OCT 04 2011

SIR;

(570) 455-5110

The gas company (U.G.I. Utilities) came to my residence twice. The first time they came reminded me of 540 Seybert Street in Hazleton where I noticed a gas leak. I told the people and they called U.G.I. to report a gas leak. Someone came to check it out and found no leak. I went there (540 Seybert Street) a week later and to my surprise still smelled gas. I asked them if they called and they said yes. I told them to call U.G.I. again. You have a gas leak. They called a second time to report a gas leak. The guy who came wasn't the same guy. "Lady get your coat and purse and don't touch any of the light" switches and go to a neighbors house. The gas leak was getting (finally) repaired.

I did not clean the entire kitchen, the yellow is still on the walls and ceiling and U.G.I. took the drip pipe off but did not let the other two people smell it. Would you go to an administrative law judge with this letter from U.G.I. Utilities? I don't want to look stupid, like the guy did who came first to check a gas leak on 540 Seybert Street. This was no small gas leak, as the man was rotted.

Take the drip pipe off and dump its contents into a quart jar. If this smells and looks the same who needs to analyze a chemical. The lady from U.G.I. is like the guy who couldn't find a major gas leak. She didn't see yellow on the walls and ceiling then she needs to visit an eye doctor.

Want pictures as proof?

She and the man with her did not smell the drip pipe. Why? Respectfully
Michael J. Mitchell

S. R. [unclear]

Enclosed please find one disc.
On this disc you will see that I did not clean the entire kitchen.
In other words U. G. I. Corp. lied
in their letter to both you and me.
This can be now used as evidence.
Please keep this disc as I have the chemical. Odd, since no one wants to see this chemical. I know what their chemical does, but I do not know its name, or not yet. Since you seem to be fond of gas companies, then you tell U. G. I. Corp. they just made my book. Where is this chemical, which makes a liquid
seal in the gas line.
Now why no leaks in a certain area for 52 years. Luck, no way! Then its got to be...

chromium oxide, or chromium
Six. Cost P.G. & E 300 million. (???)

What should U.G.I. pay?

Now we have a second chemical.
DANGEROUS gas lines... in more ways than one. Is there any respect for life? China pollutes but they don't hide. Every secret comes with a price.

Respectfully

Michael J. Mitchell

P.S. Chromium oxide keeps pipe from rotting away for decades
Fifty-two years is decades.

U.G.I. Corp. got every price increase. PPL would get turned I down. Fair, if you're a gas company.

I would have included
lungs and health problems
on your form but how do you put a price on a pair of lungs
That's why it's in my letters
and not on your form.
