Public Notice Transmission Line Construction

PPL Electric Utilities Corporation (PPL Electric) plans to improve reliability of service and meet increasing demand for electricity in Lancaster County. This project involves rebuilding an approximately one-mile-long section of double circuit transmission line to two separate double circuit transmission lines. The section of line being rebuilt runs between Cloister Drive and the Alcoa manufacturing plant. This project will enable PPL Electric to complete the conversion of the 69 kV transmission system serving central Lancaster County to 138 kV while continuing to serve a transmission customer at 69 kV. This project is located in East Hempfield and Manheim townships, Lancaster County.

The two new double circuit lines will run parallel to each other within existing PPL Electric right of way. All work associated with this project will be performed within existing PPL Electric right of way. No additional right of way is required. The top circuit of each line will be designed for and operated at 138 kV while the bottom circuit of each line will be designed for and operated at 69 kV.

If you would like more information on this project, please contact John M. Leviski at 717-560-2533.

On August 13, 2012, PPL Electric filed a "Letter of Notification" with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission (PUC), which must approve the project before work can begin.
