RE: FES Industrial and Commercial Customer Coalition v. FirstEnergy Solutions Corp.; Docket No. C-2014-2425989 – Continuance Request

Dear Judge Dunderdale:

As Your Honor is aware, a Telephonic Prehearing Hearing Conference has been scheduled in the above-referenced proceeding for Tuesday, June 30, 2015, at 10:00 AM. By this letter, the FES Industrial and Commercial Customer Coalition ("FES ICC") respectfully requests a ninety-day continuance in order to afford the parties with the opportunity to explore the possibility of settlement. FES ICC has discussed this request with FirstEnergy Solutions Corp. ("FES") and can report that FES supports the requested continuance. In addition, FES ICC has discussed this request with the Office of Consumer Advocate ("OCA") and can report that the OCA does not oppose this requested continuance.

Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission ("PUC" or "Commission") policy promotes settlements pursuant to 52 Pa. Code Section 1.15(b). Moreover, FES ICC's request is timely pursuant to Your Honor's January 8, 2015 Prehearing Order, which requires any requests for extensions to be submitted in writing no later than five days prior to the hearing.

As noted previously, FES ICC submits that good cause exists for this continuance. Now that the previously outstanding Petitions and Motions have been adjudicated by the PUC, the parties have communicated with each other regarding the potential for settlement and have begun such preliminary discussions. In order to afford the parties with a meaningful opportunity to explore the possibility of such settlement, and to promote the efficient use of jurisdictional resources, FES ICC respectfully requests that the Telephonic Prehearing Conference scheduled for June 30 in this proceeding be continued for at least ninety (90) days. As noted above, FES supports this request, and the OCA does not oppose this request.
