Department of Human Services \(“DHS”\) Data Sharing Program

In preparation for the DHS data sharing program, Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania, Inc. (“Columbia” or “Company”) developed three processes to simplify its Customer Assistance Program (“CAP”) reverification and enrollment:

- To expedite and simplify reverification for existing CAP customers.
- To allow for enrollment in CAP for customers who complete an application online or by phone.
- To offer a streamlined application for customers who have not completed a CAP application.

In the 2024-2025 heating year, 502 customers received assistance from Columbia after agreeing to share their information through the DHS data sharing program.

In the 2025/2026 program year, it is necessary for the Company to review each account shared through DHS’s data sharing program to verify that the information is useful. For example, DHS files report gross income, yet the Company does not include Medicare supplemental income for those that receive social security and accepts some deductions for customers that are self-employed. Therefore, without the Company deducting this income from the income provided by DHS, the customer’s payment could be as much as $12.00 per month higher than it should be or they may appear ineligible. There can also be discrepancies between the number and name of occupants provided by DHS and Company records. If the ratepayer is not listed as an occupant from DHS, the customer cannot be enrolled in CAP. If DHS provides less household members than identified on Company records, it can affect their payment. The Company continues to use the data shared by DHS to enroll and recertify customers despite this time-consuming manual process.

CAP Outreach

THE COLUMBIA GAS CUSTOMER ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (CAP) IS AVAILABLE

Struggling to pay your gas bill?
Columbia Gas has a program to help lower your monthly gas bill and erase past debt!

How CAP Helps You:

Lower Monthly Bill – You'll pay a fixed, CAP payment each month based on your income as soon as you're enrolled.

Debt Forgiveness – When you enroll, your debt is frozen. Every CAP payment you make, your debt is lessened. If you make 36 months of payments, your debt will be completely forgiven!

If you left CAP before, you can join again!

Your original debt balance will not continue to grow while you're in the program.

HOW IT WORKS:

REGULAR GAS BILL YOU PAY	WITH CAP YOU PAY	YOUR SAVINGS
$150	$60	$90 each month

Each month, you only pay your CAP payment. If you make CAP payments over 36 months, the debt you owed will be reduced to $0, completely forgiven. The above is an example of how this works.

Debt Forgiveness Example:
If you make your payments every month, your entire balance will be forgiven in 36 months. If you owe $1,800 when you enroll, we will forgive $50 with each CAP payment you make.

How to Apply:

- Check if you qualify – Look at the income chart and include total income before taxes of all adult (18 and over) household members.

Domestic Violence Policy Review

In 2025, the Company attended several events and conducted outreach with domestic violence service agencies throughout various counties in our service territory. This will remain a focus in 2026. The Company will continue to display the flyer below during tabling events in 2026. In 2025 there was an increase in CARES referrals related to domestic violence and financial abuse, which can be attributed to our increased focus on raising awareness of available assistance. In 2026, we updated our database to more concisely collect data on how many events occur that directly impact the education of those experiencing domestic violence.

Did you know there is help for Columbia Gas customers who are experiencing Domestic Abuse?

Please Ask or Call 1-800-537-7431 if you would like to learn more about measures Columbia Gas can take to assist with customer accounts.

2026 CUSTOMER EDUCATION & OUTREACH INITIATIVES

Columbia’s menu of programs is designed in a coordinated effort to provide the greatest benefit to all customers in need of assistance in a cost-effective manner. Therefore, most outreach opportunities promote more than just one program, to more than just one target demographic. Columbia promotes its suite of Universal Service programs and engages in external outreach opportunities throughout its service territory. In addition, the Universal Service Department conducts internal outreach activities to inform employees and create additional ambassadors of the Universal Service programs.

Columbia adjusts outreach tactics at minimum yearly, based on current need, review of past results and consideration of new opportunities as they are presented. Customers eligible for one program are encouraged to apply for all programs for which they qualify.

In each county Columbia serves, we prioritize populations who would benefit from participating in the Company’s customer assistance program. The chart below is our updated list of target audiences.

2026 Target Audiences
Cash Checking Store Customers	College/University Students and Staff
Community Agency Staff/Social Workers	Company Service Techs
Culturally & Linguistically Diverse Populations	Customers below 50% FPIG
Customers with Heating Emergencies	Faith Based Organizations
Food Bank Participants	Head Start Participants
Housing Authority Residents	Landlords
People with Disabilities	New Customers/Home Buyers
People experiencing Domestic Violence	People Experiencing Unemployment
School Districts	Seniors
Single Head of households	Veterans
Housing Authority Residents	Visting Nurses/Hospitals

CONNECTING WITH TARGET AUDIENCES

Columbia believes in a connection-based approach to education and outreach. In addition to focusing on target audiences, we prioritize becoming a part of the communities we serve throughout our service territory. Columbia's service territory includes the following 26 counties: Adams, Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Bedford, Butler, Centre, Clarion, Clearfield, Elk, Fayette, Forest, Franklin, Fulton, Greene, Indiana, Jefferson, Lawrence, McKean, Mercer, Somerset, Venango, Warren, Washington, Westmoreland, and York.

The Company shares service territory with other utilities and refers individuals who need assistance with other utility bills, as needed. Collaboration between utilities is part of our CEOP. Pictured on this page is a major outreach collaboration held annually, Be Utility Wise which brings together utilities, the Public Utility Commission and community members.

Columbia's Universal Service staff prioritize outreach and education efforts in the areas with the highest number of customers with the lowest income.

Collaboration with community agencies and events is imperative to reaching customers. Pictured is one of Columbia's Cares Representatives distributing CAP information at a drive-thru food distribution. Universal Service staff participate in initiatives throughout the 450 communities that Columbia serves to make sure customers learn about programs and have the opportunity to ask questions to our knowledgeable Universal Service staff.

NEW INITIATIVES FOR 2026

Income Screening

No later than June 2026, The Company will affirmatively ask all customers to provide income when they call to connect or transfer service as well as on all non-emergency calls. The purpose of this is to determine if a customer is confirmed low income and if so, to provide information related to programs for which they may be eligible.

New LIHEAP Social Media Campaign

Columbia has historically paid for social media ads to promote the LIHEAP program. New ads were unveiled during this heating season, offering a fresh new approach to reach out to eligible customers.

CARES Celebration of 40 years

Columbia is proud to have provided Customer Assistance and Referral Evaluation Services (“CARES”) for the past 40 years. CARES has allowed Columbia to assist our most vulnerable customers. During 2026, the Company will use the anniversary as an opportunity to reach different audiences to promote programs through social media platforms and other media sources.

Poster Distribution

Featured is our CAP poster, which will be displayed at key locations throughout the communities we serve. Our team has partnered with community agencies to display posters at their office locations. In addition, we have identified other key locations, such as prominently located gas stations, community grocery stores, post office bulletin boards and schools, to hang the poster. Internally, these posters are also prominently displayed at various Company locations to remind all employees to make appropriate referrals.

EXTERNAL OUTREACH MATERIALS

Columbia tailors handouts for each target population and access point. Information is available through physical or digital communications and translates from computer screens to smartphones. Columbia offers information at all touch points.

All physical outreach materials are available in English and Spanish. Other language interpretations are accessed through a dropdown box located on the Company's website, which allows customers to select from various languages in which information is translated. If communities have a high concentration of a population speaking a certain language, Columbia will provide physical outreach materials in that language, if needed. Other inclusive actions include using larger fonts.

QR codes are utilized for customers who would like to explore program options by inputting their information into an eligibility calculator to determine the programs for which they qualify. The QR code links to this webpage: Eligibility Calculator - Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania

External outreach materials, among others, that are featured below, are displayed during outreach events, mailed to agencies, referenced during trainings, and distributed during interactions with customers.

The Company's website also educates customers. The website highlights Audits and Rebates ("A&R"), CARES, CAP, Emergency Repair Program ("ERP"), Hardship funds, LIHEAP/Crisis, medical certificates, Security Deposit Assistance Fund ("SDAF"), and all Warm Wise programs, including the Low-Income Usage Reduction Program ("LIURP").

This redesigned brochure provides detailed information on all programs. The Company uses this brochure at all tabling events, train the trainer events and outreach to seniors.

In 2026, our team created a poster to display at partnering agencies in high traffic areas.

Columbia also uses PowerPoint for external training for agency and customers. The PowerPoint is not featured here but uses several of the brochures below.

EDUCATION ON PROGRAMS

The best form of promotion is to educate customers to understand the benefits and how to access a program. Columbia communicates expectations and procedures of programs to customers. However, there are specific educational components to specific programs. Below are specific components with coinciding programs.

LIURP

- The Company provides a welcome packet to enrollees that includes information about behavioral energy efficiency measures. It includes a pop-up house that can be used by auditors to demonstrate what will be done over the next few weeks to help reduce energy in the home. It is especially useful for customers that cannot walk through with the auditor. It also includes contact information and a summary of the LIURP process.
- The Company provides a written pamphlet to landlords explaining the benefits of the program.

CAP

- All CAP enrollees are provided a copy of their agreement form which includes all responsibilities and explanation of benefits of the CAP program.

Customer Care Center

- Our Customer Care Center representatives help customers understand what programs would be the most beneficial for them and then guide them through the application process. These representatives are trained to identify and address any underlying payment problems in addition to the identified concern. The representatives also make referrals to community resources, as needed.

CARES

- Columbia's Customer Outreach & Education Coordinators take CAP, LIHEAP and hardship fund applications. In addition, they assist all customers in applying for programs. Coordinators also provide referrals to community resources, as needed.

TIMELINE OF OUTREACH INITIATIVES

Customer Outreach & Education efforts exist throughout the year. The above outline depicts annual events and aligns with program opening dates. There is constant communication between community connections and Universal Services staff to ensure customers receive assistance when needed. Universal Services staff contact information is listed on websites and paper materials throughout partner agencies' portfolios. The calendar is tentative. As opportunities arise, the calendar will be updated.

As part of the approval of the Company's Universal Service and Energy Conservation Plan ("USECP") (Docket No. M-2023-3039487), the Company was directed to file an updated Customer Outreach & Education Plan annually, beginning March 1, 2025, and for the duration of its USECP. The Company was also directed to provide the following enhancements, for which Columbia provides updates:

A. More educational training webinars and workshops using virtual or hybrid and in-person events to keep community partners and interested stakeholders informed and updated about Columbia's universal service programs.

2026 planned activities include:

- Participation in three Be Utility Wise events across Columbia Service territory;
- Virtual presentations with United Way home buyers classes in Beaver County and other social service agencies;
- In-person trainings with seniors through Senior Centers;
- In-person trainings with social services agencies in Columbia's service territory;
- Conduct Train the Trainer trainings for Head Start, Area Agency on Aging and other social service agencies in Columbia's service territory.

B. Continue expanding its outreach efforts for households with incomes at or below 50% of the FPIG.

The Company uses information from the Department of Education to identify school districts with a high population of lower income customers. The Company prioritizes the highest population of low-income customers for grass roots outreach. Examples include:

- Trunk or Treats, baby showers, resource fairs and other holiday/seasonal community events in designated areas;

- Provide program materials to school districts and social service agencies in designated areas;
- Food Bank Distribution sites. Universal Services staff attend and hand out flyers to every car at least once per season in designated areas;
- Tabling events at universities and colleges;
- Tabling at legislative, senior and resource events.

C. Add an education component to inform customers about the importance of understanding their energy burden to foster customer awareness of how much their household is spending on energy.

The Company worked with its USAC to develop language to explain energy burden and included it in a CAP brochure used in the Fall of 2024. It is as follows:

Energy Burden – How do you compare?

$$Energy\ Burden = \frac{Monthly\ Bill}{Monthly\ Income}$$

An energy burden is the percentage of household income that goes towards energy costs. A high gas energy burden is defined as a household spending more than 6% of their income towards energy costs. If your energy burden exceeds the recommended 6% burden and you meet the eligibility requirements, Columbia assistance programs may help you lower your energy burden, resulting in lower gas bills.

The USAC provided feedback that this language is most helpful when promoting energy efficiency but may not be a high motivation for CAP enrollment. The USAC recommendation was to not include this language in future CAP outreach. The Company will continue to seek additional opportunities for placement of this language and continue to ask for and share feedback with its USAC.

- D. Continue to share its tools, outline approaches, and activities for the energy burden education components in future CEOPs and include the Commission educators as needed.

The Company is working and will continue to work with its USAC to develop the right opportunities to educate customers on energy burden and will share with the Commission educators who are part of the USAC.

CONCLUSION

In closing, Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania, Inc.'s Customer Education and Outreach Plan summarizes internal and external strategies to inform customers on all assistance programs. We believe in becoming a part of the communities we serve by using a grass roots approach, which includes connecting with human service agencies and participating in community events. We also appreciate and utilize media outreach to reach as many customers as possible through our flyers, mailings, emails, social media platforms and coordination with other utilities. We will continue to seek additional opportunities to raise awareness about our available assistance for our most vulnerable customers.
