NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARINGS

Duquesne Light Company filed an energy efficiency and conservation (EE&C) plan with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission (PUC) on July 1, 2009, as required by Act 129 of 2008.

The company's EE&C plan is designed to help customers identify and implement measures that reduce energy consumption and, in turn, lower their energy bills. As part of its plan, Duquesne Light must meet PUC-established electricity consumption reduction targets of one percent by May 31, 2011, and three percent by May 31, 2013. Duquesne Light also is required to meet a 4.5 percent reduction in peak demand by May 31, 2013. Peak demand is defined as the top 100 hours when energy usage is the highest.

Duquesne Light has recommended conservation, energy efficiency, and demand reduction programs for all customer classes to meet these mandated reduction requirements. These include rebates and installation of energy-efficient equipment and lighting. These programs result in new costs to Duquesne Light. As permitted by Act 129, the company has requested recovery of costs to implement these initiatives during the first year of the plan. If the company's request is approved, the total monthly bill for an average residential customer using 600 kilowatt-hours per month would increase by about $1.14 or 1.4%. The total bill for an average commercial customer with a demand of 30 kW and using 10,000 kilowatt-hours per month would increase by about $11.00 or 1.2%. The total bill for an average industrial customer with a demand of 750 kW and using 200,000 kilowatt-hours per month would increase by about $986 or 4.6%.

You can learn more about these energy-conservation opportunities at public input hearings on the details of Duquesne Light's EE&C plan, to be held:

Date: Wednesday, Aug. 5, 2009
Time: 2 p.m. and 7 p.m.
Location: Allegheny County Courthouse
