Secretary:

What I found out about people in this town (Hazleton) makes me want to sell and move not to a different town, but to a different country. People in this town actually hide gas companies. Lawyers with relatives who are plumbers never even bothered to question what is now a hazard to kids (who they might be related to) the same with the adults but do not even know about this yellow chemical, but do know that gas ranges yellow walls. One reason and the main reason that lawyer has an electric range. Houses with this on, if the neighbor has it, well that's their explanation. In town it's possible that being so close together it could end up on a house heated with oil or coal. This is capable of blowing 20 to 25 feet, thus landing on a different house or in someones eye. A person seen this mess on my house and flipped. Well, just ask your neighbor which he did, and they have the same problem. As long as the neighbor has it I guess its O.K. and the PUC wonders why they do not know after 46 years. If the PUC wants to know something do they ask the neighbor? I would have to say yes to this, well its O.K., the neighbor has it also. They also have gas heat and do not use the chimney, and it is possible in town for this chemical to be on a house with oil heat. Houses are much closer to each other in town. What I found out bothers me because not one adult even thought about kids even kids that are related. Why? Well, their answer is "its on the neighbors house." Well U.G.I's chemical just became more hazardous since the neighbors kids could get this yellow chemical which is still hot, in the eye. But then again no one but plumbers and U.G.I know this chemical is in everyone's gas line. We all have drip pipes also, and maybe someday only one eye. Isn't it odd how its on houses besides mine, and what a coincidence we all have gas supplied by U.G.I. Utilities. Now the PUC knows why they don't know this. One thing they do know: how lucky you are and I stress the word "you".

I want "American" clean fuel also. But its far from clean in this area just ask the neighbor. NUTS!!

Respectfully,

Michael J. Mitchell

I proved something comes out of that gas duct. Now, U.G.I HAS to prove nothing comes out. Good Luck!

Tell Mr. Larry Graybe that I would quit if I were him.

Now you want to send U.G.I to see what? This mess will melt with temperature going up and heat being turned off. No, U.G.I CAN COME NEXT FEB 2, 2013. They HAVE ALL OF FEBRUARY. It's also under the 2 year statute of limitations. Don't try sending U.G.I now, I begged you all Nov, Dec, JAN. And FEBRUARY and all you did was kill time. U.G.I CAN COME when it's a HAZARD, and since you and U.G.I killed time you really have nothing to worry about since heat will be turned off very soon. It is not a HAZARD when it's WARM OUT, unless you use a FURNACE when it's WARM OUT. DATE U.G.I CAN COME AND SEE their mess.

✓ All of February 2013, between 11 A.M. & 2:00 P.M. Gas bills will get paid. CAN COME this year to dump contents of ALL DRIP PIPES!
