the next MYRP to become effective at the beginning of 2028. EXC proposes smoothing the rates over three years by accelerating the amortization of ADIT benefits. The evidentiary hearings are set to start in March 2024 followed by briefs in April 2024. A final order is expected in June 2024.

Recent Developments for Companies Under Our Coverage

From our midweek: WEC files an emergency motion with the ICC to continue the safety modernization program; the FL PSC approves DUK to recover 2023 storm restoration costs; FE reaches a settlement in its WV ENEC proceedings; MN utility Allete is exploring a sale and amassing interest from infrastructure funds and buyout firms; the WV PSC approves AEP to recover costs associated with the purchase of a wind facility and solar PPAs; the CO PUC denies XEL's extension to its wildfire plan deferral mechanisms; XEL and Ford partner on an EV charging initiative; and ISO NE expects sufficient capacity this winter.

DTE — DTE raises capital plan and issues 2024 guidance: DTE held a business update meeting where the Company raised its five-year capital plan by $2B, driven by an increased opportunity to invest in cleaner generation. As a result, the Company expects to invest ~$25B for the 2024-2028 period and has a 10-year investment plan that exceeds $50B. Additionally, DTE issued 2024 EPS guidance of $6.54-$6.83. The 2024 guidance compares to our $6.75 estimate. The Company expects a 6-8% LT EPS growth through 2028, using the 2023 original guidance midpoint as the base, or $6.25. DTE held the business update in the aftermath of its 2023 electric rate case, which resulted in a $368M revenue increase and ~$350M of investments through the investment recovery mechanism (IRM) over the next two years. The refreshed guidance also embedded the package of climate-related bills recently signed into law, including SB 271, which were expected to lengthen the capital investment opportunity for MI utilities. SB 271 sets to transition the state to 100% clean energy by 2040, including benchmarks along the way, with 50% clean energy by 2030 and 60% by 2035.

FE — PUC votes to approve settlement to consolidate PA utilities: The PA PUC voted to approve the settlement in FE's consolidation proceedings. The Commission's vote aligned with the ALJ's recommended decision to approve the settlement without modification. The stipulation included a mechanism for tracking cost savings realized through the consolidated operations and returning the savings to customers in future base rate proceedings. FE PA will also gradually unify rates among all classes, which will not be met until the conclusion of three rate cases filed on or after January 1, 2025. The settlement was part of FE's filing to consolidate FE's PA subsidiaries into a single operating entity, FE PA. The subs in PA include Metropolitan Edison Co., Pennsylvania Electric Co., West Penn Power Co., and Pennsylvania Power Co. The consolidation requires Metropolitan Edison and Penn Electric's interest in MAIT to be sold to FE and certain West Penn transmission assets to be sold to FE subsidiary KATCo. FERC previously issued an order approving the consolidation. FE also received approval from the VA SCC for transferring certain transmission assets and reorganization approval from the NYPSC. The reorganization received all required approvals, and the new structure will go into effect on January 1, 2024.

AVA — ID PUC denies adjustment to power cost mechanism: The ID PUC issued an order denying AVA's request to modify its power cost adjustment mechanism to account for ongoing expenses to comply with WA State GHG cap-and-trade rules. The ID PUC did not believe rates should be adjusted for ID customers since the CCA is a WA-specific policy initiative. As part of its 2023 rate case, AVA sought approval to change its power costs to account for ID's share of costs to comply with WA's Climate Commitment Act (CCA). Specifically, AVA was seeking cost recovery for ID customers' proportional share in the 25MW Boulder Park gas-fired power plant and the cost of carbon allowances for wholesale power delivered in WA and allocated to ID customers. As a reminder, the PUC previously approved the multiparty settlement for AVA's electric and gas rate cases. As part of the settlement in the two-year electric and gas rate cases, electric revenues will increase by $22M in RY1 and $4M in RY2, and natural gas revenues will increase by $1M and ~$0M, respectively. New rates went into effect on September 1.

AEE — MISO selects two transmission projects as part of Tranche 1 competitive bids: MISO selected two companies as part of competitive bids for transmission projects in WI and IL, including AEE. AEE was awarded the Iowa/Illinois State Border to Ipava transmission project. The two segments total ~69 miles and are part of the larger Skunk River to Ipava project. AEE estimates that the Skunk River-Ipava Segment would cost ~$22M. MISO also selected Dairyland Power to develop the Alma-Blair transmission line. The two projects are expected to enter service by June 1, 2028. AEE was previously awarded an $84M project for one of its competitive bids (Orient-Denny-Fairport) in LTRP Tranche 1. In addition to Skunk River-Ipava, AEE submitted the Denny-Zachary-Thomas Hill-Maywood project at an estimated cost of ~$560M. MISO is expected to announce the winners of the competitive bids in June 2024.

The Guggenheim Daily Transmission: Uranium/Policy, SE/Policy, Wildfires/OR, CNP, RNG, Nuclear, DUK, EXC/DC, ES/CT, D/SC

For details on our Guggenheim-hosted client Utility events including our Guggenheim lunch "An Electric Year-End - A Discussion on Renewables and Reliability", NRG NDR, and other events, scroll down...

Uranium/Policy – Russian uranium ban to see House floor vote

SE/Policy – Media highlights frictions between SE utilities and data center owners

Wildfires/OR – Pacific Power reaches $299M settlement in 2020 Oregon Archie Creek fire

CNP – CNP Indiana Electric files testimony in IURC rate case proceeding

RNG – Ares infrastructure acquires RNG developer

Nuclear – Opposition grows for repowering of Palisades nuclear plant

DUK – Potential for elevated blackout risk in NC/SC and VA this winter

EXC/DC – DC PSC adopts modifications to procedural schedule for MYP

ES/CT – CL&P and others request additional clarifications in AMI docket

D/SC – Stakeholder groups file request for clarifications in DESC IRP

Uranium/Policy – Russian uranium ban to see House floor vote

- "H.R. 1042 would prohibit imports of low-enriched uranium (LEU) from the Russian Federation, starting 90 days after enactment. Through December 31, 2027, the bill would allow the Secretary of Energy, in consultation with the Secretaries of State and Commerce, to issue waivers for imports up to amounts allowed under current law; after that date, no further imports would be permitted. The bill's restrictions would end on December 31, 2040." - CBO
- "Under the bill, CBO estimates that the price of nuclear fuel would increase by 13 percent. That estimate is based on a range of potential price scenarios and CBO's expectation of their respective likelihoods. Based on discussion with industry experts, CBO expects that a moderate price increase driven by a gradual replacement of Russian suppliers with higher-cost sources of enrichment services under the bill's waiver provisions is the most likely scenario. Alternatively, the bill's restrictions could be interpreted as a basis for terminating contracts for enrichment services by Russian LEU exporters, leading to a greater degree of market disruption. CBO expects that this scenario is much less likely." - CBO
- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: Heads up as the policy push against Russian uranium continues. Of note, the legislation appears to give the DOE/DOC leeway to issue waivers through 2027, which would align with the existing step down to the 15% demand cap under the existing suspension agreement. Most of the nuclear operators we have spoken to have not flagged NT concerns around supplies, however we continue to monitor domestic efforts to expand enrichment capacity. See our uranium baseline from last year HERE for more.

SE/Policy – Media highlights frictions between SE utilities and data center owners

- The Energy and Policy institute has flagged comments from several SE utilities over recent months as it pertains to data center load and decarbonization more broadly

Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 10-Jan-2024 07:35 PM.

- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: Minor FYI flagged for your awareness as reports like these can be recirculated. In our view some of the anti-utility rhetoric in the article is misplaced.

Wildfires/OR ─ Pacific Power reaches $299M settlement in 2020 Oregon Archie Creek fire

- The $299M settlement equals roughly $646K per claimant, with several timber companies not participating in the process
- More HERE [NYSE: BRK.A]

Guggenheim takeaway: Interesting data points on the settlement, which came just ahead of the trial commencement next month. As a reminder this event was distinct from the Beachie Creek/Lionshead event that occurred to the north along the Santiam Canyon in Clackamas/Linn counties (also in 2020).

CNP ─ CNP Indiana Electric files testimony in IURC rate case proceeding

- CNP filed additional testimony in support of the CNP Indiana Electric rate case.
- Major points of revenue deficiency are generation projects placed in service after the last IRP and TDSIC deferred capex.
- CNP Indiana Electric filed a rate case seeking a $118.8M rate increase in 3 phases (2024-2026).
- The Phase 1 (2024) increase is projected to be $42,137,651, or approximately 6%; the Phase 2 increase is projected to be an additional $24,482,578, or approximately 3% from Phase 1; the Phase 3 increase is projected to be an additional $52,137,464, or approximately 7.0% from Phase 2.
- The revenue request is based on a 10.4% ROE (vs. 10.4% currently authorized).
- The request proposes other adjustments to rate design and regulatory accounts.
- Docket: 45990 available in IURC portal.

Guggenheim takeaway:FYI. CNP previously indicated that the company would be seeking to engage in rate proceedings in IN starting in 4Q23. While CNP has not filed an IN rate case in over a decade, the company had intermittent rider recovery filings which reconciled invested capital and cost of capital. We continue to monitor early-stage progress.

RNG ─ Ares infrastructure acquires RNG developer

- Ares Infrastructure (private) acquired Burnham RNG (private) including LT contracted projects.
- The companies made the announcement here.
- The projects include industrial wastewater treatment and RNG production contracts for 20-30 years.

Guggenheim takeaway:FYI. Datapoint on private infrastructure demand for RNG assets and developers. While the terms are undisclosed the transaction shows demand for alternative gas infrastructure. This could have a positive read through to our utility coverage where RNG assets could be monetized including DTE which has been in the news previously looking to market Vantage RNG assets.

Nuclear – Opposition grows for repowering of Palisades nuclear plant

- Opponents of the Palisades repowering have started to come forward.
- Opponents filed arguments with the NRC that the project is not economic.
- More here.

Guggenheim takeaway:FYI. New datapoints on Palisades repowering efforts after the decommissioning agent started making efforts of a restart or repower.

DUK – Potential for elevated blackout risk in NC/SC and VA this winter

- A new report from the North American Electric Reliability Corporation (NERC) suggests that a heightened risk for blackouts may exist in the Carolinas and Virginia this winter.
- DUK however, says it's ready, having made many improvements to its systems over the past year since Winter Storm Elliott caused havoc on the grid last year with rolling outages.
- More HERE

Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 10-Jan-2024 07:35 PM.

Guggenheim takeaway:Further evidence in support of DUK's much needed ongoing investment in new generation as part of its upcoming, Q4 roll forward of its IRP-driven capital plan.

EXC/DC – DC PSC adopts modifications to procedural schedule for MYP

- "By this Order, the Public Service Commission of the District of Columbia "Commission") grants, in part, and denies in part, the Motion for Enlargement of Time of the Apartment and Office Building Association of Metropolitan Washington ("AOBA"). The Commission adopts the procedural schedule set forth in Attachment A of this Order." - filing
- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: Minor procedural FYI for your calendars.

ES/CT – CL&P and others request additional clarifications in AMI docket

- Multiple parties have filed exceptions to the earlier draft decision
- "The Proposed Final Decision introduces layers of complexity not yet contemplated in this proceeding, nor having the benefit of any discussion among interested stakeholders. Therefore, Eversource respectfully requests that PURA conduct one or more technical sessions to address the countervailing concepts that exist in the Proposed Final Decision to assist in streamlining the AMI implementation process and assuring its success" – ES
- "These two concerns are: (1) huge, unnecessary complexity due to the imposition of multiple layers of new reporting requirements and a series of compliance filings that, at least appear to be prerequisites to the filing of an updated AMI Implementation Plan, thereby causing unnecessary delay and inefficiency; and (2) no reasonably balanced, clear and certain cost recovery path to come after system implementation, not before. Eversource cannot finance the $700 million AMI investment without a discrete cost-recovery mechanism due to investor and credit-rating concerns over the Connecticut regulatory environment." - ES

Guggenheim takeaway: Somewhat minor, but important nonetheless as ES continues to push on ensuring adequate cost recovery pathways for the process, alongside a host of other technical and procedural data points from other parties in their exceptions.

D/SC – Stakeholder groups file request for clarifications in DESC IRP

- The South Carolina Coastal Conservation League, Southern Alliance for Clean Energy, Sierra Club, and Carolinas Clean Energy Business Association have filed a motion for clarification
- "To ensure the Order in this proceeding accurately reflects parties' various positions, we accordingly request that this statement in the Order be modified to correctly reflect Joint Intervenors' recommendation" - filing

Guggenheim takeaway: Minor FYI – most of the recommendations appear to be technical (matching testimony) or minor tweaks.

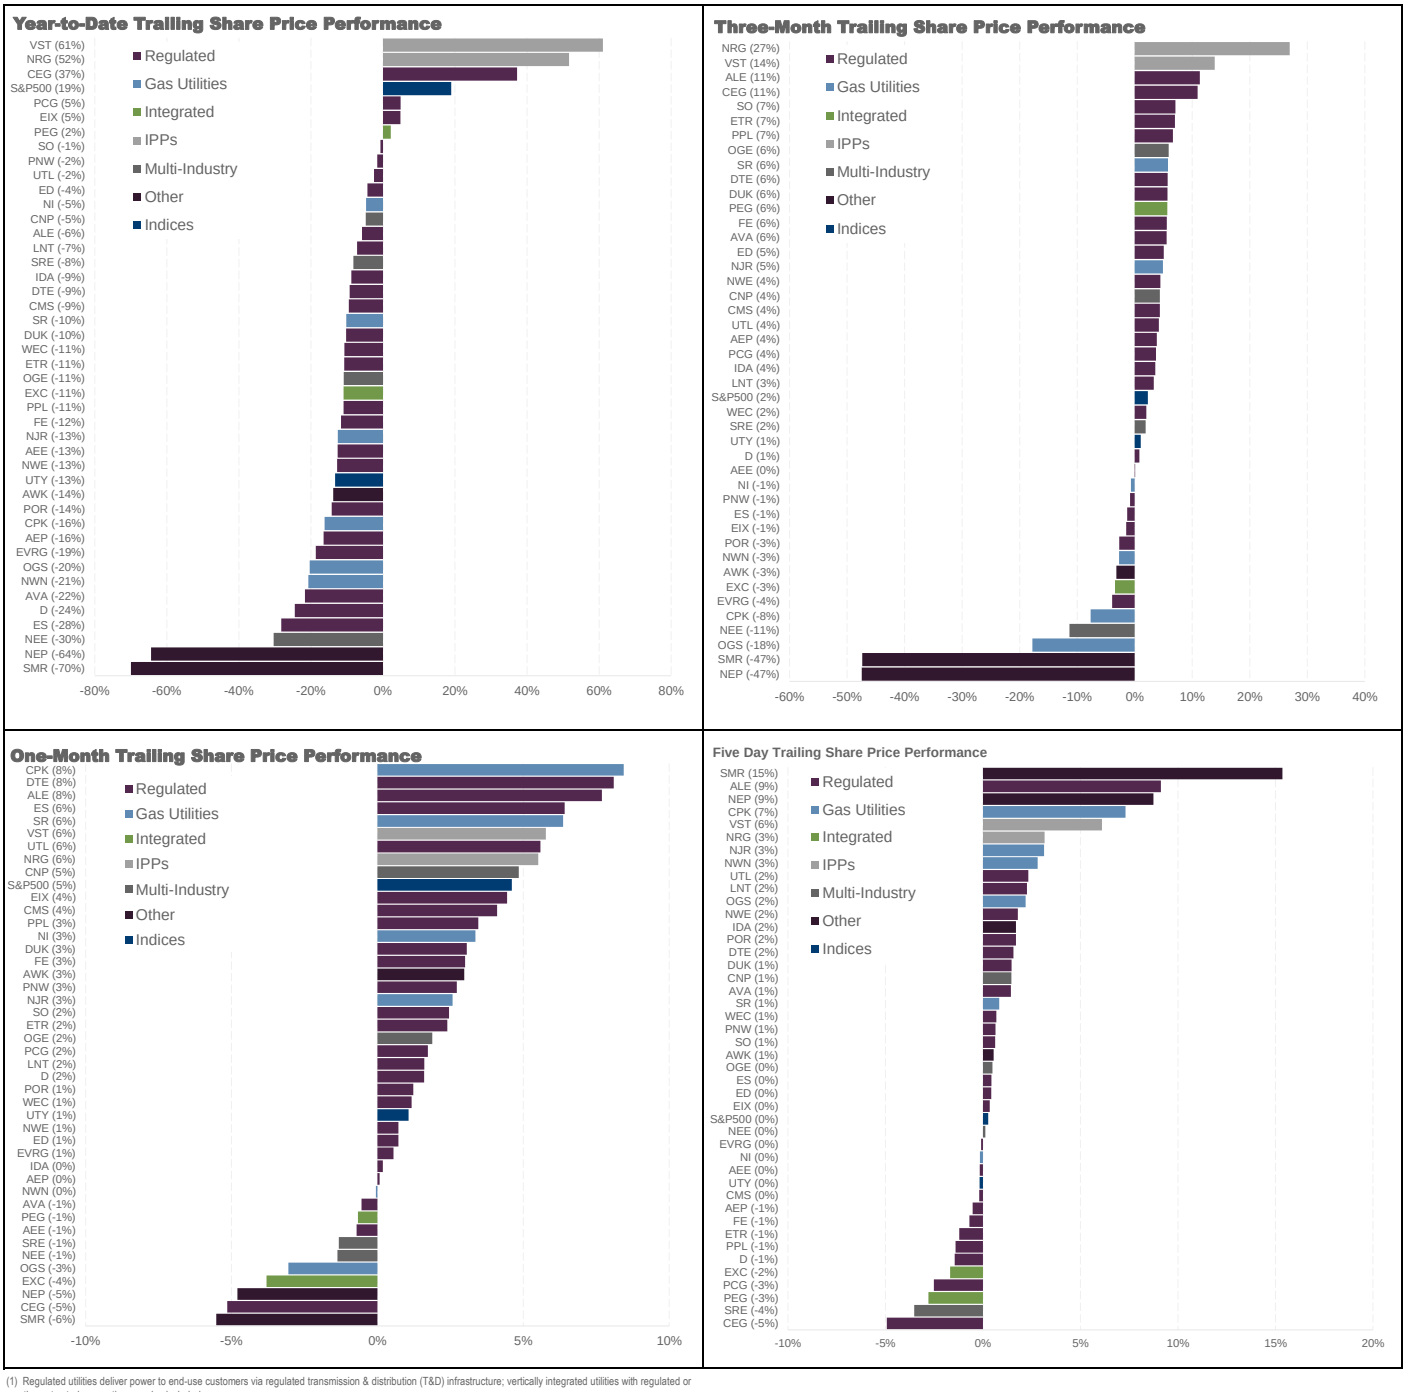
Share Price Performance (Year-to-Date, Three-Month, One-Month, & Five-Day Trailing)



(1) Regulated utilities deliver power to end-use customers via regulated transmission & distribution (T&D) infrastructure; vertically integrated utilities with regulated or mostly contracted generation are also included.

(2) Local Gas Distribution Companies (LDCs), as well as diversified utilities with a business mix largely comprised of gas infrastructure and related activities (i.e., LDC franchises, interstate pipelines, and/or other gas midstream activities).

(3) Integrated utilities own and operate regulated T&D franchises, as well as un-regulated power generation with commodity exposure.

(4) IPPs operate merchant (i.e., un-regulated, non-utility) power plants that compete to sell power in wholesale markets or through retail marketing businesses.

TRUCOST ENVIRONMENTAL SKYLINE EXPLANATORY NOTES

In a single graphic, you get a view of five different dimensions of corporate environmental impact:

- Trucost's Environmental Skyline is an assessment of the performance of an organisation across six broad groups of environmental KPIs: greenhouse gases, water, waste, air pollutants, natural resource use, and land/water pollutants. Environmental impacts are not just about carbon, and the Environmental Skyline gives you exactly that broader perspective, which is practically impossible to get without access to Trucost's data.

- Most organisations struggle to assess their direct impacts, let alone their indirect supply chain impacts. Trucost's Environmental Skyline offers an immediate evaluation of the scale of direct and indirect environmental impacts an organisation is causing, for each of the environmental KPIs listed above.

- Each organisation is assessed according to the scale of its different business activities for a particular year. Business activities are classified based upon North American Industrial Classification (NAICS) 6 digit codes. Each environmental KPI in the Environmental Skyline is offered as a comparison to an industry benchmark. The benchmark index of 100 represents average performance in the sector. The higher the index rating, the worse the performance of the organisation compared to its peers.

- Trucost rates an organisation's overall environmental performance by providing its position in the benchmark. The organisation is ranked against peers who share the same primary business activity at NAICS 3 digit code level.

- An organisation will have a different Environmental Skyline each financial year. The total number of organisations in the benchmark will increase as financial and environmental data becomes available for analysis by Trucost.

In essence, Trucost's Environmental Skyline offers a valuable assessment of an organisation's performance, covering issues that are near-impossible to assess without the use of Trucost's powerful data model and methodology.

Things Are Pretty Illinoisy

OUR TAKE: Mixed. We've had a pickup in inbound questions about EXC, so ahead of the upcoming ComEd rate case decision, we're providing a bit more detail into our latest thinking on the stock. We remain on the sidelines: we see the peer-average P/E multiple as reasonable as the strong 6%-8% EPS/DPS growth and best-in-class operational performance and reliability are offset by the high degree of rate case risk over the next six months. It seems as though several investors have a positive bias, but are awaiting clarity on the earnings power of ComEd, the largest segment at ~45% of EPS. We have a negative bias on the rate case, to be concluded on December 14. The ALJ recommendations on ROE and equity ratio look low, particularly compared to results from recent natural gas rate cases in IL, which themselves were lower than the ALJ recommendations. The commissioners and process are new and unproven. Separately, the balance sheet looks strong (though we expect more equity to come with a substantial capex increase in February), and the outlook for underlying demand is mixed. While we remain at SP, we would be more constructive if the ComEd rate case goes better than we expect (or if not, if the stock sells off to create an entry point).

KEY POINTS

All eyes on the rate case; we're cautious. ComEd's four-year rate case should be resolved by December 14. This is the first under IL's recently restructured process, which now has a much more typical setup compared to the formulaic approach that had been in place for the past decade. It will also be the first electric rate case decisions by the revamped Commission, including a new Chairman. Intuitively, management and nearly all investors have been expecting the new setup to result in meaningfully higher allowed ROEs, particularly given today's higher-for-longer environment. Recall that the formulaic ROE was consistently weighed down by low interest rates; the current allowed ROE is 7.85% and has averaged ~8.25% over the past several years. Moreover, as we published last week, higher allowed ROEs have been a solid industry trend in recent years, 2023 in particular (link to our analysis). However, based on recent data points from IL, we're skeptical that the allowed ROE will be more than ~9.25% – a big improvement, but seemingly not enough to satisfy management. Specifically, the ALJ's recommendation called for an ~$300m revenue reduction predicated on a 50% equity ratio and a 9.28% allowed ROE, which management calls insufficient and believes is below the cost of capital (we note that we're not sure our math agrees with that argument). EXC instead argues for limiting the number of expert witnesses or fixing the beta, which would result in allowed ROEs of 9.91% or 9.59%, respectively. Looking at other recent rate cases in IL, the trend doesn't look encouraging to us. YTD, the ICC has completed four rate cases, all for natural gas utilities and all concluded in mid-November. In each case, the allowed ROE has been disappointing compared to the nationwide average of ~9.6% and even worse than ALJ recommendations (by ~45bps); equity ratios have also disappointed, ~3.3% below requested levels (see Exhibit 1 for details). Performance-based metrics will also be critical in the final order, though EXC sees a symmetrical upside/downside risk to hitting the objectives, meaning that these should not impact the allowed ROE; we agree, in theory. Separate from the ROEs, the ALJ recommendation included no return on the pension assets despite having been authorized a debt return historically; management requests a WACC return and points to shareholder contributions made in 2005 and 2009 to create the asset (the state AG supports EXC's view). Still, it's worth noting that management sees some parts of the ALJ proposed order as being constructive, most notably the consensus on the amount and pace of investment necessary to advance the Climate and Equitable Jobs Act and economic development goals. It's unclear to us if EXC can deliver on its expectation of being at the "midpoint or better of expected 6%-8%" growth target for 2022-2026 should the ICC issue financial metrics in line with or worse than the ALJ's recommendation. Cost cutting would no doubt help, as would a reallocation of capex to other states, but management admits it would be challenging.

Solid balance sheet, but LT equity needs are likely to rise. While the equity outlook currently is very modest, like so many others across the industry, we expect higher levels of capex to drive higher equity needs going forward. Management is comfortable with the current credit ratings and believes that the 12% FFO/debt downgrade threshold is among the lowest in the industry. EXC targets a cushion of 100-200bps over that level, though the corporate AMT may bring near-term FFO/debt levels to the low end of that range, or ~13% (the repairs deduction would help). Rate cases should also help support the cushion. In terms of equity, EXC has ~$425m remaining through 2025 under the current plan. That said, we expect a meaningful increase to the capex outlook in February, as we describe below. While management hasn't given a rule of thumb in terms of a percent of equity per incremental dollar of capex, we expect to see meaningfully more equity going forward – but importantly, this is "good equity" (accretive to EPS growth) rather than "bad equity" (i.e., balance sheet repair). Additionally, the current plan calls for ~$13B of debt issuances over 2023-2026 to support the ~$31B capex plan, including $5B of Parent debt. Lastly, management continues to project dividend growth in line with EPS growth, maintaining a ~60% DPO.

Impressive outlook for data centers, supporting capex/rate base growth and helping with customer affordability, but the outlook for Chicago's economy is questionable. Management is excited about recent project announcements, pointing to a pipeline of 5.6GW over 26 projects that are "in engineering," meaning that customers have paid deposits and, in most cases, have secured sites. Most are data centers, but other energy-hungry projects include battery gigafactories and EV manufacturing facilities, for example. On top of that, EXC estimates ~8GW of high-probability projects for which active discussions are underway. The state's closing fund provides strong tax incentives to encourage investments in IL. EXC is also in advanced discussions for data centers in MD, but no projects have yet been formally announced. However, we worry about negative trends in Chicago. Media reports paint a bleak picture of the city, with a large number of major corporations and residents leaving the city due to a combination of taxes and crime. The reports are no doubt exaggerated, but challenges to the local economy always weigh on affordability and a utility's ability to make the appropriate and necessary investments in reliability, safety, and decarbonization.

Risks and catalysts:

- ComEd: First and foremost, a final order in the ComEd rate case described above is expected at the last scheduled ICC meeting of the year on December 14.

- Other rate cases: Besides ComEd, EXC has rate cases underway for BG&E (final order expected on December 14th), Delmarva Electric DE (2Q24), Pepco DC (mid-2024), and Pepco MD (June 2024).

- Financial updates: Next, management will provide financial updates in early 2024. Starting with 2024 EPS guidance, management points to the "low end" of the 6%-8% range; applying 6% growth to the 2023 midpoint of $2.36 implies $2.50 (Scotia $2.47/Street $2.51). We don't expect any change to the 6%-8% CAGR, but note that the 2023 EPS guidance midpoint implies y/y growth of 4.9% vs. the original 2022 midpoint (or 4.0% from 2022A); with a lower anchor to the 2023-2027 range, a consistent CAGR may be achievable even if the ComEd rate case goes worse than management expects. Lastly, we expect a meaningful increase to the capex outlook, driven by transmission and reliability needs.

- Earnings volatility: While the 6%-8% range is impressive and above average, the year-to-year volatility is quite high. We've always had a preference for companies that are able to deliver fast growth, but more importantly, at a consistent pace each year. EXC's former ownership of merchant power assets (now Constellation) no doubt added to historical volatility. But even looking forward, rate cases and lumpy capex will drive inconsistent growth rates. Qualitatively, management points to 2023E as being "below [the] low end" of the 6%-8% range, 2024E "in [the] low end", 2025E "above" the range, and 2026E "in [the] middle." We credit management for these detailed pointers and appreciate the commentary around shaping. Many investors won't be bothered by the volatile pace of growth, but we're in the camp that investors should want utilities to be as boring as predictable as possible.

Company Description

Exelon (EXC) is the nation's largest energy delivery company, serving more than 10 million customers through six fully regulated transmission and distribution utilities — Atlantic City Electric (ACE), Baltimore Gas and Electric (BGE), Commonwealth Edison (ComEd), Delmarva Power & Light (DPL), PECO Energy Company (PECO), and Potomac Electric Power Company (Pepco).

Investment Thesis

We're drawn to the materially de-risked portfolio that EXC retains after the CEG spinoff. RemainCo will have much better visibility into above-average EPS/DPS growth of 6%-8% as it will no longer be at the mercy of commodity markets. We like the favorable regulatory recovery mechanisms and revenue decoupling for most EXC utility subs, which have helped the company to achieve strong earned ROEs of ~9.5%. The quiet near-term rate case calendar also limits regulatory risks. However, we see the valuation as fair. We believe that the appeal of above-average EPS/DPS growth and a quiet rate case outlook is offset by uncertainty about the regulatory construct in IL, challenging regulatory environments in several jurisdictions, and the ESG "ding" from the ComEd bribery scandal.

Key Risks

Busy rate case schedule (with the IL ComEd rate case being particularly high-profile), below-average credit ratings, and higher interest rates.

Definition of Scotiabank, Global Banking and Markets Equity Research Ratings

Scotiabank has a three-tiered rating system, with ratings of Sector Outperform, Sector Perform, and Sector Underperform. Each Research Analyst assigns a rating that is relative to his or her coverage universe or an index identified by the Research Analyst that includes, but is not limited to, stocks covered by the Research Analyst.

The rating assigned to each security covered in this report is based on the Scotiabank, Global Banking and Markets Research Analyst's 12-month view on the security. Research Analysts may sometimes express in research reports shorter-term views on these securities that may impact the price of the equity security in a manner directly counter to the Research Analyst's 12-month view. These shorter-term views are based upon catalysts or events that may have a shorter-term impact on the market price of the equity securities discussed in research reports, including but not limited to the inherent volatility of the marketplace. Any such shorter-term views expressed in research report are distinct from and do not affect the Research Analyst's 12-month view and are clearly noted as such.

Ratings

Sector Outperform (SO)
The stock is expected to outperform the average 12-month total return of the analyst's coverage universe or an index identified by the analyst that includes, but is not limited to, stocks covered by the analyst.

Sector Perform (SP)
The stock is expected to perform approximately in line with the average 12-month total return of the analyst's coverage universe or an index identified by the analyst that includes, but is not limited to, stocks covered by the analyst.

Sector Underperform (SU)
The stock is expected to underperform the average 12-month total return of the analyst's coverage universe or an index identified by the analyst that includes, but is not limited to, stocks covered by the analyst.

Focus Stock (FS)
As of April 29, 2019, Scotiabank GBM discontinued the Focus Stock rating. A stock assigned this rating represented an analyst's best idea(s); stocks in this category were expected to significantly outperform the average 12-month total return of the analyst's coverage universe or an index identified by the analyst that included, but was not limited to, stocks covered by the analyst.

Other Ratings

Under Review – The rating has been temporarily placed under review, until sufficient information has been received and assessed by the analyst.

Tender – As of January 25, 2021, Scotiabank GBM discontinued the Tender rating.

Risk Ranking
The Speculative risk ranking reflects exceptionally high financial and/or operational risk, exceptionally low predictability of financial results, and exceptionally high stock volatility. The Director of Research and the Supervisory Analyst jointly make the final determination of the Speculative risk ranking.

Energy: Electric Utilities

Heads Up — The Week Ahead in Utilities: EXC, AVA, ES, DTE, AEP, PEG, AGR, NEE

This week, we are tracking proceedings in EXC's electric rate case in DE, AVA's electric IRP in ID, and ES's MA annual PBR adjustment. In other news, the MI PSC approves a $368M revenue increase in DTE's electric rate case; the VA SCC issues a final order authorizing a $127M revenue increase in APCo's VA triennial review; NYSERDA launches its fourth offshore wind solicitation; PEG files its CEF-EE II Program with the NJ BPU;the Superior Court enters an order to consolidate and bifurcate Babb Road fire proceedings; the Maine Commission on Governmental Ethics and Elections Practices fines two groups tied to opposing the NECEC transmission project; and NEE completes the sale of Florida City Gas.

Regulatory Calendar

EXC — Evidentiary hearings in EXC's DE electric rate case are set to begin on December 4: EXC reached a comprehensive settlement with the Delaware DPA, yet to be filed, and settlements on the respective issues with three other intervenors. The DE PSC Staff has not agreed to any of the settlements. In rebuttal testimony, EXC updated its ask to $54M (net $39M) compared to its prior request of $56M (net $42M). EXC maintained its request for a 10.5% ROE and 50.5% equity. EXC's request compares to Staff's recommended $36M revenue increase, premised on a 9.38% ROE and 50.5% equity. The primary drivers of the delta are the lower O&M, Staff's use of an average-rate base method (vs. EXC year-end RB), and lower O&M. The Division of the Public Advocate recommended a revenue increase of $29M ($16M net), using a 9.1% ROE and 46.4% equity. EXC and the DPA's net revenue increase excludes $14M for the DSIC rider. A final order is expected in April 2024. Interim rates of $56M went into effect in mid-July.

AVA — Reply comments in AVA's 2023 electric IRP are due on December 7: AVA filed its 2023 electric IRP with the ID focusing on reliability and the lowest cost resources. AVA studied 17 alternative portfolio scenarios, and the preferred resource strategy requires no new resources through 2030. In ID, the PRS identifies 90 MW of natural gas in 2034. After 2035, the PRS selects a diverse set of resources to meet demand, including 170 MW of long-duration storage, 25 MW of short-duration storage, the renewal of 245 MW of PPA wind contracts, 300 MW of wind, and 600 MW of renewable-fueled turbines (ammonia and/or green hydrogen). The PRS also selects 111 MW of natural gas from the markets and a 102 MW natural gas plant in ID. The resources identified would meet AVA's forecasted annual load growth of 0.85% (up from a 0.24% CAGR in the 2021 IRP), which reflects higher residential and commercial EVs and new building electrification. The plan also replaces AVA's exit from Colstrip Units 3 and 4 and the retirement of 278 MW of natural gas between 2035-2044. AVA is required to file an electric IRP with the IPUC every two years. The IPUC does not approve or disapprove of the content in the IRP; instead, it acknowledges the IRP.

ES — Reply briefs in ES's MA annual PBR are due on December 8: In initial briefs, the MA Department of Energy Resources recommended that the DPU direct ES to file its PBR plan reporting requirements as part of this proceeding and open a second phase to evaluate the first five years of the PBR. The DOER also recommended ES consults with the Grid Modernization Advisory Council to refine its PBR metrics. ES is seeking a $105M revenue increase as part of its annual performance-based ratemaking adjustment. The revenue increase includes a proposed $51M revenue cap adjustment, which accounts for inflation, and a $54M adjustment to recover capital investments. ES also seeks to recover $16M in property taxes through a separate factor. The DPU previously approved ES to recover ~$31M over two years beginning in 2024. Last year, the DPU authorized a five-year extension to the PBR mechanism. The new rates are expected to be effective on January 1, 2024.

Recent Developments for Companies Under Our Coverage

From our midweek: The SC PSC approves D's 2023 SC IRP; SRE announces several leadership transitions; the Georgia Appeals Court rules to continue PSC statewide elections; the MI governor signs a package of clean-energy bills that sets the state on a path to 100% clean energy by 2040; NYISO plans to keep four NYC peaker plants in service past scheduled retirement dates; and the CO PUC is exploring a VPP pilot program on an accelerated timeline.

DTE — MI PSC approves $368M revenue increase in DTE's electric rate case: The MI PSC issued a final order approving a $368M revenue increase in DTE's electric rate case. The MI PSC also maintained DTE's authorized ROE at 9.9% and authorized a two-year timeline for an investment recovery mechanism (IRM). Through the IRM, DTE will invest ~$350M over the next two years to improve the grid's reliability and resilience, directed toward upgrading existing infrastructure, undergrounding residential distribution wires, and transitioning to a smarter grid. The PSC's decision aligns with the Staff's $379M recommendation, in line with our expectations, as we previously noted that the final PSC authorized levels usually gravitate higher than the ALJ PFD (read more here), which is typically at the lower end of recommendations. As a reminder, the ALJ recommended a $290M increase premised on a 9.8% ROE and 50% equity. DTE initially requested a net $619M revenue increase, premised on a 10.25% ROE and 50% equity. The main drivers included the recovery of capital investments and higher operating expenses. New rates are expected to go into effect on December 15.

AEP — VA SCC issues final order authorizing $127M revenue increase in APCo's VA triennial review: The SCC issued a final order adopting the ALJ Hearing Examiner's report with some modifications, resulting in a $127M revenue increase for APCo. The modifications were related to the proposed low-income customer charge exemption. The order adopts the ALJ's recommendation to approve the settlement between APCo, SCC Staff, Appalachian Voices, and others. The increase is premised on a 9.5% ROE. Other stipulations included the 48.3% equity layer that APCo had at the end of 2022, depreciation rates for Amos Units 1-3 based on a 2040 retirement date, and the amortization of a $50M severe weather event regulatory asset over three years. The settlement compares to APCo's request for a $213M rate increase, premised on a 10.6% ROE and its triennial earnings review for the 2020-2022 period that it earned a 5.39% ROE during the period, below the allowed band of 8.5-9.9%. Staff calculated a 5.49% earned ROE during 2020-2022 and recommended a $155M revenue increase, premised on a proposed 9.4% ROE. New rates will go into effect on January 1.

ES — NYSERDA launches fourth offshore wind solicitation: The NYSERDA launched its fourth offshore wind solicitation. The solicitation is expected to be accelerated, with final proposals for projects due in January 2024, and includes provisions from the latest rounds of renewable energy procurements, such as inflation indexing and agricultural land preservation. NYSERDA released the solicitation as part of the NY governor's 10-Point Action Plan to reinforce the state's climate policy goals and expedite the rebidding process. The governor issued the plan in response to the NY PSC's decision to deny NYSERDA the ability to amend existing contracts for ORECs for offshore wind projects. ES and Orsted, co-developers of the 924 MW Sunrise Wind, were impacted and are expected to rebid Sunrise. ES believes it should have a competitive advantage relative to fellow proposals, given the project's maturity and visibility for delivering the project in the 2026/2027 timeframe. NYSERDA's expedited solicitations support progress toward achieving New York's Climate Leadership and Community Protection Act goals to obtain 70% of New York's electricity from renewable sources by 2030 and develop 9,000 MW of offshore wind by 2035. NYSERDA expects to award projects in February and execute contracts in 2Q24.

PEG — PEG files CEF-EE II Program with the NJ BPU driving increase to utility capital plan: PEG submitted its Clean Energy Future – Energy Efficiency II Program with the NJ BPU. The $3.1B program comprises 11 programs, including eight existing EE programs in residential, multi-family, and C&I sectors. The filing also introduced three initiatives focused on building decarbonization, demand management, and support for new technology adoption. PEG's filing aligns with the BPU's EE framework and NJ's clean energy targets, driving a significant investment in EE compared to prior programs. As a result of this filing and the previously approved GSMP 2 extension, PEG expects to invest $16B-$18.5B in the utility for the 2023-2027 period, up from $15.5B-$18B. PEG expects to invest a total of $16.3B-$18.9B across all of its businesses for the same period. The program covers investments over the 30 months from January 2025 through June 2027.

AVA — Court consolidates lawsuits in 2020 Babb Road Fire proceedings: AVA agreed to a stipulated order in the Babb Road fire proceedings (Case No. 22-2-00968-32) to consolidate the 11 cases for trial. The 11 lawsuits were previously consolidated for the discovery and pre-trial proceedings. The Superior Court of Spokane County, WA, entered the order. Additionally, the order bifurcates the trial into liability and damages phases. As a result, the initial trial in the case will focus solely on whether AVA was legally responsible for the fire. If AVA is found accountable, parties would then engage in the damages phase of the trial. The order also memorializes the plaintiffs' agreement to voluntarily dismiss all claims asserting inverse condemnation as a theory of liability without prejudice. AVA has not estimated a range of potential losses in the event of an adverse outcome, but the plaintiffs will complete a damages questionnaire identifying all claimed damages being sought in connection with the litigation. Insurance companies filed six subrogation actions to recover ~$23M purportedly paid to insureds. The trial's first phase is set to begin on May 28, 2024.

AGR, NEE — A ME Commission fines two groups following NECEC investigation: The Maine Commission on Governmental Ethics and Elections Practices entered into consent agreements with Clean Energy for ME, LLC, and Alpine Initiatives for failing to file campaign finance reports and not registering as a ballot question committee and political action committee, respectively. As a result, Clean Energy for ME and Alpine Initiatives agreed to pay fines of $50,000 and $160,000, respectively. The Clean Energy for ME, AKA Stop the Corridor, was formed to organize opposition to the NECEC project and influence public opinion against the project. NEE has ties to both companies, including paying $95,726 to Stop the Corridor, and although the Alpine Initiatives agreement did not directly mention NEE, the attorney representing Clean Energy for ME noted that the client mentioned in the Stop the Corridor report and the Alpine Initiatives report are the same. The investigation was requested by Clean Energy Matters, a PAC funded by AGR's CMP, arguing that Stop the Corridor had to register as a political committee in December 2019 after it spent at least $50,000 to help the petitioning drive to get the citizen initiative opposing the CMP corridor on the ballot but declined to share how it raised the money. AGR began construction on the 1.2 GW NECEC transmission project in January 2021 but was required to suspend it after ~59% of ME voters rejected the project in a November 2021 referendum vote. The vote was overturned this past April when a ME Business and Consumer Court jury voted 9-0 in favor of AGR's constitutional right to resume the development of the project, finding that AGR had completed enough construction at the time of the referendum-led suspension to have a vested right to continue work on the project. AGR has resumed construction on NECEC and is still negotiating with the EDCs to approve the higher project cost (delays due to litigation, inflation, etc.) and the potential for changing the COD past the current target of 2H25. The updated project cost, as provided by the Company, is $1.5B. NECEC connects hydropower from Quebec to New England customers.

NEE — NEE completes sale of Florida City Gas: NEE's FP&L subsidiary Florida City Gas's sale to Chesapeake Utilities has been completed, in line with the 4Q23 expectations. NEE received $923M in cash, including $145M of intercompany debt. NEE expects the deal to be accretive to earnings and will use the proceeds to invest in its core businesses. In March, Florida City Gas received FL PSC approval to increase rates by $23M, premised on a 9.5% ROE, 59.6% equity, and $487.3M rate base for a test year ending December 31, 2023. Using the authorized rate base implies a 1.9x EV/2023 rate base multiple, in line with the 1.5-2.0x range we have seen in recent deals.

DTE – 2023 DTE Electric rate case on the MPSC commission agenda for December 1, 2023

- MPSC has issued an agenda for the December 1, 2023 meeting with the DTE Electric rate case on the agenda.
- MPSC ALJ has previously issued a proposal for decision (PFD) in the DTE Electric Rate case reducing revenue increases to 47% of the request, vs. revenue recommendations of 52% and 62% DTE requested from the AG and Staff, respectively.
- More in our note here.
- Docket: U-21297

Guggenheim takeaway: FYI. PFD represents a surprising revenue requirement below the prior testimony levels, but ALJ rate base reductions not uncommon; risk of a litigated outcome once again shows its face. MPSC ALJ issued a PFD with a 47% revenue recommendation vs. 50-60% range set by prior testimony (Staff/AG) and reduced the authorized rate base by almost $600M. The PFD is a reduction of $97M in revenue requirement from the updated Staff testimony, which at the headline represents an EPS impact of $0.31 vs. Staff, so if Staff revenue levels would require DTE flex to achieve earnings outcome, the PFD would require another $97M above that. The PFD achieves this through a variety of reductions, but most notably a reduction in capex and rate base recognition resulting in $592M lower rate base vs. Staff. The rate base reduction represents a more modest $0.11 headwind (9.8% ROE, 40% equity).

CPK – Chesapeake has completed its acquisition of Florida City Gas

- Recall that on September 26th, CPK announced that it would acquire Florida City Gas from NEE.
- From today's announcement: "As previously announced, Chesapeake Utilities' capital expenditure guidance is projected to be $1.5 billion to $1.8 billion for the five-year period ending 2028, an increase of 65% over its previous plan. Approximately 60% of the Company's upcoming five-year capital investment plan will be allocated to Florida, including investments related to pipeline replacement programs, expansions to support customer growth and increased transmission capabilities to reach new developments and support increased demand. With this transaction, Chesapeake Utilities' regulated operations are projected to represent approximately 87% of its business mix." – company press release
- CPK indicated that it will provide more detail on its acquisition integration plan along with its Q4 2023 earnings in February 2024.
- Press release HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: FYI; for more, including background on the transaction, please see our 3Q update note "CPK – 3Q23 EPS Beat; Despite Tough Weather 2023, CPK Continues Major Transformation Path with FCG Add-on" (link HERE), as well as our original note covering the transaction when it was first announced: "CPK-NEE – CPK Announces Transformative Florida City Gas Acquisition; Efficient Cash Source for NEE, Strategic for CPK" (link HERE).

NI – Settlement rate announced for the conversion of the April 2021 equity units into common shares

- Each holder will receive 3.9295 shares of common stock, with cash to be paid in lieu of any fractional share.
- As per the original conditions of the transaction, the settlement rate was set based on NI's trailing 40-day VWAP for the period ending November 29, 2023.
- NI will retire and cancel the Series C Mandatory Convertible Preferred Stock and voluntarily delist the units (Bloomberg Ticker: NIMC) from the NYSE.
- Press release HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: The For more, please see our write-up regarding NI's revisions to its financing plan, adding $600m of planned equity issuance in 2024 (link HERE). Also, please see our note immediately following EEI… "NI – Remarketing Process Postponed; Substitute Equity Not Needed Until YE24; More Details to Come Tomorrow/Friday" (link HERE).

AEP – Final order issued in Virginia triennial rate review

- Yesterday, and without modification, the Virginia State Corporation Commission approved the settlement resolving all issues in APCO's mandatory triennial rate review proceeding.
- A base rate increase of $127.3m was authorized, although both the order and the approved black box settlement are silent on rate of return, capital structure, etc.
- The utility had originally sought a $212.6m rate increase premised on a 10.6% ROE (vs 9.2% last authorized in 2020), and an equity layer of 48.31% (vs its last authorized level of 50.31%).
- Docket PUR-2023-00002

Guggenheim takeaway: We note that despite being a black box settlement with regards to the revenue increase calculation… "for other regulatory purposes", an ROE of 9.5% has been set (along with the company's requested equity ratio of 48.31%). In our view, the 9.5% ROE for "other regulatory purposes" at least constitutes a welcome 30bps step-up compared with the final order in its Nov. 2020 triennial rate review. For our takeaways from a very well-attended meeting we hosted with AEP mgmt., please see our note HERE*.*

ETR – CCNO and LPSC file opposition to SERI comments on motion to issue interim refunds

- City Council of New Orleans and LPSC filed an answer to SERI responses on the interim rate relief motions.
- CCNO and LPSC continue to argue for interim refunds from past commission orders.
- ETR regulatory info here.

Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 10-Jan-2024 07:35 PM.

- FERC Docket ER18-182 (available through search). MS Settlement here.
- Docket: EL20-72 / EL18-152 (through FERC search). Partial settlement found under 20-72.

Guggenheim takeaway: FYI. Debate with LPSC and CCNO continues as parties argue for interim rate relief.

PCG – TURN files response to PG&E Phase II GRC motions

- TURN filed comments in opposition to PG&E Phase II GRC motion to include SB410 in phase 2 of the proceeding.
- TURN argues the PG&E motions are outside of the scope of Phase II.
- Docket: A2106021

Guggenheim takeaway: FYI. Phase II GRC process is ramping up.

EXC/MD – BGE dockets memo on Baltimore conduit accounting

- The utility has docketed an accounting memo on its deal to utilize the city-owned conduit
- "There is nothing nefarious or controversial in the memo. The memo is a routine professional accounting analysis that any responsible company undertakes to ensure it is properly accounting for costs under Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. The memo addresses how BGE should account for the money paid to Baltimore City and the $120 million of capital commitments made by BGE in Baltimore City's conduit system. The Company's accountants determined, and BGE's independent auditor (PricewaterhouseCoopers) confirmed, it is appropriate to capitalize the investments because, while BGE does not own the conduit system, BGE has been granted perpetual access to rights of way by the State of Maryland to distribute electricity in the City. Because of BGE's perpetual access rights, BGE's customers will benefit from these modernization investments over the life of the assets, as opposed to over the life of the agreement term. Pursuant to general accounting principles, investments of this type should be recovered over the life of the assets." – filing
- "After failing to dispute the merits of the analysis in the memo with its own accounting expert, and only after the case was already closed, OPC then turned to the media where it made statements suggesting that the Company acted improperly by objecting to the public disclosure of a confidential internal memo. Conveniently, OPC failed to acknowledge that the memo had been provided to OPC and to the Commission with their understanding and with their agreement that the memo would be used only for the MYP proceeding and would remain confidential" - filing

Guggenheim takeaway: The deal and associated media commentary from the OPC has been a source of significant local noise in recent days (see HERE), with the company largely maintaining the positions it mentions above. We continue to monitor this and several other items (Baltimore external meter pushback) as the utility approaches a final order before a newer PSC.

Offshore Wind – NJ Governor Murphy accelerates timeline for next offshore wind solicitation

- NJ Governor Murphy directed regulators to accelerate the timeline for the next offshore wind solicitation.
- The fourth bid will be held in early 2024 and will take solicitations for 1,200MW.
- Media coverage here

Guggenheim takeaway: FYI. NJ continues to push through on offshore wind goals despite the first projects' lack of success.

ERCOT – PUCT discusses PCM implementation at open meeting

- The commissioners discussed the ongoing technical implementation of the mechanism at yesterday's meeting, building upon an earlier memo from Staff
- "Staff contends that an individual review of the 12 PCM principles outlined in that Order is warranted prior to ERCOT and Staff developing a PCM strawman to ensure that the Commission's vision for the PCM within the guardrails established in HB1500 is accurately captured" - Memo

Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 10-Jan-2024 07:35 PM.

Guggenheim takeaway: Flagged for your awareness as the Commissioners themselves seek to get up to speed on the PCM pathways and potential impacts. As a reminder, the mechanism is built upon the associated process to establish a reliability standard – we continue to monitor both processes for key data points in the months ahead.

PJM – Stakeholder group takes transmission cost concerns to PJM Board

- "Based on the OPSI Board's collective concerns regarding the shortcomings of our current processes, we seek your support in finding solutions to address our needs in ways that elevate reliability and affordability. Within the PJM footprint, rapid changes in both load forecasts and available supply are creating pronounced grid reliability issues that challenge PJM's existing planning tools. To take a single but significant recent example, on October 31, 2023, PJM announced at its Transmission Expansion Advisory Committee meeting that, in early December, it will be presenting the PJM Board with a recommended suite of transmission upgrades at proportions never seen before in the region and with costs expected to approach $6 billion." – OPSI
- "The reliability challenges that have recently presented themselves, coupled with the significant cost impact on customers associated with addressing these challenges have amplified our concern that factors outside the transmission planning process may contribute to the high cost of transmission upgrades and warrant attention to ensure these costs do not become an undue burden to retail consumers." - OPSI
- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: Concerns over transmission costs in PJM are not new in our view, with the latest batch of projects reflective of the ongoing changes in grid topology in the RTO as assets in EMAAC retire and load growth continues unabated in others (DOM). Still, we are closely watching the forthcoming Board approval of the TEAC projects mentioned in the letter above, alongside any potential reforms from the Board.

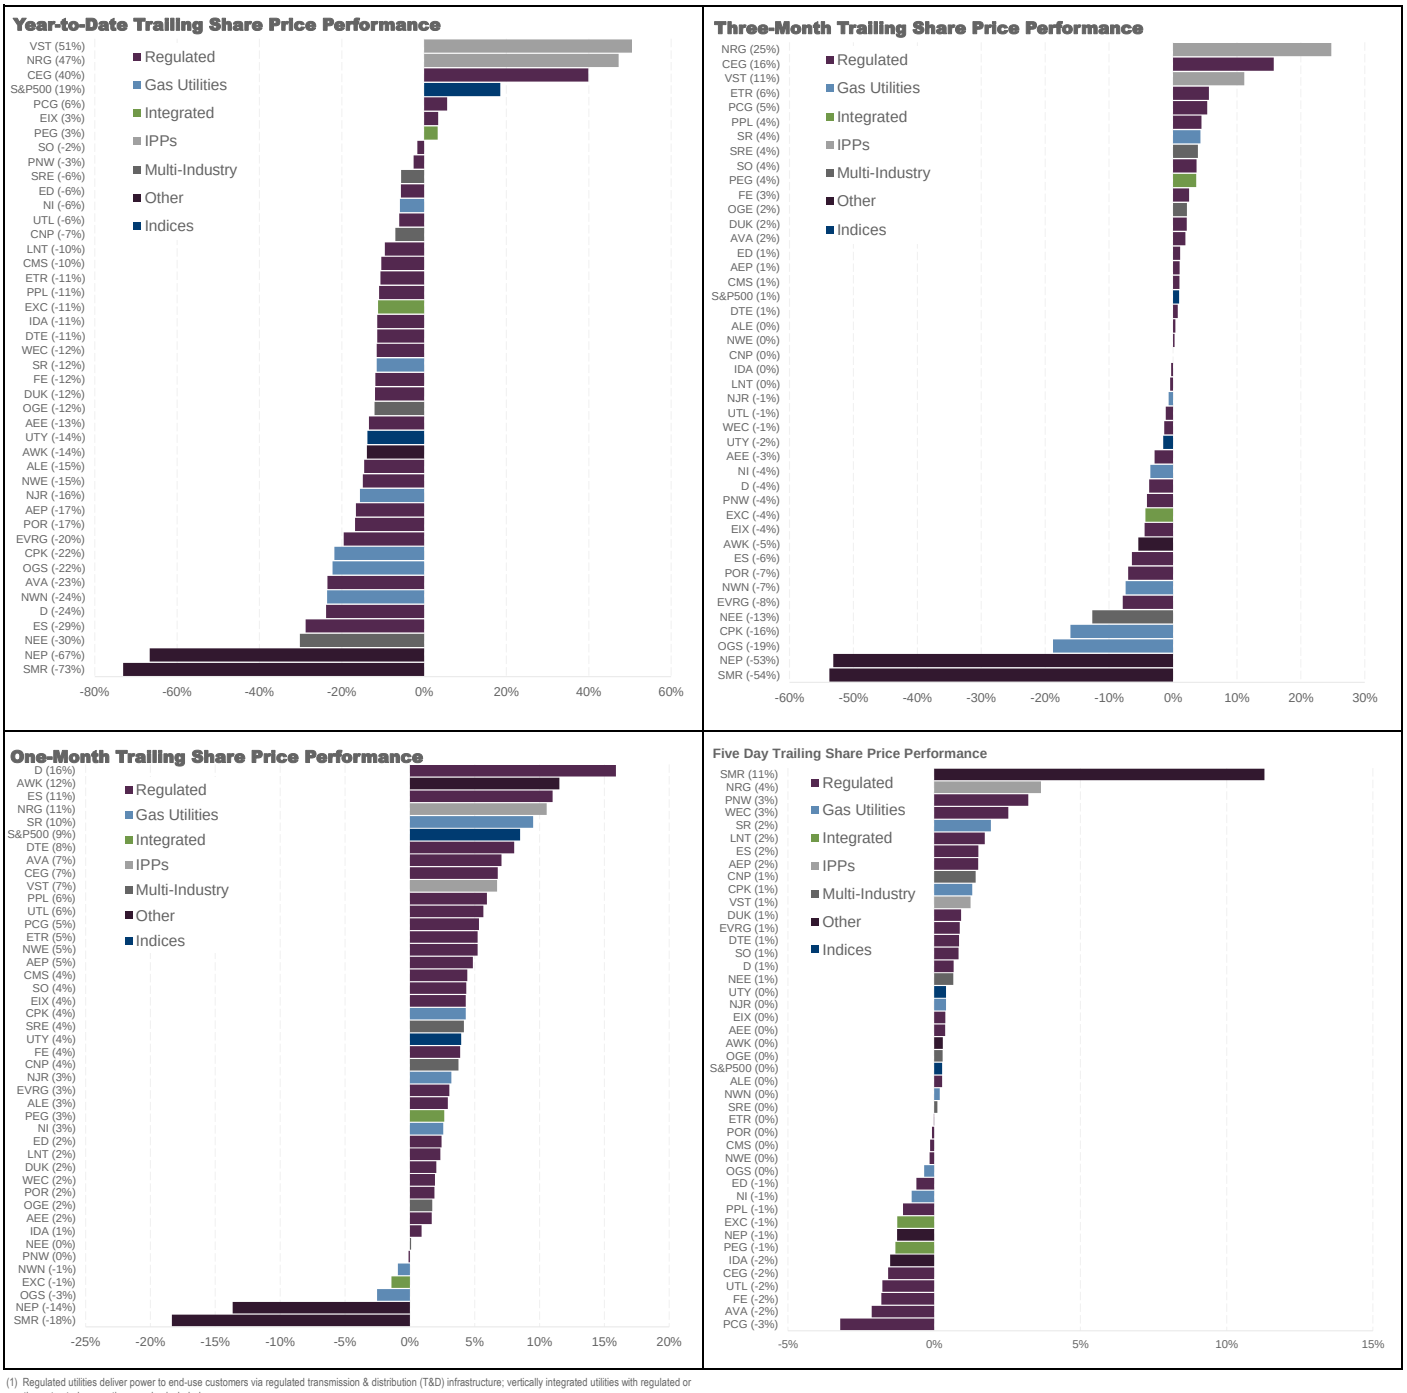
Share Price Performance (Year-to-Date, Three-Month, One-Month, & Five-Day Trailing)



(1) Regulated utilities deliver power to end-use customers via regulated transmission & distribution (T&D) infrastructure; vertically integrated utilities with regulated or mostly contracted generation are also included.

(2) Local Gas Distribution Companies (LDCs), as well as diversified utilities with a business mix largely comprised of gas infrastructure and related activities (i.e., LDC franchises, interstate pipelines, and/or other gas midstream activities).

(3) Integrated utilities own and operate regulated T&D franchises, as well as un-regulated power generation with commodity exposure.

(4) IPPs operate merchant (i.e., un-regulated, non-utility) power plants that compete to sell power in wholesale markets or through retail marketing businesses.

We update select estimates across our Utilities coverage following 10Q reviews and guidance updates including for Buy rated AEP, NEE, and Sell rated EXC and ED. We also highlight key catalysts we are watching into year-end, where we expect a decision on SO's Vogtle prudency review on December 19, a final order on EXC's ComEd and BGE rate cases on December 14, a potential commission order on XEL's Colorado Preferred Plan in December that could represent ~$8 bn of capex upside, and several other regulatory decisions and filings for the remainder of our coverage. Outside of the scope of 2023 but still in focus, we look to fourth quarter earnings calls for utilities to provide an update on capital spending plans over the next five years, where we continue to see risk skewed to the upside. We highlight Buy rated SO (on CL) and XEL where we see potential for events into year-end around Vogtle for SO and the Colorado Preferred Plan for XEL to be positive catalysts for shares.

Catalysts into Year-End

Southern Company (SO, Buy on CL)

- Vogtle Prudency Review Order: December 19. The Georgia Public Utility Commission staff put forward a stipulated agreement for the ongoing Vogtle Prudency review back in August. The stipulated agreement would allow for up to $7.562 bn of Vogtle spend to be put into rate base, versus the original amount of $7.3 bn. The agreement also states that if Vogtle Unit 4 is not put in-service by the end of 1Q2024, any portion of spend above the $2.1 bn of Unit 3 spend already in rate base will earn no return, as opposed to the penalty RoE that this spend was earning previously. This change alters the expected headwind from a delay to Unit 4, with SO now expecting a one quarter delay to create a ($0.09) drag on earnings, up from ($0.05) previously. The commission will vote on the stipulated agreement on December 19. Our model continues to embed Unit 4 going in-service in 1Q2024.
- Vogtle project updates. There are several key milestones we are looking out for on Vogtle Unit 4, the first of which is successfully replacing the reactor coolant pump that malfunctioned. The next notable step is having Unit 4 reach initial criticality. It is difficult to predict the timing of these next steps, but we believe they are worth monitoring as we head towards the end of the year as any positive news on Vogtle could improve sentiment around SO.

Xcel Energy (XEL, Buy)

- Potential Colorado Preferred Plan Order. XEL's preferred plan in Colorado has laid out the potential for up to $11bn in incremental spend. The plan includes $7.9bn of generation spend to build 7.2 GWs of renewables/natural gas, and $3bn of transmission spend, our previous note discusses the plan in detail. The commission does not have a firm date that it must make a decision by, but XEL has requested a decision in December so that it has clarity on the Preferred Plan before the 4Q2023 earnings call. Although investors have been very focused on this plan from the day it was filed, most acknowledge that the current plan can and likely will be altered to some extent, so we believe a final order on the plan that provides clarity on the investment potential will prove to be a catalyst for XEL. We also note that due to the significant potential capex upside from this plan, XEL has outperformed the XLU following the announcement of the plan.

Exelon (EXC, Sell)

- ComEd and BGE rate case final orders: December 14th. EXC expects the rate cases for two of its largest segments to conclude on December 14th, and both rate cases contain items that have been contentious throughout the process. ComEd's rate case has been focused on the authorized RoE, as Illinois has used a formulaic approach to determining RoEs for nearly a decade, and is now moving to traditional rate making methods. The latest update from the commission proposed a 9.28% RoE, below the national average of 9.6%. EXC stated that the method used to calculate this RoE is unconventional and it will continue to advocate for a different method to arrive at an RoE closer to the national average. There has also been debate around if ComEd can earn a return on its pension asset. A constructive or challenging outcome to the RoE discussion will likely be a catalyst for EXC given that ComEd is its largest segment. The BGE rate case has revolved around a few items, one of which is the implementation of performance incentive mechanisms that could allow BGE to increase its authorized RoE if those goals are all achieved. The RoE also remains uncertain, with the latest proposed RoE at 9.5%.

Duke Energy (DUK, Neutral)

- DEC North Carolina rate case. DUK is expecting a final order on its NC rate case for DEC, which will clarify the RoE and equity layer aspects of the rate case. The commission has already agreed on several important items in the rate case, including the Multi-Year Rate Plan which will allow $4.6 bn of capital to earn a return with minimal lag from Jan 2024 to the end of 2026. DUK's DEP segment recently settled its rate case in NC and achieved an RoE of 9.8% which is slightly above the national averageOur model continues to reflect a 9.6% RoE for the DEC segment going forward.

Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 10-Jan-2024 07:35 PM.

Public Service Enterprise Group (PEG, Neutral)

- Distribution rate case filing. PEG plans to file its first distribution rate in five years this December, and anticipates that it will request recovery for up to $3.3 bn of spend. Management has noted that while this is the first rate case in a significant amount of time, regulatory mechanisms such as riders have allowed PEG to earn a return on a significant amount of spend over the years, so this case will not be a massive true up. The New Jersey Board of Public Utilities (BPU) composition has changed recently, so this rate case will be an important indication of how constructive the regulatory environment is in New Jersey. Discussions with investors have indicated that most expect a relatively constructive outcome, but are somewhat hesitant due to the BPU change and the length of time since the last rate case ruling for PEG.

American Electric Power (AEP, Buy)

- New Mexico Renewable Development (NMRD) sale announcement. AEP has been in the process of simplifying its portfolio this year, and the next asset expected to be sold is a joint venture with PNM Resources that includes ~625 MWs of renewables. The assets are relatively small in AEP's portfolio, with a book value of $119mn, and only making up roughly $0.01 of EPS. AEP stated it expects a sale agreement to be announced by the end of 2023, and the transaction could close as soon as December 2023 or early 2024, per company commentary.
- West Virginia deferred fuel proceeding. AEP currently has ~$553mn of deferred fuel at its West Virginia utility that it is seeking recovery on from the commission. Management has stated that the proceeding is "approaching resolution", so we expect it could be resolved by YE2023 or in early 2024. AEP filed two options in the original fuel recovery application, option one amortizes the fuel balance over three years, and option two allows the West Virginia Commission the opportunity to determine how the fuel is recovered.

Dominion Energy (D, Not Rated)

- Decision on an offshore wind project partner. D has undertaken a 2.6 GW offshore wind project off of the coast of Virginia, which is expected to be fully constructed by 2026. As part of its ongoing business review, D has determined that it would like to find a non-controlling equity financing partner for the project. D is still in the process of choosing a partner, and expects to make a decision on this by YE2023 or early 2024. The company has also stated that an investor day that provides on update on the ongoing business review and lays out D's plans going forward will follow this decision.

Utilities Sector

- Inflation Reduction Act (IRA) guidance. Utilities continue to await guidance from Treasury on certain key items like the hydrogen and nuclear tax credits proposed in the IRA. The hydrogen tax credit guidance will determine whether utilities will be required to match annually or hourly, which has been a heavily debated topic. The utilities that we have met with have unanimously supported annual matching, and proposed that the industry moves to hourly matching eventually. Utilities are also awaiting guidance on the Nuclear PTC, as many utilities have regulated nuclear power plants and the PTC benefits will go to customers and could remove some pressure on the bill. Other utilities such as PEG have unregulated nuclear fleets, and the PTC will provide a price floor for these assets. Guidance will give utilities with unregulated nuclear fleets clarity on how to approach hedging going forward. Treasury has delayed the decision on both the hydrogen and nuclear tax credit, and utilities are hoping for a decision in late 2023/early 2024.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our coverage universe) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Quantum is Goldman Sachs' proprietary database providing access to detailed financial statement histories, forecasts and ratios. It can be used for in-depth analysis of a single company, or to make comparisons between companies in different sectors and markets.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are not provided or have been suspended pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, when the company is an early-stage biotechnology company, and in certain other circumstances. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company. Not Available or Not Applicable (NA). The information is not available for display or is not applicable. Not Meaningful (NM). The information is not meaningful and is therefore excluded.

Energy: Electric Utilities

Heads Up — The Week Ahead in Utilities: D, ES, AVA, PNW, EXC

Sophie Karp / (917) 368-2361 / sophie.karp@key.com
Sangita Jain, CFA / (917) 368-2354 / sangita.jain@key.com
Madison Lehan / (917) 368-2293 / madison.lehan@key.com

This week, we are tracking proceedings in D's biennial review in VA, ES's MA annual PBR adjustment, and AVA's OR natural gas IRP. In other news, parties file reply briefs in PNW's AZ electric GRC; ES and Orsted announced the installation of the first turbine at South Fork; NERC publishes its 2023-2024 Winter Reliability Assessment report; and the PA governor appeals Commonwealth Court's decision to block entrance into RGGI.

Regulatory Calendar

D — Evidentiary hearings in D's VA biennial review proceedings begin November 28: D, Staff, the Office of the Attorney General, and others reached a settlement agreeing to no change to base rates for 2024-2025. The parties also agreed that earnings were within the authorized band for 2021-2022, requiring no further actions. D agreed to issue $15M in bill credits by September 30, 2024. D's initial filing provided a forward-looking, rate-making analysis demonstrating a $26M revenue deficiency in 2024 and an incremental $25M in 2025. However, since the legislation also says that the fold-in of $350M in rider revenue (Rider R – Bear Garden, Rider S – Virginia City, Rider W – Warren County) into base rates cannot serve as a basis for a rate increase, D did not propose any incremental rates in this proceeding. D made the biennial rate filing in pursuance of new legislation. An SCC order is expected by March 3, 2024, followed by new rates going into effect April 1, 2024.

ES — Initial briefs in ES's MA annual PBR are due on December 1: ES is seeking a $105M revenue increase as part of its annual performance-based ratemaking adjustment. The revenue increase includes a proposed $51M revenue cap adjustment, which accounts for inflation, and a $54M adjustment to recover capital investments. ES also seeks to recover $16M in property taxes through a separate factor. The DPU previously approved ES to recover ~$31M over two years beginning in 2024. Last year, the DPU authorized a five-year extension to the PBR mechanism. Reply briefs are due on December 8. The new rates are expected to be effective on January 1, 2024.

AVA — Staff final comments on AVA's OR natural gas IRP are due on December 1: AVA filed a presentation of its 2023 natural gas IRP, highlighting the Company's preferred resource strategy to meet the expected 0.9% average annual growth through 2045. AVA's OR resource options include a combination of RNG, wastewater treatment plants, EE, community climate investments, and conventional natural gas to meet forecasted demand. AVA could add synthetic methane in the 2030s. AVA filed the IRP with the ID, OR, and WA utility commissions. AVA's filing includes strategies to comply with OR's Climate Protection Program and WA's Climate Commitment Act while meeting forecasted demand. Across the portfolio strategies, AVA will rely heavily on procuring natural gas and energy efficiency. AVA is required to file a natural gas IRP with the OPUC, WUTC, and IPUC every two years.

Recent Developments for Companies Under Our Coverage

From our midweek: AEP reached a settlement in KY Power's electric rate case; the WV PSC Staff filed testimony in FE's electric rate case; the ICC authorized a $112M revenue increase in AEE's IL gas rate case; ED's CECONY and O&R filed climate resilience investment plans with the NY PSC; and FE announced a COO and Utilities President as part of its corporate restructuring plans.

PNW — Parties file reply briefs in PNW's AZ electric GRC: In reply briefs, Staff supported the system reliability benefit (SRB) mechanism as modified in PNW's initial briefs, as long as Staff is involved earlier in the process and can review all projects during future rate case proceedings. PNW addressed several concerns in the SRB in its initial brief filing after spending more time discussing the idea with intervenors and stakeholders. The SRB proposes to track capital and derisk some projects that need to reliably serve load while reducing the number of rate cases PNW files and the regulatory lag. Staff also supported the continuation of the fixed cost recovery mechanism and maintained its 9.68% ROE recommendation. As a reminder, APS updated its request to a $376M net revenue increase in initial briefs, down from $460M in its original request, while maintaining the 10.25% ROE and 51.93% equity layer. New rates are expected to go into effect the first of the month following an ACC order, likely at some point in 1Q24.

ES — ES and Orsted announced the installation of the first turbine at South Fork: ES and Orsted announced that the South Fork project completed the installation of the first turbine. The 132 MW South Fork will consist of 12 Siemens Gamesa turbines upon completion. The project is on track to enter service in 2024. The project is a 50/50 partnership between ES and Orsted, although ES is in the process of divesting its 50% interest in its offshore wind projects (Southfork, Revolution, and Sunrise), and is engaged in discussions with a potential buyer. Once Orsted and the buyer reach an agreement, ES will be able to announce the sale and related terms.

NERC publishes 2023-2024 Winter Reliability Assessment report: NERC's Winter Reliability Assessment covers three months, from December to February. NERC expects the upcoming winter to be milder for the country's northern half. NERC projects adequate resources for a normal winter, but similar to recent years, extended extreme weather could pose significant risks to reliability. As a result, NERC highlights MISO, SPP, ERCOT, PJM, the Northeast, and parts of the Southeast as regions that face elevated risks of potential shortfalls during a prolonged, wide-area cold snap. The southern area of MISO faces higher risks due to the inadequate weatherization of generators and heavier reliance on natural gas. The Northeast also continues to face risks due to the limited infrastructure for natural gas transportation. Ahead of the winter, NERC advises the bulk power systems to take actions, including preparing generation for cold weather, monitoring fuel supply adequacy, anticipating the potential for underestimated load in extreme cold, and taking early action to reduce the risk of a reserve shortfall.

EXC — PA governor appeals Commonwealth Court's decision to block entrance into RGGI: PA Governor Shapiro filed an appeal of the Commonwealth Court's decision to block PA from entering the Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative. The Commonwealth Court previously ruled that the General Assembly must approve PA's participation in the RGGI and that the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection does not have the authority to impose a tax. PA formally joined the RGGI under former Governor Wolf's administration in April 2022. The RGGI comprises nine states and is designed to reduce CO_2 emissions from power generators through a cap and trade program. Operators buy purchase allowances through a regional auction to offset emissions that exceed a preset threshold. The program requires utilities to purchase carbon credits, and the proceeds are invested in state programs for flood resilience, etc. The cost of purchasing the credits is passed onto ratepayers. PA has not participated in any quarterly carbon credit auctions since joining.

ETR – LPSC files motion for deposition of former employee in operational prudence complaint at FERC

- LPSC filed a motion to depose Jarius Greene on December 12, 2023.
- The notice comes after some disputes regarding subpoenas for deposition.
- Jarius Greene is a former employee of Grand Gulf and the LPSC plans to have him address certain observed operational issues.
- Separately the New Orleans City council asked FERC for interim relief associated with initial decisions rendered in the SERI complaints.
- The new schedule for Track 3 of the proceeding would hold hearings January 13, 2025 and target an initial decision deadline of July 28, 2025.
- Docket: EL21-56 (through FERC search)

Guggenheim takeaway:FYI. This specific complaint relates to alleged imprudent operations and purchased power costs. Originally the complaint was quantified as retail regulators seeking damages of ~$360M for "imprudent operation" of the Grand Gulf nuclear plant between 2016 and 2020, and an investigation of the plant's management by System Energy Resources Inc. since 2012. The complainants also asked FERC to investigate the prudence of an $800 million capacity uprate of Grand Gulf in 2012, which they said led to overall decreased output from 2012 to 2020. The process so far has been reaching impasse in settlement talks and disputed on both procedural and scoping issues, but since FERC cleared the other complaint decisions and rehearing orders, operational prudence remains the last (and arguably the more difficult) complaint against SERI. The complaint now also focuses largely on LPSC and New Orleans given the prior announced settlements with MS and AR.

PNW – Reply briefs due today in APS rate case docket

- Reply briefs are due today (following initial briefs, which were filed on Nov. 6), and mgmt. recently expressed optimism at our EEI meeting that staff could come around to APS' way of thinking about the advantages of the System Reliability Benefit (SRB) the utility is proposing, even if only as a temporary solution, while other lag-reducing mechanisms or reforms are being studied and workshopped with stakeholders.
- Docket E-01345A-22-0144

Guggenheim takeaway: In our view, by pitching the SRB as a bridge to further ratemaking improvements to come, PNW may be able to find common ground with AZ's two newest elected members, Commissioner Nick Myers and Commissioner Kevin Thompson, who are also seeking to reduce regulatory lag, but during previous conversations expressed a preference for forward-looking test years vs. the SRB. For more, please see our recent EEI write-up (HERE)*, and our AZ deep dive note, "Arizona Regulation: Drawing a Line in the Sand? Not with this Commission — Continuing Our Deep Dive in the Desert with Commissioner Myers and Commissioner Thompson" (HERE).*

AEP – Kentucky Power announces rate case settlement

- Yesterday, AEP's subsidiary Kentucky Power announced that it had reached a settlement with the Kentucky AG, Kentucky Industrial Utility Customers, Walmart (WMT), Steel of West Virginia Kentucky; and a group comprised of consumer advocate groups, such as Kentuckians for the Commonwealth, the Mountain Association, Appalachian Law Center and Kentucky Resources Council.
- All parties participated in settlement negotiations and signed the agreement, with the AG and Steel of West Virginia signing as non-opposing parties.
- The settlement, if approved, would authorize an ROE of 9.75% on a rate base of $1.6bn, and would authorize a rate increase of $75m, vs $94m filed for by the utility (both figures include riders of $39m moving into base rates). Interim rates may be implemented in Jan. 2024, as per KY statute.
- The settling parties also requested that the KY PSC approves securitization.
- The hearing related to this settlement begins on Nov. 28, 2023.
- Docket 2023-00159

Guggenheim takeaway: In our view, if approved, this settlement would represent a constructive outcome in what has historically been a difficult regulatory jurisdiction. As a reminder, KY makes up less than 3% of AEP's rate base, and the ROE/equity layer set out in the stipulation of 9.75%/41.25% resulting in the same earnings power and net income contribution as the prior 9.30%/43.25% combination would have on the same settled rate base of $1.6bn. For context, the contribution of ~$0.12 of EPS is unchanged vs our modeling assumptions as a result.

ETR – ETR River Bend nuclear plant shuts down for maintenance

- ETR River Bend nuclear plant in St. Francisville, Louisiana was shut down for maintenance.
- The outage was a manual shutdown implemented last week to perform certain circulating pump maintenance.

Guggenheim takeaway:FYI.

PCG – PG&E pulls on term loan financing associated with Pac Gen formation

- PG&E pulled on $2.1B of term loan borrowing to have an interim capital structure for the Pacific Generation formation.
- The loan terms are advantaged vs. other PG&E short term borrowing.
- The term loans are subject to normal PG&E covenants.
- FERC previously approved the PG&E application to form the PacGen subsidiary.
- FERC Docket: EC23-38 (through search)
- CPUC PFD can be issued 90 days after reply briefs (i.e., early 1Q24).
- CPUC Docket: A2209018

Guggenheim takeaway:FYI. PCG announced the plan to split and subsequently sell up to a 49.9% equity stake in the new-co (Pacific Generation, wholly owned sub) and by our estimates, the formation and sale could result in $1.7-2.1B in equity proceeds. Pacific Generation equity sales (noted here). FERC has effectively completed its process and the burden now shifts to the CPUC. The strategic process was previously reported to be starting and mgmt. noted in our EEI meetings that there is robust interest in equity ownership from third parties, but it would be contingent on regulatory approvals.

PCG – CA Supreme Court rules in favor of PG&E PSPS

- CA Supreme court ruled that PG&E PSPS events do not have recourse in court in terms of liability for PG&E.
- The court argued that the liability determination by the court interferes with the CPUC authority to implement PSPS.
- The Supreme Court sent the case back to the ninth circuit.
- More HERE.

Guggenheim takeaway:FYI. The argument around limiting PSPS liability was well supported in court including by the CPUC who ultimately implements the program and assigns penalties for non-compliance. The court decision is a minor win and a confirmation of PSPS implementation.

EIX – CPUC schedules PD on SCE Track 4 GRC for November 30 CPUC voting meeting

- CPUC tentatively scheduled the SCE Track 4 settlement approval (through a proposed decision) for a November 30 Voting Meeting.
- The PD can void the 30 day comment period due to the uncontested nature of the settlement.
- SCE requested a Track 4 rate increase of $971M for a GRC attrition year, with the settlement representing a $181M reduction vs. SCE request from the evidentiary record.
- The programs and spending in 2024 are closely aligned with the 2021-2023 approved capex in Track 1
- Docket: A1908013

Guggenheim takeaway: The track 4 attrition year is in line with prior approved spending. The settlement clears the issues remaining in Track 4 and as a reminder SCE has recently filed a 2025 GRC which is in the discovery phase.

PCG – CPUC extend deadline for PG&E partial settlement on wildfire cost recovery

- CPUC issued a statutory deadline extension for March 31, 2024 for the PG&E wildfire sot recovery.
- CPUC previously issued a proposed decision approving the partial settlement on PG&E wildfire costs.

- Under the proposed Settlement Agreement, PG&E will recover a revenue requirement of $720.7 million (out of PG&E's originally requested $872.3 million for non-VMBA costs).
- Core issues include past wildfire mitigation measures including vegetation management, with only about $40M relating to capital expenditures.
- Vegetation management recovery is still disputed.
- Docket: A2109008

Guggenheim takeaway: FYI. PG&E continues to progress on legacy wildfire memorandum account recovery.

SO – Southern Company Gas issues 8-K relating to ICC's Nicor final order

- Yesterday, SO issued an 8-K relating to the ICC's final order in Nicor's general base rate case.
- The ICC approved a $223m annual rate increase (effective no later than Dec. 1, 2023), based on a 9.51% ROE and a 50.00% equity layer.
- Similar to WEC's announcement yesterday, the company noted that the ICC had disallowed $126.8m of capital investments which have been completed or were planned to be completed through Dec. 31, 2024.
- The SO subsidiary expects to record a pre-tax charge to income in the 4Q23 of ~$53m-$62m ($40m-$47m after tax) associated with the disallowances.
- Company 8-K HERE
- Docket 23-0066

Guggenheim takeaway: Minor FYI in SO's overall story, and our focus remains on the February earnings call and the anticipated next 5-year capital plan roll. Also, for context, we remind investors that WEC's PGL received an ROE of 9.38% and an equity ratio of 50.79% from the ICC in the past week as well.

DOE – DOE utilizes DPA to invest $169M in heat pump production

- The Department is using the expansive executive powers under the Defense Production Act to support heat pump producers and invest in domestic production capacity.
- More HERE, HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: Minor FYI.

EXC/IL – Reply briefs on exception filed

- PIRG, the city of Chicago, EDF and other parties have filed their briefs on exception in the ongoing MYP
- "To the extent the Commission relies on Staff's CAPM in determining the appropriate cost of equity in this proceeding, the City urges the Commission to consider the arguments set forth by PIRG and the AG and modify the Proposed Order to remove the Blume adjustment from Staff's CAPM analysis. The record evidence shows that this adjustment is arbitrary and formulaic." - release
- "For the reasons stated herein and those stated in its Brief on Exceptions, PIRG requests that the Commission enter an order in this proceeding modifying the PO's ROE analysis and adjusting ComEd's ROE to 8.84%." - PIRG
- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: Heads up as the process churns towards the final order on 12/14. ROE remains one of the most significant points of delta for ComEd heading into the final order, with the back and forth in the latest reply briefs part of the process in our view. As a reminder EXC addressed some of their issues with the ALJ PO in our EEI meetings – see HERE.

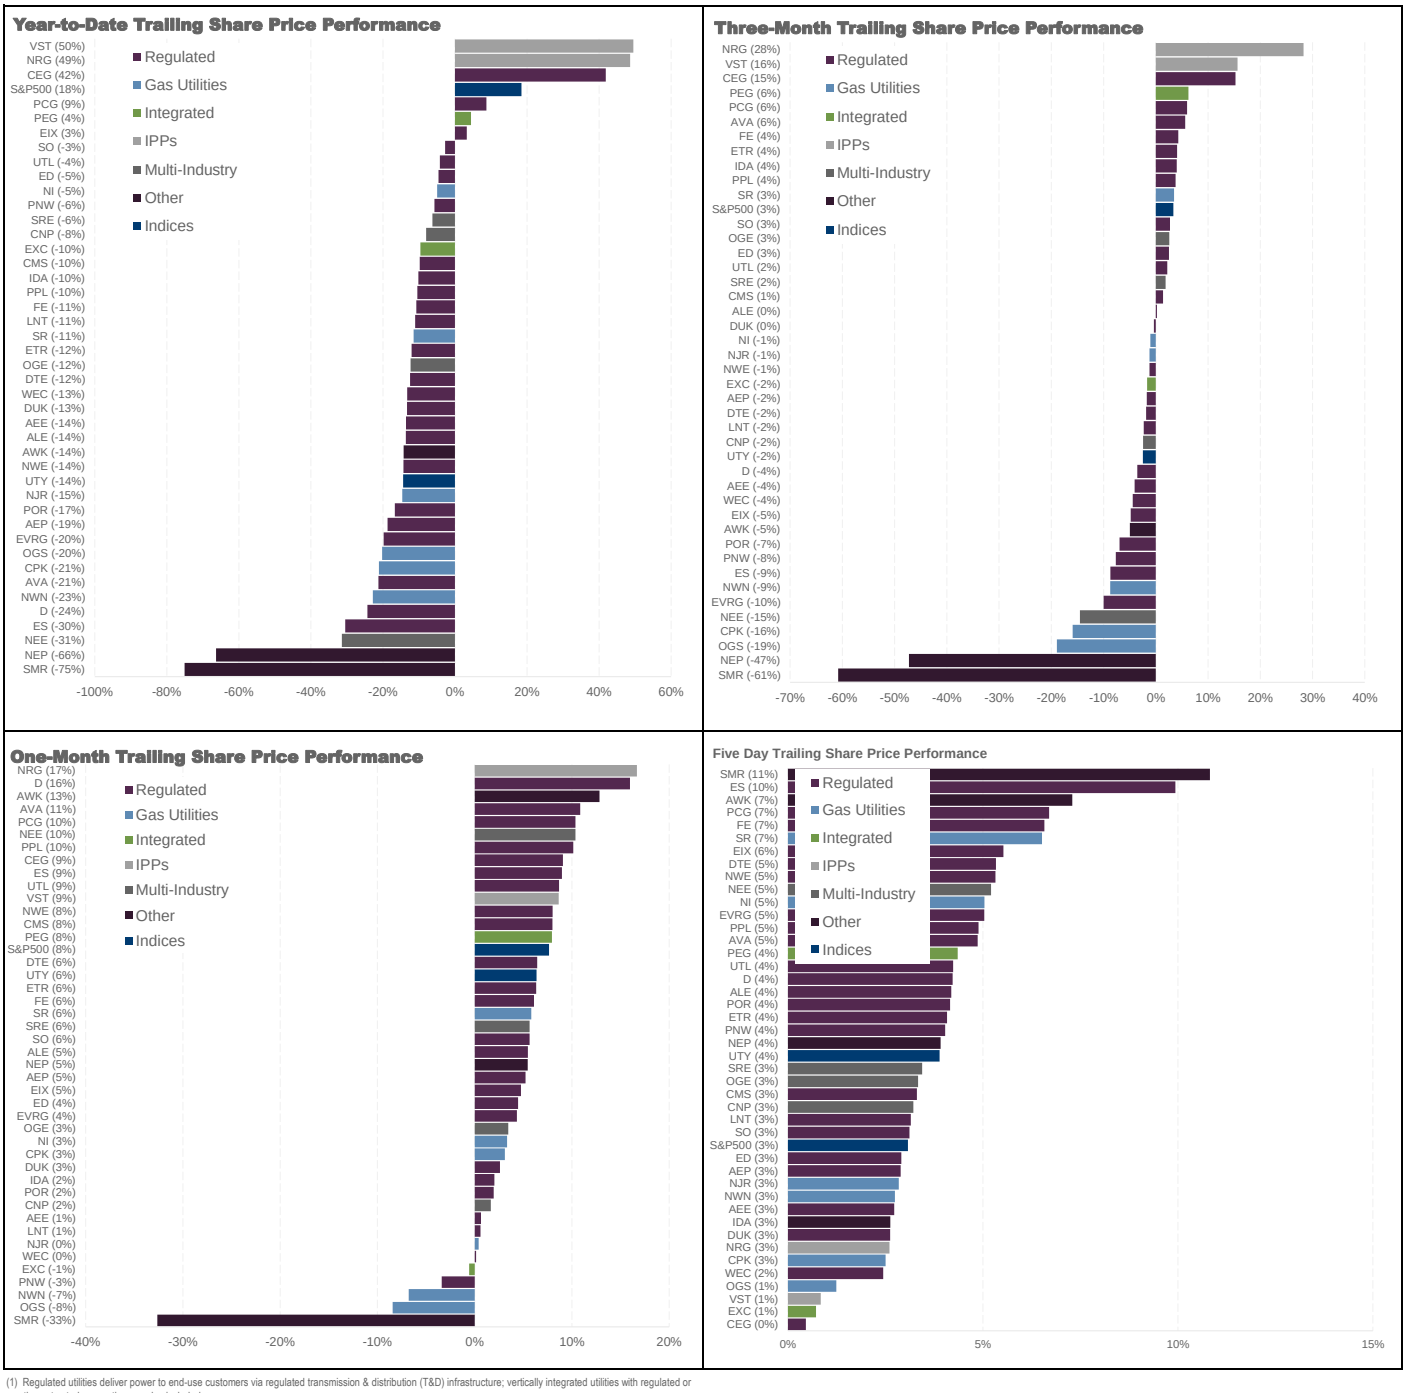
Share Price Performance (Year-to-Date, Three-Month, One-Month, & Five-Day Trailing)



(1) Regulated utilities deliver power to end-use customers via regulated transmission & distribution (T&D) infrastructure; vertically integrated utilities with regulated or mostly contracted generation are also included.

(2) Local Gas Distribution Companies (LDCs), as well as diversified utilities with a business mix largely comprised of gas infrastructure and related activities (i.e., LDC franchises, interstate pipelines, and/or other gas midstream activities).

(3) Integrated utilities own and operate regulated T&D franchises, as well as un-regulated power generation with commodity exposure.

(4) IPPs operate merchant (i.e., un-regulated, non-utility) power plants that compete to sell power in wholesale markets or through retail marketing businesses.

Exelon Corporation

The Future Ain't What It Used To Be; Downgrade to Neutral

Summary

We are downgrading Exelon to Neutral from Buy due to concerns over the Illinois regulatory environment. The recent decision for Illinois gas utilities and the subsequent below-average ROEs (9.3-9.51% vs US avg 9.55%) has us lowering our view of Exelon to a group average P/E. Although Illinois is only ~30% of EXC, it is the company's largest jurisdiction and believe a premium valuation will be a challenge. We continue to believe Exelon should be able to achieve its 6-8% growth rate but concerns over Illinois regulation have us lowering our rating to Neutral with a PT of $40 (prev. $45).

Key Points

We are downgrading EXC to Neutral from Buy due to regulatory concerns in Illinois. Recent decisions for AEE and WEC has us reassessing Illinois as a premium jurisdiction as the gas utility ROEs came in lower than the national group average. While a gas vs. electric ROE comparison is challenging in Illinois due to the last 10 years of the electric formula rate plan (FRP), we note in the US that the TTM litigated case ROE for electric is 9.58% vs gas at 9.83%. Ameren Illinois Gas and NICOR were awarded a 50% equity ratio but differed on ROE's with Ameren receiving a 9.44% and Nicor Gas a 9.51%. Peoples Gas (WEC) was awarded a 9.38% with a 50.79%, and North Shore Gas received a 9.38% ROE and a 52.58% equity ratio.

Exelon to continue on its 6-8% EPS CAGR. Even with a lower ROE we continue to believe Exelon can maintain its 6-8% EPS CAGR. For 2024 management is guiding to be in the low-end of the 6.8% range and above the 6-8% range in 2025. The Illinois electric ROE decision is expected on December 14. Every 50 bps change in ComEd's ROE impacts EPS by $0.04.

Premium valuations typically go to premium balance sheets. EXC is forecasting FFO/debt in the range of 13-14% which compares to its downgrade threshold of 12%. The company is awaiting clarity from the Treasury department on its treatment of repairs tax. Without tax repairs deduction, the alternative minimum tax would result in EXC being at the low-end of the range while with the deduction EXC would be at the high-end of the 13-14% range. We believe either scenario supports our view of an "in-line" balance sheet.

Atlantic City to increase electric rates by $45M. Last week Atlantic City Electric (~4% rate base) received approval for its unanimous settlement based on a 9.6% ROE and a 50.2% equity ratio. The 9.6% ROE is similar to what ACE received in their 2021 rate case and has been awarded to 15 of the last 17 electric and gas rate cases decided in NJ.

Exelon Valuation

Base Case

Our price $40.00 target is derived as follows:

We value the regulated electric distribution and transmission 2025 earnings of $2.58 using a P/E multiple of 16.1 times, a 10% premium to our electric group average multiple, resulting in a price target of $42.00.

We value the regulated gas distribution 2025 earnings of $0.52 using a P/E multiple of 15.8 times, a 10% premium to our gas group average multiple, resulting in a price target of $8.00.

Adjusting for unallocated debt reduces the PT by $10.00.

Consistent with our methodology our price targets are dynamic changing with the group average P/E multiples and EV/EBITDA multiples recalculated on a daily basis.

Bull Case: In our bull case we forecast an Illinois ROE of 9.9%. While the higher ROE would result in a minimal change to EPS (~$0.05) we believe investors would be willing to accord a higher P/E premium to Exelon shares resulting in a price target of $44.

Bear Case: For our bear case, our PT could be reduced if there is a reduction in the capex spend. Specifically, for every $1,000m reduction in capex would decrease EPS by ~$0.05/sh reducing our PT by $1, resulting in a bear case PT of $39/sh.

Risks: 1) high inflation and interest rates persists causing regulatory lag; 2) challenging rate case outcomes Illinois, Maryland or any other jurisdictions over the course of the next year.

Company Models

In the pages that follow, we highlight our detailed consolidated financial model, including both historical and projections for income statement, cash flow and balance sheet for Exelon Corporation from 2020A to 2025E. To derive the consolidated results, we modeled full financials for each operating subsidiary. Clients who would like the full models may obtain them through their MSUSA representative or by direct request to the authors.

Price Target Calculation and Key Risks

Price Target Calculations: Using a sum of the parts analysis on 2025 results we derive a price target of $40.00 per share. Our price target is derived as follows: (1) Regulated electric distribution and transmission: we derive a PT of $42.00, applying a 10% premium to the electric utility group average P/E multiple; (2) Regulated Gas Distribution: we derive a PT of $8.00, applying a 10% premium to the gas utility group average multiple; (3) Adjusting for unallocated debt reduces the PT by $10.00.

Consistent with our methodology our price targets are dynamic changing with the group average P/E multiples and EV/EBITDA multiples recalculated on a daily basis.

Key Risks: Equity overhang, weak commodity outlook, general economic conditions, changes in state and/or Federal regulation, weather, ongoing business operational risk, broader macroeconomic conditions, and interest rate movements are among the key risks to our rating and expected stock performance.

Companies Mentioned (prices as of 11/20/2023)
Ameren Corporation (AEE- Neutral $76.82)
WEC Energy Group (WEC- Buy $81.32)

Heads Up — The Week Ahead in Utilities: EXC, FE, WEC, SO, ED, AEP, XEL, EIX

Sophie Karp / (917) 368-2361 / sophie.karp@key.com
Sangita Jain, CFA / (917) 368-2354 / sangita.jain@key.com
Madison Lehan / (917) 368-2293 / madison.lehan@key.com

This week, we are tracking proceedings in EXC's electric rate case in IL and FE's WV electric rate case. In other news, the ICC issues a final order in the Nicor Gas rate case; the ICC issues final orders in North Shore Gas and Peoples Gas rate cases; the NJ BPU votes to authorize a $45M rate increase in EXC's NJ electric rate case; the NY PSC approves settlement in ED's CECONY steam rate case; intervenors file testimony in AEP's IN electric rate case; XEL files an amended Clean Heat Plan in CO; and the CA Department of Forestry and Fire blames EIX in Fairview Fire report.

Regulatory Calendar

EXC — Reply exceptions to the ALJ's proposed decision in EXC's IL electric rate are due on November 20: EXC filed its briefs on exceptions to the ALJ's PD, which specified 18 exceptions and 12 technical corrections. The two most critical exceptions EXC raises are the return on pension assets and ROE. EXC asked the ICC to recognize and allow at least a debt return on the $1.2B pension asset. EXC also notes that the ALJ used its own CAPM calculation, which would result in a lower ROE than that determined by the formula rate method. If the ALJ would use the Staff's beta, it would improve the ALJ calculated ROE by 31 bps. As a result of the PD, EXC is requesting the ICC to hold an oral argument on issues related to ROE, the return on pension assets, capital structure, the inclusion of the targeted overhang program in the grid and rate plans, and certain grid investments. As a reminder, the ALJ issued a PD recommending a $1,175M revenue increase, premised on a 9.28% ROE. In briefs, EXC updated its request to a $1,499M revenue increase over the 2024-2027 period while proposing to defer ~$339M for future recovery. EXC can phase in up to 50% of the initial year's approved increase to be deferred and recovered within 24 months or by 2026. EXC's request is premised on gradual increases in its ROE (10.5-10.65%) and equity layers (50.58-51.19%) through the four years. The ALJ denied Staff's method to use the formula rate method in the PD. The ICC has until December 20 to issue a final decision. New rates are expected to go into effect January 1, 2024.

FE — Staff and intervenor testimony in FE's WV electric rate case is due on November 21: FE's subsidiary, Monongahela Power and the Potomac Edison Co., filed a combined electric rate case (Docket: 23-0460-E-42T) with the WV PSC seeking a $207M revenue increase, premised on a 10.85% ROE and 49.18% equity. The main drivers of the request include the recovery of infrastructure investments and the recovery of storm costs. FE also seeks depreciation changes to its WV-generating plants. FE is analyzing the potential acquisition of the 1,300 MW Pleasants coal plant. A WV PSC final decision is expected in 1Q24. FE will file supporting testimony in the upcoming weeks. Mon Power and Potomac Edison were awarded a $124M revenue increase in the last rate case. The ROE and equity were silent. The filing is the last expected rate case filing by FE (MD, NJ, WV) in 2023.

Recent Developments for Companies Under Our Coverage

From our midweek: The WI PSC verbally approves revenue increases in XEL's electric and gas rate cases; D reaches a settlement in the VA biennial review proceedings; JCP&L files a five-year infrastructure plan with NJ BPU; the Oklahoma attorney general files a response to the final order in PSO's electric rate; the U.S. Court of Appeals vacates Port Arthur LNG project permit over inconsistent emission limits; and a Midwest utility group seeks to invest $130M in transmission upgrades to reduce grid congestion.

SO — ICC authorizes $223M revenue increase in SO's Northern IL gas rate case: The ICC issued a final order authorizing a $223M revenue increase, premised on a 9.51% ROE, 50% equity, and $6.0B rate base. The order compares to Nicor Gas's $317M revenue increase request, premised on a 10.3% ROE, 54.5% equity, and a $6.2B rate base. The lower ROE is the primary driver of the delta, which the ICC calculated using the average of Staff's 8.81% DCF estimate and the revised CAPM estimate of 10.21%, resulting in the authorized 9.51% ROE. The ICC revised the Staff's CAPM (10.96%) calculation to apply a lower market risk premium. The other main driver was the disallowance of incentive compensation costs. The ALJ and Staff recommended revenue increases of $250M and $254M, respectively. Both recommended a 9.89% ROE. The order also adopted the ICC's previous order to remove $32M of QIP-related investment from the rate base, for which Nicor requested a rehearing, but the ICC denied it. New rates are expected to go into effect January 1, 2024.

KeyBanc Capital Markets Inc. | Member FINRA/SIPC

WEC — ICC issues final orders in Peoples Gas and North Shore rate cases: The ICC issued a final order authorizing revenue increases of $303M and $11M for Peoples Gas and North Shore Gas, respectively. New rates are scheduled to go into effect on January 1, 2024. Read more about the order below:

- North Shore Gas: The ICC authorized an $11M revenue increase, premised on a 9.38% ROE, 52.58% equity layer, and a $422M rate base. The order compares to North Shore Gas's $17M revenue requests, using a 9.9% ROE, 54% equity layer, and $429M rate base. In addition to the lower ROE (read more below), the amortization of rate case expenses was the other main driver of the delta. The ALJ and Staff proposed a $14M revenue increase using a 9.83% ROE.
- Peoples Gas: The ICC authorized a revenue increase of $303M, premised on a 9.38% ROE, 50.79% equity layer, and $4.2B rate base. The order compares to Peoples Gas's $401M revenue request, premised on a 9.9% ROE, 54% equity layer, and $4.8B rate base. The lower ROE and SMP Plant disallowances (read more about each below) were the primary drivers of the delta. Other drivers included the disallowance of shops and related facilities and an adjustment to the pension asset. Notably, the final order was also materially lower than the ALJ's PD and Staff's recommendations of $350M and $353M, respectively. The ALJ and Staff both used a 9.83% ROE.
- 9.38% ROE: The ICC determined its ROE by using an average of the Staff's constant growth DCF calculation (9.40%) and revised CAPM estimates (9.47%). The ICC revised Staff's CAPM (10.96%) calculation to apply a lower market return estimate, resulting in the 9.47% estimate. The ICC also adopted Staff's 6 bps downward adjustment due to what it perceived as a lower risk for North Shore and Peoples Gas relative to the proxy group. Overall, the lower ROE was a primary driver in the delta between the ICC's order and the companies' request. Peoples Gas and North Shore Gas were authorized ROEs of 9.05% and 9.67%, respectively, in their last rate cases.
- SMP Plant Disallowance: The ICC disallowed $265M related to spending for the Safety Modernization Program (SMP) for the 2024 test year. The ICC also placed the SMP on hold until a separate proceeding determines the method and capital investment required to replace high-risk pipe. The proceeding will be initiated by February 1, 2024. As a reminder, PGL is in the process of replacing ~2K miles of Chicago's aging natural gas pipeline infrastructure through the SMP and was authorized to recover the costs through the QIP rider. The QIP is set to expire at the end of the year, and PGL was not seeking an extension to the rider and would seek cost recovery through future rate cases. PGL's projected average annual investment through 2025 is between $280M and $300M. The ALJ proposed the disallowance of $63M in its PD.

EXC — NJ BPU votes to authorize a $45M rate increase in EXC's NJ electric rate case: The NJ BPU voted to approve the settlement in EXC's NJ electric rate case. The approval authorizes EXC a $45M revenue increase, premised on a 9.6% ROE, 50.2% equity, and a $2.2B rate base. Rates will be implemented in two phases, beginning with a $36M revenue increase on December 1. An incremental $9M step-up will go into effect on February 1, 2024. The step-up is associated with the Smart Energy Network program, which aims to bring AMI to all customers. Parties, including the BPU Staff, NJ Division of Rate Counsel, and others, filed the settlement on October 21. ACE initially sought a $92M revenue increase, premised on 10.5% ROE and 50.2% equity. The main drivers of the request included the recovery of investments to the distribution system and necessary investments to meet the targets set in NJ's Energy Master Plan. ACE also requested the recovery of higher interest rates, inflation, and storm costs.

ED — NY PSC issues final order authorizing settlement in ED's CECONY steam rate case: The NY PSC issued a final order approving the Joint Proposal, authorizing a levelized revenue increase of $77.8M in each of RY1-RY3. The PSC adopted a 9.25% ROE and a 48% equity layer. Other attributes include a weather normalization adjustment and an earnings-sharing mechanism that shares any earnings exceeding a 9.75% ROE between ED and customers. During the rate plan, ED is authorized ~$106M of capex each year. New rates are retroactive to November 1, 2023.

AEP — Intervenors file testimony in AEP's IN electric rate case: The Office of the Utility Consumer Counselor recommended a $43M revenue increase, premised on a 9.3% ROE and a $5.4B rate base. The OUCC recommendation compares to AEP's $116M (net $41M) revenue request, premised on a 10.5% ROE and 51.2% equity. The OUCC's lower ROE recommendation was the primary driver of the delta, further compounded by adjustments to O&M and depreciation. The OUCC supported AEP's proposal to phase in the increase over two steps, with a portion of rates going into effect shortly after a final order, followed by an incremental step-up in 2025. As a reminder, AEP sought an $84M initial increase, followed by an incremental $33M revenue increase. The OUCC recommended the denial of the Grants Project Rider to recover costs for projects eligible to receive state and federal grants. Hearings are set to begin in January, followed by a Commission order in June 2024. New rates are expected to go into effect in mid-2024.

XEL — XEL files amended Clean Heat Plan in CO: XEL filed a revised Clean Heat Plan (Docket: 23A-0392EG) in CO to remove CNG and carbon offsets from all the portfolios and from counting toward the Company's emissions reductions for purposes of the Clean Heat Targets. The filing follows a motion by a coalition of climate groups and consumer advocates demanding that regulators remove the strategies, resulting in the PUC scheduling an evidentiary hearing in December to resolve the issue. However, now that XEL has removed the strategies from its plan, the hearings are no longer required and were canceled by the PUC. XEL proposes $771M of costs through 2028 as part of its amended preferred portfolio, including $302M and $362M allocated to electrification and recovered methane, respectively. XEL also proposed spending $81M and $26M for demand side management and hydrogen, respectively. The amended portfolio excludes $31M and $13M initially proposed for carbon offset and CNG, respectively. XEL filed the Clean Heat Plan in response to SB 21-264, which requires gas utilities to deploy clean heat resources to reduce emissions 22% from 2015 levels by 2030. A PUC decision on the plan is expected by mid-2024.

EIX — Department of Forestry and Fire issues Fairview Fire report: The CA Department of Forestry and Fire issued a report on the Fairview Fire, placing the responsibility on SCE. The investigation determined that one of SCE's wires was sagging, resulting in the line contacting a communication line that caused sparks and ignited flammable vegetation. The CA Department of Forestry and Fire also noted that SCE's power line remained energized that day. The September 2022 fire burned ~28K acres and resulted in two deaths. The city of Hemet filed a lawsuit against SCE, alleging the utility did not properly manage its lines or vegetation, resulting in the fire. A trial is set for September 2024. As is required in CA, EIX submitted an Electric Safety Incident Report (ESIR) to the CPUC, notifying the regulator that circuit activity occurred close to the reported time of the fire. SCE has accrued material charges for potential losses relating to the Fairview Fire.

U.S. Power & Utilities: Day 3 Recap of EEI Conference

AWK, CNP, ETR, EXC, NEE/NEP, PCG, PNW, PPL, WEC

Our view: To wrap up the final day of the conference, our discussions with management teams continued to focus on the incremental drivers of load growth, the long-term financing strategies for incremental capex, and how companies look to manage through their upcoming regulatory filings while customer affordability is top of mind. Management teams continue to prepare to operate in a higher-for-longer interest rate environment. Even those that seem to have healthier balance sheets appear to be taking a proactive approach to managing balance sheet health as we continue to expect increased scrutiny from the rating agencies.

American Water Works: Susan Hardwick, President & CEO; Cheryl Norton, EVP & COO; John Griffith, EVP & CFO; Maureen Duffy, SVP, Communications & External Affairs; Jack Quinn, IR.

Entergy: Kimberly Fontan, CFO; Phillip May, ETR Louisiana CEO; Anne Kulakowski, IR.

NextEra Energy: Rebecca Kujawa, President & CEO of NEER; Kirk Crews, CFO.

PG&E Corp.: Patti Poppe, CEO; Marlene Santos, EVP & Chief Customer Officer; Jonathan Arnold, IR; Chris Paschal, IR.

Pinnacle West Capital Corp.: Jeff Guldner, Chairman, President & CEO; Andrew Cooper, SVP & CFO; Ted Geisler, President, APS; Amanda Ho, IR.

PPL Corp.: Vince Sorgi, PPL President & CEO; Christine Martin, President, PPL Electric Utilities; Tadd Henninger, SVP, Finance & Treasurer; Andy Ludwig, IR.

WEC Energy Group: Scott Lauber, CEO; Xia Liu, CFO; Beth Straka, SVP, Corporate Communications & IR; Mary Aspinwall, Director, Financial Planning.

American Water Works (AWK)

Hoping for straightforward PA rate case. The 10.95% ROE may on the ambitious side, but we don't expect a notable move in the ROE. AWK is hoping to reach a settlement in the case, which would result in an undisclosed ROE and equity layer parameters. We consider this to be the best route to take as it may result in more constructive allowed returns. We believe present ROE to be around 10% and the equity layer around 55%.

Credit metrics. The company is looking for an improved rating from Moody's, whose rating of Baa1 compares to S&P's A rating. Management pointed to timeframe for outlook when describing the differences in the methodology between the two rating agencies. Moody's assessment came following the sale of HOS when the credit metrics looked weaker over the next few years. AWK thinks that S&P may have taken the approach of looking over a longer period of time.

PFAS investment and O&M. The company has started pilot projects at various facilities to test PFAS removal. These include using both granular activated carbon and anion exchange resins. It seems the best filter media will depend on the type of water being treated. On the disposal side, the estimated costs are built into the O&M estimates.

Entergy Corp. (ETR)

'24-'26 capex plan introduced. ETR's new capex update includes $19.6B over the next three years, up ~$3.6B compared to the '23-'25 capital plan. The current plan continues to include $0.9B for resilience, and upside potential of $2.3B is available pending approval of resilience filings. Notably, the company does not expect incremental equity above the initial 2022 analyst day plan of $1.4B through 2026 to fund the incremental capex, while maintaining a 14% FFO/ debt ratio. The company highlighted the recent gas LDC sale and lower pension liability from a higher discount rate as offsets to equity needs.

Increased industrial sales expectations. The updated growth target is 6-7% over '23 to '26, up from ~6%. Similar to competitors, ETR is now also pointing to demand from data centers in addition to the robust industrial growth it has previously highlighted in the Gulf. We expect some lumpiness in YoY sales growth, given some sizable customers and the timing of projects coming online.

Exelon Corp (EXC)

ComEd rate case remains disappointing, but some ability to recover incremental benefits from the case. Management recognized the disappointing results out of their ComEd rate case of only a 9.24% ROE, but noted they had some incremental adjustments they expect are still possible, such as an adjustment to the beta calculation in the rate case or how to recovery pension assets. Other rate cases remain in flight, with a decision for BGE expected next month, and additional jurisdictions, like Pepco, expected in early- to mid-2024.

Commercial growth driven by data center demand. EXC pointed to data center demand growth throughout their service territories, with ComEd having the largest opportunity. Management pointed to 22 datacenters built since 2019 in their Illinois service area, with 6,400MW of data center projects in their engineering stage and 8,000MW of additional high probability projects that had yet to pay a deposit. Additionally, larger data center sizes are being seen, with the typical data center project using 30MW historically becoming a 100-200MW site recently. The company pointed to the data center investment credit law passed in 2019 as a differentiator for the region in attracting incremental data center loads.

CenterPoint Energy (CNP)

Organic growth remains robust. Growth across CenterPoint's service areas remains robust, with management putting a notable focus on the Houston metro area and the growth seen there. Management noted that slightly over one quarter of all of Texas's demand was in their service area, with 125k net immigration and 45k housing starts in the Houston area alone. They also saw EV growth accelerating, noting a baseline 500 per month had increased to 2,000, with aspirations for 3,000+. They pointed to a gross profit of $80 per year, per EV for their Houston service area as a data point supporting the continued organic growth they expect will allow them to hit their 8% adjusted EPS growth target.

Grid reliability remains a concern. CenterPoint pointed towards grid reliability concerns stemming from the high growth rates and lack of a robust capacity market in Texas. They point to ERCOT's own estimate in October, which put a blackout under winter conditions similar to last year at 20%, with an even colder or less windy period likely leading to a significantly higher chance of load shedding. Management pointed to their mobile generation capacity and the inclusion of a CCGT plant in their IRP as some of the steps they were undertaking to help ensure service reliability, but noted a robust capacity market would be beneficial for the long-term health of the Texas grid.

Gas LDC sales remain a possible source of funds with equity raises in line with capex growth. Management did not rule out the sale of additional gas LDC's as a source of funds, noting that the Dominion bidding process conclusion could lead to a better market given the decreased competition of assets for sale. Management did note that to maintain balance sheet discipline, equity funding would likely be needed for incremental capex, it around the same 50% ratio they had announced during the last $500M increase.

NextEra Energy, Inc. (NEE) and NextEra Energy Partners (NEP)

Hedges protecting the backlog and a portion of corporate maturities. In most cases, NEE will typically enter into interest hedges when PPAs are signed, which plays a large role in securing the return profile. For the company's current $20.1B of hedges, management indicates that we should expect the backlog to be secured first prior to corporate maturities. Therefore, we expect roughly half of its ~$12B in corporate maturities over the next two years are subject to refinancing risk.

Tax equity versus transferability. While project finance cost of capital is cheaper than tax equity, the lack of ability to monetize the accelerated depreciation benefits in a project finance structure generally offsets the difference, according to the company. NEE currently has ~$4B of credits on its balance sheet, which we expect the company to monetize over the next few years. It may make more sense in the near term to favor tax equity to monetize credits and depreciation, avoiding a glut of credits on their balance sheets, assuming a resolution on Basel III capital requirement issue.

Changes in PPAs. While PPAs have roughly doubled to ~$50/MWh in the last two years, panels and battery costs have come down significantly this year, which puts some downward pressure on PPAs moving forward. For cost of capital, management highlighted that every 100bps change in interest rates creates a change of roughly 5 cents per watt ($5 per MW).

Panel commentary. Management highlighted considerable differences in panel pricing in the U.S. compared to other countries, largely due to a higher risk premium driven by UFLPA and the circumvention investigation. However, NEE noted that they have contractual protections and will not face any impact from Section 201 tariffs. Additionally, management is continuing to diversify its supply chain to countries like India and eventually the U.S., although very little panel capacity is available for them in the near term, excluding NEE from domestic content benefits.

Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 10-Jan-2024 07:35 PM.

Data center opportunities. NEE commented that data center operators are prioritizing interconnection and 24/7 reliability over completely utilizing clean power, given the challenges with resource capacity. Nonetheless, we continue to see this opportunity as a large driver of development growth, which many corporates have affirmed at the conference.

PG&E Corporation (PCG)

2nd revision to the APD. Messaging was more positive following yesterday's second revision to Commissioner Reynolds' alternative proposed decision. The revision includes an inflation escalation adjustor of 50% from the previous proposal of 25%. PG&E will file its 10-year undergrounding plan once it receives a final decision on the GRC, which could come this Thursday. We can still expect a mixture of GRC undergrounding miles and SB884 miles. The utility is required to address its highest risk miles first. We are still unclear how the utility will determine which lines get covered conductor if this investment is included in the case, as these high-risk lines may be those that would benefit the most from undergrounding. It sounds like there could be some language that may allow for more flexibility here, but it seems this strategy is still being worked out.

Deploying CoC earnings to expense items. We shouldn't expect an upward revision to guidance or the earnings outlook as a result of the cost of capital. Management noted that it would look invest in the business through incremental O&M to help strengthen future years.

Dividend coming soon. We still expect the dividend to come in at a low payout ratio, and believe the utility will prioritize allocating cash to capital needs over the dividend. Even if the dividend grows faster than earnings, we shouldn't expect the payout ratio to rival those of peers in the immediate future.

Pinnacle West Capital (PNW)

Rate case considerations. One item to watch in the case is the fair value increment. Management is still advocating for the adjustment, but would be fine with an offsetting benefit in the ROE. At this point, there would need to be a one for one symmetric increase in the ROE, which would translate to 50 basis points. Another key item is the system reliability benefit (SRB), which would allow for recovery on generation to help reduce lag. The proceeding is still in the briefing phase post-hearings, so we can expect an update on Staff's position on the SRB on 11/21.

Equity needed to align with authorized parameters. The $400-$500 million equity need outlined in the current plan is mostly catch-up equity, as the company had not wanted to issue equity following the lower ROE allowed during the 2019 GRC. APS filed with a 52% equity layer, which compares to the 54.7% allowed equity layer. The utility is probably sitting closer to a 50% equity to capitalization right now. After the rate case wraps up we expect an update on additional external financing to meet capital needs.

PPL Corporation (PPL)

Timing for rate case filings under consideration. The current plan has no KY GRCs through 2026 and the current stayout clause prevents the utilities from raising rates until mid-2025. It seems the team could go in sooner for a rate case given the CPCN decision would require incremental coal plant O&M that would need to be captured in rates. The major O&M driver would be coal plant outages, as these will become more frequent now that the units are staying online. In PA, the current DSIC is capped at 5% and the investments absorbed in the mechanism are absorbing that limit. PPL Electric could file for a waiver to raise the amount or file a rate case so those investments get absorbed into the base rate.

Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 10-Jan-2024 07:35 PM.

Transmission needs driving growth. Data centers and onshoring seem to be less relevant to PPL's story, with the company noting they find data centers to be less favorable in KY since the margins on the power are lower. Transmission remains the primary focus, contributing to 35% of capital spend in the current plan. In RI, we're seeing less economic development given the higher costs of living. RI is seeing some migration away from the state, but PPL's revenues are decoupled which should provide protection in the event of lower volumes.

WEC Energy Group (WEC)

Leadership commentary. While management made it clear that Gale Klappa will have a less hands-on approach as non-executive chairman, it remains unclear how front-facing he will be moving forward, although it seems likely to us that it will be less frequent. Additionally, the company noted that Klappa will continue to be on calls through 1Q24. We do not see major changes to the remaining management team's roles in the near term.

More Microsoft. On Friday, Microsoft announced that it plans to purchase an additional 1,030 areas of land to expand data center operations. While the investment opportunities for the additional acreage will be reflected past WEC's current five-year plan, we highlight the continued runway for robust economic development in the state.

Transferability. WEC's five-year plan expects $1.6 to $1.8B of tax credits produced. $500M of the credits are expected to come from the utility, and the proceeds from sales will be returned to customers. This leaves ~$1.2B of credits that are available to utilize as an equity-like source to fund its capital needs.

Explanation of RBC Capital Markets Equity rating system

An analyst's 'sector' is the universe of companies for which the analyst provides research coverage. Accordingly, the rating assigned to a particular stock represents solely the analyst's view of how that stock will perform over the next 12 months relative to the analyst's sector average.
Ratings
Outperform (O): Expected to materially outperform sector average over 12 months.
Sector Perform (SP): Returns expected to be in line with sector average over 12 months.
Underperform (U): Returns expected to be materially below sector average over 12 months.
Restricted (R): RBC policy precludes certain types of communications, including an investment recommendation, when RBC is acting as an advisor in certain merger or other strategic transactions and in certain other circumstances.
Not Rated (NR): The rating, price targets and estimates have been removed due to applicable legal, regulatory or policy constraints which may include when RBC Capital Markets is acting in an advisory capacity involving the company.
Risk Rating
The Speculative risk rating reflects a security's lower level of financial or operating predictability, illiquid share trading volumes, high balance sheet leverage, or limited operating history that result in a higher expectation of financial and/or stock price volatility.

Distribution of ratings

For the purpose of ratings distributions, regulatory rules require member firms to assign ratings to one of three rating categories - Buy, Hold/Neutral, or Sell - regardless of a firm's own rating categories. Although RBC Capital Markets' ratings of Outperform (O), Sector Perform (SP), and Underperform (U) most closely correspond to Buy, Hold/Neutral and Sell, respectively, the meanings are not the same because our ratings are determined on a relative basis.

Energy: Electric Utilities

EEI Day Two: Notes from Meetings — EXC, DUK, AGR, PNW, ETR, EIX, NWE, AEP, POR, FE, NEE

On Day 2 of the EEI Conference we met with EXC, DUK, AGR, PNW, ETR, EIX, NWE, AEP, POR, FE, and NEE. Our discussions focused on regulatory activity at the various utilities with special attention to affordability in light of energy transition and resilience-related spending. Financing needs and credit metrics were in focus to understand the capital needs of the various utilities in an elevated interest rate environment. With more than a year since the passage of the IRA, investors are interested in how the many tax credit provisions are utilized by the companies to further the energy transition while benefiting from the provisions of the bill. Detailed takeaways from each of our meetings are provided below.

Exelon Corporation (EXC)

We met with EXC's senior management team at the EEI Conference. Our conversation centered around the pending IL MYRP decision, regulatory activity in EXC's other jurisdictions, the Company's steady focus on execution, balance sheet management and a big picture view on the energy transition.

Multiple jurisdictions in the portfolio offers diversity and scale: Management highlighted the Company's position as the largest T&D company and its commitment to a 6-8% EPS growth cadence with a 9-10% rate base growth. Despite a growing rate base to support the energy transition, the Company's capex consists of smaller projects, none that exceed 1% of total capex, vs. larger projects that often carry cost and timing risks. 75% of EXC's revenue is decoupled, all jurisdictions have forward test years and offer opportunities for multi-year rate plans — all working toward allowing long term capital planning and a smoother EPS cadence.

ComEd's IL electric MYRP is the primary focus for investors: We spent a large portion of our meeting discussing the ongoing MYRP proceedings in IL — the first since the CEJA was signed into law. The case is in the advanced stage with an ICC open meeting scheduled for December 14th, following which a decision will be imminent. The primary area of disagreement remains on the ROE for which the ALJ is recommending a 9.28% ROE and the Staff is recommending sticking with the formula rate base approach of 580 bps over the 10-year Treasury. EXC is requesting 10.5% to earn an appropriate return. In recently filed reply briefs, EXC is also requesting a debt return on the $1.2B of pension assets vs. the Staff proposing no return. Replies to the briefs on exception are due on November 20, which will be followed by oral arguments. So, what if the ICC decision is not as constructive as it should be? Depending on the details of the final order, EXC may choose to file an appeal and even look at its entire portfolio of investment opportunities to reallocate capital if the ROE outcome in the rate case is less than expected. There are investment opportunities at ComEd that fall outside the purview of the rate case, which should potentially continue as planned regardless of the rate case outcome.

BGE, ACE, Delmarva, and PEPCO rate cases are all proceeding ahead as planned: The BGE MYRP is also heading for a final commission order on December 14. Discussions thus far have been constructive and focused on ROE, possibility of a performance incentive mechanism, investments in gas infrastructure, etc. Three of the five commissioners in the MD PSC are new this go-around so there is little by way of precedent on what can be expected. An ACE rate case decision is also imminent in 4Q23 as parties have been working on a settlement, and the same is the case in the DPL DE Electric rate case. PEPCO MD and DC rate outcomes are expected in mid-2024. Going by this activity, by late 2024, EXC should have a line of sight into rates at all but PECO where it will file a case in 2024 for rates effective in 2025. PECO offers optionality in terms of FRP, multi-year filing, or a future test year-based filing; EXC prefers a future test year. In the past, PA has been known for black box settlements, but with some new commissioners at the PSC, we will be watching the proceeding when it is filed.

Corporate minimum tax, equity issuance, and views on FFO/Debt: EXC is still waiting for a final ruling from the IRS on the applicability of the corporate alternative minimum tax proposed in the IRA, but the Company was early in including the potential impact from the initial reading of the bill in its guidance. A more favorable outcome would prove accretive to the FFO/Debt metrics by as much as 60-70 bps. Regardless of the outcome, EXC does plan to issue the remainder of the $425M of equity (out of the $1B planned) to provide it with balance sheet flexibility over time. EXC believes it can maintain FFO/Debt at ~100 bps over the downgrade threshold and over time could increase that spread to 150-200 bps.

Duke Energy Corporation (DUK)

We met with DUK, and our discussion focused on the Company's long-term capital plan and the need for incremental generation, given strong economic trends across its service territories. DUK is nearing the completion of its multi-year rate cases in NC, but activity is expected to continue into the next year with anticipated filings in several jurisdictions.

Capital plan remains strong, with incremental generation needs: DUK currently has a $65B plan for 2023-2027, with an incremental $80B-$85B in the subsequent five-year period. DUK will roll the plan forward a year with 4Q23 earnings. The capital plan should stay relatively consistent for the 2024-2026 period, with much of the capital locked in. The largest opportunity for upsizing will come in the 2027-2028 time period as DUK looks to bring on additional generation to meet its load forecast. The generation needs are expected to carry into 2029 and are firmed up by the respective IRP and Carbon Plans filed in SC and NC. DUK plans to include several technologies, including CC and CT generation and solar. DUK will also begin its early work on advanced nuclear near the back half of the decade.

Financing will be a more balanced approach: DUK does not need any equity to fund its current plan, which will be partially funded by the proceeds from its commercial renewable sale. DUK is evaluating its financing for growth capital, which it would seek to do through a more balanced approach in the future. DUK prefers to issue maintenance equity over block issuances, and historically, DUK has raised ~$500M annually through the combination of the DRIP and ATM programs and would continue to use these mechanisms. DUK expects to fund incremental capital with ~30-50% equity.

Final stages of the DEC rate case, but activity is still going strong in 2024: DEC is set to wrap up its multi-year rate case in the coming weeks, with a final order in the mid-December timeframe and new rates implemented on January 1. To this point, DUK has reached several partial settlements agreeing to a $19.5B rate base, the treatment of nuclear PTCs, a three-year grid investment plan, and smaller items. The ROE, capital structure, and COVID deferrals are some of the more notable items outstanding and will be left up to the commission for a final decision. We expect the final outcome to align with the DEP rate case, which authorized a 9.8% ROE and 53% equity. While this year was highlighted by the multi-year plans in NC, DUK expects activity to continue in 2024, with pending filings in SC and FL, where the FL multi-year rate plan enters its final year. DUK will also contemplate filing an IN rate case with new rates effective in 2025. Notably, DUK continues to view the FL regulatory compact as constructive, and strong growth momentum has continued in the state.

Residential decoupling should smooth earnings: DUK attributed more than half of the weather headwind in 2023 to NC residential sales, which has the greatest volatility associated with volumes. NC residential sales will be decoupled beginning in 2024 through the multi-year plans. Therefore, we expect DUK to offer more predictable, steady earnings beginning in 2024. C&I sales volatility in NC will remain, but will have materially smaller impact on earnings.

DEC and DEP consolidation remains on the table: Public activity has been relatively quiet on this front, but DUK is actively discussing with both commissions and expects public activity to ramp up in the coming months. This initiative seems to have a lot of support, and DUK is working to figure out how to spread the rates among the customer base equitably. Upon completing the consolidation, DUK would operate with NC and SC utilities, while being able to count generation from both states towards capacity and reserve margins, reducing its required energy purchases. Consolidation would likely occur in the back half of this decade.

Avangrid, Inc. (AGR)

We met with AGR's management team at the EEI and had a broad-ranging discussion on offshore wind, recent rate case outcomes, upcoming CT gas rate cases, the NECEC project, among other topics.

Offshore Wind — the first to sound the alarm but committed to it: AGR was the first company to sound the alarm on rising costs and the lack of viability of certain projects with higher rates and supply chain constraints. Since then, the Company has canceled PPAs for Commonwealth Wind in MA and Park City Wind in CT, and others in the industry have followed. That said, there is no change in the management's strategy. AGR is evaluating options to rebid effectively in the upcoming RFPs in CT, RI, and MA with one of the decision points being whether to bid individually into each state or jointly into the three-state regional 6 GW initiative. Among the factors under consideration will be the cost indexation provisions to combat high inflation and potential delays from supply chain bottlenecks. It does not appear that AGR would aggressively market its Kitty Hawk leasehold in this market environment. On the other side, despite the slide in offshore wind momentum and in asset prices, AGR does not plan to be a buyer of any of the canceled projects given the potential liabilities that they could come with — including guarantees to states, etc. The Company, however, believes that the offshore buildout in the NE will happen and plans to remain committed to rebidding its acreage, with the potential advantage of being further along with the permitting process than many others. Vineyard Wind 1 appears on track for first power by YE with three turbines up and two more to go.

Tax Equity Financing and Tax Transferability — we discussed both: AGR recently closed on a $1.2B tax equity financing for Vineyard Wind 1 and first funding will come with commercial completion (i.e., when all five turbines are installed). The market for tax equity appears to be healthy but supply for large deals is limited with only a handful of banks willing to participate. While tax transferability may be suitable for smaller projects and for PTC, the appetite is not there for large scale ITC type transferability transactions. AGR also announced a recent $100M PTC transfer and plans to do more such transactions for onshore projects and especially for the wind repowering that the Company has planned.

Wind repowering will happen, cadence will depend on several factors: The Company has an internal plan for each of its wind assets in terms of the need and economics of repowering, and the total 4.6 GW of repowering opportunities will be staged based on project economics, ITC vs. PTC, and the potential for tax transferability. Notably, the repowering does not have to be done with the same suppliers as the original equipment providers, giving some flexibility on shopping for the best options.

NECEC construction has resumed, discussions continue with EDCs: AGR has resumed construction on NECEC and is still in negotiation with the EDCs for them to approve the higher project cost (delays due to litigation, inflation, etc.) and the potential for changing the COD past the current target of 2H25. The Company is comfortable continuing construction without further clarity from the EDCs given the strength of the contract provisions that will allow it to recover the higher costs. In the meantime, legislative relief may be coming from MA where a bill to allow the utilities accelerated recovery of the increased cost is pending Senate approval, having passed in the House. The updated project cost, as provided by the Company, is $1.5B.

CT regulatory climate, pending rate cases: AGR filed an appeal in the CT courts against the PURA's decision in the recent UIL rate case (which we have written in detail on). The commission continued its punitive streak with the UIL decision, and while AGR has filed an appeal, the timeline for a hearing is still uncertain. In the meantime, the Company filed two natural gas rate cases in CT based on previously determined timing. While worth tracking, these are smaller in scope than the UIL proceedings.

ME referendum and rate case: ME voted against a ballot measure to municipalize the state's IOUs. AGR had supported a rival ballot initiative requiring voter approval for certain state entities or state/municipal utilities to incur an outstanding debt that exceeds $1B, which also passed. With these favorable ballot outcomes and a recent constructive rate case outcome in ME, AGR appears to be turning the corner, but management recognizes the need for continuous public advocacy outreach to keep constructive relations.

PNM merger — waiting on a court decision: There is still no timeline on a decision from the NM Supreme Court on the appeal to turn the PNM merger decision back to the commission. We believe that if the Court decides not to turn the case back to the PRC, the Company is unlikely to pursue the matter any further. And if that were to be the case, we would expect it would also preclude the need for additional equity — an outcome that investors are likely to favor.

Pinnacle West Capital Corporation (PNW)

During our meetings with PNW, we discussed the rate case and the regulatory construct of the state, which we believe is showing signs of a potential turnaround. We still note that the outcome of the rate case is the most significant catalyst.

Optimistic on an improving regulatory construct: Multiple recent datapoints indicate that AZ's regulatory climate might be improving. In the past, we have talked about the reversal of the 20 bps ROE penalty and the SCR deferral, which received quick actions from the commission. Recently, the ACC ruled to allow the recovery of deferred fuel costs, for which PNW received authorization to recover the capital at a more accelerated timeline than initially requested. While these are all encouraging signs, the most critical datapoint remains the outcome of the 2022 rate case and warrants the most attention over the next few months. Reply Briefs are due November 21, followed by an ALJ ROO in December, and a final decision most likely in 1Q24. PNW filed briefs addressing the system reliability benefit rider, noting the potential to reduce the frequency of rate case filings while smoothing capital recovery. If the rider is denied, PNW will attempt to engage in more conversations with the commission to explain the benefits of this mechanism. These discussions with the ACC must occur when PNW is out of ex-parte status (i.e., not in an active rate case).

On that front... The ACC seeks to address regulatory lag and proactively opened a separate docket to engage with stakeholders and PNW on improving contemporaneous recovery. The ACC mentioned the possibility of a forward test year but expects parties to suggest other options for the best ways to reduce regulatory lag, including specific tracker mechanisms. Overall, PNW is currently able to recover ~20% of capital in between rate cases. Following any order on this docket, PNW could file a new rate case to implement new mechanisms.

C&I continues to drive growth while creating bill headroom: The Staff and some intervenors have complimented PNW on its ability to keep customer bills low, and given the increase in volumes through C&I growth, PNW continues to be able to spread higher costs over a larger base, thereby continuing to help mitigate some of the pressure. The 4-6% C&I growth is expected to continue, given ongoing expansion plans from TSMC and others. Although C&I is at a lower margin, the segment drives positive net income and is embedded into PNW's long-term earnings growth rate. Residential customer growth of 1.5-2.5% is expected to continue, but the benefits are primarily offset by energy efficiency and rooftop solar. EVs will have some level of positive contribution to the residential segment over the long term.

Weather has helped to mitigate O&M pressure: Weather was a material driver in 3Q23, and PNW opportunistically increased its O&M during 2Q as it already had decent visibility into July and August weather. As a result, PNW incurred additional maintenance expenses to ensure reliability in its generation fleet. PNW also used some of the benefits to help offset wage pressure, including completing a new CBA with some of the unions. Wage pressure continues to be a material headwind for PNW.

Entergy Corporation (ETR)

We held a meeting with ETR's management and discussed the recent positive developments in the SERI proceedings and what it could mean for the jurisdictions still holding out. We also discussed the diversity of the Company's load growth, which is fueling a need for capital investments.

Significant capital plan projected: ETR has a capital plan of $19.6B, with a large portion dedicated to generation and the distribution system. The load growth continues to present a significant opportunity, further supported by the resilience filings in NO and LA and an imminent filing in TX, which could total $2.3B and is not included within the current capex plan. ETR is targeting an even mix between owned generation and PPAs.

Financing the capital plan: ETR expects to fund the capital plan with $1.4B of incremental equity in 2025 and 2026 through the ATM program and does not expect the need for incremental equity beyond what has been outlined. The proceeds from the sale of the gas LDCs, which are supposed to close in 2025, will further help fund the capex.

The growth story is diversified: ETR expects industrial growth of 6-7% through 2026, underpinned by the activity in the Gulf Coast led by reshoring, industrial expansion, and power demand from AI and data centers. ETR's renewables portfolio are a draw for corporations seeking green power for expanding their operations.

Striving for a constructive close to SERI proceedings: The SERI proceedings are about two-thirds resolved following AR's settlement, on terms that were similar to those achieved with the MS commission. SERI is trying to capitalize on the momentum to reach settlements with the outstanding jurisdictions. Specifically, ETR believes New Orleans is more incentivized to agree to a settlement, which could help with progress in the discussions with LA, as the only remaining party after NOLA. If LA does not agree to a settlement, the proceedings could be protracted but much of the overhang would already be removed.

Edison International (EIX)

Our meeting with EIX focused on the pending rate case, cost of capital proceedings, wildfire mitigation efforts, the wildfire claims recovery filing, and investments in AMI, transmission, and EE.

Cost of Capital proceedings underway: Since CA deals with cost of capital proceedings outside of a GRC review, and since interest rates have taken a sharp move upward this year, triggering the CoC mechanism, EIX filed to adjust its CoC upwards by 70 bps (based on a formula) vs. the current 10.05% ROE. The proceeding has been put on a 120-day pause giving the energy division more time to review the filing, but in the view of the Company, this is ultimately a mechanism based on a pre-defined formula and should be approved without any bearing on rate affordability, which will likely be dealt in the rate case proceedings.

GRC is filed, but it is still early days: The management is meeting with stakeholders and state officials to explain the filing and the revenue needs, especially considering the push for electrification (CA has a goal of carbon neutrality by 2045) and the related need for the grid to be ready for the transition. Intervenor testimony in the GRC is expected in late February 2024. With a rate case filing in process, EIX is less focused on the provisions of the recently passed SB 410 and does not see an immediate need to use the provisions included therein, at least in the short run. The new law is intended to allow a timelier cost recovery on certain energization projects rather than waiting for the four-year rate cycle to refresh.

TKM claims filing made, no scoping memo yet: EIX filed for the recovery of $2.4B for the TKM events in August. There is no scoping memo yet, but hearings are expected to begin in 3Q24, and a final decision is expected in 2025. A constructive outcome in these proceedings, we believe, will go a long way in re-establishing CA as a premium jurisdiction in the minds of the investors, and while the TKM event preceded the passage of AB 1054, investors will not be looking at the proceedings any differently. EIX is making the case that if the market perceives the recovery as being at risk, it will widen the financing spread for the Company, further burdening rate payers, and that a thoughtful approach is necessary to send the right signals. The statute of limitations in both the TKM and Woolsey events has ended, so while no more new claims can be filed, there is still uncertainty on the size of certain claims which the Company is trying to get a better understanding of.

The most recent wildfire season was milder but also showed the effectiveness of the mitigation measures: Thus far, the Company's extensive wildfire mitigation measures through covered conductor installations and vegetation management have proven effective at reducing the number of ignitions and have required far fewer PSPS. Given the topography of EX's service territories, covered conductors is the more cost-effective way to reduce wildfire risk — except in areas of heavy population density where undergrounding is preferred.

Transmission buildout and AMI could add to capital needs over time: EIX has identified $2B of capex for AMI and another $2B for transmission. The Company is working on the precise cost and cadence of that spend. CAISO has an extensive transmission expansion program for which EIX has ROFR on $2.3B worth of projects and has submitted bids for two more that could further add to this total if awarded to EIX. A decision from CAISO is expected in April/May next year.

NorthWestern Corp (NWE)

Our meeting with NWE's management focused on the results of the latest rate case and NWE's plan to reduce regulatory lag with more frequent filings, which will support NWE's long-term growth rate.

NWE expects to become a more frequent rate case filer: On the heels of a constructive outcome in the recent rate case, NWE expects to file more frequently to reduce regulatory lag and earn closer to its ROE. While the rate case outcome was constructive, the lack of being able to implement rates retroactively might require NWE to return to the commission sooner than anticipated. Nonetheless, a more uniform rate filing cadence would allow the Company to seek recovery for smaller ticket items and to allow more timely recovery.

Refreshed capital plan, sized for the balance sheet: NWE rolled forward its capital plan to the 2024-2028 period, while raising it from $2.4B to $2.48B. The plan is sized to align with NWE's balance sheet capacity and does not require incremental equity, despite there being more investment opportunities.

Incremental opportunities are there: While NWE marginally raised its plan, NWE has ample opportunities to invest in transmission and generation, including transmission investment to free up capacity while allowing the bi-directional flow of generation as MT continues to need higher imports during peak times. Additionally, depending on the final outcome regarding the EPA's decision on the MATS rule, NWE could be required to procure more generation capacity to replace the Colstrip generation. NWE is hoping to keep Colstrip in its plan for as long as possible and hopes the MATS ruling will align with GHG emission rules. Two of the owners are expected to leave Colstrip by 2029, and there should be modest demand for the generation. Talen will likely maintain its stake as a firming resource to supplement renewables.

Expect earnings to be lumpy but within the 4-6% range: NWE expects to deliver 4-6% earnings over the five-year period, but expects it to be lumpy year-to-year given the lack of trackers and forward test years. This will likely continue until better contemporaneous recovery options are available.

Continuing to invest in wildfire mitigation strategy: NWE expects to file an update of its wildfire mitigation plan in its next rate case, which will build on the significant investments over the years. NWE is looking at PSPS and working with federal, state, and local communities to prepare for the actions. Further, NWE is encouraged by the work being done by EEI, which is focused on communicating with federal, state, and local authorities, seeking legislative options to backstop the liability risks, and providing broad support for utilities.

American Electric Power Company, Inc. (AEP)

We met with management from AEP, where we discussed the latest regarding the pending asset sales. We also discussed AEP's plan to take advantage of supportive legislation (VA, TX) allowing the Company to close the earned ROE gap.

Detailed 2024 guidance provided: AEP provided EPS guidance for 2024 of $5.53-$5.73, including a breakdown across its segments. The Vertically-Integrated Utilities (+$0.32 y/y) and T&D (+$0.24 y/y) are expected to drive much of the increase in 2024, slightly offset by the Generation & Marketing (-$0.26) segment. The sale of the NMRD (-$0.01), Distributed Resources (-$0.02), and Retail (-$0.08) business are driving the decrease in Generation & Marketing. AEP also provided a break out for transmission-related earnings, which is expected to contribute $0.80 and $0.69 in VI and T&D, respectively. AEP remains heavily concentrated in its transmission business and continues to relay its message around the underappreciated transmission assets.

Update on sale processes, reviews: There was no material update regarding the ongoing sales process and strategic review, but AEP is close to signing a contract for its New Mexico Renewable Development JV, with a deal expected by year-end. Overall, the processes have gone per AEP's initial expectations, and there is still robust interest in the assets. AEP embedded ~$700M of sale proceeds int the 2024 cash flow assumptions to reflect the result of the asset sales based on their book value, and the actual realized price may be different. AEP is planning to redeploy any proceeds from the sales to retire higher-interest debt, which will offset what was expected to be ~$0.12 of EPS contribution from these assets in 2024, mitigating any dilution impacts.

Capital plan to support C&I growth: AEP updated its capital plan to $43B, up from $40B, supporting a 7.2% RB CAGR over the next five years. A significant portion will continue to be allocated towards wires, with regulated renewables also receiving a good share. AEP's investment needs are partially driven by sizable commercial growth in its service territory led by data centers in TX, IN, and OH. AEP feels confident in its forecast as data center activity is expected to continue through 2026, including 7.3% commercial growth in 2023 and in the mid-single digits over the next three years. AEP will fund its capital plan through the pending asset sales and $3.4B of equity issuances over the next five years.

Closing the regulatory gap in ROE: AEP has active rate cases in IN, MI, and OH while awaiting a decision in VA on its settlement. AEP also expects to file another OK rate case in 1Q24 following the recent commission order that cut the net revenue increase in half from the settled amount. Overall, from the rate cases and use of other cost recovery mechanisms, AEP expects to improve the difference between authorized and earned ROE. In 2024, AEP expects to achieve a 9.1% ROE, a 40 bps improvement vs. the TTM ROE reported as of 3Q23. The biennial review in VA, the semi-annual DCRF in TX, and the forward-looking test years in IN and MI support AEP's goal to earn close to its ROE. AEP seeks to reach ~20-30 bps below its authorized levels over time.

Portland General Electric Company (POR)

We held a meeting with POR management, where discussions revolved around the latest rate case results and the impact on power costs. We also discussed the pending RFP and the potential impacts on POR's long-term rate base growth.

The rate case de-risks POR's power cost volatility: In the recent rate case, POR was authorized to update its net-variable power costs to $174M, which POR will refresh in an updated forecast filing. Additionally, POR can now recover 80% of reliability contingency event (RCE) costs that are above POR's forecast in its annual tariff, with the remaining 20% of RCE costs flowing through the existing PCAM. The updated mechanism mitigates some volatility associated with power costs during periods of region-wide capacity constraints triggered by specific regional characteristics. POR can also modify its hedging program due to the adjustments.

RFPs could fuel significant RB growth: POR currently assumes a rate base CAGR of 7.5% through 2027 but could see an increase to at least 9% if it were to win ~25% from the incremental 3,200 MW of resources. Bids are expected at the beginning of 2024, followed by selection in 2H24. The shortlist will provide more visibility and could enable POR to embed some of the projects into its next revised capital plan. POR illustrated a ~25% ownership of the 3,200 MW but typically targets anywhere from 25-55% ownership. POR exceeded the top end of that range during the last two RFP. POR notes that the RFPs are expected to be more competitive going forward, with varying levels of maturity and technology types to be submitted. POR will evaluate its financing plan for the potential capital but still has availability under the ATM program.

POR feels comfortable with the growth outlook: Overall, POR feels comfortable with its 2% long-term sales outlook, underpinned by industrial growth, barring any quarterly variation. The Chips Act continues to benefit POR's service territory, with Intel signaling expansion plans. The region's dependence on manufacturing may create short-term issues due to destocking, but POR remains confident in the outlook.

Wildfire risk is a focus: POR files its wildfire mitigation plan annually with the PUC and has an adjustment clause that allows POR timely recovery of its mitigation costs, including amortizing $27M of deferred wildfire mitigation costs over a one-year period that began at the end of October. Only about 10% of POR's territory is in wildfire-risk areas, and POR is investing in technologies to help mitigate and detect wildfires. POR is allowed to implement PSPS, which it has used in the past, when needed.

FirstEnergy Corp. (FE)

Our meeting with FE at this year's EEI focused on the corporate transition under the new CEO, the upcoming OH rate filing, the long tail of transmission and load growth opportunities, and the EPS growth rate projections.

Corporate restructuring underway: The new management team is instituting several organizational changes to position the Company favorably to take advantage of the secular trends driving generation growth and transmission expansion. A search for a COO and a Head of Utilities is nearing completion, with an announcement in the coming days. Next, the leadership is focused on realigning the various utilities under single jurisdictional heads (PA, OG, NJ, WV/MD, and Transmission). These appointments will happen over the course of 2024, with both internal and external candidates being considered. The new alignment of management will fit in well with FE's plans to consolidate the PA utilities under a single legal entity (expected to be complete by YE) and the OH utilities under one unit (timing to coincide with the 2024 rate filing). With this initiative, FE will also restate the way it reports results, starting in 1Q24.

OH, rate case on tap for 2024: The OH GRC may be the biggest item to watch for FE in 2024. This will be FE's first GRC in OH in a long time and the management team is putting the pieces in place for a comprehensive filing. The goal is to get constructive settlements or adjudicated outcomes in the pending ESP V and Grid Mod II filings before the rate case to include them in rates and reset the rider balances to zero. The rate case will also incorporate existing capex programs, including the vegetation management program, into rates. Recent resolution of similar proceeding as FE's ESP V and Grid Mod II will serve as guideposts as to the quality of the outcome that FE may receive. A combination of the OH rate case and the PA rate cases could potentially reduce a significant amount of regulatory lag, with many of its utilities earnings ROE that are earning well below the national averages. Over time, the lag should narrow further through a regular rate case cadence.

Reducing pension-related earnings volatility: FE plans to seek some type of pension volatility normalization mechanism when it files for the OH and other rate cases. The impetus comes after the recent market and rate volatility had a meaningful impact on the earnings of the Company. As part of this initiative, the Company may look at a "pension lift off" whereby it offloads a portion of the pension assets to a third party.

Transmission opportunities could be meaningful in PJM and to support NJ's offshore goals: PJM recently selected two FE transmission projects totaling $372M to help manage load from data centers, and earlier, JCP&L was awarded $723M to build new and upgrade existing transmission infrastructure for NJ's offshore wind projects. While the timing of these projects could be during the latter part of this decade, it is a sign of the potential growth that FE could experience in its service territories.

EPS growth rate of 6-8% can be justified based on the line of sight into investment opportunities: FE is confident that it has enough line of sight into the investments needed in its service territories to justify a 6-8% annual EPS growth pace through the foreseeable future. Even though Signal Peak has been a meaningful contributor to earnings in the recent years, FE expects the contribution to fall to half of the $0.25 expected this year and turn to a de minimus amount by 2025. At the same time, the Company plans to make its FE Forward cost management initiative permanent to instill a company-wide culture. The team has worked to reduce O&M in 2023 vs. 2022 by 15%, of which half of the cost reduction can be made structural, while the other half is temporal.

NextEra Energy, Inc. (NEE)

At our meeting with NEE's management team, we discussed the regulatory environment in FL, the momentum for renewables development for NEER, the potential paths forward for NEP, and the cadence and balance sheet impacts of tax equity financing and tax transferability.

FL remains a constructive jurisdiction supported by positive demographic trends: Recent headlines around the FL Supreme Court asking the PSC to fully create a full record for its decisions should not fundamentally change the dynamics of regulatory relationships in the state. FL has precedent for the court to defer to the PSC on the rationale for rate case decisions and that should not change despite the recent ruling. Following the Supreme Court's ruling, NEE expects that it may take the commission about six months to provide the court with a full record of its decision, but it should not have any implications beyond that. On the matter of election interference, the matter is being reviewed by the FEC and there is no timeline on when the FEC may issue a statement.

What is the future of NEP? NEE remains committed to NEP as an effective financing vehicle for its renewables portfolio. The recent de-rating of the Company following the lowering of the growth rate and the deemphasis of the complex CEPF financing structure should potentially set the Company back on the path of self-sustaining growth — providing it can reach a point where its cost of capital is competitive with peers. In the meantime, with the plan to sell the Meade pipeline in 2025 and closing the STX pipeline sale in 2024, the partnership should be able to deliver on the lowered growth rate and not need growth equity through 2026.

Tax equity, transferability of tax credits, and interest rates swaps: The IRA-led tax transferability provision creates an attractive alternative for NEER to improve project economics and adds to the existing toolkit of tax equity financing and traditional project finance. Tax credit partnerships remain an attractive vehicle to monetize tax credits and tax deprecation but for the right kind of projects transferability is a more efficient method to realize the tax benefits. The tax transferability market is very deep, and NEE with its large renewables portfolio offers itself as a credible counterparty for securing transferability transactions. NEE plans to grow tax transfers from $400M to a midpoint of $1.7B by 2026. As outlined on the earnings call, every $1B of tax transfer creates $6.5B of "equity content" at a 18% FFO/Debt, which helps to reduce its equity needs or increases its borrowing capacity (to the extent that it can repeat the tax transfers each year). To secure project economics, NEE actively hedges its interest rate exposure through swaps for the renewables projects and has $25B in interest rate swaps to support its 21 GW pipeline of renewable projects, as well as some for parent debt.

Energy: Electric Utilities

Heads Up — The Week Ahead in Utilities: AEP, AVA, EXC, AGR, D, WEC, CNP, ETR, SRE, XEL

The EEI Financial Conference is taking place in Arizona this week. This week, we are tracking proceedings in AEP's electric rate case in Indiana and AVA's resource plan in ID. In other news, EXC files Exceptions to the ALJ's proposed decision in IL electric rate; AGR files two natural gas rate cases with the CT PURA; D files rebuttal testimony in D's VA biennial review proceedings; the OCC issues a final order in PSO's OK electric rate case; WEC announces Gale Klappa as Non-Executive Chairman beginning in May; a member of the TX PUC reportedly set to resign, and TX votes to approve a $10B energy fund.

Take a look at our Key to EEI: Conference Package & Question Bank, where we present our EEI conference "care package," consisting of: 1) KBCM EEI schedule; 2) comp sheet; 3) our question bank - arranged in order of our meetings; as well as 4) the summary of our thesis and catalysts for the names in our coverage and some reference materials we found to be useful.

Regulatory Calendar

AEP — Staff and intervenor testimony in AEP's IN electric rate case is due on November 15: The Company is seeking a $116M (net $41M) revenue increase, premised on a 10.5% ROE and 51.2% equity. AEP proposed phasing in the increase over two-steps, with an $84M initial increase, followed by an incremental $33M revenue increase. Hearings are set to begin in January, followed by a Commission order in June 2024. New rates are expected to go into effect in mid-2024.

AVA — Comments in AVA's electric IRP are due on November 16: AVA filed its 2023 electric IRP with the ID utility commission. In its electric filing, AVA aims to balance its strategy between the ID and WA as ID focuses on reliability and the lowest cost resources. In contrast, WA focuses on energy policy and the Clean Energy Transformation Act (CETA). AVA is required to file IRPs every two years.

FERC — FERC's Open Meeting is scheduled for November 16: A copy of the Sunshine Notice is included here.

Recent Developments for Companies Under Our Coverage

From our midweek: NEP announces the sale of STX Midstream; OTTR requests $17M revenue increase in ND; Maine votes against utility municipalization ballot referendum; SRE announced a forward sale agreement for $1.2B of common stock; and AEP files a mixed shelf.

EXC — EXC files exceptions to the ALJ's proposed decision in IL electric rate: EXC filed its briefs on exceptions to the ALJ's PD, which specified 18 exceptions and 12 technical corrections. The two most critical exceptions EXC raises are the return on pension assets and ROE. EXC asked the ICC to recognize and allow at least a debt return on the $1.2B pension asset. EXC also notes that the ALJ used its own CAPM calculation, which would result in a lower ROE than that determined by the formula rate method. If the ALJ would use the Staff's beta, it would improve the ALJ calculated ROE by 31 bps. As a result of the ALJ, EXC is requesting the ICC to hold an oral argument on issues related to ROE, the return on pension assets, capital structure, the inclusion of the targeted overhang program in the grid and rate plans, and certain grid investments. As a reminder, the ALJ issued a PD recommending a $1,175M revenue increase, premised on a 9.28% ROE. In briefs, EXC updated its request to a $1,499M revenue increase over the 2024-2027 period while proposing to defer ~$339M for future recovery. EXC can phase in up to 50% of the initial year's approved increase to be deferred and recovered within 24 months or by 2026. EXC's request is premised on gradual increases in its ROE (10.5-10.65%) and equity layers (50.58-51.19%) through the four years. The ALJ denied Staff's method to use the formula rate method in the PD. The ICC has until December 20 to issue a final decision. New rates are expected to go into effect January 1, 2024.

AGR — AGR files two natural gas rate cases with CT PURA: AGR's Connecticut Natural Gas and Southern Connecticut Gas filed natural gas rate cases with CT PURA seeking revenue increases of $20M and $41M, respectively. CNG and SCG premised their requests on 55% and 53% equity layers, respectively, while both asked for a 10.2% ROE. The parties use calendar-2022 test years with adjustments through the rate year ending October 31, 2025. The main drivers of the request include the recovery of capital investments and higher costs since the last rate case, including O&M, depreciation, and property tax. The utilities also request to continue their revenue decoupling and earnings-sharing mechanisms. We view CT as a challenging regulatory jurisdiction that is not likely to turn around in the near term. That said, these proceedings will provide some insight into the evolution of the regulatory climate in the state. New rates are expected to go into effect November 1, 2024.

D — D files rebuttal testimony in D's VA biennial review proceedings: D filed rebuttal testimony, updating its revenue deficiency in 2024 and 2025 to $59M and $102M, respectively. This compares to Staff's recommendation for a $72M reduction in revenue in 2024 and a $10M increase in 2025. D notes that Staff's proposed equity structure diverges from the General Assembly mandated 52.1% through 2024. D also stated that removing adjustments for lost revenues due to DSM/EE adjustment programs would inhibit D's ability to recover its base rate cost of service. If these two adjustments were made to the Staff's testimony, the analysis would demonstrate a revenue deficiency in 2024 and 2025. D's initial filing provided a forward-looking, rate-making analysis demonstrating a $26M revenue deficiency in 2024 and an incremental $25M in 2025. However, since the legislation also says that the fold-in of $350M in rider revenue (Rider R – Bear Garden, Rider S – Virginia City, Rider W – Warren County) into base rates cannot serve as a basis for a rate increase, D is not proposing any incremental rates in this proceeding. D made the biennial rate filing in pursuance of new legislation. An SCC order is expected by March 3, 2024, followed by new rates going into effect April 1, 2024.

AEP — OCC issues final order in PSO's OK electric rate case: The OCC issued a final order authorizing a $131M (net $47M) revenue increase. The authorized revenue increase compares to the multiparty settlement filed between PSO and other parties agreeing to a $155M (net $50M) revenue increase. The lower revenue increase is due to several modifications including a 9.3% ROE and 52% equity vs. an agreed-upon 9.5% ROE and 54.62% equity layer. While the rate base was lowered to reflect the removal of Rock Falls Wind Facility since the facility was not used and useful within the six-month post-test year period. The OCC also approved the Grid Enhancement and Reliability Rider (GEAR) for a three-year term through 2026 with a $6M annual revenue requirement. The new rates are retroactive to May 22, 2023, and AEP will refund customers since the approved rates were lower than the interim rates that were implemented in May.

WEC — WEC announces Gale Klappa as Non-Executive Chairman beginning in May: Gale Klappa, who's been synonymous with the Company, will serve the remainder of his term as Executive Chairman through May 2024. Upon that time, Mr. Klappa will transition to the role of Non-Executive Chairman. The new appointment is subject to annual board nomination and stockholder approval. Gale began his tenure as WEC's CEO in 2003 and held that role through 2016 before initially retiring. He served a second stint as CEO from October 2017 through February 2019. Since then, he has served in his current role as Executive Chairman.

AEP, CNP, ETR, SRE, XEL — Commissioner reportedly set to resign from PUCT: According to reports, Commissioner Will McAdams plans to resign from the PUCT later this month. Will McAdams was appointed to the Commission in April 2021. His resignation would leave the PUCT with only three of the five PUCT seats filled. In addition to McAdams' resignation, recall that Chair Lake resigned earlier this year as chair of the TX PUC. The PUCT expanded to five seats (from 3) as part of the regulatory overhaul following the response to Winter Storm Uri (Governor Abbott signed SB 2154 into law in June 2021). Under the new law, PUCT commissioners must be TX residents, registered voters, and well-informed in public utilities and utility regulations. The Governor appoints PUC commissioners to six-year terms, subject to confirmation by the state Senate. In TX, we are actively following XEL's TX electric rate case.

AEP, CNP, ETR, SRE, XEL — TX votes to approve $10B energy fund: Texas citizens voted to approve Proposition 7, a constitutional amendment authorizing the Texas Energy Fund and effectuating SB 2627. As a result, the TX PUX will be administering the TX Energy Fund, a $10B fund to provide 20-year, low-interest loans to companies building gas-fired power plants (for units >100 MW and the loan not exceeding 75% of the cost of the facility). ~$7.2B of the fund will be available to support new construction or upgrades, with another $1.8B allocated to support the development of microgrids and backup power for critical facilities across the state. The remaining $1B will be used for grid modernization, weatherization, and other efforts in the non-ERCOT portions of Texas.

Regulatory Calendar

D — Rebuttal testimony in D's VA biennial review proceedings is due on November 6: Staff's analysis determined that D would produce ROEs of 10.49% and 10.37% in 2024 and 2025, respectively. Therefore, Staff recommends a $72M reduction in revenue in 2024 and a $10M increase in 2025. Staff removed adjustments for lost revenues due to DSM/EE adjustment programs, which drove the most significant difference relative to D's request. D provided a forward-looking, rate-making analysis demonstrating a $26M revenue deficiency in 2024 and an incremental $25M in 2025. However, since the legislation also says that the fold-in of $350M in rider revenue (Rider R – Bear Garden, Rider S – Virginia City, Rider W – Warren County) into base rates cannot serve as a basis for a rate increase, D is not proposing any incremental rates in this proceeding. Staff also recommends that D be able to defer $46M of the $76M of severe weather event costs that D experienced during the 2021 and 2022 test periods. The deferrals allow D to earn the 9.35% authorized ROE for those periods. D would be allowed to amortize the costs over two years, beginning January 1, 2023. D made the biennial rate filing in pursuance of new legislation. An SCC order is expected by March 3, 2024, followed by new rates going into effect April 1, 2024.

AEP — Rebuttal testimony in KY Power's electric rate case is due on November 6: The Office of the AG and KY Industrial Utility Customers filed joint testimony recommending a $66M revenue increase, premised on a 9.7% ROE, 41.24% equity, and $1,573M rate base as of March 31, 2023. This compares to KY Power's request for a ~$94M revenue increase, premised on a 9.9% ROE, 41.62% equity, and a ~$1,793M rate base using the same test year. The lower rate base is a material driver of the delta as the interveners recommend recalculating certain working capital items and removing assets associated with a federal NOL ADIT from rate base. The OAG and KIUC do not oppose KY Power's proposed distribution reliability rider, but want to limit the recovery to incremental capex and O&M. Through the filing, KY Power is seeking to right-size its rate base and improve the balance sheet to improve the earned

ROE. At the end of 2Q23, KY Power earned a 1.6% ROE over the past 12 months. KY Power will file rebuttal testimony by November 6, followed by hearings beginning on November 28. New rates are expected to go into effect on January 1, 2024.

FE — Evidentiary hearings in FE's ESP V plan begin on November 7: In testimony, Staff recommended implementing ESP V for six years and several other modifications to the riders. As a result, Staff's suggestions would lower the annual cap charges by $30M-$36M in the first year relative to ESP IV. This compares to Staff's calculation of FE's request, resulting in a $15M-$21M increase in the first year. Staff also recommended modifications to the Rider SCR, including only applying it to major storms. Staff proposed a bridge period for the riders, allowing them to remain in place while being addressed further in the upcoming OH rate case in May. FE's Ohio Edison, Cleveland Electric, and Toledo Edison filed the fifth Electric Security Plan (ESP) with the OH PUC, which covers the eight years from June 2024 through May 2032. ESP V focuses on maintaining reliability and affordability. FE proposed several rate design and cost recovery proposals, including continuing capital investment riders and introducing vegetation management and storm cost recovery riders. FE also presented a portfolio of energy efficiency and demand response programs.

DTE — Reply exceptions to the ALJ's proposed decision in DTE's MI electric rate case are due on November 8: DTE's critical exceptions included the disallowance of $406M for investments into the electric distribution infrastructure, which replaced and hardened the aging infrastructure across its service territory. DTE's other critical exceptions included the $44M disallowance for IT O&M expenses; $51M disallowance for customer self-service IT investments; the $203M disallowance for decommissioning costs for St. Clair, River Rouge, and Trenton Channel; $7M disallowance for inflation adjustments; and the 9.8% ROE. If the ALJ PFD were adopted, DTE would likely need to pause or cancel critical investments. The Company has implemented cost measures over the past several years to offset high inflation, while staying out of any rate cases during the pandemic, and only receiving a $30M revenue increase in the 2022 rate case. The Company does not have many more levers to pull and, therefore, would need to cut investments. ~80% of its revenue request is associated with a correction to the sales forecast from the last rate case ($102M), the recovery of investments made between 2021-2023 and expected to be made in 2024 ($278M), and expenses for inflation and higher interest rates ($74M). As a reminder, the ALJ's PFD recommended a $290M revenue increase, premised on a 9.8% ROE and 50% equity. Staff, which recommended a $379M revenue increase, only listed a few exceptions, including the approval of the IRM with some modifications. New rates are expected to go into effect on December 10. Read more about the ALJ PFD here.

EXC — Exceptions to the ALJ's proposed decision in EXC's IL electric rate are due on November 8: The ALJ issued a PD recommending a $1,175M revenue increase, premised on a 9.28% ROE. In briefs, EXC updated its request to a $1,499M revenue increase over the 2024-2027 period while proposing to defer ~$339M for future recovery. EXC is allowed to phase-in up to 50% of the initial year's approved increase to be deferred and recovered within 24 months, or by 2026. EXC's request is premised on gradual increases in its ROE (10.5-10.65%) and equity layers (50.58-51.19%) through the four years. Staff filed briefs recommending a $1,118M revenue increase over 2024-2027 while continuing to make its case for an 8.91% ROE, or 580 bps over the 2022 U.S. Treasury Bond yield of 3.114%. The ALJ denied this method in the PD. The ICC has until December 20 to issue a final decision. New rates are expected to go into effect January 1, 2024.

Recent Developments for Companies Under Our Coverage

From our midweek: The OR PUC approves five of the six settlements in POR's electric rate case; the BOEM issues a record of decision to approve D's CVOW offshore wind project; Orsted announces the cancellation of Ocean Wind 1 and 2, but will proceed with Revolution Wind after receiving a final investment decision; XEL files a MN gas rate case; SO files an updated 2023 IRP to support economic growth in the region; CEG completes the acquisition of its 44% stake in STX nuclear plant; the DOE selects TransCanyon to enter into capacity contract negotiations for the Cross-Tie transmission line; and CAISO's WEIM achieves $462M in cost-savings benefits in the 3Q.

CNP — CNP files multi-year gas rate case with the MN PUC: CNP filed a multi-year gas rate case (Docket: 23-173) with the MN PUC requesting a cumulative $136M revenue increase over three years. The request includes an $85M revenue increase in 2024, with an incremental $52M increase in 2025 and no incremental increase in 2026. CNP maintained the requested 10.3% ROE and ~52.5% equity layer throughout the three years. The rate increase drivers include the recovery of investments since 2021 and projected through 2025 and the recovery of higher cost of service expenses. In its last MN gas rate case, CNP reached a settlement authorizing a $49M revenue increase, premised on a 9.39% ROE, 51% equity, and a $1.7B rate base. The filing was in line with CNP's timeline of a November 1 filing. A MN PUC decision is expected by September 2024, but if the schedule is paused, CNP seeks to implement interim rates of $69M effective January 1, 2024, with an incremental increase of $33M in 2025.

PNW — APS files 2023 IRP: APS filed its 2023 IRP with the ACC for the 15-year planning horizon covering 2023-2037. APS analyzed 13 scenarios and, per its preferred plan, identified a need for ~8,000 MW within its five-year action plan period and ~17,500 MW by 2037. The incremental generation needs are driven by data center growth, large industrial customer growth, and EV adoption, resulting in annual growth of 2.4% and 3.7% for peak demand and energy needs, respectively. APS expects to add 6,000 MW of solar and wind, coupled with ~2,000 MW of battery storage by 2027. APS would also add hydrogen-capable natural gas generation to complement renewables while adding new transmission and repurposing existing transmission to import wind power from New Mexico. APS expects to continue to operate the Cholla Power Plant until 2025 and Four Corners until 2031. APS plans to file frequent all source RFPs to meet its needs. The IRP was filed in accordance with the Energy Modernization Plan, requiring APS to produce 100% of retail sales from clean energy by 2070 with several interim standards, including a 50% carbon reduction from baseline carbon emissions levels by December 31, 2032.

ETR — Parties reach $88M settlement in ETR AR's FRP: Parties reached a settlement in ETR AR's 2023 formula rate plan, agreeing to a $87.7M revenue increase. The revenue change comprises a $49.8M deficiency for the 2022 historical test year and a $129.0M deficiency for the 2024 forecast year, although state law only allows a 4% maximum revenue increase. Settling parties included ETR, the AR PSC Staff, the Office of the AR Attorney General, and others. ETR AR submitted the FRP application seeking approval of an $89M electric revenue requirement. The FRP included $50M for the 2022 historical test year and $81M for the 2024 forecast year, limiting ETR to the $89M request given the 4% revenue constraint. As a result of the settlement, the evidentiary hearings were canceled. A Commission ruling is expected on December 13, with new rates going into effect on January 2, 2024.

DUK — PUC authorizes $32M revenue increase in OH natural gas rate case: The OH PUC issued an order adopting the multi-party settlement filed in April. As a reminder, the settlement agreed to a $32M revenue increase, premised on a 9.6% ROE, 52.32% equity, and a $1.9B rate base. DUK is authorized to recover incremental natural gas capex through the existing Rider CEP through 2027. The OH Consumer Counsel was the only intervenor not to sign the settlement. DUK initially requested a ~$49M revenue increase based on a 10.3% ROE.

XEL — XEL ordered to pay $27M for extended outages at Comanche Unit 3: A Colorado jury ordered XEL to pay CORE Electric Co-op $28M for extended outages at Comanche Unit 3 in 2021 and 2022. As a result, XEL recognized a $34M charge (including interest and other costs) in 3Q23. In addition to CORE and PSCO, which currently own 25% and 67%, respectively, Holy Cross Electric has an 8% stake in the unit. XEL expects to file an appeal of this decision. XEL reached a settlement with the CO PUC through its ERP to retire the unit by 2030.

SO — AL Power enters 727 MW natural gas plant into service: SO's AL Power entered the 727 MW Plant Barry Unit 8 natural gas plant into service. The combined cycle unit pairs a gas turbine and a steam turbine. The AL PSC approved a CPCN for the unit in 2020, authorizing AL Power to construct the plant and recover the estimated in-service costs of $652M. Construction began in 2021. The total capex through 3Q23 was $583M.

Earnings Recap

SRE — SRE reported a better than expected quarter, and reiterated 2023 and long-term guidance. Notably, the Company did not issue a refreshed capital plan for Oncor, which it expects to provide on the 4Q23 call. Driven by Oncor and other regulated investments, SRE expects to raise its $40B by 10-20%. The Company continues to experience significant growth in TX, with additional growth opportunities in CA from electrification trends that could begin to pressure the upper end of its long-term growth rate. Read our full report here.

D — D reported quarterly results in line with its own guidance and issued 4Q guidance that was below estimates. D continues to progress through its strategic review, which it expects to conclude following a decision on an equity partnership in the CVOW offshore wind project. Speaking of, the offshore wind project timeline was maintained as it recently received a record of decision and D has taken the initial steps to begin construction. Bucking the trend of recent developments in offshore wind, D now expects the LCOE to be $77/MWh (down from $80-$90/MWh), which is a positive development. With the investor day around the corner, we expect to receive guidance for 2025 earnings, long-term growth rate, and an updated capital plan that is significantly higher than any of D's prior plans. Read our full report here.

SO — SO reported solid 3Q numbers, as positive weather and O&M efforts helped lift earnings. Vogtle 4 remains on track and underlying economic development should support SO's long-term growth objectives. Read our full report here.

DUK — DUK provided a generally uneventful 3Q update, reporting earnings above our/consensus estimates as weather helped offset an unexpected weakness in volumes driven by the slowdown in industrial activity. The Company lowered the upper end of its FY guidance and discussed progress made toward strengthening the balance sheet, as well as recent constructive regulatory developments. Read our full report here.

PNW — PNW reported solid 3Q numbers on the back of record favorable weather; however, declining weather-normalized volumes and the lack of O&M pull forward opportunities are dampening the enthusiasm at this juncture. The GRC, which is in its last innings and is expected to get resolved by year-end, remains the key point to watch. Read our full report here.

AEP — AEP posted 3Q results ahead of our and consensus estimates, while narrowing its 2023 guidance range. The midpoint was maintained, and AEP feels confident it will be able to offset the higher interest rates with O&M benefits in 4Q, which will more than offset the $0.16 drag through 3Q. The Company continued to benefit from higher commercial sales and raised its 2023 forecast from 0.8% to 7.3%, while maintaining its 2024 and 2025 guidance. We expect AEP to address these forecasts at EEI, which could offer upside to its $40B capital plan. The Company continues to make headway on its portfolio rationalization — the sale of its unregulated renewables business was completed — and expects the next few months to be busy with sales announcements of additional noncore assets. The Company provided a path to its 14-15% FFO/debt target, which it expects to reach in the early part of 2024. We look toward EEI, where we expect to receive 2024 guidance, refreshed capital and financing plans, and the aforementioned sales volume forecast update. Read our full report here.

EXC — EXC reported in-line 3Q results and made no changes to its capital plan or LT growth rate. IL rate case, where ROE calculation has been intensely debated, will likely be the most material NT catalyst. Read our full report here.

EIX — EIX reported 3Q23 results below consensus, and reiterated 2023 EPS guidance of $4.55-$4.85 and a 2025 outlook of $5.50-$5.90. Management reiterated the 5-7% growth through 2028, which is underpinned by a 6-8% rate base growth based on the $38B-$43B capex through 2028. There appear to be avenues to further extend the growth runway through CAISO-approved transmission spending as well as additional electrification opportunities not in the current plan. EIX raised its estimates for total losses to $9.3B from the wildfires, as it continues to progress through the Woolsey claims and filed to recover $2.4B for the TKM events. Read our full report here.

ETR — ETR reported strong 3Q results, which were bolstered by favorable weather. The results come on the heels of the SERI AR settlement and the announcement of the LDC sale, both constructive moves that are poised to further derisk the story. Read our full report here.

AVA — AVA reported 3Q results above our estimates, as the Company continued to benefit from new rates and lower operating costs in the quarter. The Company also saw a +$0.10 benefit from the roll-off from tax credits. As a result, AVA narrowed its guidance range to the lower-end of its former range and shuffled the ranges across its segment as it expects better results in the utilities and AEL&P segments, partially offset by weaker performance at the Other segment. AVA is preparing to file its WA GRC in early-2024, which we view as the next catalyst and offers the Company an opportunity to reduce its regulatory lag in 2025. Read our full report here.

DTE — DTE's 3Q numbers missed consensus and our estimates, as the Company's cost-cutting initiatives were overwhelmed by the combined effect of unfavorable rates stemming from the 2022 GRC and mild weather. DTE has also lowered its FY guidance accordingly and, breaking from the usual cadence, postponed issuing 2024 forecast and discussing its LT growth rate. We view the decision to postpone 2024 guidance as prudent. With that said, now that full litigation appears to be a foregone conclusion, the story now hinges on a constructive outcome of the electric GRC. Read our full report here.

WEC — WEC reported 3Q EPS above guidance and consensus, driven by rate base growth. WEC reaffirmed 2023 EPS guidance well above 4Q22 EPS results and in line with expectations. The Company refreshed its five-year capital plan, with a $3.3B increase from the previous plan, an 8.1% annual asset base growth target, and a maintained 6.5-7% long-term EPS growth rate. Read our full report here.

PEG — PEG reported above-consensus 3Q results and provided limited commentary on the capital and growth refresh, as the Company is still working toward the resolution of GSMP III, as well as preparing EE and GRC filings that are expected by year-end. The Company will also seek to incorporate the new PJM load forecast into its forward-looking plan, as well as the guidance on nuclear PTC for its remaining non-regulated fleet. Read our full report here.

OTTR — OTTR posted another strong quarter fueled by the Plastics segment and raised its full-year guidance, implying a y/y increase relative to the historic 2022. The Company continues to expect the Plastics segment to normalize, although it could be longer than previously expected (2H24). Longer term, OTTR maintained its 65%/35% earnings mix and its long-term growth rate of 5-7%. Read our full report here.

NWE — NWE reported 3Q results slightly ahead of our expectations on lower depreciation and interest expenses than we modeled. Notably, the Company recently received approval of its MT rate cases, resulting in the Company receiving enough clarity to provide 2023 and 2024 earnings guidance, while also updating its long-term growth rate (4-6%) and rate base growth (4-6%). We see the set of updates as an encouraging sign of an improving regulatory construct, and expect NWE to be able to comfortably achieve its growth rates over the next several years, with incremental opportunities for capital investment as it seeks to reduce its capacity shortages. Read our full report here.

POR — POR reported 3Q results in line with our expectations, despite lower residential and C&I volumes and a drag from higher power prices during peak demand periods. Consequently, the Company has narrowed its 2023 guidance and maintained LT growth outlook. Regulatory updates were constructive, particularly as POR has reached a settlement in its OR GRC with constructive PCAM modifications. Read our full report here.

XEL — XEL reported in-line 3Q results and rolled out 2024 guidance that is aligned with our expectations. The Company has also refreshed its base five-year capital plan, which now stands at $34B ($29B prior), with potential for $10B in additions for CO and SPS resource plans and other future RFPs. Read our full report here.

FE — FE reported 3Q results that were near the top end of its range as it benefited from the use of NOLs and continued to execute on its plan to reduce costs to help offset headwinds in 2023. The Company narrowed its guidance range, while slightly raising its capital plan through 2025. We expect a refreshed capital plan to incorporate the outcomes of its rate cases, ESP V, and the Grid Mod II. More importantly, the Company has once again reiterated its LT 6-8% growth rate target and was confident in its commentary that it expects to maintain the range in its refreshed guidance plan. Read our full report here.

CMS — CMS reported in line 3Q results, matching our estimates and consensus. The Company highlighted its operating initiatives designed to offset weather headwinds that have persisted throughout 2023, and noted identified upside to its $15.5B capital plan, though the full refresh is expected on 4Q results. Read our full report here.

AGR — AGR missed 3Q expectations across the board with Renewables driving the largest delta, as taxes were a significant headwind y/y. AGR maintained its FY guidance, which includes the benefits of the make-whole from the NY rate cases and the sale of assets. We note that the outcomes in ME and NY were relatively constructive and an encouraging sign, but CT will remain a challenge in the medium term. A Supreme Court decision on the PNM merger is the main item we are watching, which will set the path for the Company's future financing needs, which could be partially met by the proceeds from the transfer of tax credits. Read our full report here.

CNP — CNP reported EPS of $0.40, which was ahead of our estimate, resulting in the Company raising its full-year guidance. The Company also took advantage of the strong YTD performance by pulling forward O&M from 2024, helping to derisk next year, and instilling confidence in achieving the 8% growth rate embedded in the 2024 guidance range. The Company raised its 2023-2025 capital plan by $0.5B, which it seeks to fund through a combination of debt/equity, and will wait until the conclusion of a busy regulatory calendar to refresh its long-term capital plan. The $43.9B capital plan through 2030 should support the Company's 6-8% long-term EPS growth rate, and the Company still has significant opportunities over the next few years to add to its plan. Read our full report here.

NEE — NEE reported an above-consensus quarter and took an impairment charge for NEP. More importantly, NEE began outlining its strategy post the fallout at NEP. The Company's refreshed funding strategy involves tax credit sales, some equity and non-core assets and renewable assets sales. Read our full report here.

EIX/PCG/SRE – Intervenors file protest letter to CA IOUs cost of capital advice letters

PCG – CPUC voting meeting for November 2, 2023 holds PG&E GRC vote until November 16

AEE – Brief on exceptions filed in AEE IL MYP

IDA – Updated procedural schedule filed in rate case

SRE – reports 3Q23 EPS beat; 2023 guidance reiterated, but high end; 10-20% capex upside coming on 4Q call

- SRE reported 3Q23 non-GAAP EPS of $1.08 vs. $1.01 consensus and $1.00 Guggenheim estimate
- SRE reiterated 2023 EPS guidance of $4.30 to $4.60, but now expects to be at or above the high end
- Sempra also is affirming its full-year 2024 EPS guidance range of $4.55 to $4.90 and affirming its projected long-term EPS growth rate of 6% to 8%.
- SRE 5-year capital plan will be updated on the 4Q call, mgmt. pointing to 10-20% increase over the current $40B plan.
- ECA I still on track for mid-2025 COD; Cameron Train 4 progressing in stages.
- Topolobampo terminal in MX pushed from 4Q23 to 1H24 CoD.

D – reports 3Q23 results

- Reported 3Q23 EPS of $0.77 vs. Gugg/Street $0.74/$0.76
- Initiated 4Q23 guide of $0.35
- Strategic review may move into 2024 as CVOW stake sale process enters final stretch
- On CVOW stake sale: “We are in the advanced stages of a process to identify a noncontrolling equity financing partner in the project [CVOW]. The process has driven considerable interest from attractive and high-quality potential counterparties. A properly structured partnership with the right counterparty is an attractive option, but only if the terms of a potential transaction make sense for our customers and shareholders.”
- Includes 100% commitment to current dividend
- Provides detailed bridge to illustrative 2023E, alongside key considerations regarding 2025E and why growth will not be linear from 2023
- CVOW LCOE falls to $77 from prior $80-90 range
- Provided detailed LCOE sensitivity
- Provided detailed vessel update
- Two new ind. Board members will join
- Call at 10AM – slides/ERK HERE

EIX/PCG/SRE – Intervenors file protest letter to CA IOUs cost of capital advice letters

- Protests were filed with the CPUC in opposition to the CA IOU cost of capital advice letters.
- EIX, PCG and SRE CA investor-owned utilities (SCE, PG&E, SDG&E and SCG) filed advice letters for the cost of capital mechanism (CCM) trigger resulting in ~70bp of proposed ROE increases.
- Pursuant to the CCM, IOUs requested (AL numbers: 6207-G, 4300-E / 3239-G, 4813-G/7046-E, 5120-E):
  - SCE's authorized ROE of 10.05%increases by 70 basis points, resulting in an authorized ROE of 10.75% for 2024.
  - PG&E's authorized ROE of 10.00% percent increases by 70 basis points, resulting in an authorized ROE of 10.70% for 2024.
  - SDG&E's authorized ROE of 9.95% percent increases by 70 basis points, resulting in an authorized ROE of 10.65% for 2024.
  - SCG's authorized ROE of 9.8% percent increases by 70 basis points, resulting in an authorized ROE of 10.50% for 2024.

Guggenheim takeaway: As anticipated, the protest letters came in for cost of capital but now the discretion is with the Energy Division whether to let the CCM operate or initiate a CPUC proceeding. As a reminder, CA water utilities also experienced a CCM trigger and the commission allowed an ROE step up, with another CCM trigger filed recently. CA IOUs filed their cost of capital CCM advice letters mid-October after a remeasurement period closing in September. The 70bp proposed adjustment is a step up vs. the previous 20-25bp reduction resulting from a post COVID interest rate reductions / lower benchmarks. The IOUs have had a various degree of expectations for earnings impacts from a CCM trigger, with all utilities recognizing the CCM as a valid adjustment mechanism and seeing prior case precedent as supportive for an upward revision. In terms of earnings impacts, EIX and SRE have noted the ROE step up to be accretive to current plans, while PG&E has focused more on a conservative growth plan which assumed a CCM trigger would enable more system reinvestment vs. accretion to growth.

PCG – CPUC voting meeting for November 2, 2023 holds PG&E GRC vote until November 16

- CPUC Voting meeting on November 2 did not include the PG&E GRC.
- CPUC issued a hold list for today's meeting holding the PD/APD agenda item until the November 16, 2023 meeting.
- Both items were held by Staff with no further reasoning.
- Docket: A2106021

Guggenheim takeaway: FYI. As we previously mentioned, the CPUC can delay voting on any agenda item. The move from Staff to hold the PD/APD vote could be indicative of further revisions that may be contemplated, and we see the Revision 1 version of the PD/APD as underwhelming relative to PG&E's requests, especially with the APD's somewhat arbitrary choice of escalation factors. Incrementally, the APD adjustments are constructive but remain at odds with PG&E requests. The debate around escalation rates remains puzzling to us as the APD revision attempts to justify the test year reduction in escalation rates and claims discretionary authority to set escalation to 25% of the updated testimony on the grounds of bill shock. The decision further talks about sharing cost inflation between customers and shareholders which is counterintuitive to the cost of service model for regulated utilities. The revisions also propose an advice letter filing approach to help reconcile escalation to CPI for attrition years (ignoring the test year issue and shifting to a CPI escalation vs. utility specific IHS benchmark). We acknowledge that the revisions are seeking to address a variety of stakeholders and anticipate a robust debate at the November 2 CPUC voting meeting. As a reminder the CPUC can issue further revisions as long as they rely on case record and can defer ruling on the issue until a later date. Any delay would not be detrimental by default in our view as it would demonstrate more deliberation on the CPUC front. See more on our takes from the CPUC decisions in our note HERE.

AEE – Brief on exceptions filed in AEE IL MYP

- Ameren and several intervenors have filed their briefs on exceptions
- "Ameren Illinois asks the Commission to modify the Proposed Order's conclusions regarding the cost of equity. Specifically, Ameren Illinois requests that the Commission approve a return on equity (ROE) of 9.85%. This is well below the 10.50% ROE that the Company's evidence supports." – filing

Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 10-Jan-2024 07:35 PM.

- "While Ameren Illinois believes that it has fully justified its actual common equity ratio, and not the 50% imputed by the Proposed Order, it now asks the Commission to revise the Proposed Order to approve a capital structure with a common equity ratio of 52%, which is consistent with the median equity ratio in Ameren Illinois' proxy group's last authorized capital structures." - filing
- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: Heads up on the filings, which remain a procedural part of the record-building process now that the ALJ order is in and the ICC will begin the process of considering a final order between now and 12/14. As we have noted repeatedly, we continue to see the MYP ROE conversations as illogical given the electrics would potentially earn less than the gas utilities (~9.89%), with Staff prior formulaic proposal now potentially resulting in a much higher ROE given the recent moves in rates.

IDA – Updated procedural schedule filed in rate case

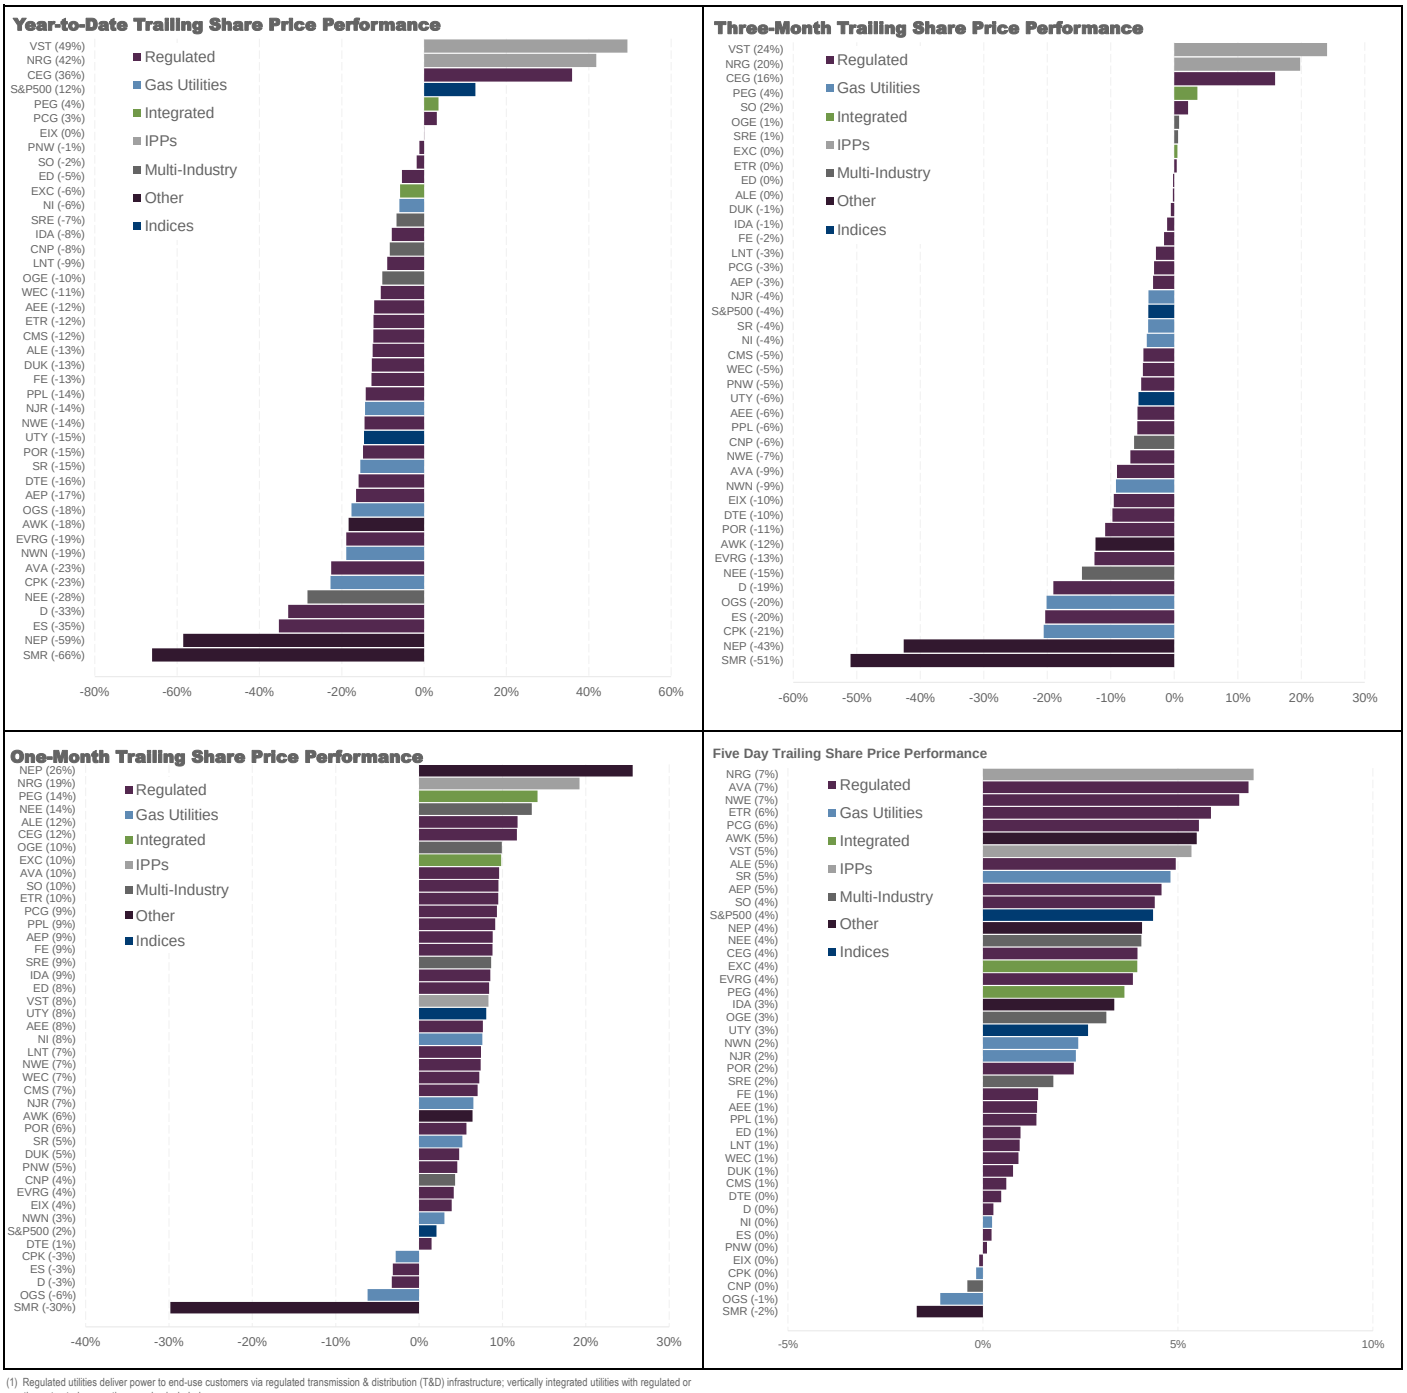
Share Price Performance (Year-to-Date, Three-Month, One-Month, & Five-Day Trailing)



(1) Regulated utilities deliver power to end-use customers via regulated transmission & distribution (T&D) infrastructure; vertically integrated utilities with regulated or mostly contracted generation are also included.

(2) Local Gas Distribution Companies (LDCs), as well as diversified utilities with a business mix largely comprised of gas infrastructure and related activities (i.e., LDC franchises, interstate pipelines, and/or other gas midstream activities).

(3) Integrated utilities own and operate regulated T&D franchises, as well as un-regulated power generation with commodity exposure.

(4) IPPs operate merchant (i.e., un-regulated, non-utility) power plants that compete to sell power in wholesale markets or through retail marketing businesses.

We update estimates for Exelon Corp (EXC, Sell) following third quarter results. The quarter itself was fairly quiet and the company slightly narrowed its 2023 guidance range, with updates on key rate cases and the capital plan update expected in December and February, respectively. We remain focused on the ComEd rate case, where the ALJ recently recommended a 9.28% ROE, well below the company's request in year one at 10.5%. We expect the outcome, which we still view as uncertain given the range of proposed outcomes from Staff and the ALJ, to be a key catalyst for the stock when a final order is issued by December 20. Ultimately, we maintain our 12-month price target of $39, representing 2% total return versus our coverage at 19% total return on average. We provide key takeaways from the earnings call inside.

Key Takeaways from Earnings

ComEd Rate Case. The company received a proposed order from the ALJ on ComEd's MYP on October 23 that recommended an ROE of 9.28%, below our authorized ROE in our model. Management was constructive on the alignment on the investment plan to facilitate the energy transition, but disappointed in the commission's view on the cost to finance that investment and the proposed return on it and the company's pension. With that said, EXC expects the commission will consider the full case record when issuing its final order in December, which is expected at the December 14 meeting, but no later than December 20. Ahead of the final order, EXC expects to file briefs on exception by November 8, reply briefs on exception by November 20, and participate in oral arguments in late November. We continue to view the ComEd rate case as a key area of investor focus into year-end, particularly given the range of proposed outcomes from the Staff and ALJ.

Capital Spending Outlook. EXC remains constructive on the capital investment opportunity set to support the energy transition, driving a view that it will strengthen and lengthen rate base growth. While management expects to provide a full update on the capital plan in February on the 4Q call, it highlighted a number of transmission opportunities that could represent upside risk to the current five-year plan as we roll forward. PJM recently selected projects proposed by EXC to support reliability in Maryland/Pennsylvania/Virginia that is estimated to cost $850 mn and expected to be completed in 2029/2030. This recent update is incremental to the updates last quarter on transmission projects with an in-service at the end of 2028. The company expects 40%-50% of capex to be spent in the last two years before start up, with the remaining 50-60% of capex spent in the first three to four years, which would imply spend both during and after the current planning period.

Balance Sheet/Financing Commentary. EXC continues to project a 100-200 bps cushion on FFO/debt relative to its 12% downgrade threshold, with the CMT largely determining where within that range it falls. That said, the company's financial plan assumes the CMT will not allow for repairs, and management expects more guidance from Treasury before year-end. From a financing perspective, there is no change to the expectation to issue $425 mn in equity by 2025 for the current plan. To the extent incremental capital opportunities materialize relative to the $31 bn plan, EXC would expect to take a balanced approach to financing with internal cash flow and a mix of debt/equity to maintain the balance sheet cushion and achieve the 6%-8% earnings growth target that the company reiterated on the call.

Model Updates and Our Latest Views

We remain less constructive on EXC relative to our coverage given (1) continued uncertainty on several key rate cases, in particular ComEd, which we expect to get resolution in December, (2) less differentiation versus consensus where our 2023-2027 estimates are 3% below FactSet consensus, (3) valuation, where EXC now trades at 15.2x P/E on our 2025 numbers versus our coverage at 14.4x on average, and (4) less thematic leverage to verticals like renewables generation that we believe could represent significant upside risk to capital spending going forward.

In our model, we update for quarterly actuals, mark our treasury rate forecast, shift timing of equity issuance in the model, and adjust debt levels. This drives our 2023-2024 estimates to move from $2.37/$2.46 to $2.36/$2.45 and our 2025 estimate is unchanged at $2.61.

Valuation & Key Risks

We are Sell rated on EXC. Our 12-month, P/E based price target is unchanged at $39. Key risks relate to more favorable rate case outcomes, cost control/ability to smooth earnings surprising to the upside, and incremental capex opportunities.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our coverage universe) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are not provided or have been suspended pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, when the company is an early-stage biotechnology company, and in certain other circumstances. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company. Not Available or Not Applicable (NA). The information is not available for display or is not applicable. Not Meaningful (NM). The information is not meaningful and is therefore excluded.

EXC-ellent EXC-ecution for the Quarter

Bottom Line:

EXC reported 3Q23 EPS of $0.67 vs our $0.66 estimate and $0.67 for consensus. Management narrowed the 2023 guidance range by +/- $0.02 at each end to $2.32-2.40 compared to BMO/consensus at $2.36. Longer term, the company also reaffirmed its 2021-2025 and 2022-2026 EPS CAGRs of 6-8% with an expectation of being at the midpoint or better with the drivers for its annual growth ranges unchanged. We reiterate our Outperform rating. Our target price moves to $44 as we mark-to-market our peer group multiples used in our SOTP valuation framework.

Key Points

In October, the ALJ issued a proposed order in the inaugural ComEd MYRP. On the call, management discussed that while the proposed order would be supportive of IL's ambitious electrification/decarbonization goals, it expressed disagreement with the proposed ROE below national averages, the pension disallowance, and the capital structure. Management noted it expects the ICC to consider the full record when writing its final order.

Holistically, we would view a proposed order with ~78% of the ask favorably as we wrote here. However, we believe investors share similar sentiment to that of management and are looking for the final order to include a slightly higher ROE given the past precedent set in the natural gas cases and the current mark-to-market of the old formulaic ROE. We note a ~50bps change in ComEd's ROE represents ~$0.04 of EPS on a full-year basis. Thus, in the context of the entire order we believe a 9.28% ROE would ultimately be a manageable hurdle.

For the balance of 2023, we expect investors to focus on the final order in the ComEd case and then begin to shift to the 4Q23 call where management is expected to provide updates to its long-term capital/growth/financing outlooks including robust transmission opportunities that lengthen and strengthen the company's growth profile.

EXC outperformed the group by ~110bps today and although we looked favorably on the quarterly execution and management's commentary on the upcoming 4Q23 roll-forward, we attribute the outperformance more to a catch-up from the weakness following the ALJ proposed order for ComEd (Exhibit 1).

Shares of EXC trade at a ~3-4% premium to the group, which we see as an attractive risk-adjusted value proposition given its lower-risk T&D investment profile and growth visibility. As such, EXC remains an anchor on the relative value/GARP side of our BMO Barbell.

Our Thesis

We see EXC's multiple re-rating post spin as a gradual 12-18-month process driven by the company executing against its capital and regulatory plans. We believe the company's low-risk T&D business profile, strong and visible fundamental growth outlook, and supportive regulatory environment position the company well to drive multiple expansion.

Scenarios

Valuation

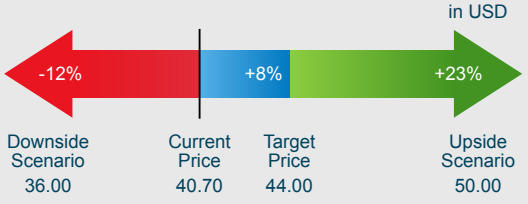
We value EXC on a sum-of-the-parts valuation. Our framework begins with the relevant sector average P/E multiple using 2025E EPS as a base, which we then adjust (premium, discount, or no change) to reflect the relative fundamentals for each segment.

Upside Scenario $50.00

Our upside scenario reflects continued multiple expansion associated with the execution of the company's current ComEd MYRP which should crystalize the company's premium and above-average earnings and dividend growth profile.

Downside Scenario $36.00

Our downside scenario reflects a tightening monetary policy, suboptimal regulatory outcomes that lead to a deceleration of the company's rate base growth.



Key Catalysts

We see EXC management now in execution mode post its separation from Constellation Energy. With nearly 75% of the company's revenues decoupled from volumes and 100% of its capital covered through alternative recovery mechanisms, we see EXC achieving our target price over the next 12-18 months as management executes against its capital and regulatory plans.

Company Description

Exelon is the largest utility by customer count with over 10mm electric and natural gas customers spread across its six-state footprint. It is the fourth largest utility by rate base with one of the lowest business risk and ESG-friendly profiles given the company's pure T&D asset mix with electric distribution and transmission representing over 88% of rate base.

EXC-ellent EXC-ecution for the Quarter

Bottom Line: EXC reported in-line EPS for 3Q23, but drivers showed impressive execution to meet consensus with significant storm headwinds in the quarter. Management's full-year plan remains on track, and it narrowed its 2023 guidance range by +/-$0.02 to $2.32-2.40, leaving the midpoint unchanged. EXC outperformed the group by ~110bps today and although we looked favorably on the quarterly execution and management's commentary on the upcoming 4Q23 roll-forward, we attribute the outperformance more to a catch-up following some relative weakness caused by the less-favorable ALJ proposed order in ComEd's MYRP proceeding in late October (Exhibits 1 and 2).

For the remainder of the year, we expect investors to key in on the final order in the ComEd case expected in December and then begin to shift their focus to the 4Q23 call where management is expected to provide updates to its long-term capital, growth, and financing outlook. Additionally, with today's results, management signaled a robust set of transmission opportunities that would lengthen and strengthen the company's existing growth profile.

Shares of EXC trade at a ~3-4% premium to the group, which we see as an attractive risk-adjusted value proposition given its lower-risk T&D investment profile and growth visibility with the majority of the company's subsidiaries operating under multi-year rate plans. We continue to believe that EXC shares could see additional multiple expansion with continued solid execution against its growth plan. Accordingly, EXC remains an anchor on the relative value/GARP side of our BMO Barbell, and we reiterate our Outperform rating. Our target price moves to $44 as we mark-to-market our peer group multiples used in our SOTP valuation framework.

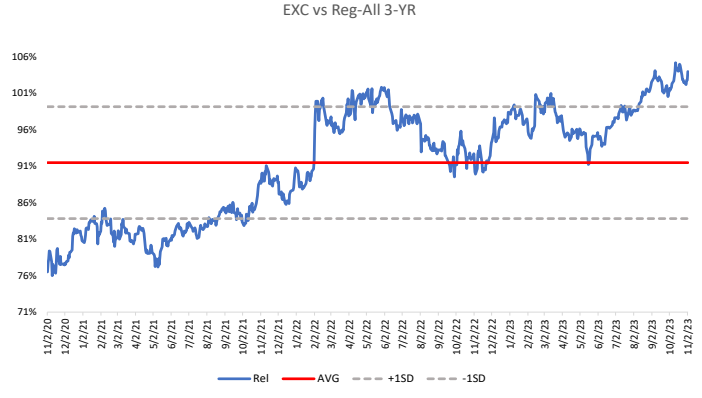
Exhibit 2: 3-Year 2YR Forward Relative P/E



Source: BMO Capital Markets, FactSet

EXC reported 3Q23 EPS of $0.67 vs our $0.66 estimate and $0.67 for consensus. While results were in line on a headline basis, performance was better than expected as management was able to overcome significant storm and weather-related headwinds to meet consensus expectations (and the company's previous estimate of 3Q23 contributing ~28% of its full-year earnings). Year-over-year results declined by ($0.08) with ComEd's positive contribution of +$0.04 more than offset by ($0.06) at PHI, ($0.03) at PECO, ($0.02) at BGE, and ($0.02) at Corporate. Consolidated drivers included+$0.05 of higher rates from increasing rate base and +$0.01 of CMC carrying cost that were offset by ($0.07) of weather and storms, ($0.04) of higher interest expense, and ($0.03) of timing items that should reverse in 4Q23.

Despite the storm headwinds in the non-decoupled jurisdictions, year-to-date earnings are in line with management's expectations and the headwinds are being offset by O&M control across the company, an uptick in the ComEd ROE given higher interest rates, favorable D&A at PECO, and the full-year impact of the carrying costs associated with the CMC regulatory asset balance. Accordingly, management narrowed the 2023 guidance range by +/- $0.02 at each end while leaving the midpoint unchanged for a new 2023 guidance range of $2.32-2.40 compared to BMO/consensus at $2.36.

Longer term, the company reaffirmed its 2021-2025 and 2022-2026 EPS CAGRs of 6-8% with an expectation of being at the midpoint or better with the drivers for its annual growth ranges unchanged. The company continues to see the payout ratio of ~60% allowing the dividend to grow in line with earnings. Management also reaffirmed its ~$31.0bn capital plan for 2023-2026 which drives ~8.0% rate base growth.

For 2023, the company had completed all of its planned debt financing activities in the first half of the year and there were no change in its equity financing plan with the remaining $425mm of equity financing expect to be completed by 2025 under the company's ~$1bn ATM. EXC continues to project its credit metrics in the 13-14% range over the forecast period, providing 100-200bps of cushion above its 12% downgrade threshold.

While not assumed in the base plan (and the aforementioned equity outlook) management noted it is optimistic regarding the updated guidance expected from the Treasury before year-end related to the mitigation of the corporate Alternative Minimum Tax through repairs tax deductibility. Although not a significant upside driver, we believe the incremental ~$200mm per year of cash flow could help provide the company with additional financing flexibility as it looks to update investors on the 4Q23 call on its five-year capital plan roll-forward.

The company was recently awarded ~$850mm of new transmission projects in MD and PA as part of the PJM Window 3 solicitation to support reliability and load growth. The spend is likely to occur in the back part of the decade with estimated completion by 2030. This is also in addition to the ~$870mm in transmission projects in eastern Maryland that are expected to be in service by year-end 2028 announced on the 2Q23 call. The company noted that these incremental investments are additive to the current plan and likely to be captured in the roll-forward. Looking forward, we expect transmission to be a key focus on the company's year-end capital roll forward as management continued to speak positively on additional transmission opportunities more broadly in PJM and specifically in support of the ambitious offshore wind programs in NJ and MD over time. While already meaningful at ~20% of our projected consolidated rate base, we view incremental growth at this segment as a positive longer-term driver as it further enhances the company's business risk, is more cash flow accretive than other regulated assets, and is multiple accretive to our SOTP valuation where we assigned a premium to transmission-related earnings.

For the year-end call, management continued to highlight its robust capital opportunity set lengthening and strengthening its current peer-leading growth rate while preserving balance sheet strength. We would not be surprised to see any incremental capital added to the company's rolling five-year plan accompanied by modest equity needs. However, given the company's size we expect any equity can be satisfied using internal programs/existing ATM program and would be done in support of the company's 6-8% EPS growth rate.

In October, the ALJ issued a proposed order in the inaugural ComEd MYRP that recommended a 9.28% ROE and 50% equity ratio and a delta of ~$300mm on the revenue requirement vs the company's ask. On the call management discussed that while the proposed order would be supportive of the robust capital program underpinning IL's ambitious electrification and decarbonization goals, it expressed disagreement with the proposed order given: 1) the ROE was below national averages, 2) the lack of appreciation of the customer benefits from investments in the pension, and 3) a capital structure with an equity ratio below what it deemed to be appropriate.

Management noted it expects the ICC to consider the full record when writing its final order and the company will have the opportunity to continue presenting its case in briefs on exception due 11/8 and likely oral arguments in the late-November timeframe. An order is expected on 12/14/23 and due no later than 12/20/2023.

Holistically, we would view a proposed order with ~78% of the company's ask favorably as we wrote here. However, we also believe that investors share similar sentiment to that of management and are looking for the final order to include a slightly higher ROE given the past precedent set in the natural gas cases and the current mark-to-market of the old formulaic ROE. Nevertheless, we continue to note the economic impact of any ROE change is still likely muted in the context of the overall company as a ~50bps change in ComEd's ROE represents ~$0.04 of EPS on a full-year basis. Thus, in the context of the entire order we believe a 9.28% ROE would ultimately be a manageable hurdle.

The regulatory calendar remains busy with several ongoing cases outside of ComEd. All remaining distribution rate cases are on track within their stated schedules. The most notable development was a settlement at ACE that was filed on 10/23/23 with a final order expected by year-end. Final orders are expected for the DPL Electric case and Pepco MD in 2Q24 with Pepco DC in 2Q24/3Q24.

Methodology and Risks to Target Price/Valuation for Constellation Energy Corporation (CEG-NSDQ)

Methodology: Our target price is derived from a blend of both EV/EBITDA and FCFY valuations, consistent with our valuation applied to the other companies in our coverage universe within the IPC and diversified utility segments.

Risks: Constellation's wholesale and retail businesses are subject to commodity price risk including power, natural gas and uranium, as well as counterparty non-performance. The company faces other business risks including regulatory, nuclear operational risk, cyber threats, and capital market volatility.

Methodology and Risks to Target Price/Valuation for Exelon (EXC-NSDQ)

Methodology: We value EXC using our sum-of-the-parts valuation analysis to derive our target price. Our valuation takes into account the quality of EXC's assets relative to its peers and the company's regulated business rate base growth and funding sources.

Risks: Adverse outcomes in the company's inaugural MYRP filing in IL, DE electric rate case and 2025 PECO electric GRC. Despite having nearly a 1% cushion over its 12% downgrade threshold, the ability to meet its stated credit metrics given adverse impacts from severe storms, fuel deferrals, and other unforeseen expenses.

Methodology and Risks to Target Price/Valuation for Phillips Edison & Company, Inc. (PECO-NSDQ)

Methodology: Our target price is based on a combination of our NAV and DCF analyses, taking into account FFO/AFFO multiples relative to peers, other REITs, and earnings expectations.

Risks: Primary risks include a softening leasing environment and elevated store closings, rising interest rates, rising capitalization rates, the health of the economy and fluctuations in occupancy/rent levels, availability and cost of capital, financial stability of tenants, new competitive supply, environmental matters, and higher costs of maintaining vacant space (labor, energy/utilities, repairs and maintenance, etc.).

Key Message: EXC reported another quarter of inline results, alongside another incremental win on the transmission side - this time in the form of $850M in reliability projects awarded by PJM. This comes on top of the prior quarter's ~$870M in BGE work related to the retirement of Brandon Shores, providing additional optionality for management as it refines its capital planning ahead of the 4Q update. With many of those efforts still in motion, the balance of today's update was largely on the regulatory cycle, where ComEd and BGE (~55% of rate base) are both headed towards final orders in their respective MYPs by mid-December. In IL in particular, management remains confident that the ICC will look past some of the ALJ's more draconian data points (e.g., ROE) in formulating its final order, with procedural steps (briefs) providing potential data points between now and 12/15. We have muted expectations heading into the final stretch of the process; however, the uniqueness of the situation does leave the possibility for positive revisions open, in our view. Our PT moves from $41 to $44 as we update our valuation.

What happened? EXC reported inline results alongside another straightforward affirmation of the plan and another incremental tranche of PJM transmission work (HERE). The update also came as the regulatory cycle in both IL and MD (55% of rate base) enters its final innings, with final orders due in both by mid-December. We asked on the call about the prospects for the ICC in IL to depart from some of the ALJ's proposals (see our prior note HERE), with management striking a confident tone that the uniqueness of the situation (policy considerations, first MYP, newer ICC) provides an opportunity for modifications. While the initial investor reaction to the ALJ ROE in the MYPs was somewhat negative, our subsequent conversations indicated that expectations were generally in the mid-9s, albeit with a low confidence interval given the uniqueness of Staff's initial formulaic proposal. While we have muted expectations for significant uplift to the ROE from here, we subscribe to management's points supporting higher levels (which Staff's formula would also now result in if re-marked) – we see little reason why gas ROEs should also be so dislocated (~9.89%). The balance of the updates on BGE were generally more straightforward, with management speaking favorably of the hearing process and the general case back-and-forth to date. As a reminder cases in MD have a track record of full litigation, and while this is the first MYP for several of the Commissioners, there is a degree of familiarity at the staff level given this is the sophomore MYP.

EXC reported 3Q23 performance of $0.67, just ahead of our estimate and in line with consensus ($0.66/$0.67) … YoY adjusted earnings were $0.08 lower, reflecting higher interest expense and storm drags across the utilities despite YoY improvements in distribution rates. Across the opcos, ComEd earnings were +$0.04 YoY thanks to another quarter of higher distribution rates (investment and treasuries) alongside $0.01 of benefit from CMC carrying costs. Earnings were $0.03 lower at PECO, reflecting higher gas distribution rates (+$0.01), which were fully offset by weather (-$0.03), and storm costs/other (-$0.01). BGE and PHI dragged $0.02 and $0.06, respectively, as storms and a bevy of other items at PHI were insufficient to overcome higher distribution rates. Interest expense at the parent added $0.02 of drag. Management also narrowed 2023 EPS guidance in the range of $2.32-$2.40 per share, vs. our $2.36 estimate, which remains unchanged. Finally, we note that there were few incremental updates on the financing or capex plans as the company still awaits full IRS clarity on CAMT, with commentary around the financing plan largely unchanged.

Valuation

Our valuation is based on our 2025E EPS of $2.74. We use our 14x regulated utility multiple, which is based on our regression model using the correlation between electric utility valuations and forward interest rate expectations over the past 30+ years. To this 14x multiple, we apply a 3x premium (previously 2x) to all of the utilities, to reflect our favorable view of the regulatory profile (contemporaneous recovery/minimal lag) and upsides beyond our current plan (aforementioned transmission opportunities). This 3x premium, applied to our 2025E EPS and discounted back 1 year equals our $44 PT.

Risks

EXC comprises regulated distribution and transmission assets, which face traditional risk factors and downside drivers inherent with all utilities, including: (1) negative rate case outcomes below our expectations, (2) reduced capex outlooks, and (3) interest rate changes above what we account for in our regression model.

EXC: 3Q in Line; Steady as It Goes

Sophie Karp / (917) 368-2361 / sophie.karp@key.com
Sangita Jain, CFA / (917) 368-2354 / sangita.jain@key.com
Michael Pelletier / (917) 368-2306 / michael.pelletier@key.com

EXC reported in line 3Q results and made no changes to its capital plan or LT growth rate. IL rate case, where ROE calculation has been intensely debated, will likely be the most material NT catalyst for the shares, while other regulatory proceedings appear to be on track. Reiterate SW.

EXC's 3Q was in line with expectations: EXC reported an in line quarter that matched consensus and was a penny ahead of our $0.66 estimate. Results by utility were also mostly in line with our breakdown. PECO earnings were below our forecast on unfavorable weather, the impact of which we underestimated.

3Q23	EXC	KBCM
ComEd	0.34	0.22
PECO	0.15	0.12
BG&E	0.05	0.08
PHI	0.23	0.32
Parent	(0.09)	(0.08)
EXC	0.67	0.66

Source: Company Reports, KBCM Estimates, Thomson Reuters

2023 guidance narrowed: EXC narrowed 2023 EPS guidance from $2.30-$2.42 to $2.32-$2.40 vs. our estimate of $2.36 (also consensus). There is also no change to the 6-8% earnings CAGR from 2022-2026 with an expectation to deliver at the midpoint or better. Based on our 2023 estimate of $2.36, our 2026E EPS of $2.93 implies a 7.5% CAGR, with an expectation for linear growth throughout the reference period.

Capex is unchanged with the energy transition lengthening the capex runway: There is no change to EXC's capex plan of $7.2B for 2023 or the long-term $31B capex plan through 2026 (resulting in an estimated 8% rate base growth rate), but there appear to be projects in the pipeline that could further extend the capex runway. A case in point is the recent DoE recommendation of two EXC projects for the Grid Resiliency and Innovation Partnership Program for negotiation of a final award totaling $150M across ComEd and PECO utilities. Combined with the National Telecom and Information Administration awarded grants, EXC utilities are nearing $200M in federally funded IIKA grant awards this year.

Balance sheet management, and pending clarity on the AMT: There is no change to EXC's strategy of maintaining a 100-200 bps cushion over the downgrade threshold of 12%, and to that end, the Company has no change to its $425M equity plan by 2025 as part of a balanced funding strategy. There is still no clarity from the IRS on the applicability of the AMT as written in the IRA and depending on whether the final regulations allow for a mitigation in the anticipated AMT, it could add ~50 bps to the FFO/debt over the projected ~13%.

Regulatory update:

- IL Electric MYRP: The ALJ issued a PD recommending a $1,175M revenue increase, premised on a 9.28% ROE. In briefs, EXC updated its request to a $1,499M revenue increase over the 2024-2027 period while proposing to defer ~$339M for future recovery. EXC is allowed to phase-in up to 50% of the initial year's approved increase to be deferred and recovered within 24 months, or by 2026. EXC's request is premised on gradual increases in its ROE (10.5-10.65%) and equity layers (50.58-51.19%) through the four years. Staff filed briefs recommending a $1,118M revenue increase over 2024-2027 while continuing to make its case for an 8.91% ROE, or 580 bps over the 2022 U.S. Treasury Bond yield of 3.114%. The ALJ denied this method in the PD. Exceptions to the PD are due by November 8. A final order is expected on December 14, but is due no later than December 20. New rates are expected to go into effect January 1, 2024.

- BGE MYRP: BGE filed the second MYRP in 1Q23 for a three-year period based on a 10.4% ROE and 52% equity seeking a cumulative net $314M electric and a $290M gas rate increase over 2024-2026. The proceeding will also true up the first two years of BGE's first MYRP and it is seeking recovery of an imbalance of $17.8M for 2021 and $58.7M for 2022. Staff recommended three-year electric and gas revenue increases of $193M and $232M, respectively, premised on a 9.45% ROE and 52% equity. Evidentiary hearings were conducted in September and briefs were filed in October. A final commission order is expected by December 14.
- Atlantic City Electric distribution rate case in NJ has had its procedural schedule suspended with the stipulation of settlement in place. ACE filed the stipulation on October 21 with the NJ BPU, and on October 24, the ALJ recommended the settlement with all parties' approval. The main drivers of the request include recovery of investments to the distribution system, AMI infrastructure, and investments needed to meet the targets set in the NJ Energy Master Plan. BPU approved a four-year capital tracker for $93M of projects intended to enhance reliability and resiliency. ACE expects the final commission order in 4Q23.
- DPL DE Electric: DPL DE received intermediary testimony and filed a rebuttal, which supported important aspects of the Company's proposed electric distribution revenue requirement increase of $39.3M. A final order is expected in 2Q24.
- PEPCO DC's second MYRP is underway seeking base rate increases for a three-year period through 2026 to support the District's clean energy programs and its goal to become carbon-neutral by 2045. The plan filing has been adjusted to accommodate the commission's request for supplemental testimony from PEPCO to allow the Company to demonstrate the benefits of a MYRP, and intervenor testimony is expected to be filed by staff on December 15 and the evidentiary hearing is set to start in March 2024. Briefs will be filed in April 2024 and a final order is expected in June 2024. PEPCO expects to receive intervenor testimony on December 11.
- PEPCO MD filed an electric MYRP (Docket: 9702) in May seeking a cumulative net increase of $214M, premised on a 10.5% ROE and 50.5% equity (net $74M revenue increase in 2024, $60M each in 2025 and 2026, and a $20M revenue increase in April 2027-December 2027), allowing the next MYRP to become effective at the beginning of 2028. Like the BG&E filings, EXC proposes smoothing the rates over three years by accelerating the amortization of ADIT benefits. Intervenor testimony is expected to be filed by staff on December 15 and the evidentiary hearing is set to start in March 2024. Briefs will be filed in April 2024 and a final order is expected in June 2024.

Recent Research: EXC: Moving Ahead as Planned, No Surprises in 2Q, Reiterating SW; EXC: Steady Execution Across Multiple Jurisdictions; Sector Weight on Valuation; EXC: In Line Quarter; Clarity on Multi-Year EPS Cadence; IL Rate Case Is the Main Item to Watch in 2023; EXC: 3Q Beats, Longer-Term Growth Rate Reiterated, but Cadence Will Be Uneven; Valuation: Based on a stock price of $39.53 (11/01/23 close) and our 2024E EPS of $2.53, shares of EXC are trading at a P/E ratio of ~16x, representing a 1% discount to Large-Cap Regulated Utilities trading at ~16x. We view the shares as fairly priced at current levels.

Risks: EXC's regulated utilities are exposed to a number of risks, including regulatory risk in its jurisdictions and on the federal level, weather variations affecting electricity demand and the reliability of its system, interest rate risk affecting its cost of capital, and macroeconomic risk as underlying economic activity affects demand for electric power and gas. Should the impacts of these risks be greater than we currently anticipate, the Company and the shares may underperform relative to our expectations. Conversely, should these risks' impact be less than anticipated, the Company and the shares may outperform relative to our current expectations.

Exelon Corp (EXC, Sell) reported 3Q23 operating EPS of $0.67, slightly below our $0.68 estimate and in line with FactSet consensus of $0.67. EXC narrowed its 2023 EPS guidance range of $2.30-$2.42 to $2.32-$2.40, which compares to GS/consensus of $2.37/$2.36, and reaffirmed its 6-8% long term growth rate. Outside of results, EXC reported latest updates on various regulatory proceedings out of which the ALJ's proposed ROE of 9.28% and reduction in revenue requirement of ~$300mn over the MYP at ComEd remains top of mind for investors, and we expect further commentary from the management on the call along with comments around how EXC will navigate a higher interest rate environment and manage its costs going forward.

Analysis

What were the key drivers of the quarterly variance?

Results came in slightly below our estimates. At the Operating company level, ComEd came in above our expectations, likely driven by stronger treasury yields, and PECO was also slightly above. The other segments including BGE, PHI, and Other came in below our expectations. On a consolidated basis, gross margins came in above our forecast but higher expenses offset and lower other income offset that.

Goldman Sachs does and seeks to do business with companies covered in its research reports. As a result, investors should be aware that the firm may have a conflict of interest that could affect the objectivity of this report. Investors should consider this report as only a single factor in making their investment decision. What are key questions for the conference call?

1. Can you talk through your thoughts on the ALJ recommendation around the ComEd rate case? How do you think that will impact the potential outcome in December?

2. What steps are you taking to manage the higher interest rate environment?

3. Where could we see further upside relative to announced plans with regard to capital spending as you think about rolling forward the plan?

Valuation & Key Risks

We are Sell rated on EXC with a 12-month PT of $39 based on a 15x 2025 P/E multiple. Key risks for EXC include: 1) favorable rate case outcomes, 2) cost control and ability to smooth earnings, 3) a robust balance sheet that appeals to investors seeking safety in the event of a recession, and 4) incremental capex opportunities.

Reg AC

We, Carly Davenport, John Miller and Jaskaran Jaiya, hereby certify that all of the views expressed in this report accurately reflect our personal views about the subject company or companies and its or their securities. We also certify that no part of our compensation was, is or will be, directly or indirectly, related to the specific recommendations or views expressed in this report.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our coverage universe) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are not provided or have been suspended pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, when the company is an early-stage biotechnology company, and in certain other circumstances. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company. Not Available or Not Applicable (NA). The information is not available for display or is not applicable. Not Meaningful (NM). The information is not meaningful and is therefore excluded.

General disclosures

This research is for our clients only. Other than disclosures relating to Goldman Sachs, this research is based on current public information that we consider reliable, but we do not represent it is accurate or complete, and it should not be relied on as such. The information, opinions, estimates and forecasts contained herein are as of the date hereof and are subject to change without prior notification. We seek to update our research as appropriate, but various regulations may prevent us from doing so. Other than certain industry reports published on a periodic basis, the large majority of reports are published at irregular intervals as appropriate in the analyst's judgment.

Goldman Sachs conducts a global full-service, integrated investment banking, investment management, and brokerage business. We have investment banking and other business relationships with a substantial percentage of the companies covered by Global Investment Research. Goldman Sachs & Co. LLC, the United States broker dealer, is a member of SIPC (https://www.sipc.org).

Our salespeople, traders, and other professionals may provide oral or written market commentary or trading strategies to our clients and principal trading desks that reflect opinions that are contrary to the opinions expressed in this research. Our asset management area, principal trading desks and investing businesses may make investment decisions that are inconsistent with the recommendations or views expressed in this research.

The analysts named in this report may have from time to time discussed with our clients, including Goldman Sachs salespersons and traders, or may discuss in this report, trading strategies that reference catalysts or events that may have a near-term impact on the market price of the equity securities discussed in this report, which impact may be directionally counter to the analyst's published price target expectations for such stocks. Any such trading strategies are distinct from and do not affect the analyst's fundamental equity rating for such stocks, which rating reflects a stock's return potential relative to its coverage universe as described herein.

We and our affiliates, officers, directors, and employees will from time to time have long or short positions in, act as principal in, and buy or sell, the securities or derivatives, if any, referred to in this research, unless otherwise prohibited by regulation or Goldman Sachs policy.

The views attributed to third party presenters at Goldman Sachs arranged conferences, including individuals from other parts of Goldman Sachs, do not necessarily reflect those of Global Investment Research and are not an official view of Goldman Sachs.

Any third party referenced herein, including any salespeople, traders and other professionals or members of their household, may have positions in the products mentioned that are inconsistent with the views expressed by analysts named in this report.

This research is not an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy any security in any jurisdiction where such an offer or solicitation would be illegal. It does not constitute a personal recommendation or take into account the particular investment objectives, financial situations, or needs of individual clients. Clients should consider whether any advice or recommendation in this research is suitable for their particular circumstances and, if appropriate, seek professional advice, including tax advice. The price and value of investments referred to in this research and the income from them may fluctuate. Past performance is not a guide to future performance, future returns are not guaranteed, and a loss of original capital may occur. Fluctuations in exchange rates could have adverse effects on the value or price of, or income derived from, certain investments.

Certain transactions, including those involving futures, options, and other derivatives, give rise to substantial risk and are not suitable for all investors. Investors should review current options and futures disclosure documents which are available from Goldman Sachs sales representatives or at https://www.theocc.com/about/publications/character-risks.jsp and https://www.fiadocumentation.org/fia/regulatory-disclosures_1/fia-uniform-futures-and-options-on-futures-risk-disclosures-booklet-pdf-version-2018. Transaction costs may be significant in option strategies calling for multiple purchase and sales of options such as spreads. Supporting documentation will be supplied upon request.

Differing Levels of Service provided by Global Investment Research: The level and types of services provided to you by Goldman Sachs Global Investment Research may vary as compared to that provided to internal and other external clients of GS, depending on various factors including your individual preferences as to the frequency and manner of receiving communication, your risk profile and investment focus and perspective (e.g., marketwide, sector specific, long term, short term), the size and scope of your overall client relationship with GS, and legal and regulatory constraints. As an example, certain clients may request to receive notifications when research on specific securities is published, and certain clients may request that specific data underlying analysts' fundamental analysis available on our internal client websites be delivered to them electronically through data feeds or otherwise. No change to an analyst's fundamental research views (e.g., ratings, price targets, or material changes to earnings estimates for equity securities), will be communicated to any client prior to inclusion of such information in a research report broadly disseminated through electronic publication to our internal client websites or through other means, as necessary, to all clients who are entitled to receive such reports.

All research reports are disseminated and available to all clients simultaneously through electronic publication to our internal client websites. Not all research content is redistributed to our clients or available to third-party aggregators, nor is Goldman Sachs responsible for the redistribution of our research by third party aggregators. For research, models or other data related to one or more securities, markets or asset classes (including related services) that may be available to you, please contact your GS representative or go to https://research.gs.com.

- Earnings match estimates. EXC reported 3Q23 adj EPS of $0.67, matching the JPM/Street median estimate. YoY impacts include -3c of unfavorable weather, -4c of storm costs, and -2c of timing items, all contributing to the -8c YoY earnings decline.
- 2023 guidance narrowed, with midpoint unchanged. The company now targets 2023 EPS of $2.32-2.40 (JPMe/Street $2.36), narrowing its initial $2.30-2.42 guidance range. EXC also reaffirmed its long-term outlook and growth CAGRs.
- All eyes on IL as ComEd's rate case approaches the finish line. With the ALJ's proposed order now in hand, we look to EXC's final arguments and focuses in ComEd's inaugural MYP. ROE remains in the spotlight, with the 9.28% outlined by the ALJ screening lower than investor expectations overall (although confirming a likely move away from formula ROEs despite Staff's proposal). Here, we anticipate management will offer familiar commentary around expectations for this outcome to ultimately land at the commission's discretion rather than a straight vote out of the proposed order. Other issues include cap structure (50% in ALJ; EXC seeking to increase to ~51% over the plan period), rate base, and the return on a pension asset. In a theme common this earnings season, we expect management to clearly outline their needs during the call.
- Additional transmission capex stands out across other updates. Following 2Q's announcement of $870mm of PJM transmission projects to address eastern MD reliability needs, EXC now has an additional $850mm of MD/PA reliability projects awarded by PJM to address load increases. While modest versus a $31bn 2023-2026 capital plan, we see the continued transmission additions as positive and thematically consistent with the growing system investment need across EXC's footprint. The company estimates completion by 2030 of these latest projects.
- Conference call details. EXC will host a webcast to discuss 3Q23 results on Thursday, November 2, at 10:00 AM ET.

The chart(s) show J.P. Morgan's continuing coverage of the stocks; the current analysts may or may not have covered it over the entire period.
J.P. Morgan ratings or designations: OW = Overweight, N= Neutral, UW = Underweight, NR = Not Rated

Explanation of Equity Research Ratings, Designations and Analyst(s) Coverage Universe:
J.P. Morgan uses the following rating system: Overweight [Over the next six to twelve months, we expect this stock will outperform the average total return of the stocks in the analyst's (or the analyst's team's) coverage universe.] Neutral [Over the next six to twelve months, we expect this stock will perform in line with the average total return of the stocks in the analyst's (or the analyst's team's) coverage universe.] Underweight [Over the next six to twelve months, we expect this stock will underperform the average total return of the stocks in the analyst's (or the analyst's team's) coverage universe.] Not Rated (NR): J.P. Morgan has removed the rating and, if applicable, the price target, for this stock because of either a lack of a sufficient fundamental basis or for legal, regulatory or policy reasons. The previous rating and, if applicable, the price target, no longer should be relied upon. An NR designation is not a recommendation or a rating. In our Asia (ex-Australia and ex-India) and U.K. small- and mid-cap equity research, each stock's expected total return is compared to the expected total return of a benchmark country market index, not to those analysts' coverage universe. If it does not appear in the Important Disclosures section of this report, the certifying analyst's coverage universe can be found on J.P. Morgan's research website, https://www.jpmorganmarkets.com.

EQUITY RESEARCH QUICK TAKE

RBC Capital Markets, LLC
Shelby Tucker, CFA (Analyst)
(212) 428-6462, shelby.tucker@rbccm.com

November 2, 2023

Exelon Corporation

3Q23 inline; 2023; guidance narrowed

Sentiment: Neutral

Our view: Adjusted earnings of $0.67 compared to our estimate and consensus of $0.67. 2023 guidance of $2.30-$2.42 was narrowed to $2.32-$2.40, and long-term EPS growth CAGR of 6%-8% was reaffirmed. On the call, we expect to hear more on the somewhat disappointing proposed order for ComEd announced in October, the other five pending rate cases including BGE, preliminary commentary on weather in Q4, and the regulatory calendar.

EXC reported 3Q23 operating earnings of $0.67 versus 3Q22 earnings of $0.75. Storm costs were a -4c drag in the quarter along with -3c of interest expense, partially offset by increased distribution and transmission rates.

Regulatory updates. While ComEd's proposed order has already been received, multiple outstanding rate cases remain ongoing across regulatory areas. Two, at ACE and BGE, are expected to be completed by the end of this year.

2023 financing outlook. EXC continues to target 13-14% FFO/debt metric with the downgrade threshold around 12%. The company still expects to issue $425 million of equity through 2024 and 2025.

Conference call today at 10:00AM ET. Register for a unique pin here.

All values in USD unless otherwise noted. Priced as of prior trading day's market close, EST (unless otherwise noted).

Explanation of RBC Capital Markets Equity rating system

An analyst's 'sector' is the universe of companies for which the analyst provides research coverage. Accordingly, the rating assigned to a particular stock represents solely the analyst's view of how that stock will perform over the next 12 months relative to the analyst's sector average.
Ratings
Outperform (O): Expected to materially outperform sector average over 12 months.
Sector Perform (SP): Returns expected to be in line with sector average over 12 months.
Underperform (U): Returns expected to be materially below sector average over 12 months.
Restricted (R): RBC policy precludes certain types of communications, including an investment recommendation, when RBC is acting as an advisor in certain merger or other strategic transactions and in certain other circumstances.
Not Rated (NR): The rating, price targets and estimates have been removed due to applicable legal, regulatory or policy constraints which may include when RBC Capital Markets is acting in an advisory capacity involving the company.
Risk Rating
The Speculative risk rating reflects a security's lower level of financial or operating predictability, illiquid share trading volumes, high balance sheet leverage, or limited operating history that result in a higher expectation of financial and/or stock price volatility.

Distribution of ratings

For the purpose of ratings distributions, regulatory rules require member firms to assign ratings to one of three rating categories - Buy, Hold/Neutral, or Sell - regardless of a firm's own rating categories. Although RBC Capital Markets' ratings of Outperform (O), Sector Perform (SP), and Underperform (U) most closely correspond to Buy, Hold/Neutral and Sell, respectively, the meanings are not the same because our ratings are determined on a relative basis.

Exelon Corporation

Valuation

Our $45 price target assumes a 16.7x P/E multiple on 2025E utilities EPS of $2.74. Our multiple reflects a slight 3% discount to our base case blended electric and gas multiple of 18.6x, resulting in equity value per share of $53. While we believe Exelon utilities have a similar profile to industry peers (6–8% EPS CAGR and 7–8% rate base CAGR), we give consideration for some regulatory overhang and lower ROE at ComEd. Our price target supports a Sector Perform rating.

Risks to rating and price target

- Stagnant ROE performance at ComEd
- Credit metrics deteriorate due to significant borrowings
- Inflation drives up O&M costs
- Corporate minium taxes become a drag on cash
- Approval of upcoming multi-year plans at favorable levels

Exelon Corp

In-Line. 3Q'23 Adj. EPS $0.67 v. $0.67 Cons.

Q: How did the results compare vs expectations?

A: In-Line. EXC reported Adj. EPS of $0.67 vs. $0.67 consensus estimates, $0.68 UBSe, and $0.75 in 3Q'22.

Q: What were the most noteworthy areas in the results?

A: Year over year results were ComEd: +$0.04 dist. rates, +$0.01 CMC carrying cost, ($0.01) other; PECO: +$0.01 gas dist rates, ($0.03) weather, ($0.02) storm costs, + $0.01 other; BGE: +$0.01 dist. rates, ($0.01) D&A, ($0.01) storm costs, ($0.01) int. exp.; PHI: +$0.01 T&D rates, ($0.01) D&A, ($0.01) tax timing, ($0.01) contracting costs timing, ($0.01) credit loss exp, ($0.01) storm costs, ($0.02) other; and Corp: ($0.02) int. exp.

Q: Has the company's outlook/guidance changed?

A: Management narrowed 2023 eps guidance to $2.32 - $2.40 from $2.30-$2.42, long term eps growth of 6-8% from 2022 - 2026 with an expectation to be at the mid-point or better, a $31 Billion five year capital plan with an approximate rate base CAGR of 8%, a five year average FFO/Debt '23 - '26 of 13-14%, and an ~60% payout ratio resulting in dps growth in line with eps growth thru '26.

Q: How would we expect investors to react?

A: Neutral on the In-Line result. Waiting for the call for color on the ongoing rate case processes in Maryland, and in particular in Illinois given the ALJ recommended order and the 9.28% recommended allowed ROE, as well as any perspective on the Pennsylvania rate case process in 2024. Investors will also be looking for any incremental comments around repairs tax in the final tax rules, and timing of remaining $425mln in equity needs, and any incremental transmission project potential within PJM.

Company Description

Exelon owns six regulated utility subsidiaries: Atlantic City Electric, BGE, ComEd, Delmarva Power, PECO and the Pepco Subsidiaries, which deliver electricity and natural gas to about 10m customers in Delaware, Washington DC, Illinois, Maryland, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania.

Valuation Method and Risk Statement

Our valuation methodology for the group is price to earnings based. The adjustments applied fall into 5 categories. These are as follows: 1) Group Valuation Bias: Flowing from our valuation work comparing Baa corporate yields to group dividend yields and RU price to earnings ratios to those for the S&P 500, we incorporate a positive or negative adjustment to our group multiple representing the gap we calculate to the nearest 5%; 2) Growth Adjustment: We adjust our valuations based on the growth quartile each utility occupies. First quartile receives a 4% premium, second quartile a 2% premium, third quartile a 2% discount and fourth quartile a 4% discount; 3) Regulatory Adjustment: Our valuation adjustments for regulation are based on our proprietary Regulatory Rankings. First quartile jurisdictions receive 9%, second quartile 3%, third quartile -3% and fourth quartile -9%; 5) An earnings consistency premium and discount and +/-4% for top or bottom quartile; 6) a pricing power discount of -3% for those companies with low pricing power; 7) Multi Utility Diversified Valuation: For multi utilities (those with more than 15% diversified or foreign earnings), we perform a sum-of-parts analysis applying business/region appropriate valuations to those diversified businesses; 8) One-off Adjustments: In special situations, we value risk on an issue specific basis. Common areas where we apply such an adjustment include: ESG advantage, large project construction risk, legal risk, and announced M&A completion risk.

We maintain our Price Target of $47 premised on a 6% premium to the group multiple or 17.0x our $2.77/share earnings forecast for 2025. Our 6% net premium is derived from a 5% premium for the overall regulated utility group, premised upon the current undervaluation versus the Baa corporate bond, a 3% discount for a 3rd quartile regulatory ranking overall, a 2% premium for 2nd quartile earnings growth, a 5% premium for energy transition, and 3% discount for lower pricing power.

Specific risks for Exelon include regulatory risks at the utilities, weather, and interest rates.

KEY DEFINITIONS: Forecast Stock Return (FSR) is defined as expected percentage price appreciation plus gross dividend yield over the next 12 months. In some cases, this yield may be based on accrued dividends. Market Return Assumption (MRA) is defined as the one-year local market interest rate plus 5% (a proxy for, and not a forecast of, the equity risk premium). Under Review (UR) Stocks may be flagged as UR by the analyst, indicating that the stock's price target and/or rating are subject to possible change in the near term, usually in response to an event that may affect the investment case or valuation. Short-Term Ratings reflect the expected near-term (up to three months) performance of the stock and do not reflect any change in the fundamental view or investment case. Equity Price Targets have an investment horizon of 12 months.

EXCEPTIONS AND SPECIAL CASES: UK and European Investment Fund ratings and definitions are: Buy: Positive on factors such as structure, management, performance record, discount; Neutral: Neutral on factors such as structure, management, performance record, discount; Sell: Negative on factors such as structure, management, performance record, discount. Core Banding Exceptions (CBE): Exceptions to the standard +/-6% bands may be granted by the Investment Review Committee (IRC). Factors considered by the IRC include the stock's volatility and the credit spread of the respective company's debt. As a result, stocks deemed to be very high or low risk may be subject to higher or lower bands as they relate to the rating. When such exceptions apply, they will be identified in the Company Disclosures table in the relevant research piece.

This document is a general communication and is educational in nature; it is not an advertisement nor is it a solicitation or an offer to buy or sell any financial instruments or to participate in any particular trading strategy. Nothing in this document constitutes a representation that any investment strategy or recommendation is suitable or appropriate to an investor's individual circumstances or otherwise constitutes a personal recommendation. By providing this document, none of UBS or its representatives has any responsibility or authority to provide or have provided investment advice in a fiduciary capacity or otherwise. Investments involve risks, and investors should exercise prudence and their own judgment in making their investment decisions. None of UBS or its representatives is suggesting that the recipient or any other person take a specific course of action or any action at all. The recipient should carefully read this document in its entirety and not draw inferences or conclusions from the rating alone. By receiving this document, the recipient acknowledges and agrees with the intended purpose described above and further disclaims any expectation or belief that the information constitutes investment advice to the recipient or otherwise purports to meet the investment objectives of the recipient. The financial instruments described in the document may not be eligible for sale in all jurisdictions or to certain categories of investors.

Options, structured derivative products and futures (including OTC derivatives) are not suitable for all investors. Trading in these instruments is considered risky and may be appropriate only for sophisticated investors. Prior to buying or selling an option, and for the complete risks relating to options, you must receive a copy of "The Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options." You may read the document at https://www.theocc.com/publications/risks/riskchap1.jsp or ask your salesperson for a copy. Various theoretical explanations of the risks associated with these instruments have been published. Supporting documentation for any claims, comparisons, recommendations, statistics or other technical data will be supplied upon request. Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future results. Transaction costs may be significant in option strategies calling for multiple purchases and sales of options, such as spreads and straddles. Because of the importance of tax considerations to many options transactions, the investor considering options should consult with his/her tax advisor as to how taxes affect the outcome of contemplated options transactions.

Mortgage and asset-backed securities may involve a high degree of risk and may be highly volatile in response to fluctuations in interest rates or other market conditions. Foreign currency rates of exchange may adversely affect the value, price or income of any security or related instrument referred to in the document. For investment advice, trade execution or other enquiries, clients should contact their local sales representative.

The value of any investment or income may go down as well as up, and investors may not get back the full (or any) amount invested. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Neither UBS nor any of its directors, employees or agents accepts any liability for any loss (including investment loss) or damage arising out of the use of all or any of the Information.

Prior to making any investment or financial decisions, any recipient of this document or the information should take steps to understand the risk and return of the investment and seek individualized advice from his or her personal financial, legal, tax and other professional advisors that takes into account all the particular facts and circumstances of his or her investment objectives.

Options and futures are not suitable for all investors, and trading in these instruments is considered risky and may be appropriate only for sophisticated investors. Prior to buying or selling an option, and for the complete risks relating to options, you must receive a copy of "Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options". You may read the document at https://www.theocc.com/about/publications/character-risks.jsp or ask your financial advisor for a copy.

Investing in structured investments involves significant risks. For a detailed discussion of the risks involved in investing in any particular structured investment, you must read the relevant offering materials for that investment. Structured investments are unsecured obligations of a particular issuer with returns linked to the performance of an underlying asset. Depending on the terms of the investment, investors could lose all or a substantial portion of their investment based on the performance of the underlying asset. Investors could also lose their entire investment if the issuer becomes insolvent. UBS does not guarantee in any way the obligations or the financial condition of any issuer or the accuracy of any financial information provided by any issuer. Structured investments are not traditional investments and investing in a structured investment is not equivalent to investing directly in the underlying asset. Structured investments may have limited or no liquidity, and investors should be prepared to hold their investment to maturity. The return of structured investments may be limited by a maximum gain, participation rate or other feature. Structured investments may include call features and, if a structured investment is called early, investors would not earn any further return and may not be able to reinvest in similar investments with similar terms. Structured investments include costs and fees which are generally embedded in the price of the investment. The tax treatment of a structured investment may be complex and may differ from a direct investment in the underlying asset. UBS and its employees do not provide tax advice. Investors should consult their own tax advisor about their own tax situation before investing in any securities.

Important Information About Sustainable Investing Strategies: Sustainable investing strategies aim to consider and incorporate environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors into investment process and portfolio construction. Strategies across geographies approach ESG analysis and incorporate the findings in a variety of ways. Incorporating ESG factors or Sustainable Investing considerations may inhibit the portfolio manager's ability to participate in certain investment opportunities that otherwise would be consistent with its investment objective and other principal investment strategies. The returns on a portfolio incorporating ESG factors or Sustainable Investing considerations may be lower or higher than portfolios where ESG factors, exclusions, or other sustainability issues are not considered by the portfolio manager, and the investment opportunities available to such portfolios may differ.

Within the past 12 months UBS Switzerland AG, its affiliates or subsidiaries may have received or provided investment services and activities or ancillary services as per MiFID II which may have given rise to a payment or promise of a payment in relation to these services from or to this company.

Summary

We are upgrading Exelon to Buy from Neutral on our conservative earnings and capital assumptions following the negative IL decision last December. By 2026, Illinois distribution should represent 23% of EXC earnings, and we believe the negative environment in IL should be offset by a supportive PA that is forecasted to make up 22% of 2026 earnings. Our forecast assumes 2025 IL rates will be based on 2023 rate base (versus the current order using 2022 rate base). We assume no reallocation of capital in our model. We assume EXC will cut its EPS CAGR to 5-7%, which is in line with the sector average. Update PT to $39 (prev. $36) based on current multiples.

Key Points

Average growth rate should yield an average multiple. We downgraded EXC back in November on the view that the Illinois decision would come in below expectations and since then EXC has underperformed the index by 11%. We believe the sell-off is overdone based on: 1) In 2026 IL distribution should represent 23% of earnings while more supportive jurisdictions like PA (22%) and FERC (20%) should contribute over 40% to EPS. 2) Investors get a free option on the company's ability to reallocate $3.4B of capital by 2026 and could add $0.15 to our estimates. 3) We see no threat to the Baa2 average balance sheet and don't forecast any incremental equity needs.

Even with an EPS CAGR cut we see value. Back on the 4Q22 earnings call EXC reaffirmed a 6-8% EPS CAGR that was very "non-linear" with some years when guidance fell below the growth rate and other years when it was above the EPS CAGR. We believe, absent any capital reallocation, EXC resets the EPS CAGR to a more linear 5-7% target that should highlight the strength of management's ability to earn close to the allowed ROE in all jurisdictions.

Reallocation of capital to different jurisdictions could potentially add $0.15 to our estimates. Our base case assumes EXC is successful later this year at getting 2025 ComEd rates reset off of a 2023 Y/E rate base which compares to the recent decision of 2025 rates based off of a 2022 rate base. Our forecast estimates $3.4B of lower IL spending by 2026 and doesn't assume the company is able to increase reliability spending in PECO (PA, where we anticipate a rate case in mid-2024), or any other regulatory jurisdiction that EXC operates in.

The balance sheet is fine. As a result of EXC being a wires-only utility and its regulatory diversity from operating in multiple states, Moody's currently has a downgrade threshold for FFO/debt of 12%. Compared to other utilities this is low. We see most Baa2 utilities with a 14% threshold, but believe EXC should continue to be above this threshold. EXC continues to target a 13-14% FFO/debt target, and we view that as supporting our average P/E valuation.

Why now? We view the February 21 4Q23 earnings call as a clearing event, and we believe the current valuation of a 6% P/E discount on our very conservative base case will not last for long.

When we break out each jurisdiction we see an average multiple. We broke out 2026 earnings based on EXC's jurisdictions and applied premium and discounts for each regulatory environment. While we view ComEd distribution as a large discount (15%) we see it offset by the balanced support that exists with FERC and Pennsylvania regulation.

Exelon Valuation

Base Case

Our price $39.00 target is derived as follows:

We value the regulated electric distribution and transmission 2026 earnings of $2.75 using a P/E multiple of 15.4 times, a 7% premium to our electric group average multiple, resulting in a price target of $42.50.

We value the regulated gas distribution 2026 earnings of $0.43 using a P/E multiple of 14.7 times, a 7% premium to our gas group average multiple, resulting in a price target of $6.50.

Adjusting for unallocated debt reduces the PT by $10.00.

Consistent with our methodology our price targets are dynamic changing with the group average P/E multiples and EV/EBITDA multiples recalculated on a daily basis.

Bull Case: In our bull case we forecast the company is able to redeploy all $3.6B of capital by 2026 which would increase earnings by $0.16 and add $2.00 to our $39 PT.

Bear Case: For our bear case, our PT could be reduced if ComEd is unable to get the state regulators to approve the utility's 2023 rate base of ~$15.9B. Current electric rates are based on 2022 rate base ($13.9B) and ComEd has to file later this year for a modification in rate base. If this medication is denied we could see a $0.10 reduction in our 2026 EPS estimates and a subsequent $1.50 reduction in our $39 PT.

Risks: Regulatory outcomes, general economic conditions, changes in state and/or Federal regulation, weather, ongoing business operational risk, broader macroeconomic conditions, and interest rate movements are among the key risks to our rating and expected stock performance.

Company Models

In the page that follows, we highlight our detailed consolidated financial model, including both historical and projections for income statement, cash flow and balance sheet for Exelon Corporation from 2020A to 2026E. To derive the consolidated results, we modeled full financials for each operating subsidiary. Clients who would like the full models may obtain them through their MSUSA representative or by direct request to the authors.

Price Target Calculation and Key Risks

Price Target Calculations: Using a sum of the parts analysis on 2026 results we derive a price target of $39.00 per share. Our price target is derived as follows:

(1) Regulated electric distribution and transmission: we derive a PT of $42.50, applying a 7% premium (15.4x) to the electric utility group average P/E multiple;

(2) Regulated Gas Distribution: we derive a PT of $6.50, applying a 7% P/E premium (14.7x) to the gas utility group average multiple;

(3) Adjusting for unallocated debt reduces the PT by $10.00.

Consistent with our methodology our price targets are dynamic changing with the group average P/E multiples and EV/EBITDA multiples recalculated on a daily basis.

Key Risks: Regulatory outcomes, general economic conditions, changes in state and/or Federal regulation, weather, ongoing business operational risk, broader macroeconomic conditions, and interest rate movements are among the key risks to our rating and expected stock performance.

Companies Mentioned (prices as of 1/9/2024)
Ameren Corporation (AEE- Neutral $74.02)
WEC Energy Group (WEC- Buy $85.33)

Heads Up — The Week Ahead in Utilities: ES, POR, EXC, OTTR, DUK, XEL, PEG, CNP, WEC

Sophie Karp / (917) 368-2361 / sophie.karp@key.com
Madison Lehan / (917) 368-2293 / madison.lehan@key.com

This week, we are tracking proceedings in ES's Aquarion rate case appeal; POR's IRP and CEP docket; and EXC's electric rate case in DC. In other news, the MN PUC extends the schedule in OTTR's MN IRP to allow further analysis on the Coyote AME resource proposal; DUK files an electric rate case with the SC PSC; XEL seeks an $8.5M revenue increase in ND; XEL files a Natural Gas Innovation Plan with the MN PUC; PEG raises its five-year capital plan and extends its long-term growth outlook; the MN governor appoints a replacement commissioner to the PUC; FERC approves a one-year delay to ISO NE forward capacity auction 19; and the U.S. Court of Appeals denies a reconsideration on the Berkley gas ban.

ICYMI

We published our 2024 Outlooks for Utilities and Alternative Energy. Access our reports here: Keep the Momentum Going and Failure to Launch.

What to Watch For in the Near Term

We anticipate several regulatory filings and material announcements that can occur and move shares in the near term. Those include:

ES — Expect a deal announcement for Revolution and Sunrise offshore wind projects: With no announcement before the end of 2023, we expect the Company to announce a sale for these two projects in the near term. Southfork and Revolution (and Sunrise) are a 50/50 partnership between ES and Orsted, with ES in the process of divesting its 50% interest in its offshore wind project. ES is engaged in discussions with a potential buyer. Once Orsted and the buyer reach an agreement, ES will be able to announce the sale and related terms.

PNW — ALJ to file a ROO might come in early 2024: We expect the ALJ to issue a Recommended Opinion and Order in the near term (late-2023/early-2024). APS updated its request to a $376M net revenue increase in initial briefs, down from $460M in its original request, while maintaining the 10.25% ROE and 51.93% equity layer. In reply briefs, Staff supported the system reliability benefit (SRB) mechanism as modified in PNW's initial briefs, as long as Staff is involved earlier in the process and can review all projects during future rate case proceedings. PNW addressed several concerns in the SRB in its initial brief filing after spending more time discussing the idea with intervenors and stakeholders. The SRB proposes to track capital and derisk some projects that need to reliably serve load while reducing the number of rate cases PNW files and the regulatory lag. Staff also supported the continuation of the fixed-cost recovery mechanism and maintained its 9.68% ROE recommendation. As a reminder, new rates are expected to go into effect the first of the month following an ACC order, likely at some point in 1Q24.

D — Conclusion of strategic review by early 2024: D expects to complete the strategic review by early 2024, and does not expect further slippage to that timeline. Following the conclusion of the review, D plans to hold an investor day, when it will provide 2025 earnings and long-term guidance. D has continued to make significant progress on its strategic review, which has already resulted in the Cove Point and gas utilities sales. We note that SB 1477 was not implemented into VA law when D first announced the strategic review, and therefore the review has been extended to allow time for D to determine the proper path forward regarding the decision to include an equity partner into CVOW.

Regulatory Calendar

ES — Hearings in the Aquarion rate case appeal are set to begin on January 11: ES filed the appeal with the superior court after PURA authorized a $2M revenue decrease, premised on an 8.7% ROE and 50.35% equity. The order compared to ES's three-year rate request for a ~$27.5M rate increase in RY1, ~$13.6M in RY2, and ~$8.8M in RY3. ES's request was based on a 10.35% ROE, 53.06% equity, $1.05B RB, and a 2021 test year. ES obtained a stay from the superior court on the PURA decision and must place any collected revenue above the amount authorized in the PURA order in an escrow account until a final ruling is received from the court.

POR — Comments on the Staff's report in POR's Clean Energy Plan and IRP are due on January 12: In its final report, Staff recommended the PUC acknowledge POR's IRP, with modifications, but decline to acknowledge the Clean Energy Plan. Staff advises POR to revise and resubmit its CEP before its 2025 IRP to incorporate its hourly emissions analysis results into the preferred portfolio. Staff could not verify whether the preferred portfolio would meet the 80% emissions target reduction by 2030. Regarding the IRP, Staff recommended several modifications, including pursuing a broader range of CBRE procurement actions and requiring POR to file a proposal for a long lead time resource RFI before issuing its next RFP. POR updated its CEP during its latest comments to address the concerns of Staff and other intervenors. The Preferred Portfolio emphasizes wind resources, including 1,111 MW added by 2028. Solar + storage would begin coming online in 2029. POR would issue RFPs to add ~750 MW of energy capacity through 2028 and RFPs to meet forecasted 805 MW of summer capacity and 787 MW of winter capacity by 2028. POR would also supplement the resources with energy efficiency (182 MW), distributed resources (211 MW), and community-based renewable energy (110 MW). This is POR's first CEP/IRP filing since the enactment of HB 2021. An acknowledgement meeting is schedule for January 25.

EXC — Intervenor testimony in PEPCo's DC electric rate case is due on January 12: EXC made a compliance filing to reflect a traditional test year, supporting a $108M revenue increase, using an adjusted 12-month period ending December 31, 2023. EXC was required to make the compliance filing to enable the PSC to analyze the multiyear plan filing relative to a traditional rate case while also considering authorizing a traditional one-year rate case. As a reminder, PEPCO filed a three-year electric rate case with the DC PSC seeking a cumulative $191M revenue increase ($116M in RY1, $37M in RY2, and $37M in RY3). New rates would go into effect on February 15, 2024, with the step-ups effective January 1, 2025 and 2026, respectively. The rate increase request is premised on a 10.5% ROE and 50.5% equity layer.

Recent Developments for Companies Under Our Coverage

From our midweek: AGR announces the termination of the PNM merger agreement; the CT PURA denies an interim rate increase in AGR's UIL electric rate case appeal; NWE effectuates the second part of its holding company reorganization; Vineyard Wind delivers its first power to the New England grid; and CMS produces energy at the Heartland Farms wind project.

OTTR — MN PUC extends schedule in OTTR's MN IRP to allow further analysis on AME proposal: Following hearings on OTTR's MN IRP, the PUC extended the procedural schedule to allow parties to conduct additional analysis on the recently filed bifurcated plan. Comments will likely be due mid-April, followed by reply comments, and a hearing will be scheduled shortly after that. The extended time will allow the Clean Energy Organizations and PUC Staff to complete additional modeling on the Available Maximum Energy (AME) resource proposal for the 429 MW Coyote Generating Station. The parties will also continue discussions intending to settle specific items of the IRP. OTTR filed the supplemental IRP with the MN PUC that bifurcated its planning from the ND and SD resource planning filings due to a lack of inter-jurisdictional consensus on aspects of the plan. OTTR proposed designating Coyote as an AME resource in MN beginning in 2029 that would only be called on during maximum generation events. The AME designation would allow OTTR to meet its MN clean energy standards while maintaining ND and SD requirements. The bifurcated plan also includes onsite LNG fuel storage at Astoria Station in 2026, 200 MW of solar in 2025, 100 MW of wind in 2026, 50 MW of wind in 2032, and repowering four of its existing wind facilities in 2025.

DUK — DUK files electric rate case with the SC PSC: DUK filed an electric rate case (Docket: 2023-388-E) with the SC PSC, requesting an annual $323M revenue increase beginning August 1, 2024. DUK proposed accelerating deferred tax benefits to lower the net annual increase to $239M. The filing is DEC's first SC rate case since 2018, where the PSC authorized a $107M revenue increase. The PSC also approved a 9.5% ROE, 53% equity, and a 5,625M rate base. This compared to the Company's initial request for a $231M revenue increase and a 10.5% ROE.

XEL — XEL seeks $8.5M revenue increase in ND: XEL filed a rate case (Docket: 23-367) with the ND PSC, requesting an ~$8.5M revenue increase, premised on a 10.2% ROE, 52.5% equity layer, and $168M rate base at the end of 2024. XEL also requested authority to implement a $7.9M interim rate increase effective March 1, 2024. The main drivers of the required increase are capital investments in its gas distribution system, peaker plants, and general and intangible items. Typically, the ND PSC issues a final order in seven months, implying a final decision by August. However, recent rate cases in ND have extended longer than the seven-month timeline. In its last ND rate case, XEL reached a settlement for a $6.3M revenue increase premised on a 9.8% ROE and 52.54% equity.

XEL — XEL files Natural Gas Innovation Plan: XEL filed its first Natural Gas Innovation Plan (Docket: 23-218) with the MN PUC. The Plan proposes 12 pilot projects and nine R&D programs to operate over five years. The pilots deploy innovative resources, including RNG, power-to-hydrogen, carbon capture, district energy, energy efficiency, and strategic electrification. XEL expects the pilots to cost ~$54M over five years and to reduce GHG emissions by 0.8 tons over the lifetime of the projects. The plan follows the Natural Gas Innovation Act, passed in MN in 2021, which establishes a regulatory framework to enable MN gas utilities to provide customers access to renewable energy resources and innovative technologies. The goal is to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and advance the state's clean energy future. A PUC decision is expected around mid-2024, with the plan going into effect in July 2024.

PEG — PEG raises its five-year capital plan and extends its long-term growth outlook: PEG issued its 2024-2028 capital plan, which calls for regulated investment of $18B-$21B. The refreshed plan compares to the Company's 2023-2027 plan of $16B-$18.5B. The increase reflects clean energy, electric reliability, electrification needs, and the inclusion of a competitively bid transmission project.

PEG expects to invest $19B-$22.5B across its entire business. PEG will not need to issue any equity to fund its plan. Additionally, PEG rolled forward its long-term 5-7% growth rate for the 2024-2028 period.

CNP, OTTR, WEC, XEL — MN governor appoints commissioner to the PUC: Minnesota Governor Tim Walz appointed Hwikwon Ham to replace former commissioner Matthew Schuerger. Schuerger was serving his second term at the PUC before he announced that he would resign at the end of 2023. Ham will serve the remainder of Schuerger's term through January 2028. The MN PUC comprises five members and may have up to three members from the same political party; Ham identifies as an independent. The primary proceedings we are tracking in MN include CNP and XEL's natural gas rate cases and OTTR's IRP.

FERC approves one-year delay to ISO NE forward capacity auction 19: FERC issued an order approving ISO-NE's request to delay the Forward Capacity Auction 19 by one year. The auction will now begin in February 2026 but will continue to procure supplies for the 2028-2029 delivery year. ISO-NE requested the delay to allow time to overhaul its capacity accreditation methodology to account for the new capacity resources in the region that are expected by 2029. ISO-NE expects the mix to comprise mostly battery storage, solar, and offshore wind. ISO-NE expects to conduct the Forward Capacity Auction 18 on February 5, 2024. FCA 18 will cover the 2027–2028 delivery year.

U.S. Court of Appeals denies reconsideration of Berkley gas ban: The U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit denied the city of Berkeley's request to reconsider its decision on natural gas hookups in new construction. The Appeals Court previously ruled that the federal Energy Policy and Conservation Act (EPCA) regulates EE and use of consumer products, and the ban placed by Berkeley on the use of natural gas violates the federal statute. The City of Berkley's only option following denial of rehearing would be to ask the U.S. Supreme Court to hear it.

ComEd Rate Case Outcome Clouds Long-Term Growth Rate

We downgrade shares of Exelon to Neutral from Buy given: 1) Lower expected earnings power for '24-'27E; 2) The actions taken by the Illinois Commerce Commission signal a material degradation of the regulatory environment, in our view. This results in us placing EXC in the 4th quartile for regulatory risk vs. 3rd previously; 3) The timeline for the grid plan re-filing will likely take all of 2024 before investors get a clear sense of the amount of capex and corresponding growth trajectory of ComEd's earnings through 2027, which we think presents a material overhang on valuation.

Earnings Outlook Lower; We Now See 6.1%EPS CAGR '23-'27E, down from 7.8%

Our revised '24-'27E EPS outlook is now $2.45/$2.64/$2.80/$3.00 vs. our prior forecast of $2.54/$2.77/$2.96/$3.19. This reflects a flat rate base at YE'22 actuals for the distribution segment of ComEd through 2027. The earnings outlook could be helped by 4-5c with the update to actual 2023 rate base vs. 2022 (+$950mm), which will happen with a filing in April and a decision likely in November. The re-filing of the grid plan could restore a large portion of the capex and rate base growth that EXC's original plan called for, but we believe clarity is likely 12 months away. EXC's stated EPS growth rate has been 6-8% through 2026, but per the 8k from 12/18/23, the company is evaluating the impact of this order and will provide an update on the Q4 call in February. We now see EPS growth at the low end of the range.

What's Next? Appeals, Possible Legal Challenges and Grid Re-Filing

EXC's ComEd filed a request for re-hearing on 12/22/23 focusing on: 1) the ROE determination process being inconsistent with precedent; 2) EXC believes the authorized capital structure should reflect the actual capital structure under the CEJA law; 3) the company believes it should be allowed a debt return on the pension assets, as has been the practice for 20 years. The ICC has 20 days to respond, after which EXC could potentially pursue a legal path. The order by the commission requires a re-filing of the grid plan by March 14th, which is separate from the appeal process. The hearings on this re-filing are likely to take the rest of 2024 or into 2025 to be resolved, in our view. Parties may also seek a legislative solution this spring in IL.

Valuation: Lowering Target Price to $37 From $47

Our new PT reflects a 6% discount to the avg P/E or 14.0x our new '25E EPS of $2.64. The 6% discount reflects a 5% premium for undervaluation vs. the market, -4 % for 4th quartile EPS growth (down from +2%), -9% for 4th quartile regulation (down from -3%), +5% for energy transition premium and -3% for pricing power discount.

UBS Research THESIS MAP a guide to our thinking and what's where in this report

PIVOTAL QUESTIONS

Q: What is the longer term earnings power?
The company will address '24 earnings and the longer term outlook on the February '24 call. However, the longer term capital expenditure outlook at ComEd won't be known until late in '24. Our revised outlook reflects a ~6% EPS CAGR through 2027E (down from close to 8%), which we believe means management is likely to guide to the low end of the 6-8% EPS guidance range, lower the range, or remove it until they have better clarity in Illinois.

Q: How should Illinois be viewed as a regulatory jurisdiction?
We now see Illinois as a Tier 4 regulatory jurisdiction, down from Tier 2, placing it in the lowest quartile. The ICC decision to reject the grid filing on 12/14/23 was a meaningful departure from any of the intervenor positions in the case, and the authorized ROE of 8.905% for EXC and 8.72% for AEE are the lowest levels we've seen all year from any state commission.

Q: What offsets can Exelon employ to mitigate the impact of the IL decision?
We believe the company may reduce the capital expenditure profile at ComEd and look to redeploy capital elsewhere. It will also likely consider O&M reductions. We believe the message needs to be sent to policy makers that these type of regulatory actions have consequences regarding where and how both companies and investors allocate capital.

UBS VIEW

We downgrade EXC to Neutral from Buy as our prior thesis was predicated on a reasonable outcome in the Illinois rate case, clearing the way for multiple years of of regulatory certainty and the company's ability to then grow earnings at close to 8.0%. This thesis is no longer intact given the uncertainty around earnings growth and elongated timeline for final resolution created by the regulatory actions in IL.

EVIDENCE

The ICC's regulatory decision granted a very low ROE and rejected EXC's multi-year grid plan that had been developed over a two year stakeholder process. This outcome calls into question the views regulators and policy makers may hold on the role of utilities under the Climate and Equitable Jobs Act (CEJA) that created the multi-year grid plan framework. This decision has created tremendous uncertainty and drove the stock to underperform peers by ~875bps. See our note from when the order was issued here.

WHAT'S PRICED IN?

The stock is trading at 9% discount on our new 2025E EPS of $2.64, pricing in modest discount for an EPS growth range of ~5-6% and a ~7% discount for regulatory uncertainty.

PIVOTAL QUESTIONS

Q: What is the long-term earnings power for EXC?

UBS VIEW

The company will address '24 earnings and the longer term outlook on the February '24 call. However, the longer term capital expenditure outlook at ComEd won't be known until late in '24. Our revised outlook reflects a ~6% EPS CAGR through 2027E (down from close to 8%), which we believe means management is likely to guide to the low end of the 6-8% EPS guidance range, lower the range, or remove it until they have better clarity in Illinois.

The ComEd distribution rate base is roughly 27% of the total rate base for Exelon. We believe the company will likely pursue allocating capital to other jurisdictions in an effort to mitigate the impact to the overall growth trajectory. The company received a reasonable outcome in its BG&E rate case on 12/14/23, being awarded an ROE of 9.5% for electric and 9.45% for gas (vs. 9.5%/9.65% previously) and 68% of the revenue increase it sought or $408mm. We expect the company to highlight this outcome and investment opportunities including ~$1.6bn of FERC transmission projects it has recently secured from PJM within the BG&E footprint that are outside of the current capital plan.

We believe there will now be increased focus and investor attention on the PECO rate case filing in Pennsylvania next year. The PECO earned returns have historically been quite strong and the relative importance of that case has now increased given the outcome in Illinois. We view Pennsylvania regulation favorably and assign a Tier 1 ranking, but we believe all regulatory processes are being increasingly scrutinized by investors at this point.

EVIDENCE

The ICC's regulatory decision granted a very low ROE and rejected EXC's multi-year grid plan that had been developed over a two year stakeholder process. This outcome calls into question the views regulators and policy makers may hold on the role of utilities under the Climate and Equitable Jobs Act (CEJA) that created the multi-year grid plan framework. This created tremendous uncertainty and drove the stock to underperform peers by 875bps.

WHAT´S PRICED IN?

The stock is trading at 9% discount on our new 2025E EPS of $2.64, pricing in modest discount for an EPS growth range of ~5-6% and a ~7% discount for regulatory uncertainty.

The regulatory outcome in Illinois seemed very disappointing for investors. The multi-year grid plan EXC had put forth was done in accordance with the Climate and Equitable Jobs Act of 2021, which was designed to transition the state's electric utilities from the formula rate plans they had operated under for over a decade. This was a multi-year process with numerous stakeholders, which made it more surprising when the ICC decided to reject the plan outright. It remains unclear what drove this outcome and whether Exelon's prior legal issues played a role (see note here: Agreement Reached with DOJ).

Risk to the current share price is skewed 1.3:1 to the upside

UPSIDE ($42): Our upside case reflects the grid re-filing restoring the bulk of the ComEd capex and pushes earnings growth up to ~7%, warranting a +2.0% EPS growth premium. The regulatory discount improves to -3% while the energy transition premium of +5% and pricing power discount of -3% are maintained. After including the +5% for sector undervaluation vs. the market, the total premium is +6% on '25 upside earnings of $2.70.

BASE ($37): Our base case reflects a 6% discount to the avg P/E or 14.0x our new '25E EPS of $2.64. The 6% discount reflects a 5% premium for undervaluation vs. the market, -4 % for 4th quartile EPS growth (down from +2%), -9% for 4th quartile regulation (down from -3%), +5% for energy transition premium and -3% for pricing power discount.

DOWNSIDE ($31): Our downside case reflects no additional improvement in the grid re-filing and roughly flat earnings growth through 2025. We remove the 5% energy transition premium for a total discount of 11%.

Company Description

Exelon owns six regulated utility subsidiaries: Atlantic City Electric, BGE, ComEd, Delmarva Power, PECO and the Pepco Subsidiaries, which deliver electricity and natural gas to about 10m customers in Delaware, Washington DC, Illinois, Maryland, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania.

Valuation Method and Risk Statement

Our valuation methodology for the group is price to earnings based. The adjustments applied fall into 5 categories. These are as follows: 1) Group Valuation Bias: Flowing from our valuation work comparing Baa corporate yields to group dividend yields and RU price to earnings ratios to those for the S&P 500, we incorporate a positive or negative adjustment to our group multiple representing the gap we calculate to the nearest 5%; 2) Growth Adjustment: We adjust our valuations based on the growth quartile each utility occupies. First quartile receives a 5% premium, second quartile a 2% premium, third quartile a 2% discount and fourth quartile a 5% discount; 3) Regulatory Adjustment: Our valuation adjustments for regulation are based on our proprietary Regulatory Rankings. First quartile jurisdictions receive 5%, second quartile 2%, third quartile -2% and fourth quartile -5%; 5) Multi Utility Diversified Valuation: For multi utilities (those with more than 15% diversified or foreign earnings), we perform a sum-of-parts analysis applying business/region appropriate valuations to those diversified businesses; 6) One-off Adjustments: In special situations, we value risk on an issue specific basis. Common areas where we apply such an adjustment include: ESG advantage, large project construction risk, legal risk, and announced M&A completion risk.

Our new PT of $37 reflects a 6% discount to the avg P/E or 14.0x our new '25 EPS of $2.64. The 6% discount reflects a 5% premium for undervaluation vs. the market, -4 % for 4th quartile EPS growth (down from +2%) -9% for 4th quartile regulation (down from -3%), +5% for energy transition premium and -3% for pricing power discount. Specific risks for Exelon include regulatory risks at the utilities, weather, and interest rates.

Specific upside and downside risks for Exelon include regulatory risks at the utilities, weather, and interest rates.

KEY DEFINITIONS: Forecast Stock Return (FSR) is defined as expected percentage price appreciation plus gross dividend yield over the next 12 months. In some cases, this yield may be based on accrued dividends. Market Return Assumption (MRA) is defined as the one-year local market interest rate plus 5% (a proxy for, and not a forecast of, the equity risk premium). Under Review (UR) Stocks may be flagged as UR by the analyst, indicating that the stock's price target and/or rating are subject to possible change in the near term, usually in response to an event that may affect the investment case or valuation. Short-Term Ratings reflect the expected near-term (up to three months) performance of the stock and do not reflect any change in the fundamental view or investment case. Equity Price Targets have an investment horizon of 12 months.

EXCEPTIONS AND SPECIAL CASES: UK and European Investment Fund ratings and definitions are: Buy: Positive on factors such as structure, management, performance record, discount; Neutral: Neutral on factors such as structure, management, performance record, discount; Sell: Negative on factors such as structure, management, performance record, discount. Core Banding Exceptions (CBE): Exceptions to the standard +/-6% bands may be granted by the Investment Review Committee (IRC). Factors considered by the IRC include the stock's volatility and the credit spread of the respective company's debt. As a result, stocks deemed to be very high or low risk may be subject to higher or lower bands as they relate to the rating. When such exceptions apply, they will be identified in the Company Disclosures table in the relevant research piece.

This document is a general communication and is educational in nature; it is not an advertisement nor is it a solicitation or an offer to buy or sell any financial instruments or to participate in any particular trading strategy. Nothing in this document constitutes a representation that any investment strategy or recommendation is suitable or appropriate to an investor's individual circumstances or otherwise constitutes a personal recommendation. By providing this document, none of UBS or its representatives has any responsibility or authority to provide or have provided investment advice in a fiduciary capacity or otherwise. Investments involve risks, and investors should exercise prudence and their own judgment in making their investment decisions. None of UBS or its representatives is suggesting that the recipient or any other person take a specific course of action or any action at all. The recipient should carefully read this document in its entirety and not draw inferences or conclusions from the rating alone. By receiving this document, the recipient acknowledges and agrees with the intended purpose described above and further disclaims any expectation or belief that the information constitutes investment advice to the recipient or otherwise purports to meet the investment objectives of the recipient. The financial instruments described in the document may not be eligible for sale in all jurisdictions or to certain categories of investors.

Options, structured derivative products and futures (including OTC derivatives) are not suitable for all investors. Trading in these instruments is considered risky and may be appropriate only for sophisticated investors. Prior to buying or selling an option, and for the complete risks relating to options, you must receive a copy of "The Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options." You may read the document at https://www.theocc.com/publications/risks/riskchap1.jsp or ask your salesperson for a copy. Various theoretical explanations of the risks associated with these instruments have been published. Supporting documentation for any claims, comparisons, recommendations, statistics or other technical data will be supplied upon request. Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future results. Transaction costs may be significant in option strategies calling for multiple purchases and sales of options, such as spreads and straddles. Because of the importance of tax considerations to many options transactions, the investor considering options should consult with his/her tax advisor as to how taxes affect the outcome of contemplated options transactions.

Mortgage and asset-backed securities may involve a high degree of risk and may be highly volatile in response to fluctuations in interest rates or other market conditions. Foreign currency rates of exchange may adversely affect the value, price or income of any security or related instrument referred to in the document. For investment advice, trade execution or other enquiries, clients should contact their local sales representative.

The value of any investment or income may go down as well as up, and investors may not get back the full (or any) amount invested. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Neither UBS nor any of its directors, employees or agents accepts any liability for any loss (including investment loss) or damage arising out of the use of all or any of the Information.

Prior to making any investment or financial decisions, any recipient of this document or the information should take steps to understand the risk and return of the investment and seek individualized advice from his or her personal financial, legal, tax and other professional advisors that takes into account all the particular facts and circumstances of his or her investment objectives.

Any prices stated in this document are for information purposes only and do not represent valuations for individual securities or other financial instruments. There is no representation that any transaction can or could have been effected at those prices, and any prices do not necessarily reflect UBS's internal books and records or theoretical model-based valuations and may be based on certain assumptions. Different assumptions by UBS or any other source may yield substantially different results.

Risk information:

You agree that you shall not copy, revise, amend, create a derivative work, provide to any third party, or in any way commercially exploit any UBS research, and that you shall not extract data from any research or estimates, without the prior written consent of UBS.

This document is for distribution only as may be permitted by law. It is not directed to, or intended for distribution to or use by, any person or entity who is a citizen or resident of or located in any locality, state, country or other jurisdiction where such distribution, publication, availability or use would be contrary to law or regulation or would subject UBS to any registration or licensing requirement within such jurisdiction.

This document is for your information only; it is not an advertisement nor is it a solicitation or an offer to buy or sell any financial instruments or to participate in any particular trading strategy. Nothing in this document constitutes a representation that any investment strategy or recommendation is suitable or appropriate to an investor's individual circumstances or otherwise constitutes a personal recommendation. By providing this document, none of UBS or its representatives has any responsibility or authority to provide or have provided investment advice in a fiduciary capacity or otherwise. Investments involve risks, and investors should exercise prudence and their own judgment in making their investment decisions. None of UBS or its representatives is suggesting that the recipient or any other person take a specific course of action or any action at all. By receiving this document, the recipient acknowledges and agrees with the intended purpose described above and further disclaims any expectation or belief that the information constitutes investment advice to the recipient or otherwise purports to meet the investment objectives of the recipient. The financial instruments described in the document may not be eligible for sale in all jurisdictions or to certain categories of investors.

Options, derivative products and futures are not suitable for all investors, and trading in these instruments is considered risky. Mortgage and asset-backed securities may involve a high degree of risk and may be highly volatile in response to fluctuations in interest rates or other market conditions. Foreign currency rates of exchange may adversely affect the value, price or income of any security or related instrument referred to in the document. For investment advice, trade execution or other enquiries, clients should contact their local sales representative.

The value of any investment or income may go down as well as up, and investors may not get back the full (or any) amount invested. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Neither UBS nor any of its directors, employees or agents accepts any liability for any loss (including investment loss) or damage arising out of the use of all or any of the information (as defined below).

Prior to making any investment or financial decisions, any recipient of this document or the information should take steps to understand the risk and return of the investment and seek individualized advice from his or her personal financial, legal, tax and other professional advisors that takes into account all the particular facts and circumstances of his or her investment objectives.

Any prices stated in this document are for information purposes only and do not represent valuations for individual securities or other financial instruments. There is no representation that any transaction can or could have been effected at those prices, and any prices do not necessarily reflect UBS's internal books and records or theoretical model-based valuations and may be based on certain assumptions. Different assumptions by UBS or any other source may yield substantially different results.

No representation or warranty, either expressed or implied, is provided in relation to the accuracy, completeness or reliability of the information contained in any materials to which this document relates (the "Information"), except with respect to Information concerning UBS. The Information is not intended to be a complete statement or summary of the securities, markets or developments referred to in the document. publicly or through a subscription service, and such use and interpretation have not been reviewed by the third party. In no circumstances may this document or any of the Information (including any forecast, value, index or other calculated amount ("Values")) be used for any of the following purposes: (i) valuation or accounting purposes; (ii) to determine the amounts due or payable, the price or the value of any financial instrument or financial contract; or (iii) to measure the performance of any financial instrument including, without limitation, for the purpose of tracking the return or performance of any Value or of defining the asset allocation of portfolio or of computing performance fees.

By receiving this document and the Information you will be deemed to represent and warrant to UBS that you will not use this document or any of the Information for any of the above purposes or otherwise rely upon this document or any of the Information.

UBS has policies and procedures, which include, without limitation, independence policies and permanent information barriers, that are intended, and upon which UBS relies, to manage potential conflicts of interest and control the flow of information within divisions of UBS (including between Global Wealth Management and UBS Global Research) and among its subsidiaries, branches and affiliates. For further information on the ways in which UBS manages conflicts and maintains independence of its research products, historical performance information and certain additional disclosures concerning UBS research recommendations, please visit https://www.ubs.com/research-methodology.

Research will initiate, update and cease coverage solely at the discretion of research management, which will also have sole discretion on the timing and frequency of any published research product. The analysis contained in this document is based on numerous assumptions. Different assumptions could result in materially different results.

The analyst(s) responsible for the preparation of this document may interact with trading desk personnel, sales personnel and other parties for the purpose of gathering, applying and interpreting market information. UBS relies on information barriers to control the flow of information contained in one or more areas within UBS into other areas, units, groups or affiliates of UBS. The compensation of the analyst who prepared this document is determined exclusively by research management and senior management (not including investment banking). Analyst compensation is not based on investment banking revenues; however, compensation may relate to the revenues of UBS and/or its divisions as a whole, of which investment banking, sales and trading are a part, and UBS's subsidiaries, branches and affiliates as a whole.

For financial instruments admitted to trading on an EU regulated market: UBS AG, its affiliates or subsidiaries (excluding UBS Securities LLC) acts as a market maker or liquidity provider (in accordance with the interpretation of these terms in the UK) in the financial instruments of the issuer save that where the activity of liquidity provider is carried out in accordance with the definition given to it by the laws and regulations of any other EU jurisdictions, such information is separately disclosed in this document. For financial instruments admitted to trading on a non-EU regulated market: UBS may act as a market maker save that where this activity is carried out in the US in accordance with the definition given to it by the relevant laws and regulations, such activity will be specifically disclosed in this document. UBS may have issued a warrant the value of which is based on one or more of the financial instruments referred to in the document. UBS and its affiliates and employees may have long or short positions, trade as principal and buy and sell in instruments or derivatives identified herein; such transactions or positions may be inconsistent with the opinions expressed in this document.

Options and futures are not suitable for all investors, and trading in these instruments is considered risky and may be appropriate only for sophisticated investors. Prior to buying or selling an option, and for the complete risks relating to options, you must receive a copy of "Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options". You may read the document at https://www.theocc.com/about/publications/character-risks.jsp or ask your financial advisor for a copy.

Investing in structured investments involves significant risks. For a detailed discussion of the risks involved in investing in any particular structured investment, you must read the relevant offering materials for that investment. Structured investments are unsecured obligations of a particular issuer with returns linked to the performance of an underlying asset. Depending on the terms of the investment, investors could lose all or a substantial portion of their investment based on the performance of the underlying asset. Investors could also lose their entire investment if the issuer becomes insolvent. UBS does not guarantee in any way the obligations or the financial condition of any issuer or the accuracy of any financial information provided by any issuer. Structured investments are not traditional investments and investing in a structured investment is not equivalent to investing directly in the underlying asset. Structured investments may have limited or no liquidity, and investors should be prepared to hold their investment to maturity. The return of structured investments may be limited by a maximum gain, participation rate or other feature. Structured investments may include call features and, if a structured investment is called early, investors would not earn any further return and may not be able to reinvest in similar investments with similar terms. Structured investments include costs and fees which are generally embedded in the price of the investment. The tax treatment of a structured investment may be complex and may differ from a direct investment in the underlying asset. UBS and its employees do not provide tax advice. Investors should consult their own tax advisor about their own tax situation before investing in any securities.

Important Information About Sustainable Investing Strategies: Sustainable investing strategies aim to consider and incorporate environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors into investment process and portfolio construction. Strategies across geographies approach ESG analysis and incorporate the findings in a variety of ways. Incorporating ESG factors or Sustainable Investing considerations may inhibit the portfolio manager's ability to participate in certain investment opportunities that otherwise would be consistent with its investment objective and other principal investment strategies. The returns on a portfolio incorporating ESG factors or Sustainable Investing considerations may be lower or higher than portfolios where ESG factors, exclusions, or other sustainability issues are not considered by the portfolio manager, and the investment opportunities available to such portfolios may differ.

Within the past 12 months UBS Switzerland AG, its affiliates or subsidiaries may have received or provided investment services and activities or ancillary services as per MiFID II which may have given rise to a payment or promise of a payment in relation to these services from or to this company.

We are hosting NJBPU President Christine Guhl-Sadovy on Friday, March 15th, please see below for details.

For details on our Kentucky Bourbon event with CNP in March, please see the Save The Date below — invite-only event.

'24 Utilities Outlook: Utility Valuations Finally "NSYNC" with Fundamentals? Buy Buy Buy… (see our note HERE)

DUK – We Get Concerns But Stock Move Seems Overdone; '24 Guide In Line; More Capex/Less Equity vs. Expected… But Quality and Credit Metrics Back in Focus (see our note HERE)

DTE – 4Q23 EPS In Line; 2023 Reset Year Closed, 2024 Puts and Takes Keep Us in the Cautiously Optimistic Stance (see our note HERE)

FE – Beats on '23; '24 guidance above consensus; reaffirms 6-8% LT EPS growth; introduces 5yr ('24-'28) capital plan with 9% average annual rate base growth

LNG – US Senate holds hearing on pause for non-FTA export permit review for LNG

DTE – MPSC issues ruling on procedural schedule in DTE gas rate case

SRE – SDG&E files reply comments on interim rates in the 2024 General Rate Case for SCG and SDG&E

PCG – FERC approves late motion to intervene for EEI in PG&E TO21 FERC formula rate adjustment proceeding

EXC/IL – ALJ files notice of continuance in rehearing process

WEC – Status hearing scheduled by ALJ in PGL's SMP proceeding

DUK – New dockets opened related to DUK's 2023 CPIRP update proceeding

FE – Beats on '23; '24 guidance above consensus; reaffirms 6-8% LT EPS growth; introduces 5yr ('24-'28) capital plan with 9% average annual rate base growth

- 2023 Operating EPS: $2.56 vs Gugg/consensus both at $2.54/$2.54; included -$0.22/share of weather drag vs. normal
- 2024 Operating EPS: guidance initiated at $2.61-$2.81 ($2.71 midpoint) vs Gugg/consensus of $2.71/$2.68, respectively; '24 guidance represents +7% growth YoY vs. '23 midpoint
- Capex: introducing $26bn 5yr investment plan covering 2024-2028; $4.3bn of capex in '24, growing to $6.2bn in '28
- Capex plan features: ~75% formula rate recovery; 55%/45% State/FERC regulated
- Rate Base: initiated 9% average annual rate base growth guidance for 2024-2028, vs ~7% in 2024/2025; 2024 rate base (ex-Brookfield) stood at $25.8bn... guiding to $41bn by '28
- Load growth: guiding to avg. annual increases of 1% through 2028
- LT EPS growth: reaffirms 6-8% operating EPS growth; beyond '25, EPS growth is driven by T&D rate base growth and cost mgmt.

- Signal Peak: clear guidance showing Signal Peak earnings declining to $0.12/share in 2024 and de minimis in 2025 and beyond
- O&M: $1.35bn in '24 (a 5% increase associated with accelerated work from 2023 to 2022); guiding to <2% avg. annual increases thereafter
- Pension: de-risked pension through December '23 lift-out transaction and May '23 contribution
- Equity: maintains no additional equity need beyond existing ~$100m/yr SIP/DRIP program
- Credit: continuing to target 14-15% FFO/debt; reduced HoldCo debt to 26% of total at YE23 vs 31% at YE21; remain focused on lowering FE Corp. Holdco debt to < 20% of total Balance Sheet debt by 12/31/26
- Ratings agencies: remain on positive outlook with Moody's & S&P
- Dividend: targeting 60-70% payout ratio
- Call: 10:00 AM ET… Dial-in: 877-269-7756 … Conf ID: 04664

LNG – US Senate holds hearing on pause for non-FTA export permit review for LNG

- Deputy U.S. Energy Secretary David Turk spoke before the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee on the White House decision to pause LNG export permit approvals
- Senator Joe Manchin called the meeting and commented that if the decision to pause is a political tool, he would work to reverse the pause.
- The pause was intended to include new rules around climate impacts in permit reviews which could delay or cancel LNG projects.
- More details here

Guggenheim takeaway: FYI. The challenges in LNG export authorizations could be a major roadblock to US LNG development including SRE projects like PA II and Cameron expansion. It is unclear what the rules will be, but we also recognize SRE has been working on a variety of plans including lowering CO2 intensity of the LNG export process. This has been a key reason why SRE shares have been weak in addition to investor concerns around a '25 EPS number that could be disappointing – on the latter point, if you have covered the stock long enough, this shouldn't be a surprise as Mgmt. historically guides conservative for the following year and "firms" up plans as CapEx (i.e., in TX) is updated at the back half of the current year. We do not believe this year will be any different.

DTE – MPSC issues ruling on procedural schedule in DTE gas rate case

- MPSC issued a ruling on a procedural schedule for the DTE Gas rate case.
- The schedule is:
  - Staff and Intervenor Testimony May 7, 2024
  - Rebuttal Testimony May 29, 2024
  - Motions to Strike June 6, 2024
  - Responses to Motions to Strike June 11, 2024
  - Briefs July 16, 2024
  - Reply Briefs July 31, 2024
  - PFD Target Date September 4, 2024
- DTE filed for a net revenue increase of $160M (net of IRM increases already in rates).
- The request is based on a $6,944M rate base a Return on Equity of 10.25%, capital structure of 48.5% debt and 51.5% equity, and application of annual inflation factors of 3.2% in 2023, 2.9% in 2024, and 2.2% in 2025.
- Docket here: U-21291

Guggenheim takeaway: FYI. MPSC has set the schedule and approved some of the last motions for intervention. MPSC has been slow to recognize the upwards impact of interest rates on ROEs with the CMS Electric case being the next datapoint (case completed evidentiary record). We continue to monitor the MI regulatory litigation as 2023 proved to be a tough year with large increase becoming hotly debated.

SRE – SDG&E files reply comments on interim rates in the 2024 General Rate Case for SCG and SDG&E

- SDG&E filed comments in support of the CPUC proposed decision on interim rates for the Wildfire Mitigation Plan Memorandum Account (WMPMA) recovery.
- SDG&E provided opposition to prior TURN and PCF comments on errors and legal standing.
- TURN addressed factual errors and consideration for securitization, and other comments were largely administrative.
- SDGE and SCG along with several intervenors previously filed the partial settlement agreements on specific issues within the 2024 GRC.
- The settled issues are generally close to SDGE/SCG requests (~30% issues covered).
- CPUC previously adjusted the filing schedules, moving other procedural items further by around 2 weeks, but the target PD date remains in 2Q24.
- Dockets: A2205015 / A2205016

Guggenheim takeaway: FYI. The interim rates demonstrate the flexibility in CPUC approach to the GRC process and demonstrates the ability to get constructive outcomes. The settlements are very piecemeal in addressing the rate cases holistically, but individual issue settlement is a constructive step to simplify the litigation going further (resolve around 30% of the GRC spending issues). While certain settlements are not unanimous they present a good foundation for resolution and SRE mgmt. has previously commented on the willingness to negotiate partially settled issues. As a reminder, SDG&E is seeking an increase in rates of $286 million for the 2024 test year and also seeking incremental, post-test year combined electric and gas rate increases of $363.2 million in 2025, $338.1 million in 2026 and $306.9 million in 2027; and SoCalGas is seeking a $767 million increase in gas rates for the 2024 test year and also seeking incremental, post-test year gas rate increases of $292 million in 2025, $267 million in 2026 and $413 million in 2027.

PCG – FERC approves late motion to intervene for EEI in PG&E TO21 FERC formula rate adjustment proceeding

- FERC approved a late motion to intervene for the Edison Electric Institute (EEI) in the PG&E transmission formula rate proceeding.
- PG&E previously filed a formula rate adjustment with FERC (TO21), which follows the TO20 outcome and includes up to date cost factors and inputs resulting in a revenue decrease.
- PG&E is seeking a 12.37% base ROE plus the RTO adder, up from 10.45%, due to above average financial and operational risks.
- FERC previously issued a decision to deny PG&E the RTO adder for CAISO participation.
- More in media coverage on the ROE debate here.
- Docket: ER24-96 (FERC Docket search)

Guggenheim takeaway: FYI. While the case is still being debated as a whole, the RTO adder removal is a potential hit to earnings and a headwind for all CA utilities. We continue to monitor progress in the PG&E case and arguments at FERC.

EXC/IL – ALJ files notice of continuance in rehearing process

Hearings will be continued until 3/26, with direct testimony on rehearing due starting 2/16

- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: Flagging some of the ongoing procedural back and forth as the rehearing and grid plan refiling processes run concurrently. As a reminder we expect the grid plan process to run for most of the year - for more on our EXC IL assumptions, see our outlook note HERE.

WEC – Status hearing scheduled by ALJ in PGL's SMP proceeding

- A status hearing has been scheduled by the ALJ in the proceeding opened by the ICC to review the Safety Modernization Program (SMP).
- The status hearing will occur on February 22, 2024, at 11:00 AM Central.
- Docket 24-0081

Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 13-Feb-2024 06:21 PM.

Guggenheim takeaway: Flagging for your calendar, as this newly opened docket gets underway.

DUK – New dockets opened related to DUK's 2023 CPIRP update proceeding

- Yesterday, the NCUC issued an order granting DUK's request to open new dockets related to its 2024 Solar Procurement Program, and to postpone the Feb. 15th deadline for filing its 2024 Solar Procurement Program proposal.
- Two new dockets will be opened in order to consider Duke's anticipated 2024 Solar Procurement Program
- The Feb. 15, 2024, deadline for the filing of DUK's 2024 Solar Procurement Program proposal has been suspended. A new date will be established in the future but has not yet been set.
- Docket E-100 Sub 190
- New dockets to be opened (links not yet available): E-2, Sub 1340 and E-7, Sub 1310

Guggenheim takeaway: Procedural/administrative in nature, and therefore not a positive/ negative driver for DUK as a result.

Attendees are advised that any information or materials discussed at the event or provided in connection therewith (the "materials") are provided for informational and educational purposes only and should not be considered a recommendation of any particular security, strategy or investment product, as investing advice of any kind, or as offering or providing any investment product or service, or as an offer or solicitation with respect to the purchase or sale of any investment by Guggenheim Securities, LLC or any of its affiliates ("Guggenheim"). The materials are not provided in an advisory or fiduciary capacity and may not be relied upon for or in connection with the making of investment decisions. The views expressed during the event and/or in the materials are solely those of the authors, participants, investment bankers and other presenters (collectively, the "Presenters") and may differ from the views of other officers, directors, employees or other representatives (as to any person or entity, its "Representatives") of Guggenheim or any other Presenter. The Presenters' opinions are subject to change without notice. Neither Guggenheim nor any other Presenter undertakes any obligation to provide additional information or any update to or correction of the information discussed or provided at the event or otherwise in connection therewith. Sources for the information discussed or contained in any materials are believed to be reliable, but the information is not guaranteed as to, and neither Guggenheim nor any other Presenter nor any of their respective Representatives make any representation or warranty regarding, accuracy or completeness of any information contained therein or otherwise. Neither Guggenheim nor any other Presenter nor any of their respective Representatives shall be liable to any person in any way whatsoever for any losses, costs or claims for reliance on the materials. Guggenheim and/or any other Presenter may have a business relationship with certain attendees and/or issuers mentioned during the event or in any materials provided, or may otherwise underwrite, hold a position, buy or sell as principal in the securities of any issuer mentioned. Guggenheim may have in the past provided, may currently be providing and may in the future seek to provide investment banking, financial advisory and other services to, and have other material relationships with, attendees and/or issuers of securities, loans and other financial instruments discussed during the event or referred to in any materials. With respect to any position Guggenheim or any Presenter may hold, Guggenheim or such Presenter may have interests different from or adverse to your interests. None of the materials provided may be reproduced or redistributed, in whole or in part, to any other person or published in whole or in part for any purpose absent the written consent of Guggenheim. By registering for and/or attending the event and/or accepting delivery of the materials, you will be deemed to acknowledge and agree to the matters set forth above. Copyright © 2024 by Guggenheim Securities, LLC, a FINRA registered broker-dealer. All rights reserved. Invitation is non-transferable.

This is a message from Guggenheim Securities, LLC to provide notice to you and your firm's compliance department that personnel from your firm are scheduled to attend the above-referenced meeting. The discussion will be general in nature and any mention of individual companies would only occur in the context of illustrating a trend or historical reference point. Our policies provide that specific companies, material non-public information and/or confidential information may not be discussed. The experts and/or speakers for this event may have material non-public information, but have agreed not to discuss such information. Further, all experts are required to review, understand our Expert Training Deck and agree to comply with its Terms and Conditions. Personnel from your firm must not seek Investor confidential information and/or material non-public information from Guggenheim Securities, LLC. Additionally, at your discretion, you may also choose not to attend the meeting.

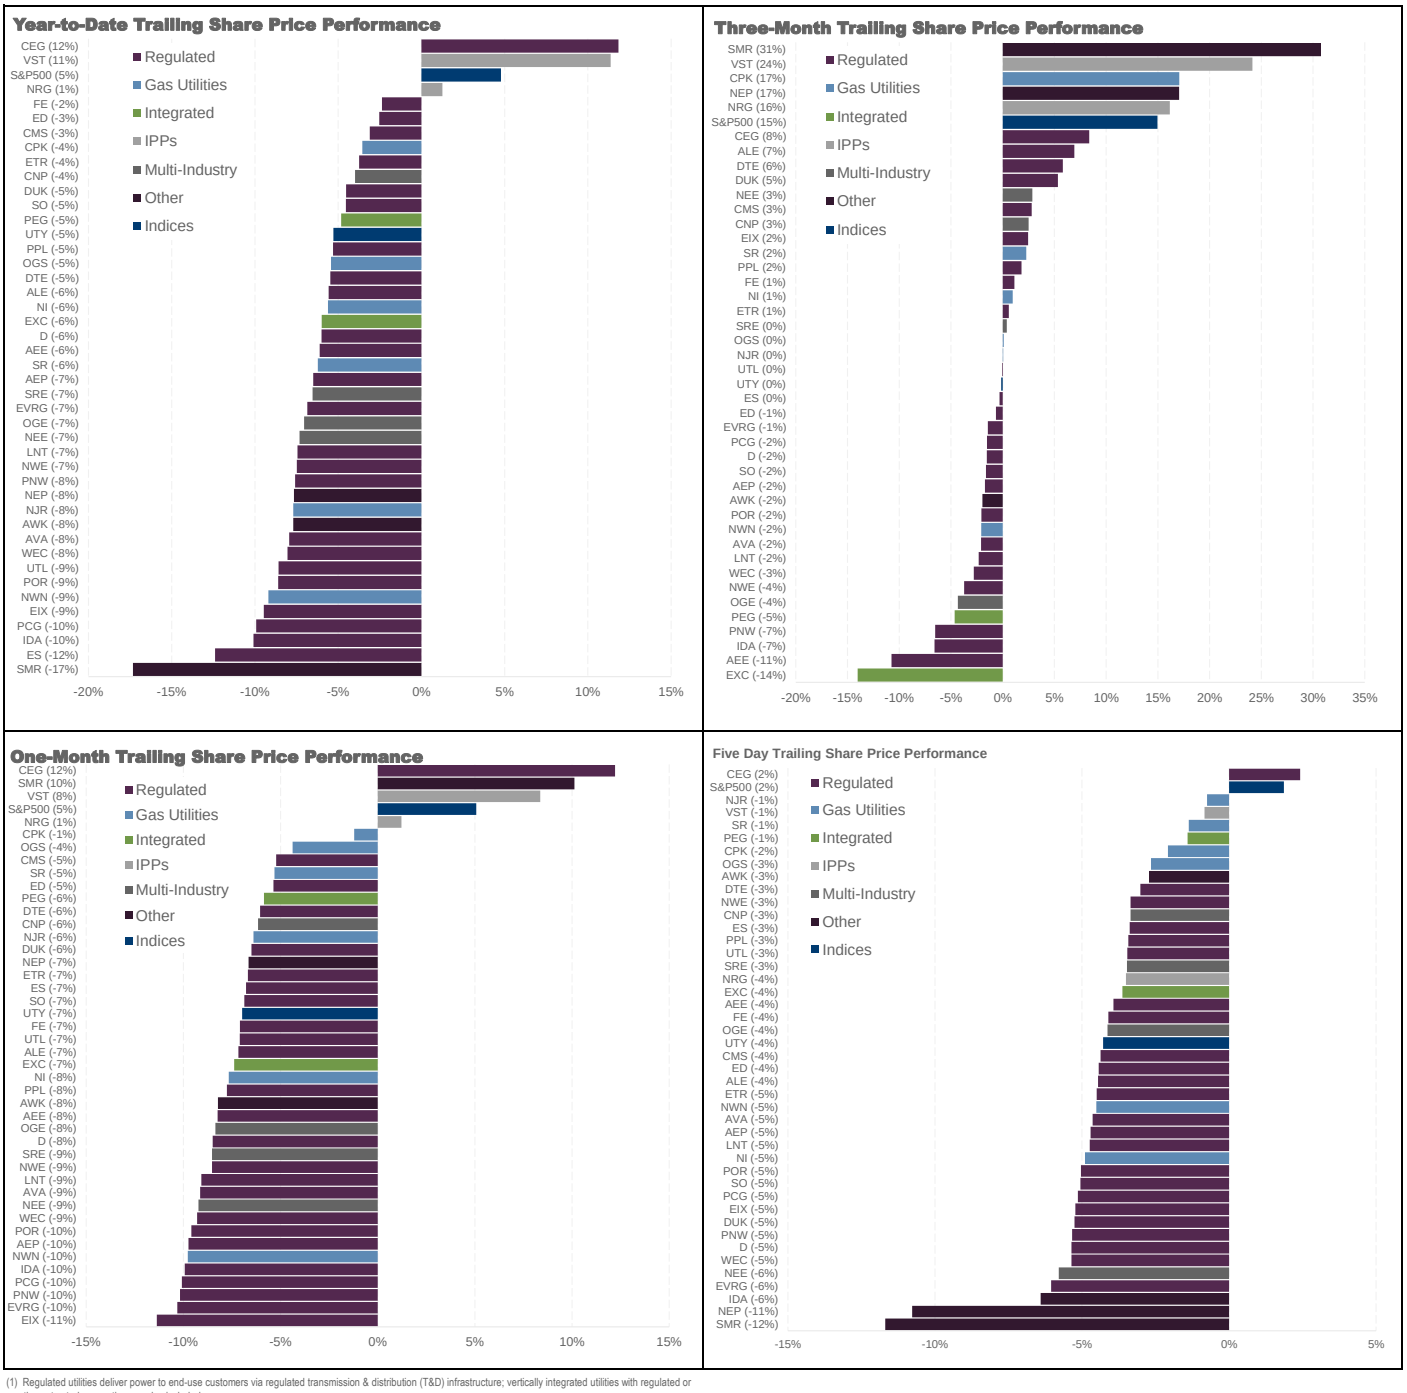
Share Price Performance (Year-to-Date, Three-Month, One-Month, & Five-Day Trailing)



(1) Regulated utilities deliver power to end-use customers via regulated transmission & distribution (T&D) infrastructure; vertically integrated utilities with regulated or mostly contracted generation are also included.

(2) Local Gas Distribution Companies (LDCs), as well as diversified utilities with a business mix largely comprised of gas infrastructure and related activities (i.e., LDC franchises, interstate pipelines, and/or other gas midstream activities).

(3) Integrated utilities own and operate regulated T&D franchises, as well as un-regulated power generation with commodity exposure.

(4) IPPs operate merchant (i.e., un-regulated, non-utility) power plants that compete to sell power in wholesale markets or through retail marketing businesses.

Energy: Electric Utilities

Midweek Thoughts — FE, ES, XEL, POR, CMS, EXC

Sophie Karp / (917) 368-2361 / sophie.karp@key.com
Michael Pelletier / (917) 368-2306 / michael.pelletier@key.com
Madison Lehan / (917) 368-2293 / madison.lehan@key.com

DTE, DUK, and FE are scheduled to report later this week. In other news, FE agrees to an $85M revenue increase in JCP&L electric rate case; Orsted announces it is considering selling a portion of its stake in two offshore wind projects; XEL files an IRP for its Upper Midwest region; POR issues an all-source RFP for dispatchable, renewable projects; CMS agrees to sell its Appliance Service Plan business; EXC announces leadership changes; and EIA releases its February Short-Term Energy Outlook.

Upcoming Earnings Reports

DTE and DUK report BMO tomorrow (Thursday), followed by FE after hours. Our recently published 2024 Outlook includes our thesis, expectations, and estimates for our coverage.

Industry News and News from Companies in Our Coverage

FE — FE reaches an $85M settlement in JCP&L electric rate case: FE subsidiary Jersey Central Power and Light Co. reached a settlement agreeing to an $85M settlement, premised on a 9.6% ROE, 51.9% equity, and a $3.0B rate base. The settlement compares to JCP&L's updated request for a ~$192M increase, premised on a 10.4% ROE and $3.1B rate base. The lower ROE and rate base contributed ~$26M of the delta between FE's request and the agreed-upon increase, implying the remainder of the difference was due to net operating income adjustments. However, the adjustments were not specified in the settlement. The settlement also agrees to a two-phase Reliability Improvement Plan, including $95M for Phase 1 to improve nine of 18 high-priority circuits over the next three years. Parties that signed onto the settlement include the BPU Staff, the Division of Rate Counsel, and others. If approved, FE would refund $17M to customers for distribution charges that were misclassified, misallocated, or lacked proper supporting documentation. The refunds would be amortized through the end of May, resulting in new rates going into effect on June 1. The BPU could issue a final decision at the Open Meeting on February 15.

ES — Orsted announces it will explore selling stake in South Fork and Revolution offshore wind projects: Orsted announced that it is exploring reducing its 50% stake in the 132 MW South Fork and 400 MW Revolution offshore wind projects. ES is also in the process of divesting its 50% interest in both projects and expects to announce a deal in the near term. Currently, ES and Orsted have a 50/50 partnership in Southfork and Revolution (and Sunrise). The two companies recently announced that Orsted will acquire ES's stake in the 924 MW Sunrise project, pending successful re-bidding in NYS.

XEL — XEL files IRP for Upper Midwest region: As expected, XEL filed its new Upper Midwest region integrated resource plan. The Company filed its plans for operations in MN (Docket: 24-67), MI, ND, SD, and WI. XEL proposes adding 3,600 MW of wind and solar generation and 600 MW of battery energy storage by 2030. Additionally, XEL proposes adding 2,200 MW of natural gas resources to offer backup for renewables and meet supply needs during peak demand. XEL proposed extending the Monticello and Prairie Island nuclear plants by 20 years. Specifically, XEL proposes to extend the Prairie Island units to 2053 and 2054, respectively, and to extend Monticello until 2050. The IRP seeks to reduce carbon emissions by at least 80% (from 2005 levels) and up to 88% by 2030 and to help meet Minnesota's 2040 carbon-free targets.

POR — POR issues an all-source RFP for dispatchable, renewable projects: POR issued an all-source RFP for up to 753 MWa of non-emitting dispatchable capacity and renewable generation projects. The projects must be available between 2025 and 2027. The RFP aligns with the near-term actions highlighted in the 2023 IRP and CEP, which included annual needs of 251 MWa through 2030. As a reminder, the OR PUC acknowledged the IRP but not the Clean Energy Plan. POR expects to file an updated CEP by January 2025. Benchmark bids are due by February 23, followed by third-party solar bids for build transfer/asset purchase agreements on March 12. All remaining bids are due March 22. POR expects to execute final contracts with the winning bidders in 2H24.

CMS — CMS agrees to sell Appliance Service Plan business: CMS reached an agreement to sell its Appliance Service Plan business to American Water Resources. While the financial details of the sale were not disclosed, Appliance Service Plan is not a core business of CMS, and the sale is not expected to impact earnings. The business provides appliance protection and related services in Michigan, including repairs and replacements. CMS expects the sale to close in the first half of 2024.

KeyBanc Capital Markets Inc. | Member FINRA/SIPC

EXC — EXC announces leadership changes: EXC announced that the current President and CEO of PECO Energy Company, Michael Innocenzo, will assume the role of EVP and COO of EXC, effective April 1. Replacing Mr. Innocenzo in his current role will be David Velazquez, who serves as EVP of Utility Operations and Technology at EXC. Mr. Innocenzo was appointed president and CEO of PECO in 2018 and previously served as SVP and COO of PECO since 2013.

EIA's February Short-Term Energy Outlook: Solar and wind are forecast to increase by 43% and 6%, respectively, in 2024. By 2025, renewable generation will contribute to 26% of the mix. However, the EIA lowered its forecast for renewable generation in 2025 due to lower reported capacity additions in recent months, primarily driven by lower wind generation. Coal generation will partially offset the decline in 2025, resulting in a slight increase relative to the prior forecast. Coal generation is still expected to experience y/y declines of ~8% and ~7% in 2024 and 2025, respectively. January experienced the third-largest withdrawal of natural gas from storage, or 920 Bcf, resulting in some price volatility in the quarter due to a combination of lower natural gas production and higher natural gas consumption. Prices reached $13.20/MMBtu ahead of cold weather in mid-January. Overall, prices averaged $3.18/MMBtu for the month and are expected to remain near $2.40/MMBtu during a milder February and March and end the winter heating season (November-March) 15% above the five-year average, up from 13% above the average at the end of January.

WATTS COOKING? Weekly

Topics: Earnings/EXC/dividend; DUK; ETR

Our view: Weekly developments that we found to be of interest.

WATTS on Your Mind

This past week, many investors focused on messaging from the current earnings season. For the most part, most believe that capital spending programs will continue to grow as decarbonization goals expand and demand for power increases from manufacturing onshoring and data centers, to name a few growth drivers. Many are focusing on rate cases, with Illinois and, by association, EXC being main topics. We are finding that investors are looking for a reason to like EXC's reduced stock price (down 944 bps relative to XLU since Illinois decision on 12/14/23) but need to hear what management may say when they report. We also found that many investors are quite open to the idea of slowing the dividend growth to manage payout ratios down, given the large capital needs facing the sector. We expect more companies to pursue that strategy.

WATTS on Our Mind

On Wednesday, Duke Energy Florida (DEF) notified the Florida Public Service Commission (FPSC) that it intends to file a rate case on April 2nd for new rates implemented in January 2025. As usual, DEF will file a three-year rate plan with a rate increase from 2025 to 2027 of $596M, $95M, and $124M, respectively. The company highlights that this represents an average annual increase of 4% over the period. DEF plans to file for an 11.15% ROE and 53% equity ratio. Our view. DEF currently operates under a 10.1% ROE and 53% equity ratio, including the 25bps ROE adder. In FPL's most recent case, the company filed for an 11.5% ROE and received an approval of 10.6% prior to the ROE trigger. We would be unsurprised to see the DEF receive an authorized ROE around the mid-10% range.

Tuesday, a City Council of New Orleans Climate Change and Sustainability Committee proposed an order for $106M of investments related to Entergy New Orleans's (E-NO) 10-year resilience plan. The company filed for $559M over the first five years, while the full 10-year plan included $1B. E-NO's initial filing targeted 95% ratepayer funding and ~10% bill increase for customers. The commission approved three projects: a $39M transmission line, a 7MW/31MWh battery storage system, and a rebuild/ hardening of 381 distribution systems. The resolution includes 50% federal government funding and a 1% ratepayer increase. The committee also highlighted that 40% of investment has to flow to local businesses and community groups. A final vote will be required by the full seven-member council, which is expected in late February. Our view: We believe the committee is focused on approving near-term projects and protecting affordability. For the total company, we note that NO's filing represents $1B of accelerated resiliency out of the $15B plan. ETR-LA's portion represents ~$9.6B, which should receive an order in the 1H24.

Required disclosures

Conflicts disclosures

This product constitutes a compendium report (covers six or more subject companies). As such, RBC Capital Markets chooses to provide specific disclosures for the subject companies by reference. To access conflict of interest and other disclosures for the subject companies, clients should refer to https://www.rbccm.com/GLDisclosure/PublicWeb/DisclosureLookup.aspx?entityId=1. These disclosures are also available by sending a written request to RBC Capital Markets Research Publishing, P.O. Box 50, 200 Bay Street, Royal Bank Plaza, 29th Floor, South Tower, Toronto, Ontario M5J 2W7 or an email to rbcinsight@rbccm.com.

The analyst(s) responsible for preparing this research report received compensation that is based upon various factors, including total revenues of the member companies of RBC Capital Markets and its affiliates, a portion of which are or have been generated by investment banking activities of the member companies of RBC Capital Markets and its affiliates.
With regard to the MAR investment recommendation requirements in relation to relevant securities, a member company of Royal Bank of Canada, together with its affiliates, may have a net long or short financial interest in excess of 0.5% of the total issued share capital of the entities mentioned in the investment recommendation. Information relating to this is available upon request from your RBC investment advisor or institutional salesperson.

Explanation of RBC Capital Markets Equity rating system

An analyst's 'sector' is the universe of companies for which the analyst provides research coverage. Accordingly, the rating assigned to a particular stock represents solely the analyst's view of how that stock will perform over the next 12 months relative to the analyst's sector average.
Ratings
Outperform (O): Expected to materially outperform sector average over 12 months.
Sector Perform (SP): Returns expected to be in line with sector average over 12 months.
Underperform (U): Returns expected to be materially below sector average over 12 months.
Restricted (R): RBC policy precludes certain types of communications, including an investment recommendation, when RBC is acting as an advisor in certain merger or other strategic transactions and in certain other circumstances.
Not Rated (NR): The rating, price targets and estimates have been removed due to applicable legal, regulatory or policy constraints which may include when RBC Capital Markets is acting in an advisory capacity involving the company.
Risk Rating
The Speculative risk rating reflects a security's lower level of financial or operating predictability, illiquid share trading volumes, high balance sheet leverage, or limited operating history that result in a higher expectation of financial and/or stock price volatility.

Distribution of ratings

For the purpose of ratings distributions, regulatory rules require member firms to assign ratings to one of three rating categories - Buy, Hold/Neutral, or Sell - regardless of a firm's own rating categories. Although RBC Capital Markets' ratings of Outperform (O), Sector Perform (SP), and Underperform (U) most closely correspond to Buy, Hold/Neutral and Sell, respectively, the meanings are not the same because our ratings are determined on a relative basis.

SRE – Intervenors post comments on interim rates in the 2024 General Rate Case for SCG and SDG&E

- TURN and other intervenors posted comments on the SDG&E interim rates associated with legacy wildfire memorandum accounts as part of the 2024 GRC cycle.
- TURN addressed factual errors and consideration for securitization, and other comments were largely administrative.
- SDGE and SCG along with several intervenors previously filed the partial settlement agreements on specific issues within the 2024 GRC.
- The settled issues are generally close to SDGE/SCG requests (~30% issues covered).
- CPUC previously adjusted the filing schedules, moving other procedural items further by around 2 weeks, but the target PD date remains in 2Q24.
- Dockets: A2205015 / A2205016

Guggenheim takeaway: FYI. The interim rates demonstrate the flexibility in CPUC approach to the GRC process and demonstrates the ability to get constructive outcomes. The settlements are very piecemeal in addressing the rate cases holistically, but individual issue settlement is a constructive step to simplify the litigation going further (resolve around 30% of the GRC spending issues). While certain settlements are not unanimous, they present a good foundation for resolution and SRE mgmt. has previously commented on the willingness to negotiate partially settled issues. As a reminder, SDG&E is seeking an increase in rates of $286 million for the 2024 test year and also seeking incremental, post-test year combined electric and gas rate increases of $363.2 million in 2025, $338.1 million in 2026 and $306.9 million in 2027; and SoCalGas is seeking a $767 million increase in gas rates for the 2024 test year and also seeking incremental, post-test year gas rate increases of $292 million in 2025, $267 million in 2026 and $413 million in 2027.

DUK – DEF submits notice of intent to file a base rate case in Florida

- Yesterday, the company submitted an NOI indicating that it plans to file a base rate case on April 2, 2024.
- DEF expects to request an average of ~4% annual rate hikes over 2025-2027, with 2025 rates coming down YoY due to the 2022 fuel under-recovery, storm restoration cost recovery and legacy PPAs expiring at YE24.
- Specifically, the utility is asking for base rate increases of $596m/$95m/$127m in

Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 13-Feb-2024 06:21 PM.

'25/'26/'27, respectively.

- The revenue increases are premised on an ROE midpoint of 11.15% and proposed cap structure of 53% equity and 47% debt.
- In the new 2025-2027 plan, the utility is proposing: continued grid mod, enhancements to existing generation expected to save customers $150m-$200m per year in reduced fuel costs, as well as the construction of 14 new solar sites, adding 1,050 MW of renewables.
- Docket 20240025-EI

Guggenheim takeaway: We expect an outcome to this case that will be consistent with our present forecasts, and we continue to model the utility's requested (and existing) 53% equity layer, as well as our expectation that they will earn at the high end of the authorized band (i.e., above the midpoint). We see the ~4% average annual rate increases as reasonable when viewed in the national context of other cases we've seen recently. For more, including a broader national perspective on rate regulation across the country and our expectations for 2024, please see the Regulatory Baseline and Important Regulatory Proceedings sections of our 2024 Outlook piece (HERE).

NJR – NJNG files base rate case in New Jersey

- Yesterday, the company filed a base rate case application with the NJ BPU.
- The New Jersey Natural Gas is requesting a $222.6m revenue increase.
- Included in the filing is a request for a 10.42% ROE (vs. 9.60% currently authorized), and a 55.42% equity layer (vs. 54.00% currently authorized).
- The company's year-end rate base for the test year ending 6/30/2024 is $3,359m.
- Docket GR24010071

Guggenheim takeaway: We caught up with the company after the announcement. No changes to our view for the company, as we continue to model a 54% equity layer and a 9.6% authorized base ROE level into this rate case and throughout our forecasts through FY28, consistent with our expectation of the utility continuing its history of successfully settling cases while maintaining its current ROE/equity layer (at levels which we see as reasonable in a national context).

CPK – CPK MD utilities file rate case; $7M revenue request based on 11.5% ROE

- CPK MD utilities (Maryland Division, Sandpiper and Elkton Gas) filed a base rate increase request with the Maryland PSC.
- The rate case request is $7M in aggregate revenue increase and based on an 11.5% ROE.
- The request also proposes rate consolidation and regulatory asset to defer and track the costs associated with an energy efficiency program.
- Docket: 9922

Guggenheim takeaway: FYI. The MD rate case will reconcile under-earning in the MD service territories for CPK. We assume no change to earned ROEs over the LT and model a 9.8% blended ROE across all non-transmission utilities.

CNP – IURC approves reduced gas cost factors for CNP South Indiana Gas

- IURC approved CNP South Indiana Gas' request for gas cost factor adjustments.
- The adjustments were lowering the net gas costs from prior, and remain significantly lower than the prior year.
- 10DTH gas customers will see reduction in bills by $1-6 from February to April.

AEE/IL – AEE files appeals in IL MYP

- "Ameren Illinois is appealing the Orders to the Illinois Appellate Court for the Fifth Judicial District, being a district in which the subject matter of the proceeding is situated, for the purpose of obtaining judicial review and reversal of the Commission's determinations, as well as any other relief the Court deems just and proper." - filing
- "Ameren Illinois seeks reversal of the Orders and remand of this matter to the Commission for appropriate further proceedings and entry of an appropriate order on remand, as well as any other relief the Court deems just and proper." - filing

Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 13-Feb-2024 06:21 PM.

- Hearing memorandum HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: The appeal was the next step available to the company, although we have muted expectations for the courts given strong deference to the commission and an uphill argument for things like ROE (in our view). As a reminder, we are giving the company 75% of our prior IL capex forecast from 2024-2028 assuming the grid plan is ultimately greenlit, however, we note that the final outcome could be better or worse – we simply have little visibility into the potential outcomes so early in an uncertain process.

EXC/IL – ICC issues order on clarification

- The order came in response to ComEd's earlier motion.
- "Regarding ComEd's re-filed Grid Plan, the Commission directs the Company to present evidence of an updated portfolio of plant additions and O&M expenditures, as proposed by Company. See ComEd Motion at 4. The Commission will evaluate the portfolio in its entirety in that proceeding to determine if it satisfies the objectives of Section 16-105.17."-filing

Guggenheim takeaway: Minor procedural FYI as the broader grid plan process continues to churn in the background. Our impression after touching base with the company is that they continue to work towards the 150-day rehearing timeline. For more on our EXC IL assumptions, see our outlook note HERE.

SO – Final order issued in Vogtle 3&4 prudency review proceeding

- Yesterday, the Georgia PSC issued its final order codifying the decision it made when it approved the order back in December.
- "As set forth in the Prudence Stipulation, the Commission finds that $7.562 billion is a reasonable and prudent total construction and capital cost for the Project to be included in base rate, which appropriately balances the interests of the Company and its customers. The Prudence Stipulation represents major concessions by the Company and provides a considerable savings of $2.6 billion for rate payers relative to the total Company forecast at completion of $10.188bn in capital construction cost of Vogtle Units 3 and 4." – Georgia PSC's order in the docket
- Docket 29849

Guggenheim takeaway: No changes to our view, as this was very much expected. Recall that the Georgia PSC already decided this matter at its December 19, 2023 meeting.

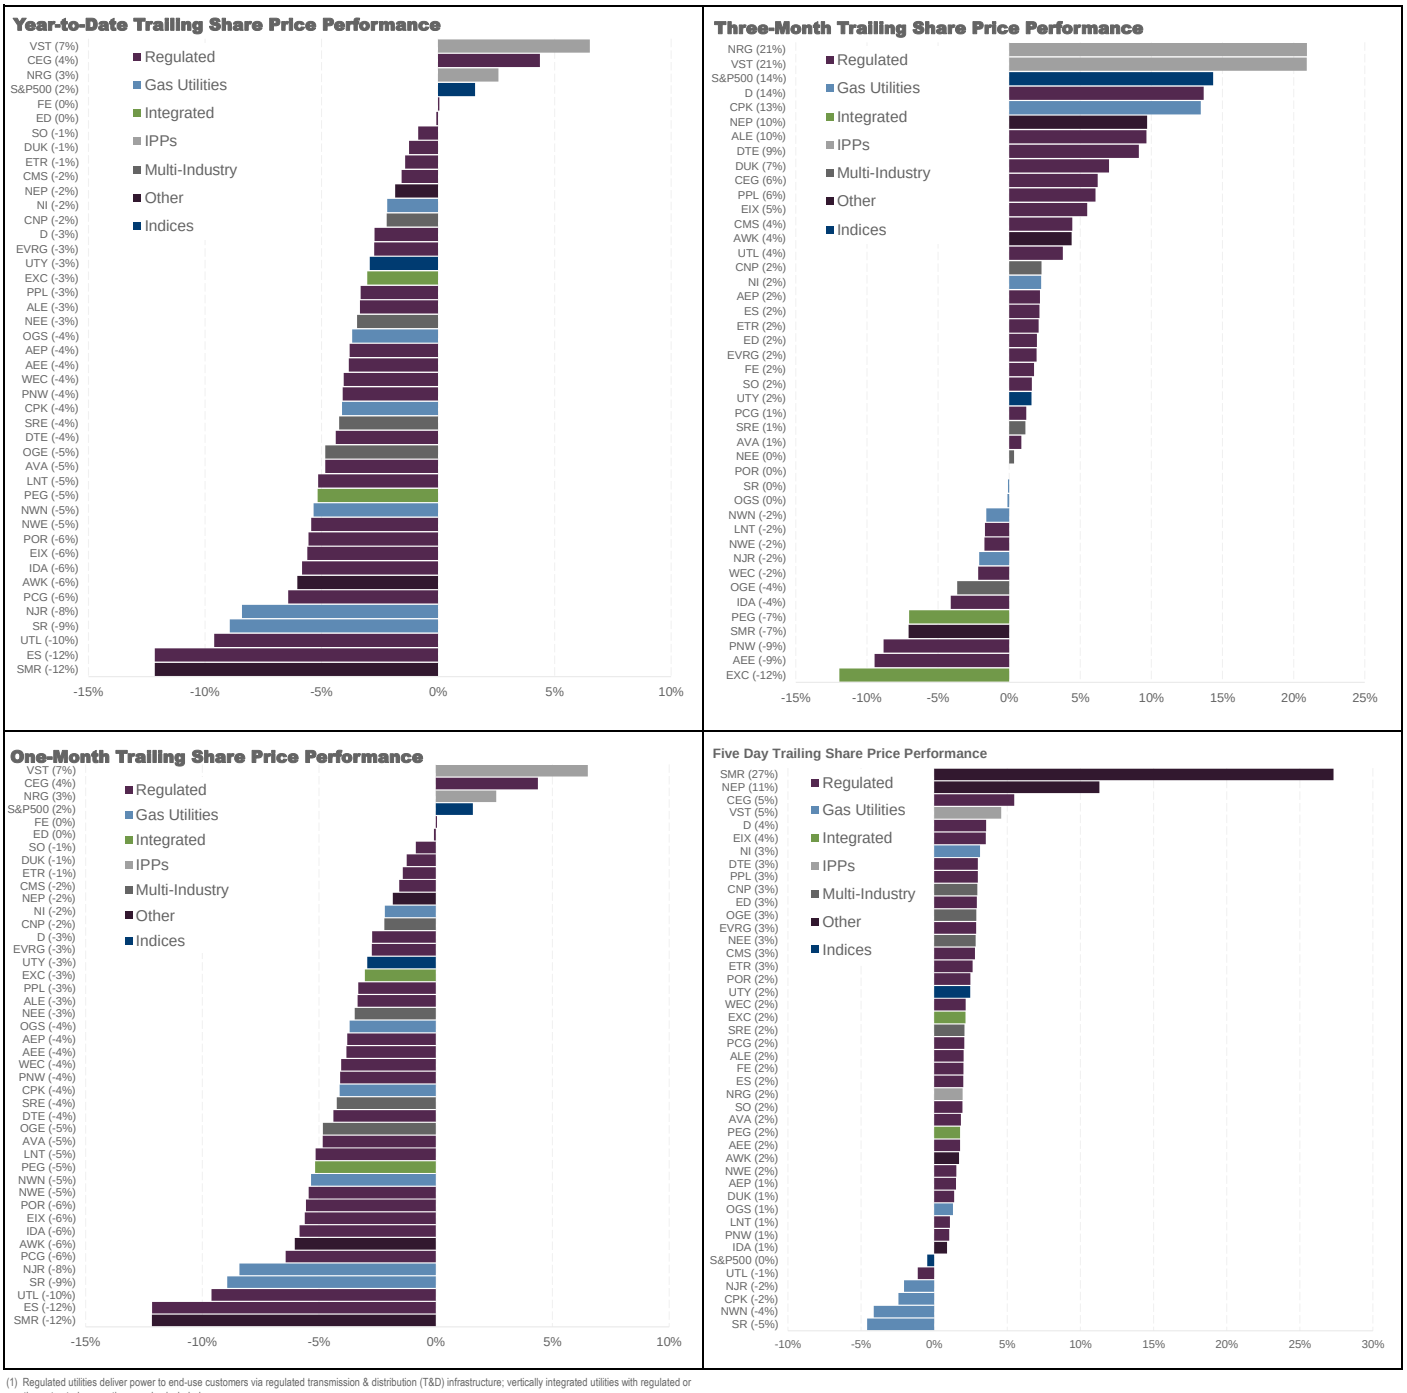
Share Price Performance (Year-to-Date, Three-Month, One-Month, & Five-Day Trailing)



(1) Regulated utilities deliver power to end-use customers via regulated transmission & distribution (T&D) infrastructure; vertically integrated utilities with regulated or mostly contracted generation are also included.

(2) Local Gas Distribution Companies (LDCs), as well as diversified utilities with a business mix largely comprised of gas infrastructure and related activities (i.e., LDC franchises, interstate pipelines, and/or other gas midstream activities).

(3) Integrated utilities own and operate regulated T&D franchises, as well as un-regulated power generation with commodity exposure.

(4) IPPs operate merchant (i.e., un-regulated, non-utility) power plants that compete to sell power in wholesale markets or through retail marketing businesses.

EIX/PCG/SRE — CA intervenors filed opening testimony in the Phase II of the 2023 cost of capital proceeding

- Intervenors including CA Utilities filed opening testimony in the Phase II 2023 cost of capital proceeding.
- The proceeding seeks to address use of blended ROEs for gas and electric, formulaic elements of setting ROEs and the cost of capital mechanism.
- CA Utilities (EIX, PCG, SRE) are generally supportive of blended ROEs, maintaining the ability to set ROEs without a strict formulaic approach but continuing to use financial models as a gauge of cost, utilities argued for excluding affordability from setting ROEs, keeping CCM discussions to a future cost of capital proceeding and PG&E argued for a yield spread adjustment as increased rates cause significant revenue shortfalls for under-collections.
- Opposing parties included Public Advocates office (PAO) and TURN, among others.
- TURN argued for modifications to the CCM (Energy Division requirements for findings on risk premium), affordability to directly impact ROE setting, and penalties for deviations from the authorized capital structure.
- PAO argued for reduced CCM adjustment to either 20% of the deviation from benchmark or ignoring the first 100bp for adjustment purposes. PAO argues PG&E's yield spread adjustment should be denied and all other issues should fall into the next litigated proceeding.
- Docket: A2204008 et al

Guggenheim takeaway:The opening testimony is as expected, with intervenors looking to seemingly arbitrary mechanism adjustments to lower revenue requirements. CA utilities present arguments largely maintaining status quo and aligned with precedent, with structural changes left for discussion in the next cost of capital litigated proceeding (2026). The CCM modifications seemingly defeat the purpose of the mechanism and would in effect create a need to re-litigate cost of capital annually. It is tough to see affordability get conflated with ROEs as CA relies on a lot of equity capital for its energy policy agenda which has undoubtedly impacted affordability, and using ROE as a source of funds would seemingly stand at odds with the continuation of energy policy. We continue to monitor how the CPUC will address Phase II and which items will fall under the future litigated proceeding.

PCG – PG&E marks the operation of the first residential distributed power plant

- PG&E and Sunrun (RUN) announced the completion of the first residential distributed power plan in CA.
- Customers provided consistent, reliable clean energy to California's power grid through the summer and fall of 2023, peaking at 32 MW from 8,500 solar-plus-storage systems.
- The program achieved its maximum enrollment of 8,500 customers and provided a consistent average of 27 megawatts of power during evening peak hours for more than 90 consecutive days. With an instantaneous peak output of nearly 32 megawatts.
- More here.

Guggenheim takeaway: Nothing material and more of an FYI, though an interesting datapoint. PG&E continues implementing innovative programs for customer energy management and grid support.

PCG – NRC review of Diablo Canyon Application could take until 2025

- Media report on the NRC review of Diablo Canyon license extensions suggests an August 2025 timeframe for review and approval.
- Staff letters indicated a review period of ~2 years.
- The first of the two NRC scoping meetings will be on Feb. 1, 2024 and the second on Feb. 8, 2024.
- More here.

Guggenheim takeaway: FYI. Continued datapoints and progress on Diablo Canyon NRC applications.

ES/CT ─ ES letter raises mischaracterization of recovery options by PURA in media

- The letter from the company specifically calls out several points made by PURA personnel to the Hartford Courant in an article on Sunday regarding AMI.
- "Yesterday, the Hartford Courant published an article on PURA's AMI Decision and the Company's Motion.2 In that article, PURA responded to the Courant's inquiry on its decision to push back the implementation of AMI by opening a new docket to consider cost recovery, with the assertion that Eversource already has "a long-established cost recovery mechanism for all capital investments, including AMI." This statement – along with comments submitted by the Office of Consumer Counsel ("OCC") in response to the Company's Motion ("OCC's Response") – provide the most recent evidence of the dysfunction of Connecticut's regulatory environment and lack of any viable approach to the implementation and financing of AMI." – filing
- "In this quote from the Hartford Courant, PURA neglects to mention two important qualifications regarding this "long-established cost recovery mechanism," which are that: (1) recovery through the mechanism referenced by PURA is capped at $300 million annually until the Company's next rate case (roughly $250 million below Eversource's current level of annual electric system improvements of $550 million); and (2) Section 5 of the recent SB7 legislation requires the express termination of this mechanism in the Company's next rate case, as PURA aware.3 As a result, PURA's assertion that this mechanism is available to support AMI implementation is not accurate under current law and PURA precedent." - filing

Guggenheim takeaway: We flagged the article in question yesterday (HERE), which featured several pointed sound bites from key lawmakers on the slow pace of AMI deployment. The filing flagged above is interesting in that context given we had a similar impression of PURA's comments in the article as the company (no rider recovery pathway for AMI), with the company also pushing back on specific OCC points. The letter is yet another example of the company's firm position to not advance the program without a clear line of sight to a recovery mechanism – we continue to see the noise building the in the state as a modest positive within the overall mosaic.

Power/Talen – Talen points to uplisting no earlier than 2Q24

- "The Company expects to update the Registration Statement after reporting financial and operational results for the year ended December 31, 2023. Accordingly, the uplisting is expected to be effective no earlier than the second quarter of 2024, after the SEC completes its review process, and subject to market and other conditions." – filing
- More HERE [OTC: TLNE]

Guggenheim takeaway: Heads up on the timing, which has slipped slightly from our initial expectations given the SEC review timeline – in the interim we remain on the lookout for data points regarding the ongoing ERCOT sale process (see our most recent note HERE).

ERCOT/Texas – Texas manufacturing contracts in Fed survey

- "Texas factory activity contracted in January after stabilizing in December, according to business executives responding to the Texas Manufacturing Outlook Survey. The production index, a key measure of state manufacturing conditions, dropped 17 points to -15.4—its lowest reading since mid-2020." - release
- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: Ongoing weakness in Texas is a headwind to power demand and underlying utility customer growth. The data continues to paint a bit of a mixed picture as some respondents continue to expect some modest growth in the region alongside continued labor growth and deepening pessimism on business conditions. We continue to watch the survey data closely for indications of a slowdown in activity and hiring in Texas as any softening would have direct read through to the forward curves as well as the load backdrop for the regulated utilities. We cover several utilities in the state (i.e., ETR, AEP, SRE, CNP as well as IPPs like VST, NRG, CEG) so macro backdrop is one key input to monitor.

ERCOT – PUCT Staff docket memo on VOLL work

- The Staff have docketed a memo explaining work with a consultant
- "Electric Reliability Council of Texas, Inc. (ERCOT) recently provided an update regarding the ongoing Value of Lost Load (VOLL) study for the ERCOT region.1 This filing included analysis conducted by ERCOT' s contractor, The Brattle Group (Brattle) [PRIVATE], which provides a set of VOLL estimates for the Commission to consider in determining an interim VOLL value, until a survey of customers in the ERCOT region can be completed. Staff anticipates the ERCOT-specific customer survey will provide another significant data point to help the Commission understand the preferences of Texas electric customers and develop robust, consumer-focused reliability policy. In the meantime, the interim VOLL will inform ongoing studies, but it will have no immediate market impacts." – filing
- "VOLL in the ERCOT region is currently set at $5,000 per MWh. Prior to January 1, 2022, VOLL was set at $9,000 per MWh, but it was reduced to the current level6 and subsequently decoupled from the System-Wide Offer Cap7 (SWCAP) during a redesign of the wholesale electric market. Any of the estimates described above represent a considerable increase from the current level. However, as noted by Potomac in the 2022 State of the Market Report for the ERCOT Electric Markets, the current level likely underestimates VOLL by a substantial amount. Based on the various analyses described above, Staff agrees with ERCOT' s assessment that Options 2a ($24,693 per MWh) and 2b ($26,245 per MWh) represent the most reasonable estimates of VOLL, but for the sake of simplicity, we would recommend that an intermediate value be selected for the interim VOLL." - filing

Guggenheim takeaway: This metric will eventually form a key part of the ISO's reliability standard, and by extension the PCM mechanism – two processes that will remain ongoing through most of 2024. As a reminder the PCM also includes a cap that partially blunts its value to IPPs overall. Stay tuned as these processes begin to mature over the course of the first half and ERCOT prepares for yet another potentially tight peak season.

AVA – Avista signs fourth RNG offtake agreement

- Construction on the project in Milan, IL is expected by the company to finish by year-end 2024, at which point the facility will produce 3m therms of RNG per year.
- In aggregate, the Pine Creeks projects which have contracted with AVA are expected by the company to produce 9.7m therms per year.

Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 13-Feb-2024 06:21 PM.

Guggenheim takeaway: We see this as an incremental positive for AVA as it moves towards bringing down its natural gas emissions, in accordance with its long-term reduction targets.

EXC – ComEd asks for clarification on several aspects of grid plan filing process

- The utility filed a motion for expedited clarification in the MYP docket
- "This Motion seeks clarity regarding (i) the date by which a final order on ComEd's re-filed Grid Plan and updated revenue requirement will be issued; (ii) whether certain quarterly reporting requirements outlined in the Final Order take effect in 2024, given the Final Order's determination to reject ComEd's Grid Plan; and (iii) the manner in which the 105% cap on reconciliation will be calculated, in light of the fact that interim rates are currently in effect subject to rehearing, and that rehearing and the refiled Grid Plan may result, respectively, in a second and third set of rates in effect during 2024."- filing
- "ComEd respectfully requests that the Commission clarify and confirm its intent to issue a final order regarding the re-filed Grid Plan, and the updated revenue requirements, no later than November 15, 2024, for rates in effect no later than the final monthly billing period of 2024" - filing
- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway:Another procedural filing from ComEd as we remain on the lookout for any indications from the ICC that an alternative or temporary revenue requirement could be allowed ahead of an eventual revised grid plan. The timing of the request aligns with our expectations for the process to run most of the year – a potential protracted overhang absent a temporary

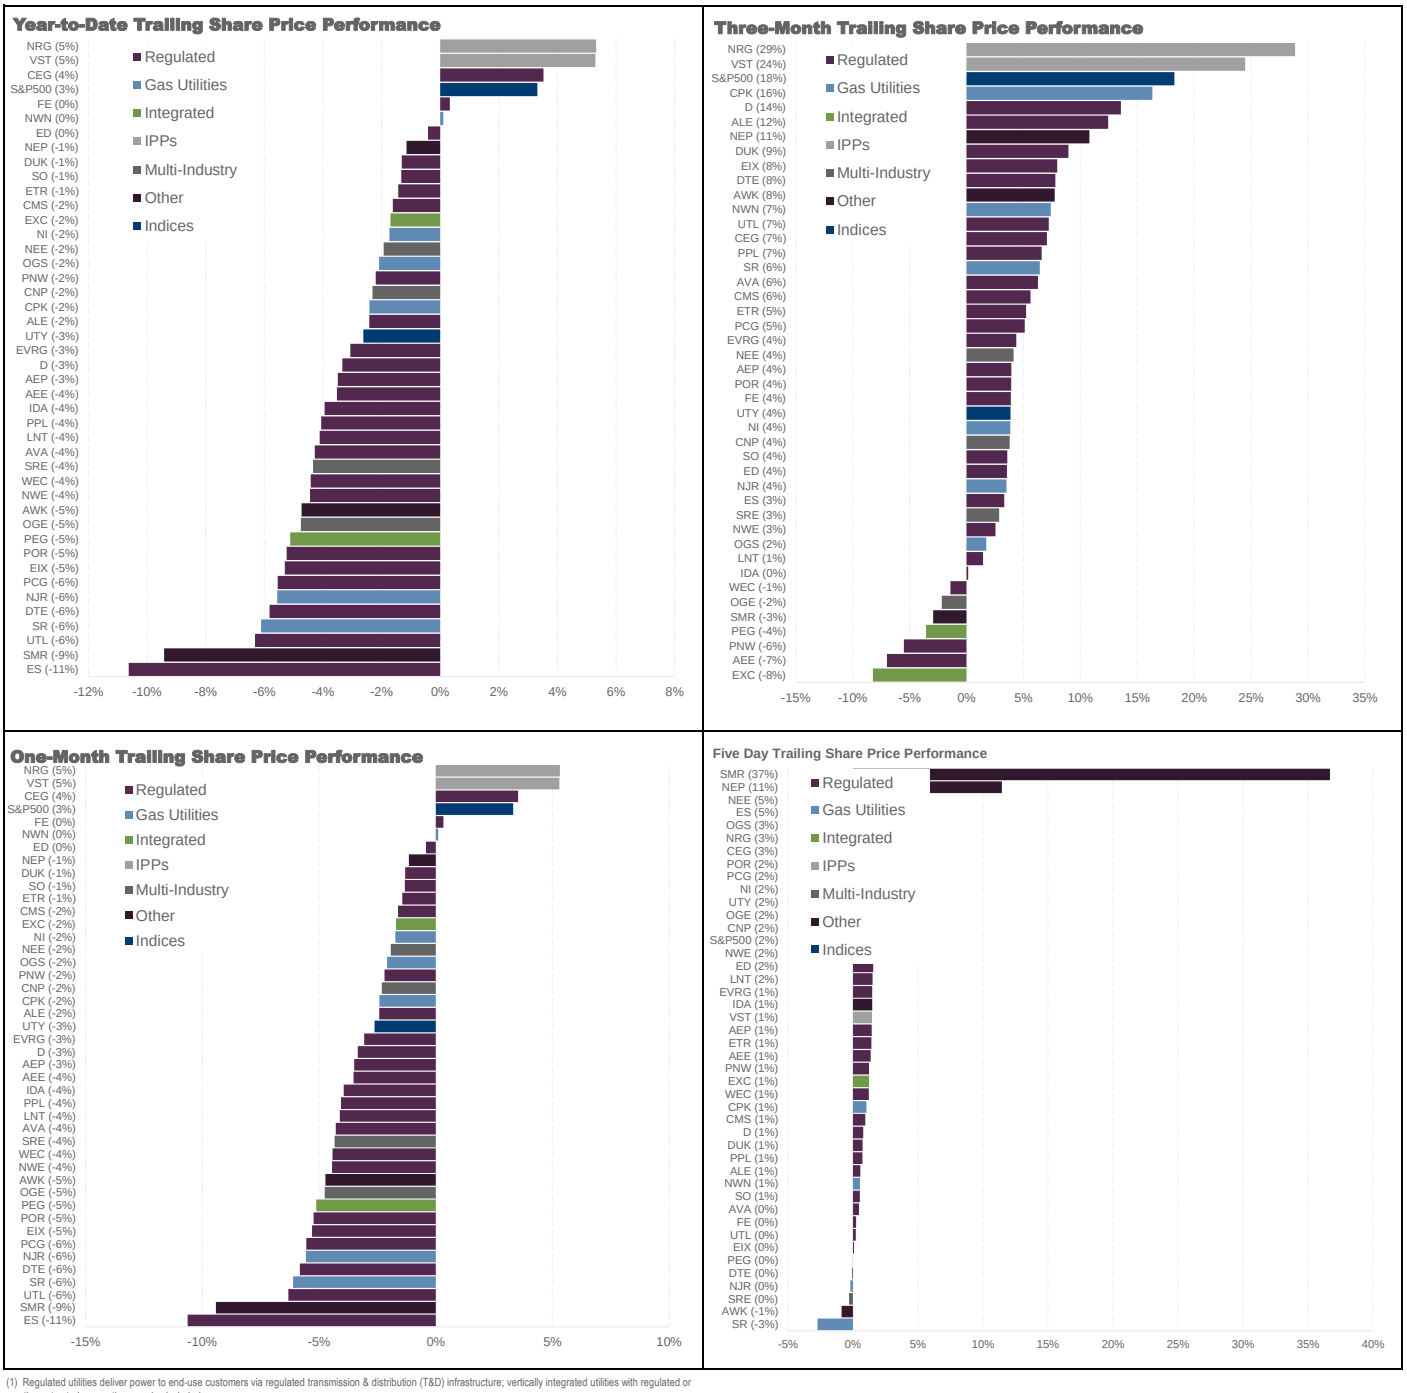
Share Price Performance (Year-to-Date, Three-Month, One-Month, & Five-Day Trailing)



(1) Regulated utilities deliver power to end-use customers via regulated transmission & distribution (T&D) infrastructure; vertically integrated utilities with regulated or mostly contracted generation are also included.

(2) Local Gas Distribution Companies (LDCs), as well as diversified utilities with a business mix largely comprised of gas infrastructure and related activities (i.e., LDC franchises, interstate pipelines, and/or other gas midstream activities).

(3) Integrated utilities own and operate regulated T&D franchises, as well as un-regulated power generation with commodity exposure.

(4) IPPs operate merchant (i.e., un-regulated, non-utility) power plants that compete to sell power in wholesale markets or through retail marketing businesses.

'24 Utilities Outlook: Utility Valuations Finally "NSYNC" with Fundamentals? Buy Buy Buy… (see our note HERE)

Forward Power Curves, Genco MtM, and Weekly Commentary (see our note HERE)

ES/CT – Lawmakers express displeasure over AMI delays

LNT – IUB Staff ask multiple questions in IPL GRC docket

POR – OPUC adopts Staff recommendation on IRP, declines to acknowledge CEP but directs revisions for next IRP; OPUC vacancy filled

AEE/EXC/IL – Labor pens op-ed supporting grid plans

AEE – Procedural schedule set in Rush Island securitization docket

Uranium – Canadian prospector announces new discoveries in Newfoundland

ETR – Entergy LA receives approval for 2 new solar projects in support of generation needs in LA

ED/NYPA – NYPSC requested rehearing of the FERC RTO adder approval

DUK – DEK responds to second rehearing request for information

CA – CPUC denies petition for modification on resource adequacy and procurement obligations docket

LNG – EE signs 1 MTPA deal for global LNG

ENGH/NRC – Citizen groups seek to intervene in NRC process for relicensing

ES/CT – Lawmakers express displeasure over AMI delays

- "This needs to happen… We're denying the citizens of the state of Connecticut a flexibility of control that many states offer their citizens. You can start time of use dynamic charging. People can make decisions about when to run their appliances. This is future, and it's going to play a role in energy efficiency…. I'm very frustrated that Eversource continues to say they don't have marching orders for going forward," State Rep. Jonathan Steinberg, D-Westport via the Courant
- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: CT lawmakers have been following this process closely, so it's interesting to see some pointed sound bites from key lawmakers as ES continues to raise issues with PURA's tepid approach to AMI. We expect this to remain a noisy point of interest in the state given the prospects for further delays over cost recovery. In our view, the lawmaker displeasure is a modest positive at this point as it may put further indirect pressure on PURA to expedite deliberations over the AMI recovery process (ES' rider treatment request).

Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 13-Feb-2024 06:21 PM.

LNT – IUB Staff ask multiple questions in IPL GRC docket

- Staff have docketed roughly a dozen follow-up questions for IPL following its 4Q23 filing.
- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: Flagged for your awareness – part of the process. As a reminder, the procedural schedule was set last week - see our note HERE. We continue to assume high 9s earned/allowed ROEs at IPL.

POR – OPUC adopts Staff recommendation on IRP, declines to acknowledge CEP but directs revisions for next IRP; OPUC vacancy filled

- The PUC adopted Staff's recommendation on the IRP, with some modifications, alongside a decision to decline to acknowledge the Clean Energy Plan (CEP) in light of revisions for the next IRP – "The Public Utility Commission of Oregon Staff's (Staff) proposed conditions for acknowledgement, recommendations for PGE to revise and resubmit the CEP."
- More HERE
- The Governor also nominated Les Perkins to the open seat on the OPUC.
- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: Several OR roundup items for your awareness coming off last week as the IRP process wraps ahead of the forthcoming RFP process (short list potentially in 2Q24). As a reminder, last week's hearing was based on the earlier 12/14 memo that we flagged previously (HERE). The adoption of the IRP is a modest positive for POR as the RFP process gets underway, with the CEP pushback opening a longer process, in our view, as this was the inaugural filing for the plan.

AEE/EXC/IL – Labor pens op-ed supporting grid plans

- "We are alarmed about the recent decision by the Illinois Commerce Commission to reject Commonwealth Edison's and Ameren's grid investment plans. The end effect of this decision is to put off the hard work required to meet the state's renewable energy goals to another day. It's a decision to continue policies that discourage outside investment in our state's climate and energy future… If Illinois is not willing to move on building the infrastructure critical to CEJA's success now, it will not only jeopardize my members' jobs it will put Illinois' ambitious climate goals at risk." - Michael Clemmons, sixth district vice president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers
- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: Interesting data point as we continue to monitor noise in the state around the ICC grid plan rejections. In our view, support of labor is a modest positive for AEE/EXC in the process.

AEE – Procedural schedule set in Rush Island securitization docket

- The PUC adopted the proposed schedule that will see briefs and hearings run through May, ahead of a 6/23 statutory deadline for the shuttered coal plant securitization.
- As a reminder, Rush Island was closed following a lengthy process in the federal courts (more HERE).
- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: For your calendars.

Uranium – Canadian prospector announces new discoveries in Newfoundland

- Infini Resources (ASX:I88) has identified several 'encouraging' prospects in the province.
- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: Minor FYI.

Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 13-Feb-2024 06:21 PM.

ETR – Entergy LA receives approval for 2 new solar projects in support of generation needs in LA

- ETR Louisiana received LPSC approval to purchase and build a total 225MW of new solar resources.
- Under the proposal, ETR would enter into a 20-year purchase power agreement for 175MW in Iberville Parish with NEER (NEE) and own another 49MW facility in Ouachita Parish.
- Iberville facility will be operational in late 2025. The Ouachita Parish (Sterlington Solar) Facility would be online in early 2026.
- More here.

Guggenheim takeaway:FYI. This is consistent with ETR's prior plans for generation expansion and mgmt. previously noted renewables ownership would likely step up in the later part of the decade. ETR-LA also has a 3,000MW solar proposal with the LPSC in review.

ED/NYPA – NYPSC requested rehearing of the FERC RTO adder approval

- NYPSC requested rehearing at FERC of the 50bp ROE incentive adder for RTO participation.
- FERC previously approved the RTO adder for the Propel NY project.
- NYPSC previously approved financing for the NY Transco (ED) and NYPA (private) joint venture transmission project (Propel NY).
- The NYPSC also approved certain facilities transfers to O&R and CECONY in support of NY Transco projects that would help facilitate interconnections.
- More on NY Propel here.

Guggenheim takeaway: FYI. While the projects are a modest potential upside for ED in terms of capex and regulated transmission ownership, the NYPSC remains customer-rate focused including presenting arguments against the RTO adder.

DUK – DEK responds to second rehearing request for information

- Both Staff and Duke Energy Kentucky responded to the AG's office having filed 2nd rehearing requests for information in Duke Energy Kentucky's 2022 rate case docket.
- Docket 2022-00372

Guggenheim takeaway: Minor FYI. We do not currently see this as material for DEK or DUK overall.

CA – CPUC denies petition for modification on resource adequacy and procurement obligations docket

- The CPUC denied an intervenor petition for modification of the resource procurement decision.
- The large energy consumers (CLECA) group asked for modification because of new criteria for certain interruptible resources.
- CPUC argued for the use of Reliability Demand Response Resources (RDRR) as a Resource Adequacy (RA) resource for economic or exceptional dispatch upon the declaration of a day-of Energy Emergency Alert (EEA).
- Docket: R2110002.

Guggenheim takeaway: FYI. Next iteration of resource procurement discussions in CA. the arguments are largely around the margin for certain demand response resources.

LNG – EE signs 1 MTPA deal for global LNG

- Excelerate Energy (EE) signed a 15-year purchase agreement with Qatar Energy (private).
- The purchase agreement is for 1 MTPA of LNG on a delivered ex-ship basis in Bangladesh through 2040.
- More details here.

Guggenheim takeaway*: FYI. Datapoint on global LNG market activity. The quantities remain small relative to some of the US projects (~10+ MTPA).*

Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 13-Feb-2024 06:21 PM.

ENGH/NRC – Citizen groups seek to intervene in NRC process for relicensing

- Staff and the company have opposed an effort by anti-nuclear citizen groups to intervene in the Perry license extension process.
- More HERE [ENGH PRIVATE]

Guggenheim takeaway: Flagged for your awareness - in our view, this is part of the process and not a specific negative.

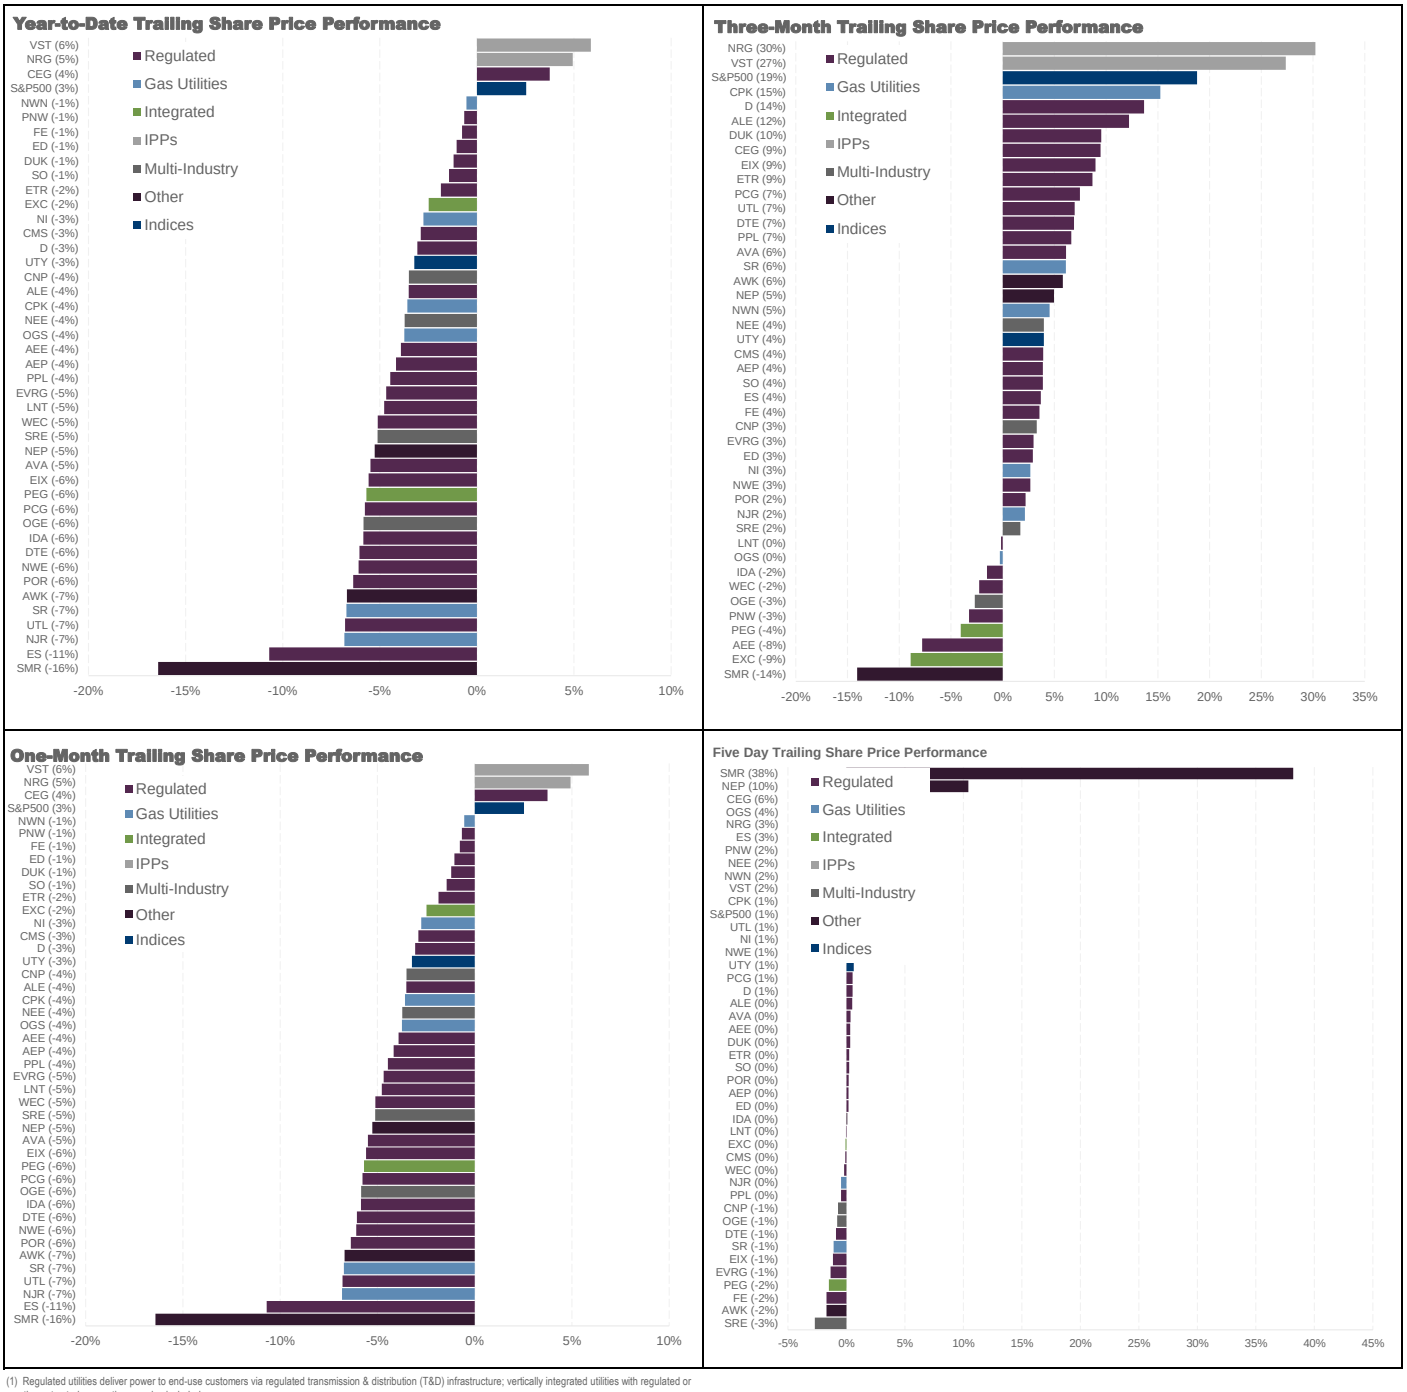
Share Price Performance (Year-to-Date, Three-Month, One-Month, & Five-Day Trailing)



(1) Regulated utilities deliver power to end-use customers via regulated transmission & distribution (T&D) infrastructure; vertically integrated utilities with regulated or mostly contracted generation are also included.

(2) Local Gas Distribution Companies (LDCs), as well as diversified utilities with a business mix largely comprised of gas infrastructure and related activities (i.e., LDC franchises, interstate pipelines, and/or other gas midstream activities).

(3) Integrated utilities own and operate regulated T&D franchises, as well as un-regulated power generation with commodity exposure.

(4) IPPs operate merchant (i.e., un-regulated, non-utility) power plants that compete to sell power in wholesale markets or through retail marketing businesses.

4Q23 earnings continue with CMS and WEC scheduled to report. This week, we are tracking proceedings in AEP's electric rate case in Indiana, DUK's SC IRP and NC Carbon Plan, and NWE's MT IRP. In other news, the AZ ALJ issues a constructive ROO in PNW electric rate case; ES announces a deal to sell its 50% stake in Sunrise Wind to Orsted; PEPCo files rebuttal testimony in its MD electric rate case; the OR PUC acknowledges POR IRP while not acknowledging the Clean Energy Plan; the LA PSC approves ETR to construct ~225 MW of solar; SO and Eco Material announce a partnership for repurposing coal ash; and the City of Chicago proposes a new gas ban ordinance.

Earnings Calendar

4Q23 earnings continue: CMS and WEC are scheduled to report this week. Our recently published 2024 Outlook includes our thesis, expectations, and estimates for our coverage.

Regulatory Calendar

AEP — Hearings on the settlement in AEP's I&M electric rate case begin on January 31: AEP agreed to a settlement for a cumulative $57M revenue increase, premised on a 9.85% ROE. The rate increases will be implemented over two phases, including a $23M increase in Phase 1, with an incremental $34M increase in Phase II. The settlement compares to AEP's $116M revenue request, premised on a 10.5% ROE and 51.2% equity. AEP was seeking an $84M initial increase, followed by an incremental $33M revenue increase in Phase 2. The lower ROE and the adoption of lower depreciation rates on the distribution plant accounts primarily drove the delta between AEP's ask and the settlement. Parties that signed the settlement included the Indiana Office of the Utility Consumer Counselor, I&M Industrial Group, and others. Only two intervenors did not sign the settlement, although they did not oppose it either. Before the settlement, a commission order was expected in June 2024, followed by new rates going into effect in mid-2024.

DUK — Supplemental testimony in DUK's 2023 SC IRP and NC Carbon Plan is due on January 31: DUK's supplemental filing in SC will include results from "no carbon constraints" modeling, supplemental modeling for Portfolio 1 and 2, and address how DUK's preferred plan meets the planning reserve margin. DUK will also file supplemental modeling in NC to meet the Updated 2023 Fall Load Forecast. As a reminder, DUK's 2023 IRP and Carbon Plan propose three portfolios that take an "all of the above" approach regarding technologies needed to achieve the 70% carbon reduction goal (from 2005 levels). Portfolio 1 achieves the 70% reduction target by 2030, while Portfolios 2 and 3 reach the target by 2033 and 2035, respectively. All three plans exit coal generation by 2035. DUK will seek to replace the coal facilities by extending the lives of DUK's 11 nuclear plants and the license of the Bad Creek hydro facility. Longer term, DUK proposes adding 1,700 MW of capacity at Bad Creek by 2034 and 600 MW of advanced nuclear SMR resources by 2035. While a decision is currently expected from the SC PSC by mid-2024, DUK recently proposed a new procedural schedule with a final order due in 4Q24. The NC Commission will issue a final order by December 31.

NWE — Responses in NWE's MT IRP are due on January 31: The MT PSC requested NWE file additional information clarifying several aspects of its IRP filing. Specifically, NWE should explain the reason for placing limits on generation with respect to the Automated Resource Selection model and the impacts on the resource selections. NWE should also address questions on the PowerSIMM, YCGS, and IRA assumptions. In its 2022 MT IRP filing, NWE assumes that the YCGS is completed and runs multiple scenarios for the long-term plan for Colstrip. The base case assumes the incremental 222 MW of Colstrip in 2026, while the Company runs two Colstrip retirement scenarios each for 2030 and 2035. For the 2030 Colstrip retirement, it provides a case for natural gas as a replacement and one for wind and battery storage as a replacement. In the 2035 scenarios, it provides a scenario for natural gas as the replacement generation, with the alternative being 320 MW of SMR capacity. The modeling shows that a combination of energy storage and natural gas capacity is the most suitable to meet the near-term capacity deficit, while wind would be better suited in the 2030s. All scenarios outside the base case include the addition of pumped hydro. Assuming the base-case scenario, NWE will likely issue an RFP in mid-2024 for resources while exploring securing resources through the opportunity resources path, which is faster and includes the recent acquisition of the incremental share in Colstrip. NWE will evaluate the potential benefits of joining a day-ahead market, if one is developed, in addition to its current participation in the Western Resource Adequacy Program and Western Energy Imbalance Market.

Recent Developments for Companies Under Our Coverage

From our midweek: FE reached a $105M settlement in its WV electric rate case; intervenors filed comments on AEP's MI distribution investment plan; the TX governor appointed a new commissioner to the PUCT; the VA SCC added two commissioners; and the MS PSC elected a new chair.

PNW — ALJ issues ROO: PNW received a constructive ROO (proposed decision) in its AZ GRC. In a departure from the prior pattern of regulatory outcomes, the ROO came in at ~84% of the "ask," with the proposed revenue increase totaling $577M. The difference with the Company's ask stemmed mostly from the lower ROE (9.55% vs. 10.20% ask) and minor RB balance adjustments. The Company has also received lower return on prepaid pension asset and slightly lower FVI revenue. A more detailed comparison of the PNW's rate case parameters is shown in the table below.

ES — ES announces deal to sell 50% stake in Sunrise to Orsted if bid is successful; Orsted and ES submit bid for Sunrise: The companies announced that Orstead will acquire ES's stake in Sunrise. The deal consideration was not disclosed; however, the transaction is contingent on the successful re-bidding in NYS. The updated bids were also submitted last week. Should the project receive NYS award, Orsted will become the sole owner and ES will receive the proceeds of the sale in two installments (half upon transaction closing and the balance once onshore construction is completed). ES will remain responsible for the onshore construction and grid connection part of the project.

EXC — PEPCo lowers revenue request in MD electric rate case: PEPCo updated its revenue request to $188M over three years, while maintaining the 10.5% ROE and 50.5% equity layer asks. The lower deficiency reflects PEPCo's adoption of adjusting late payment revenues, baseline distribution revenues, and rejection of the EV demand charge relief rider. PEPCo also removed its proposed PIM structure. The updated request compares to PEPCo's initial ask for a cumulative net increase of $214M, premised on a 10.5% ROE and 50.5% and Staff's cumulative $132M recommendation, premised on a 9.55% ROE and 50.5% equity. PEPCo continues to support the MYP and believes a separate proceeding should determine any modifications to the MYP construct. As a reminder, the OPC recommended the PSC only authorize a single-year increase. Evidentiary hearings are set to begin in March 2024 followed by a final order in June 2024. Rates will be retroactive to April 1, 2024.

POR — OR PUC acknowledges IRP while not acknowledging the CEP: The OR PUC largely adopted Staff's recommendation to acknowledge the IRP, while not acknowledging the Clean Energy Plan. Based on the discussion during the hearing, it appears that Commissioners regarded POR's modeling assumptions as potentially too conservative, and directed the Company to file an updated CEP with refreshed emissions modeling assumptions by January 2025. Nonetheless, POR will be pursuing the 2023 IRP/CEP Action Plan, including issuing an RFP in the near term. The PUC will issue a final order on the IRP and CEP in the upcoming weeks. As a reminder, the Staff's final report recommended that the PUC acknowledge POR's IRP, with modifications, but decline to acknowledge the CEP. Staff advised POR to revise and resubmit its CEP before its 2025 IRP to incorporate its hourly emissions analysis results into the preferred portfolio. Regarding the IRP, Staff recommended several modifications, including pursuing a broader range of CBRE procurement actions and requiring POR to file a proposal for a long lead time resource RFI before issuing its next RFP. This was POR's first CEP/IRP filing since the enactment of HB 2021.

ETR — LA PSC approves ~225 MW of solar power: The LA PSC approved ETR's request to build the 175 MW Iberville and 49 MW Sterlington solar projects. ETR will own and operate the Sterlington project, with Black and Veatch responsible for the EPC. ETR will construct Iberville, which has a PPA contract in place. Both projects are expected to enter service in 2025. The project requests were part of a broader plan to add 3,000 MW of solar in LA. ETR plans to add 17 GW of renewable resources by the end of 2031.

SO — SO announces another partnership with Eco Material for repurposing coal ash: AL Power and Eco Material announced a partnership to remove coal ash from the coal and natural gas generating Plant Berry. Eco Material will harvest more than 700,000 tons of ash annually for repurposing, including mixing it with concrete to strengthen bridges and roads. The announcement marks the third plant SO has agreed to partner with Eco Material, including the 3,232 MW Bowen Plant and the 1,540 MW Plant Branch. The parties expect construction to begin on the harvesting plant in 2024 and enter into service at the beginning of 2026. Eco Material has a portfolio of nine such harvesting plants under construction or in service.

AEE, EXC, SO, WEC — Chicago presents an ordinance to ban gas in new construction: Chicago lawmakers introduced the Clean and Affordable Buildings Ordinance (CABO), setting an emissions standard for new construction and certain repairs to existing buildings. Chicago joins NYC and Los Angeles as other cities that have banned natural gas hookups in new buildings. Several states have adopted similar restrictions (e.g., WA, MD, MA, VT). Chicago seeks to reduce GHG emissions by 80% from 1990 levels by 2050.

Earnings Recap

XEL — XEL reported an in-line 4Q and 2023 with ongoing EPS of $0.83 and $3.35, respectively, which was shy of our expectations. More importantly, the Company rolled in some of the recent capex opportunities into its base capital plan, which has been increased to $39B (from $34B prior). XEL continues to see potential upside to $44B, resulting in 9-10.6% RB growth through 2028. The Company refrained from raising its EPS growth rate from the current 5-7%, noting, however, that it expects to achieve the upper end of this range or above. XEL has also slowed the rate of dividend growth as a part of capital plan management. Read more here.

NEE — NEE reported results slightly above consensus and maintained its guidance through 2026. NEP reported results below our estimates but maintained its run rate for 2024 and extended the same ranges out to 2025. The overall strategy remains unchanged: NEE is focused on growing its backlog of renewable projects, executing at FPL and managing NEP's steady state operation and repowering opportunities. The Company is also looking at strategic options for addressing 2026 and beyond CFPS at NEP. Read more here.

AEP – Final order issued in Kentucky Power rate case

MVP – Legislators file letters of objection to MVP Southgate project at FERC

CA – CPUC issues rulemaking on timely energization per SB410

D/ISO-NE – Developers continue to evaluate Millstone data center colocation

- The proposed 300MW facility has reportedly faced new pushback from local groups, including the Concerned Citizens of Waterford
- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: Some interesting data points on the project progress in the link above as we continue to monitor what has been at times a halting process for interested developers to advance the project.

EXC/IL – ICC ALJ schedules MYP status meeting for 1/31

- "Notice is hereby given by the Administrative Law Judges that a status hearing in the above entitled matter will be held on January 31, 2024, at the hour of 10:00 A.M." - filing
- ComEd has also filed a request for clarification
- "This Motion for Clarification ("Motion") seeks clarity on the scope and implementation of the ComEd Rehearing Order so that the Commission's direction can be implemented fully and without needless dispute or delay and consistently with the Commission's directive that ComEd also submit, without duplication, a revised Grid Plan on March 13, 2024. Given the limited time available for rehearing, ComEd requests that clarification be provided on an expedited basis." - filing Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 13-Feb-2024 06:21 PM.

- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: Minor FYI as we continue to monitor any and all dockets/hearings/ALJ events for any indication that the ICC is open to a temporary revenue requirement plan ahead of the actual revised grid plan approval process – including potential modifications via the rehearing process.

Wind/New England – NE states delay OSW RFPs in light of Treasury tax credit guidance uncertainty

- The bid deadline has been moved from bids from January 31 until March 27 for CT, RI, and MA
- "Petitioners believe that revising the solicitation schedule for Section 83C Round IV to account for this ongoing process is crucial to encourage the most cost-effective bids for the benefit of Massachusetts ratepayers. In light of the current uncertainty around federal tax guidance, Petitioners are concerned that the existing solicitation schedule may produce bids that do not maximize the potential clean energy tax benefits of offshore wind and result in the lowest cost for Massachusetts ratepayers. Allowing additional time for bid submission would allow bidders to put forward proposals that incorporate with greater certainty, all available federal tax credits. The competitive structure in the Section 83C Round IV RFP encourages bidders to leverage all available state and federal tax credits to put forward proposals that offer the greatest benefits for Massachusetts ratepayers." – DPU filing
- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: That the states are moving together should come as little surprise following last fall's commentary that they would combine efforts – we remain on the lookout for the guidance as Treasury timelines continue to slip.

AWK/NJ – AWK files rate case in New Jersey

- "The petition seeks aggregate annualized incremental revenue of approximately $162 million, which is based on a proposed return on equity of 10.75% and a capital structure with an equity component of 56.30% and a debt component of 43.70% and is driven primarily by approximately $1.3 billion in capital investments made and to be made by New Jersey American Water through December 2024. The petition also proposes a revenue decoupling mechanism and seeks a deferral of certain production cost adjustments. To take effect, the petition must be approved by the NJBPU." - filing
- More HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: Heads up on the fresh filing. As a reminder NJ is AWK's second largest jurisdiction behind PA, where the company is also working through the early stages of a case. Lawmakers in the state recently passed legislation concerning certain rider treatment of treatment costs - more HERE.

NWE – Staff file recommendation in memo regarding Order on Reconsideration

- On Friday, Staff recommended approving the draft order as the Commission's order on reconsideration. If approved, the draft order would direct NWE to provide certain affordability data for the prior five years, and each subsequent year through its next general electric rate case.
- It would also require NorthWestern to submit a compliance filing explaining its plan to engage stakeholders beyond its statutory advisory group in a discussion about DSM programs and alternative regulatory mechanisms.
- Legal and regulatory staff will present the attached draft order to the Commission at its January 23, 2024 business meeting and will be available to answer questions from Commissioners.
- MT PSC release regarding the case's final order HERE
- Docket 2022.07.078

Guggenheim takeaway: For your awareness and calendar. Recall that in a prior daily write-up, we flagged that local media had reported that the chief legal counsel for the Montana Public Service Commission (PSC) indicated in December that the PSC intends to take up motions to reconsider the final order in NWE's recently resolved rate case (more HERE).

SR – Spire closes MoGas and Omega Pipeline transactions

- On Friday, SR announced that it completed its acquisition of MoGas Pipeline, an interstate natural gas pipeline, and Omega Pipeline, a connected gas distribution system, from CorEnergy Infrastructure Trust, Inc. (OTC:CORR).

- The transaction was valued at ~$175m.
- An announcement regarding the deal was first released on May 25, 2023.
- Company press release HERE

Guggenheim takeaway: We note that SR is guiding to a ~$7m-$13m increase in midstream earnings in FY24 over FY23, with its fiscal year having began on October 1, 2023. Salt Plains and a storage expansion are also contributing to the increased earnings power; however the 263-mile MoGas pipeline system is certainly a meaningful portion of the pickup as well.

AEP – Final order issued in Kentucky Power rate case

- After a $75m interim rate increase was implemented last week, the Kentucky PSC issued a final order authorizing the 9.75% negotiated ROE from the settlement, and granting Kentucky Power a $60m increase.
- Recall that AEP's subsidiary Kentucky Power had previously reached a settlement with the Kentucky AG, Kentucky Industrial Utility Customers, Walmart (WMT), Steel of West Virginia Kentucky; and a group comprised of consumer advocate groups, such as Kentuckians for the Commonwealth, the Mountain Association, Appalachian Law Center and Kentucky Resources Council.
- The settlement included an ROE of 9.75% on a rate base of $1.6bn and its negotiated rate increase of $75m (which was implemented on an interim basis) compares vs the $94m filed for by the utility (both figures include riders of $39m moving into base rates). The settling parties had also requested that the KY PSC approves securitization.
- Docket 2023-00159

Guggenheim takeaway: As we cover in more detail in our AEP downgrade in our 2024 Outlook (link HERE) today, we see Watchlist-ranked Kentucky as one of AEP's less constructive jurisdiction to conduct business in, and with rate cases as our top area of concern in 2024, we will be looking to see how the utility fares when it returns to Kentucky for another rate case this year.

MVP – Legislators file letters of objection to MVP Southgate project at FERC

- NC legislators filed a letter in opposition to MVP Southgate
- The prior MVP developer (ETRN) project update reduced the plan for a 31-mile pipeline (vs. 70 miles previously).
- The revised project would include fewer water crossings and would not require a new compressor station (which was previously challenged due to air permit denial).
- The anchor firm transport contract remains with PSNC (D) but is now 550 MMcf/d vs. 300 prior for a 20 year term.
- The targeted completion is June 2028, with capital spend in 2027.
- The headline project costs are $370M before AFUDC.
- FERC Docket: CP19-14

Guggenheim takeaway: MVP Southgate has faced multiple setbacks in the past as local permitting agencies denied requests. The developer stopped pursuing eminent domain claims to secure RoWs, but given the budget deal stipulations on MVP fast track, Southgate becomes a viable extension albeit at a much smaller scale.

CA – CPUC issues rulemaking on timely energization per SB410

- The CPUC issued an order instituting rulemaking on timely energization.
- The rulemaking seeks to implement certain provisions of Senate Bill 410 and Assembly Bill 50, which require the Commission to establish reasonable average and maximum target energization time periods, and a procedure for customers to report energization delays
- The testimony aligns with the recently passed SB410 bill which provides support for CA electric interconnections.
- The rate mechanism authorized under SB410 will facilitate and accelerate energization of new services in particular driven by EV adoption.
- The rate impact of this balancing account would be limited to 2.5% of distribution revenues as currently proposed.

Provided for the exclusive use of Daniel Whitehead at Exelon Corp on 13-Feb-2024 06:21 PM.

Guggenheim takeaway:SB410 helped codify the need for interconnection reform and provide a path for new regulatory mechanisms. While the recovery mechanisms are litigated separately by the utilities, this rulemaking focuses on targets for timely energization.

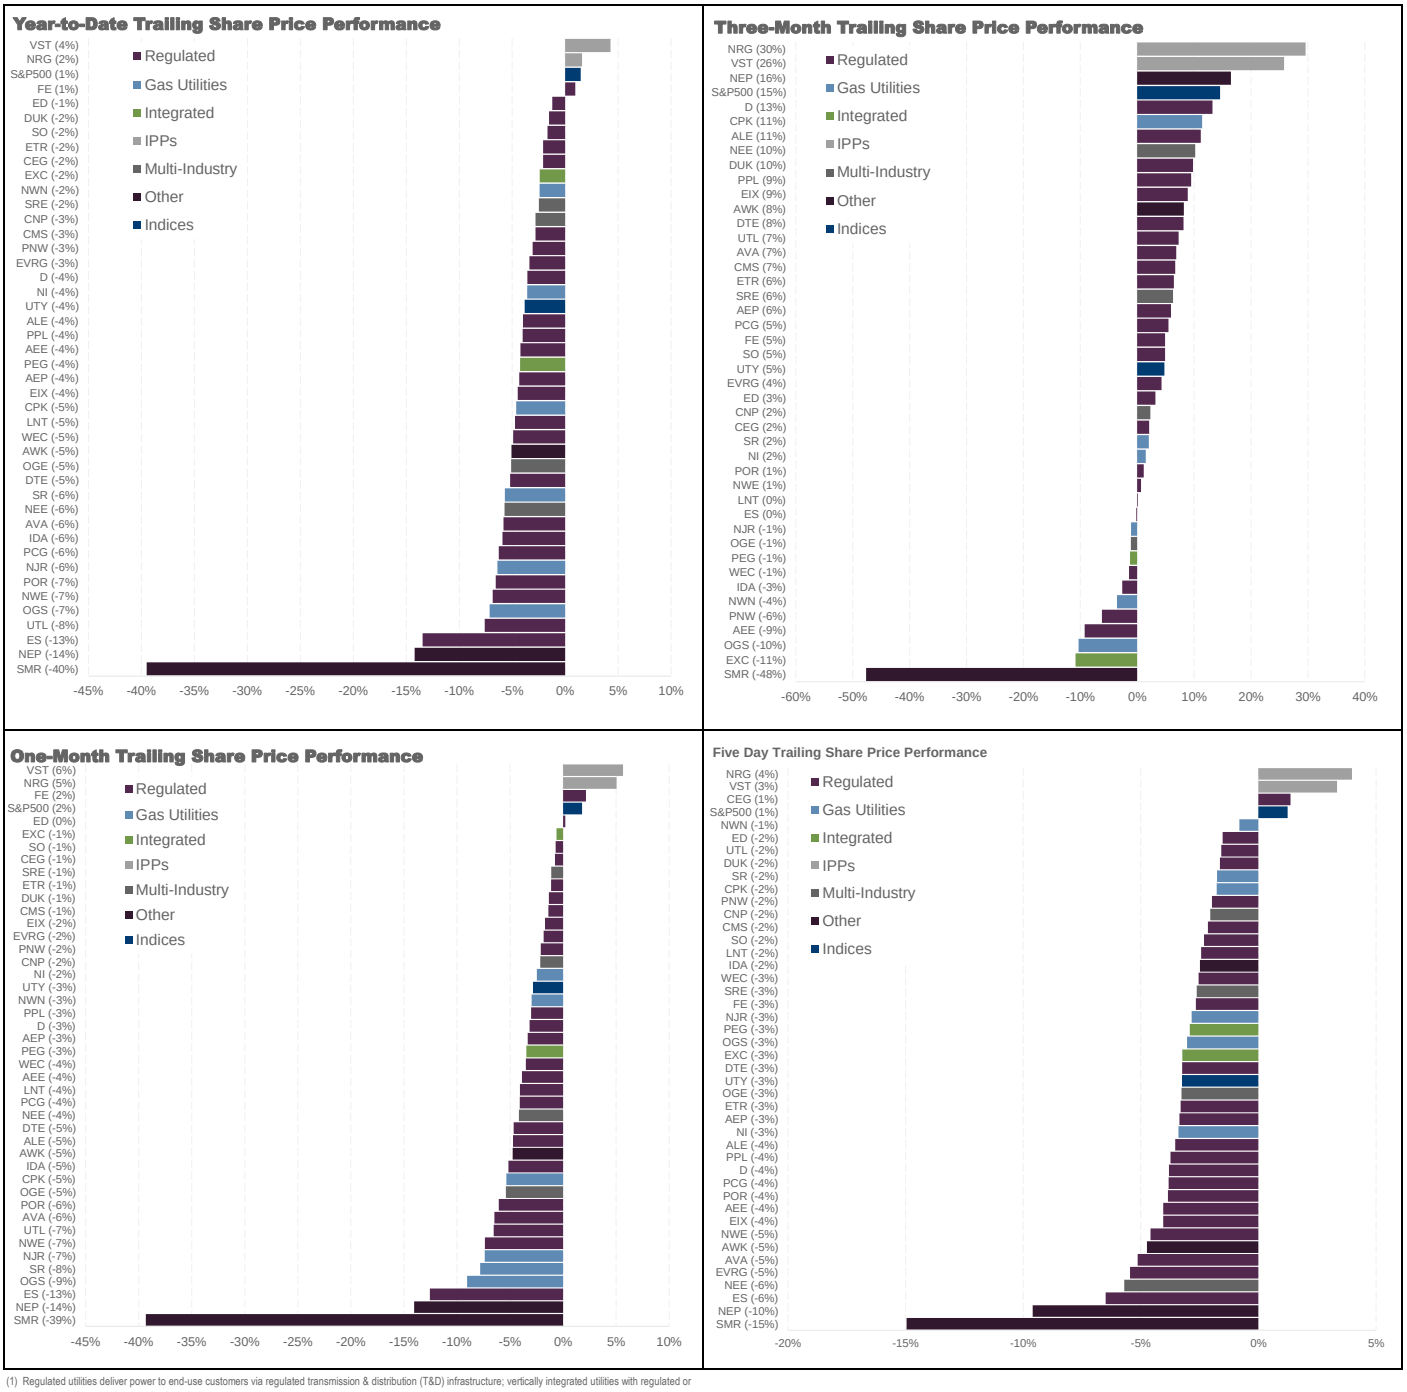
Share Price Performance (Year-to-Date, Three-Month, One-Month, & Five-Day Trailing)



(1) Regulated utilities deliver power to end-use customers via regulated transmission & distribution (T&D) infrastructure; vertically integrated utilities with regulated or mostly contracted generation are also included.

(2) Local Gas Distribution Companies (LDCs), as well as diversified utilities with a business mix largely comprised of gas infrastructure and related activities (i.e., LDC franchises, interstate pipelines, and/or other gas midstream activities).

(3) Integrated utilities own and operate regulated T&D franchises, as well as un-regulated power generation with commodity exposure.

(4) IPPs operate merchant (i.e., un-regulated, non-utility) power plants that compete to sell power in wholesale markets or through retail marketing businesses.

4Q23 earnings begin with NEE and XEL scheduled to report. This week, we are tracking proceedings in FE's WV electric rate case, POR's IRP and CEP, and EXC's electric rate case in MD. In other news, the KY PSC authorizes a $60M revenue increase for KY Power; AVA files electric and gas multi-year rate cases in WA; intervenors file testimony in AEP's MI electric rate case; the NY PSC approves a $1.2B clean-energy project; the VA hearing examiner issues a report in D's biennial review proceedings; the OH PUC Nominating Council plans to interview five candidates for the PUC open seat; the WI PSC undergoes a shake-up, and the MT supreme court rules in favor of a MT judge declaring HB 971 unconstitutional.

Earnings Calendar

4Q23 earnings commence: NEE and XEL are scheduled to report this week. Our recently published 2024 Outlook includes our thesis, expectations, and estimates for our coverage.

What to Watch For in the Near Term

We anticipate several regulatory filings and material announcements that can occur and move shares in the near term. Those include:

PNW — ALJ filing a ROO might come in early 2024: We expect the ALJ to issue a Recommended Opinion and Order in the near term (late-2023/early-2024). APS updated its request to a $376M net revenue increase in initial briefs, down from $460M in its original request, while maintaining the 10.25% ROE and 51.93% equity layer. In reply briefs, Staff supported the system reliability benefit (SRB) mechanism as modified in PNW's initial briefs, as long as Staff is involved earlier in the process and can review all projects during future rate case proceedings. PNW addressed several concerns in the SRB in its initial brief filing after spending more time discussing the idea with intervenors and stakeholders. The SRB proposes to track capital and derisk some projects that need to reliably serve load while reducing the number of rate cases PNW files and the regulatory lag. Staff also supported the continuation of the fixed-cost recovery mechanism and maintained its 9.68% ROE recommendation. As a reminder, new rates are expected to go into effect the first of the month following an ACC order, likely at some point in 1Q24.

D — Conclusion of strategic review by early 2024: D expects to complete the strategic review by early 2024, and does not expect further slippage to that timeline. Following the conclusion of the review, D plans to hold an investor day, when it will provide 2025 earnings and long-term guidance. D has continued to make significant progress on its strategic review, which has already resulted in the Cove Point and gas utilities sales. We note that SB 1477 was not implemented into VA law when D first announced the strategic review, and therefore the review has been extended to allow time for D to determine the proper path forward regarding the decision to include an equity partner into CVOW.

Regulatory Calendar

FE — Hearings in FE's WV electric rate case are set to begin on January 24: Parties are engaged in settlement discussions leading up to the hearings. Monongahela Power and the Potomac Edison Co. filed a combined electric rate case with the WV PSC seeking a $207M revenue increase, premised on a 10.85% ROE and 49.18% equity. The main drivers of the request include the recovery of infrastructure investments and the recovery of storm costs. FE also seeks depreciation changes to its WV-generating plants. This compares to Staff's recommendation for a $81M (net $55M) revenue increase, including a $104M revenue increase for Mon Power and a $24M revenue decrease for PE. Staff's recommendation is premised on equity layers for Mon Power and PE of 44.32% and 47.9684%, respectively, while using a 9.44% ROE for both. A WV PSC final decision is expected in 1Q24.

POR — An acknowledgement meeting on POR's Clean Energy Plan and IRP is scheduled for January 25: POR filed its reply comments requesting that the PUC acknowledge the CEP with the understanding that POR will continue to refine its modeling capability through the iterative process of filing subsequent CEPs, similar to the IRP process. POR also noted that the PUC could attach specific conditions along with the acknowledgment of the CEP. POR believes the iterative process would be more productive than requiring POR to refile a new CEP on a compressed timeline. As a reminder, the Staff's final report recommended that the PUC acknowledge POR's IRP, with modifications, but decline to acknowledge the CEP. Staff advised POR to revise and resubmit its CEP before its 2025 IRP to incorporate its hourly emissions analysis results into the preferred portfolio. Regarding the IRP, Staff recommended several modifications, including pursuing a broader range of CBRE procurement actions and requiring POR to file a proposal for a long lead time resource RFI before issuing its next RFP. This is POR's first CEP/IRP filing since the enactment of HB 2021.

EXC — Rebuttal testimony in PEPCo's MD electric rate case is due on January 26: Staff filed testimony recommending a cumulative $132M revenue increase, premised on a 9.55% ROE and 50.5% equity. This compares to PEPCo's request (Docket: 9702) for a cumulative net increase of $214M, premised on a 10.5% ROE and 50.5% equity (net $74M revenue increase in 2024, $60M each in 2025 and 2026, and a $20M revenue increase in April 2027-December 2027). In addition to the lower ROE, an adjustment to depreciation expenses to eliminate depreciation on disallowed rate base items contributed to the delta. Staff also recommended rates remain flat in 2027, with a true-up to address any shortfall from April 1, 2027, to December 31, 2027. The OPC recommended the PSC only authorize a single-year increase. The OPC proposed the same in EXC's BGE rate case, but the PSC denied the OPC's recommendation in the BGE case. However, the PSC noted it will investigate if continuing the multi-year plan process makes sense. Evidentiary hearings are set to begin in March 2024 followed by a final order in June 2024. Rates will be retroactive to April 1, 2024.

Recent Developments for Companies Under Our Coverage

From our midweek: Intervenors file testimony in PEPCo's DC electric rate case for a traditional test-year and multiyear plan; AVA submits a notice of intent to file electric and gas rate cases in WA; the SD PUC requests XEL to reconsider its decision to retire ~2.7 GW of coal generation; and SC introduces a new energy regulation bill.

AEP — KY PSC lowers revenue increase in final order in KY Power's electric rate case: The KY PSC issued a final order authorizing a $60M revenue increase. The final authorization compares to a settlement agreeing to a $75M revenue increase. The delta is primarily driven by the PSC's decision to accept only the $122M test year amount for PJM transmission tariff expenses, excluding ~$14M of test year adjustments from rates. Other marginal adjustments included removing remarketing costs from long-term debt, incentive compensation, and actual rate case expenses. The PSC also denied establishing a distribution reliability rider (DRR), which was agreed to in the settlement. The PSC adopted the agreed-upon 9.75% ROE and previously issued an order allowing AEP to securitize the regulatory assets identified in the application, which AEP initially recognized ~$450M of assets. Parties to the settlement included Kentucky Industrial Utility Customers, Walmart, and others. No parties opposed the settlement. AEP implemented interim rates on January 1, 2024, and will need to refund customers for its overcollections.

AVA — AVA files two-year electric and gas rate cases with the WA UTC: AVA filed rate cases in WA seeking to increase electric and gas revenues by $131M and $22M, respectively. The two-year proposals are premised on a 10.4% ROE and 48.5% equity layer. If approved, new rates would go into effect in December 2024 ($77M electric, $17M gas), with a step up in December 2025 ($54M electric, $5M gas). The main drivers of the filing include the recovery of O&M costs and interest since its last rate case. As a reminder, AVA reached a two-year settlement in its 2022 WA GRC prior to the impacts of higher borrowing costs and inflationary pressures being fully understood, resulting in significant regulatory lag in 2023/2024. Additionally, AVA is seeking to recover ongoing investments, including investments in several of AVA's hydroelectric projects, its Wildfire Resiliency Plan, and power supply costs. The Pacific Northwest has experienced significant volatility in power markets during periods of supply crunches. As a result, AVA seeks to update the Energy Recovery Mechanism to remove the current deadbands and switch to a 95% customer and 5% company sharing level applied to the difference between actual and authorized power supply costs. The proposed step-up in 2025 also reflects higher power costs as AVA seeks to replace Colstrip. Lower O&M expenses and capital associated with the plant will partially offset the higher power costs. AVA is selling its 15% stake in the plant at the end of 2025 to comply with CETA, which does not allow utilities to serve WA customers with coal-fired generation. The rate cases are AVA's second MYRPs in WA, which makes up ~60% of the Company's business. New rates are set to go into effect on December 21, 2024.

AEP — Intervenors file testimony in AEP's MI electric rate case: The MI PSC Staff recommend an $18M revenue increase, premised on a 9.9% ROE and 50.62% equity. The Staff made $33M in adjustments to the rate base, resulting in a $1.2B rate base. The Office of the Attorney General recommended a $3M revenue increase, premised on a 9.8% ROE and 48% equity. The Staff and OAG's recommendations compare to AEP's $34M request, premised on a 10.5% ROE and 50.6% equity. AEP also requested a 2024 forecasted test year and a $1.3B rate base. The delta between Staff and AEP can largely be attributed to the lower ROE and adjustments to net operating income. Staff's higher net operating income reflects adjustments to sales revenues, fuel, purchase power expenses, and lower O&M and depreciation. The OAG recommended additional adjustments to the rate base, sales revenues, and O&M, resulting in a significantly lower revenue deficiency calculation. AEP will file rebuttal testimony on February 9. The PSC is expected to issue a final order in July, followed by rates going into effect shortly after.

ED — NY PSC approves $1.2B clean-energy project: The NY PSC authorized ED to build and recover the costs of the proposed Reliability Clean City – Idlewild project. The $1.2B project is expected to enter service in May 2028 and will create two new substations to accommodate new renewable energy sources and increased demand. The project is needed to meet NYS's Climate Leadership and Community Protection Act (CLCPA) goals, including delivering 70% renewable power by 2030 and 100% renewables by 2040. ED filed a petition seeking authorization and cost recovery of Idlewild shortly after a final order in its multi-year rate case. The rate case authorized ED to file the permit. The $1.2B investment is included in the Company's $14.4B three-year capital plan but ED has not incorporated the project into its long-term EPS growth rate. ED expects to issue updated guidance along with 2023 earnings.

D — Hearing Examiners issues a report in D's VA biennial review: The Hearing Examiner issued a report recommending several modifications to the settlement, including a lower ROR of 6.95% vs. the 7.05% agreed-upon ROR in the settlement, to reflect D's actual capital structure at the end of 2022. The Hearing Examiner also agreed that D earned a 9.05% ROE for the 2021-2022 test years, resulting in no further actions. If the SCC allows D to recover ~$45M of storm cost deferrals, the Hearing Examiner does not believe D should place the unamortized balance into the rate base. If the case is fully litigated due to either the SCC's decision or the withdrawal of the settling parties, the Hearing Examiner issued further analysis calculating a $21M revenue sufficiency in 2024 and a $4M revenue deficiency in 2025. As a reminder, the Staff, the Office of the Attorney General, and others reached a settlement agreeing to no change to base rates for 2024-2025. The parties also agreed that earnings were within the authorized band for 2021-2022. D agreed to issue $15M in bill credits by September 30, 2024. D's initial filing provided a forward-looking, rate-making analysis demonstrating a $26M revenue deficiency in 2024 and an incremental $25M in 2025. However, since the legislation also says that the fold-in of $350M in rider revenue (Rider R – Bear Garden, Rider S – Virginia City, Rider W – Warren County) into base rates cannot serve as a basis for a rate increase, D did not propose any incremental rates in this proceeding. D made the biennial rate filing in pursuance of new legislation. The parties have until February 1 to file comments on or objections to the proposed settlement, followed by the SCC issuing a final decision by February 28. New rates are expected to go into effect April 1.

AEP, DUK, FE — OH PUC Nominating Council set to interview five candidates for PUC seat on January 25: The OH PUC is preparing to interview five candidates for Chair Jenifer French's seat, which will open at the end of the term on April 10. The set of interviewees includes the incumbent Jenifer French, who will be joined by Michael Davala (R), Michael Hines (D), Ronald Salatin (R), and Stephen Serraino (I). Ohio Governor DeWine appointed French to the commission and subsequently to her role as chair in March 2021. The 12-member PUC Nominating Council will send a four-candidate list to Governor DeWine, who will have 30 days to pick a new commissioner. Currently, we are tracking FE's ESP and Grid Mod II proceedings. The utility is also preparing to file its rate case in May.

WEC, XEL — WI governor appoints new commissioner to PSC following shake-up: The WI PSC has undergone some changes in recent weeks following Chair Valcq's decision to resign from her role effective February 2 and the WI State senate's rejection of the appointed Tyler Huebner. In response, Governor Evers appointed Kristy Nieto to serve the remaining one -year of Chair Rebecca Valcq's term. The move becomes effective February 2. Ms. Nieto will join Summer Strand. The governor appointed Strand to a six-year term in March 2023 and received senate confirmation last week. The rejection of Tyler Huebner's appointment, who has been serving since being appointed in March 2020, leaves a vacant seat on the three-member commission. The governor must appoint a new commissioner to serve a term that extends through March 2027. After concluding its limited reopener proceedings, WEC is not scheduled to file a new rate case before 2025.

NWE — Supreme Court rules in favor of MT judge declaring HB 971 unconstitutional, setting the stage for trial: The MT Supreme Court issued a ruling rejecting the state's efforts to suspend Montana District Court Judge Kathy Seeley's ruling declaring HB 971 unconstitutional. The supreme court did not believe Judge Seeley acted arbitrarily or exceeded the bounds of reason when determining that children have a constitutional right to a clean and healthful environment and that prohibiting the analysis of GHG emissions will contribute to climate change, consequently violating children's rights. Following the supreme court's decision, the Held v. Montana case (DA-23-0575) is now set to begin trial in February. The ruling is the latest installment in the saga regarding the 175 MW Yellowstone County Generating Station. NWE expects the plant to enter service before the end of 3Q24. After a roughly two-month delay, NWE resumed construction on the project in June after a temporary stay on construction was lifted following the passage of HB 971, prohibiting MT environmental reviews from considering GHG or climate impacts unless the U.S. Congress amends the Clean Air Act. The bill allows the evaluation of GHGs if it is required under federal law or if congress amends the Clean Air Act to include carbon dioxide as a regulated pollutant.

We update estimates for most stocks within our Utilities coverage ahead of 4Q2023 results. We expect this quarter to contain a number of meaningful updates as utilities roll forward their capital plans and update long term guidance/growth rates. Commentary around financing will also be in focus for investors, as we get more details around how each company plans to fund growth. We could also see further clarity on the load growth that companies are seeing over the coming years. We remain positive on the utilities space going into 2024 and expect an inflection in capex in the coming years, and believe this on top of lower interest rates will improve sentiment around the space.

For the quarter, we highlight Buy rated NEE as where we are most above consensus heading into results as FPL continues to deliver and new investments drive growth at NEER, along with Buy rated XEL, where we expect the company to raise capital spending guidance on the back of the Colorado alternative resource plan, which should be supportive for earnings going forward. SO remains our top idea (Buy, on CL), where we anticipate a meaningful capex raise from the company, and potentially more clarity on its IRP at Georgia Power as well as load growth expectations. We also continue to anticipate that Vogtle Unit 4 will come into service by the end of 1Q2024, and the company will be able to provide an update on progress when the earnings call occurs in mid February.

Where we see the most upside to consensus around 4Q23 results. We are 17% above consensus for NEE for 4Q2023 earnings. While we could see some downside risk to our earnings as recent commentary from the company indicates that the Supply and Trading business could return to its typical run rate this quarter, and we also expect weakness in wind resource this quarter relative to the average, we ultimately still see upside to consensus estimates for 4Q. Our view on FPL remains the same and we believe the utility will continue to hit the top end of its authorized RoE by utilizing its surplus depreciation reserve. Outside of the quarterly results, we believe investors will remain focused on the backlog additions at NEER, especially following the record additions last quarter. Investors will also be looking for updates on the FEC investigation at FPL, as the original timeline of 12 to 18 months would imply a resolution in early 2024. We continue to view NEE favorably given its renewable exposure and premium regulated utility, and believe that its scale and strong track record give it a competitive advantage over others. Our $72 target price implies a total return of 22%.

Where we see the most downside to consensus around 4Q23 results. We are 4% below consensus for DUK for 4Q2023 earnings. This is largely driven by somewhat mild weather as well as higher O&M expense than company guidance for the year. DUK has had a number of positive regulatory outcomes recently, and we believe its long term growth story is appealing. Despite this we see short term challenges for the company, primarily its constrained balance sheet, which we believe will remain a primary topic of focus for investors. Investors will likely also look for updates on the Carolinas IRP, as well as the upcoming Florida rate case. The IRP could provide meaningful upside to DUK's estimates, and a decision is anticipated in the first half of the year. We currently see better value elsewhere in our coverage, with our target price of $101 implying a total return of 7% vs the coverage average of 17%.

Key updates we are watching for on 4Q calls. Given most companies narrowed 2023 earnings guidance ranges on the 3Q calls, we expect less focus on results themselves this quarter. That said, we expect updated capital plans, financing outlooks, and updates on regulatory activity as well as load growth to be more in focus. We expect meaningful capex raises from SRE and XEL, and also see upside to SO's current plan. In addition to this we believe NEE's commentary around renewable growth, the FEC investigation, and financing will be key items to monitor. SO will be able to provide updated commentary on Vogtle roughly a month out from when the last Unit is expected to come online, which could be a catalyst for the stock. We believe EXC's commentary on its future growth and how it expects to proceed in Illinois is important to monitor as well.

NextEra Energy (NEE, Buy)

Our most recent views

We continue to view NEE as a premium growth story and view its significant renewable exposure positively. NEE's regulated utility FPL remains one of the well positioned versus peers, in our view, and we do not expect the regulatory environment in Florida to materially degrade in the near term. We believe NEE has optionality to finance the growth at its NEER business, despite investor concerns about Basel III implications for tax equity. Our GS macro colleagues have forecast five rate cuts this year beginning in March, and we believe a lower rate environment will be a tailwind for NEE.

Quarterly outlook

Our estimates for NEE come in at $0.59, vs consensus at $0.50. We expect FPL to have a strong quarter, as it can deploy its amortization reserve to meet its targeted RoE level. At the NEER segment, we believe weakness in Supply and Trading and lower wind resource generation could lead to lower EPS than expected this quarter. However, we expect NEER's new investments to be up QoQ. We expect investors will be focused on 1) the resolution of the ongoing FTC investigation, 2) further commentary on tax equity financing, and 3) NEE's view on the latest hydrogen tax credit guidance.

Valuation & Key Risks

We are Buy rated on NEE. We value NEE with a SOTP, applying a 5x premium to its Florida based utility given its strong regulatory jurisdiction. We apply a 12x EV/EBITDA multiple to its NEER segment, given its scale advantage and consistent execution over the years. Our 12-month target price of $72, implies a 22% total return vs the average of 17% for our coverage group. Key risks for NEE include the 1) a more negative regulatory landscape, 2) a slowdown in renewable demand, 3) impact of higher interest rates when interest rate hedges begin to roll off.

American Electric Power (AEP, Buy)

Our most recent views

We continue to view AEP favorably and believe that its exposure to transmission and renewable spend will drive outperformance over the long run. Although the West Virginia fuel securitization came in lower than requested, the company does not expect financing plans to be impacted. AEP was also recently granted securitization in Kentucky that it believes will mostly offset the West Virginia decision. AEP has ramped up its investment into renewables in recent years which we view favorably, as this will replace coal generation which is significantly higher cost to maintain. We believe that AEP's balance sheet will improve over the next year, as outlined in their FFO/debt walk, and believe this will improve sentiment around the stock.

Quarterly outlook

Our 4Q2023 estimate is at $1.26 vs consensus at $1.28 for the quarter. We do not make any adjustments to our model, and expect the quarter to come in slightly below the midpoint of AEP's 2023 guidance range of $5.24-$5.34 primarily due to mild weather for the quarter. We expect the quarter to be relatively light for updates as the company already raised its capital plan and reiterated its growth rate at EEI, but expect a few updates on regulatory items and previously announced asset sale processes to monitor in 2024.

Valuation & Key Risks

We are Buy rated on AEP. Our 12-month, SOTP-based price target is $99. Key risks relate to lower than expected ownership of renewable RFPs, financing needs, failure to make progress on closing the ROE gap at the VIU utilities, and cost management.

Southern Company (SO, Buy, CL)

Our most recent views

SO remains our top idea in the space, and we expect 2024 to be an inflection point for the utility. We expect that Vogtle Unit 4 will be brought in-service in 1Q2024, completing a project that was impacted by delays and cost overruns. We believe that SO's core business is strong and somewhat underappreciated by investors, as it has one of the better balance sheets in the space and operates in favorable jurisdictions. On top of these core competencies, SO recently laid out a significant resource plan at its largest subsidiary Georgia Power, which could lead to a material amount of incremental spend if approved. We believe that once Vogtle is complete SO will continue to rerate to its historical 2x premium, and we believe risk is skewed to the upside for SO going forward.

Quarterly outlook

Our EPS comes in at $0.62 for the quarter which is in-line with consensus at $0.62. Our model continues to assume that Vogtle Unit 4 comes online by the end of 1Q2024, and we now embed the impact of the prudency review settlement that allows for roughly $7.562 bn of Vogtle construction costs to be added to rate base. We additionally adjust our model for a number of items including 1) tax impacts in the near term, 2) O&M expense, 3) interest expense. Outside of results, we expect investors to look for updates on Vogtle construction progress as well as any commentary around the Georgia Power IRP and load growth outlook.

Valuation & Key Risks

We are Buy rated on SO with a 12-month PT of $82, which we derive by applying an unchanged 18x multiple on 2025E EPS. Key risks include: 1) execution risk around Vogtle, 2) slower than anticipated rate base/earnings growth, 3) unfavorable Vogtle

Exelon (EXC, Sell)

Our most recent views

We remain concerned over the regulatory environment at EXC's largest segment ComEd with the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) authorizing an 8.905% ROE vs the company ask of 10.5%. This marks a significant departure from national average ROEs of 9.55% for electric utilities in 2023 per RRA. The company filed for a rehearing request earlier this month, where most key financial items were denied, except the revenue requirement for 2023 which it expects to get clarity on by the end of 1H24. We look for more clarity on the impacts of the ComEd decision on the earnings outlook for EXC on the 4Q call, where our 2025 estimates are currently 3% below FactSet consensus. We see potential for continued regulatory uncertainty to remain an overhang on EXC until we get clarity on the capex and earnings outlook at ComEd.

Quarterly outlook

We update our model to reflect the recent regulatory updates at BGE and ACE while we wait for further clarity on ComEd's rate case to fully reflect changes to go forward estimates at the utility. Our 4Q23 estimates remain at $0.58 v/s FactSet consensus at $0.58 and our FY2023 estimate at $2.36 prior which is within EXC's guidance range of $2.32-$2.40. Outside of results, we expect investors to be most interested in (a) updates on ComEd, (b) the latest capital spending outlook as EXC rolls forward its capital plan, (c) cost management, and (d) financing commentary.

Valuation & Key Risks

We are Sell rated on EXC. We apply an unchanged 15x P/E multiple (vs our baseline multiple of 16x) to our 2025 EPS estimate to derive a 12-month $39 PT. Our 2023-2025 EPS changes to $2.36/$2.43/$2.57 compared to $2.36/$2.48/$2.63 previously. Key risks for EXC include: 1) favorable rate case outcomes, 2) cost management, 3) balance sheet cushion relative to downgrade threshold appeals to investors seeking a defensive name, and 4) incremental capex opportunities beyond the base level T&D spend.

Xcel Energy (XEL, Buy)

Our most recent views

Although the Colorado Alternative Portfolio's ~$4.8 bn generation capex estimate came in below the original preferred plan for XEL, we remain optimistic on XEL given the incremental capex should take the total capital plan from 2024 to 2028 to ~$39 bn from $34 bn currently. We see further upside from additional investments that may come at SPS in New Mexico as the company expects to build 5-10 GW of new generation which along with other resource plans could provide up to $5 bn - $20 bn capex opportunity not in the company's current estimates. With a strong balance sheet and execution strength of the management, we remain Buy rated and expect 25% total return vs 17% total return of our coverage.

Quarterly outlook

Our 4Q23/2023 EPS estimate is unchanged at $0.85/$3.36, which is in line with FactSet consensus of $0.85/$3.36. Outside of results, we expect investors to be focused on (a) commentary around further capexupside, and (b) updates on the Marshall fire.

Valuation & Key Risks

We are Buy rated on XEL. We apply a 19x multiple on 2025 earnings, representing a 3x premium to our baseline multiple to account for attractive leverage to renewables and transmission, as well as above average growth versus peer and a strong track record of execution. Our 12-month price target remains $74 implying a ~25% total return. Key risks to our positive view include 1) negative rate case outcomes, 2) slower than expected renewable transition, 3) failure to close gap between earned vs authorized

Duke Energy (DUK, Neutral)

Our most recent views

We continue to view DUK as an attractive longer term growth story that faces some challenges and limited catalysts in the near term. DUK has received constructive outcomes in regulatory proceedings in the back half of 2023, most notably the favorable final order it received for its DEC North Carolina rate case. The authorized RoE of 10% and the revenue increase of $768mn over the next 3 years both came in above our expectations. Despite the recent positives, we believe DUK's constrained balance sheet limits near term growth. DUK last reported that it expects a 13%-14% FFO/debt level by the end of 2023 vs its downgrade threshold of 13%, although we note there is a significant amount of deferred fuel weighing on the FFO/debt.

Quarterly outlook

Our estimates for 4Q2023 comes in at $1.48, which compares to consensus at $1.55. We expect a significant amount of O&M savings this quarter YoY, both from its original cost cutting initiative and its business agility cost savings, though slightly lower than guidance. We also anticipate weather will be a slight headwind this quarter. We expect investors will be focused on 1) DUK's balance sheet, 2) upcoming regulatory decisions, 3) long term O&M expectations.

Valuation & Key Risks

We remain Neutral rated on DUK. We value DUK using a P/E methodology, now applying a 16x multiple (up from 15.5x) due to the favorable regulatory outcomes that it has received recently, to our 2025 EPS. Our 12 month target price moves up to $101 on the back of the higher multiple and estimates and implies a total return of 7%, vs the average of 17% for our coverage group. Key risks for DUK include 1) regulatory

Public Service Enterprise Group (PEG, Neutral)

Our most recent views

We remain Neutral rated on PEG and believe that although its business model has long term value, the company faces near term challenges. PEG recently entered into its first distribution rate case in 5 years and requested an RoE of 10.4% and a rate increase of $826mn, which would result in a 9% bill increase. We believe this rate case does create a regulatory overhang for PEG given it only operates in one state, but the fact that half of its rate base in regulated by FERC does somewhat offset this risk. We do view PEG's merchant nuclear fleet favorably over the long run, as it can fund growth and capex at its regulated segment. Despite the strength of this business mix, we see better value elsewhere in our coverage.

Quarterly outlook

Our quarterly estimates remains at $0.53 for the quarter which puts us in-line with consensus at $0.53. We adjust our model to reflect the capex update PEG rolled in late 2023, that included incremental capex from energy efficiency. Our total target price implies a total return on 17% vs our coverage average of 17%. We expect investors to be focused on PEG's recently filed rate case as well as any updates on the Nuclear PTC on the conference call.

Valuation & Key Risks

We are Neutral rated on PEG, with a 12 month SOTP based price target of $67. Key risks for PEG include 1) 2024 distribution rate case uncertainty, 2) power price volatility in the near term that could impact collateral postings around 2023/2024 hedges; 3) delays in nuclear PTC guidance, 4) upside to capital spending plans, 5) cost management.

Consolidated Edison (ED, Sell)

Our most recent views

We remain cautious on ED largely given outperformance vs. the XLU over the last 12 months by ~8% where shares trade at 16.4x P/E on our 2025 numbers versus our coverage at 14.8x. Post the resolution of the CECONY rate case, we see limited drivers of outperformance coupled with, in our view, a more challenging operating environment in New York. Despite all of that, we recognize ED's balance sheet strength as it has paid off all parent level debt in 2023, a key investor concern for utilities in the higher rate environment.

Quarterly outlook

Our 4Q23 EPS remains at $0.96 which compares to FactSet consensus at $0.96. We make minor changes to the O&M and cadence of revenue increases owing to the CECONY rate cases, which broadly offset each other. Outside of results, the items that we expect investors to be focused on are (a) management commentary on cost management, and (b) potential upside to capex plans given ED's clean energy transition.

Valuation & Key Risks

We are Sell rated on ED. We derive our unchanged $89 12-month price target using a 16x P/E multiple (in line with our baseline multiple of 16x) on our 2025 EPS estimates, reflecting a 1% total return versus 17% for our coverage. Key risks for ED include: 1) premium valuation persisting, and 2) stronger than expected execution.

Quarterly outlook

Our 4Q23 EPS estimate changes to $0.62 from $0.65 earlier, as compared to FactSet consensus at $0.39. We note our estimate includes earnings from the Gas LDC segment while guidance excludes it. We note that the Gas LDC segment accounts for $0.27 in our model. GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our coverage universe) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Quantum is Goldman Sachs' proprietary database providing access to detailed financial statement histories, forecasts and ratios. It can be used for in-depth analysis of a single company, or to make comparisons between companies in different sectors and markets.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are not provided or have been suspended pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, when the company is an early-stage biotechnology company, and in certain other circumstances. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company. Not Available or Not Applicable (NA). The information is not available for display or is not applicable. Not Meaningful (NM). The information is not meaningful and is therefore excluded.

4Q23 Previews: D & EXC

Please find below our thoughts on D and EXC into the quarter:

- D: No change in business review messaging or timeline, awaiting CVOW strategic partner. Consistent with messaging at EEI, finding a strategic partner for CVOW remains the last step in the business review. We expect investor scrutiny of potential terms and relative line of sight to continue growing in the face of the lack of a partner announcement and given ES's recent OSW challenges. Recent talking points have described the process of securing a CVOW partner as in advanced stages (no change from 3Q) and the project's construction as on time and on budget. While the company continues to maintain that it will announce a deal in early 2024, it is currently unclear whether the review will conclude before or after D's February 22 call. Here, we see the passage of time driving some skepticism amid a market backdrop not yet willing to underwrite a favorable outcome, despite improving sentiment last fall around EEI. D previously highlighted prospective partner qualities across price, financing ability, certainty to close, and assumption of pro-rata cost share, with the last point supportive of an initial reimbursement of pro-rata expenses to date plus meeting capital calls going forward that should benefit credit metrics (moderating the capital profile; reducing large project exposure). We anticipate that absent a deal announcement, this emphasis will remain core to D's CVOW transaction message on the quarter. With the business review outstanding, other 4Q topics could include the unopposed VA biennial review settlement (final order expected in March 2024), $2.6bn of emerging PJM transmission projects, and PJM's latest estimated 10-year local load growth CAGR increase to 5.6% due to continued data center investments.
- EXC: All eyes on 2024 outlook and capex refresh, with lingering uncertainty over ComEd considerations. Following the ICC's disappointing ComEd rate order last month, 4Q23 resonates as a key stage for EXC to preliminarily quantify ComEd earnings power, capex cuts, and general EPS growth sensitivities (ahead of the grid plan refiling) through the company's upcoming long-term outlook refresh. While final grid plan considerations remain an open question, we expect management to guide conservatively (likely anchoring around the ICC's December metrics), while framing ongoing sensitivities as earnings upside. Here, our $2.36 2024 EPS estimate reflects earning on YE22 ComEd electric distribution rate base, as it is unclear that EXC will match our expectation of AEE booking to YE23 rate base. While our estimates also contemplate 20-30% reductions in ComEd's capex for 2024-2026, we suspect initial plan cuts could exceed these levels until the company receives long-term system investment clarity from the ICC. Also topical is a refreshed growth rate, where our estimates imply support for a 6-8% CAGR, albeit rebased lower off reduced 2024 earnings power (relative to EXC's prior outlook). That said, the CAGR debate screens as a broader issue that may ultimately factor in optics and other considerations in reaction to the IL order. As highlighted in our recent downgrade note, the IL backdrop appears complex across disappointing electric ROEs, grid plan rejection despite an extensive stakeholder process, and seemingly conflicting outcomes between energy transition-focused policies versus meaningful impacts to the utilities driving a significant chunk of this transition. We expect the call could generate questions on capital reallocation, particularly on EXC's capacity to redirect spend from ComEd distribution to transmission (given higher ROEs), as well as financing considerations (should equity needs land lighter after investment changes) and FFO/Debt implications. Overall, the ICC's limited re-hearing stands as an important 1H24 milestone, with an expected decision by June, and additional IL clarity may begin to emerge over 2H24. Outside of IL, we look for incremental updates on Pepco MD, Pepco DC, and DPL's pending regulatory proceedings. On the quarter, we forecast adjusted earnings per share of $0.59, up +16c YoY from $0.43 in 4Q22, for full year results of $2.37 versus EXC's $2.32-2.40 guidance range.

Investment Thesis, Valuation and Risks

Dominion Energy Inc (Neutral; Price Target: $51.00)

Investment Thesis

We look favorably upon D's regulated renewables-fueled growth. A longer-term VA clean energy transition should underpin multi-decade D regulated growth. However, in conjunction with 3Q22 earnings, Dominion launched a top-to-bottom business review that will focus on value-maximizing strategic business actions. Following the LDC and Cove Point sales, finding a strategic partner for CVOW remains the last step in the business review before the long-awaited 4Q23/1Q24 Analyst Day update. While D has offered a spirited defense of the OSW project's cost estimates and time lines, headwinds in the broader offshore wind industry continue to drive risk, in our view. Altogether, we still await more clarity on D's future outlook and remain on the sidelines.

Valuation

We maintain our Dec 2024 price target of $51, derived using a sum-of-the-parts valuation. We value Dominion's utilities at 15.5x our 2025 EPS estimates, in line with regulated peers. Our price target factors in the aforementioned uncertainty, impacts from placeholder asset sales now incorporated into estimates, and a conservative re-evaluation of SOTP inputs to assume lower contracted assets value.

Risks to Rating and Price Target

- The strategic review could drive outcomes better or worse than we expect, driving upside and downside risk.
- The regulatory construct in Virginia could develop better or worse than we expect, driving upside and downside risk.
- Regulated electric and gas utilities are subject to strict federal and state regulation, including determinations of allowed revenues. Any change to the regulations may cause future earnings to differ materially from current expectations.
- The company operates nuclear power plants, exposing it to strict regulatory requirements regarding the operation and maintenance of plants. Changes to these requirements could result in a change to our earnings expectations.

Investment Thesis, Valuation and Risks

Exelon Corp. (Neutral; Price Target: $41.00)

Investment Thesis

We remain Neutral on Exelon, following ComEd's unsupportive rate order, which we see both challenging the utility's growth profile (relative to peers at similar valuations) and underpinning a negative inflection point for IL's increasingly challenged regulatory environment. Here, ComEd's authorized 8.905% ROE stands well below both the ALJ's 9.28% recommendation and national averages. While the recent sell-off has widened EXC's discount (net of lower earnings for the prospective IL ROE and capex hits), we do not see any convincing upside cases, particularly as, 1) IL's MYP structure locks in ComEd's rates for the next four years, 2) any ultimate appeal could span 2024+, and 3) ComEd's rate base growth now merits caution, as uncertainty looms over potential distribution capex revisions in the grid plan refiling. Lastly, EXC's relatively low FFO/debt serves as yet another headwind to valuation upside, now exacerbated by these IL changes.

Valuation

We maintain our Dec 2024 price target of $41/share based on an SOTP valuation using our 2024 estimates. We use an average 15.5x P/E multiple for the regulated utility and corporate business segments, in line with peers.

Risks to Rating and Price Target

- Regulated electric and gas utilities are subject to strict federal and state regulation, including determinations of allowed revenues. Any change to regulations may cause future earning power to differ materially from current expectations.
- Legacy ComEd issues bring up the potential for negative headline risk if new information comes to light.
- The company possesses attractive leverage to growing electrification trends. However, if these investments develop slower or faster than we anticipate, it could lead to a weaker / stronger earnings outlook than we currently forecast.

The chart(s) show J.P. Morgan's continuing coverage of the stocks; the current analysts may or may not have covered it over the entire period.

Explanation of Equity Research Ratings, Designations and Analyst(s) Coverage Universe:
J.P. Morgan uses the following rating system: Overweight [Over the next six to twelve months, we expect this stock will outperform the average total return of the stocks in the analyst's (or the analyst's team's) coverage universe.] Neutral [Over the next six to twelve months, we expect this stock will perform in line with the average total return of the stocks in the analyst's (or the analyst's team's) coverage universe.] Underweight [Over the next six to twelve months, we expect this stock will underperform the average total return of the stocks in the analyst's (or the analyst's team's) coverage universe.] Not Rated (NR): J.P. Morgan has removed the rating and, if applicable, the price target, for this stock

because of either a lack of a sufficient fundamental basis or for legal, regulatory or policy reasons. The previous rating and, if applicable, the price target, no longer should be relied upon. An NR designation is not a recommendation or a rating. In our Asia (ex-Australia and ex-India) and U.K. small- and mid-cap equity research, each stock's expected total return is compared to the expected total return of a benchmark country market index, not to those analysts' coverage universe. If it does not appear in the Important Disclosures section of this report, the certifying analyst's coverage universe can be found on J.P. Morgan's research website, https://www.jpmorganmarkets.com.

This week, intervenors file testimony in PEPCo's DC electric rate case for a traditional test-year and multiyear plan; AVA submits a notice of intent to file electric and gas rate cases in WA; the SD PUC requests XEL to reconsider its decision to retire ~2.7 GW of coal generation; and SC introduces a new energy regulation bill.

Industry News and News from Companies in Our Coverage

EXC — Parties file testimony in PEPCo's DC electric rate case: The OPC offered testimony addressing the traditional test-year and multiyear plan. For the traditional test-year, the OPC recommends a $48M revenue increase and a 9.55% ROE, assuming the discontinuation of the bill stabilization adjustment (BSA) deferral mechanism. If the BSA is continued or the PSC adopts a MYP, the OPC recommends a 9.55% ROE. In the MYP scenario, OPC determined that EXC requires a cumulative $119M revenue increase over three years. In addition to discontinuing the BSA mechanism, the lower ROE and depreciation expenses support the lower revenue requirement compared to EXC's request. EXC supported a $108M revenue increase for a traditional test year and a cumulative $191M revenue increase ($116M in RY1, $37M in RY2, and $37M in RY3) for a MYP. EXC used a 10.5% ROE and 50.5% equity layer for both scenarios. EXC was required to make a compliance filing to enable the PSC to analyze the multiyear plan filing relative to a traditional rate case. The Office of the Attorney General recommends rejecting the MYP proposal in favor of a traditional test-year. If the PSC goes the route of a MYP, the OAG believes EXC should be required to file a comprehensive long-term grid modernization plan, an integrated distribution plan, and implement PIMs that advance energy and climate goals. Rebuttal testimony is due on February 27, with a final order expected in 3Q24.

AVA — AVA submits notice of intent with WA UTC for electric and gas rate cases: AVA intends to file electric and gas rate cases (Docket: UE-240006 and UG-240007) with the WA UTC on or after February 3, 2024. In WA, utilities are required to provide a minimum of 30 days' notice before the effective date of a proposed change. AVA's two-year settlement in the 2022 WA GRC was reached before the magnitude of operating and borrowing cost increases became apparent, resulting in the Company's expectations of experiencing 70 bps structural lag and 80 bps regulatory lag. That rate case included a black-box settlement with no ROE defined. WA makes up ~60% of AVA's utility business. New rates would go into effect at the beginning of 2025.

XEL — SD PUC requests XEL to reconsider shutting down Sherco and King coal plants: The SD PUC wrote a letter to XEL requesting the Company to reconsider its decision to shut down the 2.2 GW Sherco Coal Plant and the 550 MW King Coal plant due to concerns around reliability. XEL retired the 628 MW Sherco Unit 2 in December and is scheduled to retire Units 1 and 3 in 2026 and 2030, respectively. The King Plant is expected to be retired in 2028. The pending retirements are part of XEL's goal to deliver 100% carbon-free electricity in Minnesota by 2040. We recently saw one of XEL's peers file an IRP that bifurcated MN resource planning from ND and SD due to a lack of inter-jurisdictional consensus on aspects of the plan.
