Re: Docket No: C-2013-2302176

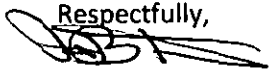

We are in receipt of your complaint alleging unauthorized transportation and do not dispute that we did provide Ms. Jessica Freeman with an estimate for an intrastate move from Langhorne, PA.

We do feel however that the fine you are imposing is excessive for the nature of this offense. Our limited authority within Pennsylvania can be confusing to potential customers as well as new employees of our company. In addition, the Internet has opened our doors to millions of potential customers seeking moving services. Occasionally we may receive requests to perform moves within Pennsylvania and our Customer Service Team is trained to scrutinize an inquiry from Pennsylvania to determine if we are authorized to perform their move. Additionally we have five Sales Consultants who will assist with answering our phones for sales inquiries when our Customer Service Representatives are not available. We believe this is what happened in the case of Ms. Freeman. Our Sales Consultant Matt Contrady scheduled an appointment to provide Ms. Freeman with an in home estimate. Once this was brought to my attention we immediately notified Ms. Freeman that we could not perform her move and did not engage in the act of unauthorized transportation.

We service over 2,500 customers annually and do not directly solicit Pennsylvania intrastate moves. We are the number one provider for Allied Van Lines for Military and Government traffic and do service these members in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, so our trucks will be seen in Pennsylvania.

We ask that you understand our position in this matter and reconsider the amount of the fine you are imposing.

Respectfully,

Robert Kandetzke, President

ALLIED

An Interstate Agent for Allied Van Lines
