The Procurement Process

Our core business is to provide our clients with the best procurement structure for their specific needs. This may be fixed price, heat rate index, real time, or a combination of some or all of these alternatives. It is a process that is enabled by transparency, understanding your suitability, and who best fits your needs from the provider community. The steps to this process are:

- Understanding your goals – It's naturally important to capture the lowest price, but this needs to be married to your budget constraints, what is the optimum term, your risk appetite, and other user-specific criteria that can be determined by understanding your objectives and understanding what works and what doesn't work. We will discover answers from discussions with you and they will serve as a guideline for the process, from inception through renewal and all phases in between.
- Data – We will retrieve your historical usage data, if applicable, and perform an analysis of how you use energy. We will compare history with what the forward curve offers today, and make assumptions based on real life scenarios combined with your specific needs to recommend compatible structure and term, benchmarking said assumptions with the wholesale price of power.
- Beginning the pricing process – Once we have satisfied you with what the best structure looks like, we will then send a request for pricing to those Retail Electric Providers (REPs) who can service your requirements.

The competitive process will achieve the best of economy and allow an “apples to apples” comparison.

- Manage the pricing process – Receive pricing, query the various REPs as to particulars such as band width, material change, gas lock procedures (if applicable), and other details that allow meaningful comparisons and drive the best answers to your procurement.
- Execution – Once pricing for the elected structure has been reviewed and a final list of REPs arrived at, we will then insure that contract language and provisions are compatible to your needs (including negotiating for same should that be necessary) and deliver to you an executable contract vetted for price and terms.
- Continuing service – Our engagement doesn’t end with execution of contract. We will continue to apprise you of issues connected to the current contract, changing market conditions (opportunities or risks beyond current procurement), and other material items.

Familiarity with the REP community, knowledge of where the market is, and experience in managing procurement in whatever structure and term required is what our value proposition is based upon.

Pursue opportunities as presented by referral, prospecting, and other procedures complimentary to ethical business standards (see attachments E & G)

Infinity Power Partners Company Profile March 21, 2013

About Us

Infinity Power Partners is a recently established energy management and consulting firm whose mission is to provide procurement and risk management services, ongoing market insight, and continuous account maintenance through the development of client-specific strategies. With over 50 years of combined industry expertise, IPP offers a unique, transparent, and technical approach ensuring our clients' energy-related needs are always fulfilled.

The beginning of our search for what works best for you is a dialogue that allows us to understand your needs and concerns. In our initial discussion will address items such as:

- When should one procure power?
- What term best fits your requirements?
- Which provider offers the most advantageous terms and structure?

The answers to these questions, plus many others, are the basis for IPP's value proposition. During the process we will provide transparency for where the market has been, where it is currently, and where it may go in the future, all results of several empirical data inputs. Furthermore, we understand that the quality providers soliciting your business directly do so with integrity and desire to do the right thing, but still come to the table at their agenda and not yours. In contrast, IPP's sole focus is your agenda, inclusive of budget requirements and product suitability which are identified by our analysis and defined by you.

Infinity's Approach

Infinity's Director of Risk Management, Ron Fort, has structured and managed the power procurement for many large loads. IPP's approach addresses the primary component of energy cost, the price of wholesale power, as a financial instrument. This allows the forward curve of wholesale power price to be viewed and managed with a high degree of transparency and the ability to execute.

- Components Forward Curves
  - Natural Gas
  - Heat Rate

The basis of our decisions, strategies, and the metrics that measure progress is technical analysis, a discipline that believes price action best translates all fundamental changes of supply and demand into signals to act upon. Having this discipline enables decisions that provide us with unemotional answers and metrics to measure results.

The Electricity Pricing Process

How it works?
April 20, 2012

Our Market Opinion:

Infinity Power Partners (IPP) appreciates the opportunity to be a part of your company's energy procurement process. We will endeavor to bring the optimum of price, structure, term, and contract language specifics for your consideration. Clarity and transparency enable good decisions and will be the guide posts for our offerings. We work for you at your agenda. We have found that the more we understand what your objectives and concerns are, the better service we are able to provide. We will ask questions and encourage input from you to determine what works best.

Your Priorities, Objectives, and Concerns:

Prices are at or near lows not experienced since the beginning of deregulation. The combination of low natural gas prices and a slow economic recovery have a lot to do with this, but are not the only drivers. We believe that prices will more likely rise than fall from their current levels, so doing something for as long of a term while insuring that your specific requirements are satisfied is our recommended course of action.

This is a broad overview that we will customize for your specific needs and priorities, whether it is about price certainty, an appetite to assume some risk (a managed procurement product such as a heat rate), operational concerns, or one of the countless other items mentioned below. The next section will help us to determine these answers so that we make sure your specific needs are always met

Please check all items that you are interested in learning more about or apply directly to your company's procurement process:

- Lowest fixed price regardless of term. – Low Risk
- Lowest fixed price for as long as feasibly possible (With current market conditions you are willing to pay a higher price in return for extending the term of contract) – Low Risk

The Electricity Pricing Process

How it works?

Your Priorities, Objectives, and Concerns Cont:

- Structure such as a Heat Rate that accepts some price risk because the chances are better that you will lower your cost of energy than paying more (as benchmarked against fixed pricing available on Day 1 of procurement) – balancing risk and reward. – Medium Risk
- Real time pricing – what used to be known as Market Clearing Price for Energy (MCPE). This allows for a more open ended upside price risk vs. historically lowest cost of procurement. – High Risk
- Do you anticipate any significant increase or decrease of your usage variance within the next few years (remodeling locations, energy efficiency projects, etc.)
- Do you expect to Add/Delete any meters throughout the term of your contract?
- Consolidated billing
- Electronic billing (paperless)
- Automatic Draft/credit card payment
- Special contract terms (list):
- Special requests/provisions (list):

The Electricity Pricing Process

How it works?

April 20, 2012

Explanations and Comments:

- If successful, we will be compensated for our services and this compensation will be defined and transparent. Business decisions focus on several parts, significant among these is what are you paying and what are you getting for your money. We encourage you to ask the question, "How are you paid for your services and what is IPP's margin?"
- The power procurement process may be accomplished by negotiating directly with providers or having someone do this on your behalf. Either process includes a cost. The cost should not be cumulative, meaning that the provider will charge different prices depending on how a client is acquired. The analogy often used is how do you buy your different types of insurance? Most likely you use a broker who understands your needs, knows the market, has good relations with providers, and presents you with an appropriate list of suitable alternatives. They are a smart, cost-efficient outsource. Energy consultants/brokers should meet similar criteria and scope in when it comes to your energy procurement.
- Retail Electric Providers (REPs) will price your facility either directly (only able to provide quotes from the one REP who employees them) or through a consultant/broker (also known as third party channel who are able to provide quotes from multiple REPs). REPS will only price one way or the other. If there is no direct pricing, then the first consultant/broker to request pricing (first come/first serve) or the current consultant/broker of record (that negotiated the current/existing agreement) will be the default answer as to who receives quotes. You have the ultimate say as to whom you work with, but, should you want to use someone who is otherwise blocked from pricing, you will have to declare your intentions some way or another. It might be a formal "Letter of Exclusivity" that states what your intention is or it may be as simple as an email to a particular REP or a general "To Whom It May Concern."

The Electricity Pricing Process

How it works?

Explanations and Comments Cont:

The key is what you want to do. There have been instances where some less than scrupulous players have disguised an LOE as something else. We always recommend that customers read what you're signing.

- It is much easier to go through the process with complete and accurate information from the beginning. IPP will take the time to insure that you are pricing what you intend to price. Check bills, internal excel sheets with site specific information, and any other "fail safe" with the list of ESIs itemized on the LOA form you signed to request usage data from the TDSP (the utility responsible for delivery of power to your site(s)).
- There are no such things as bad questions: When in doubt, always ask.
- Consultants and brokers have been used interchangeably in this discussion just as they are in the industry at large. We distinguish the two labels as follows:
  - Consultants – Entities who provide advice and perform the outsourced function of energy procurement and risk management for a fee/margin. They are engaged throughout the term of procurement and "have your back" in regards to alerting you to opportunities and adversities should they appear. They should be vetted for experience and expertise.
  - Brokers – Salesmen. They match buyers (you) with sellers (REPs) for a fee/margin. They are more likely transaction-oriented and not engaged for a continuing advisory relationship.
- Regardless of which route you've elected for pricing, please note that if you don't trust the person you're dealing with, you don't have to use them.

D&B does not have sufficient data to calculate a trade payment risk for this company.

Detailed Trade Risk Insight

The charts in this section show two important aspects of the company's payment behavior during the past year: 1) the aging profile of the company's accounts, and 2) amounts owed that have had to be written off or placed for collection (Derogatory Events). Use the links at the bottom of the section to see more details.

Amounts Current and Past Due - Past 12 Months

This chart shows the company's account aging profile over the past year. The chart lets you see at a glance the proportion of payments that were paid promptly versus those that were paid late.

Key Data

Key Data shows you how stable and well-established a company is, which can indicate its overall ability to pay its bills. Some companies are riskier than others, so review revenue, net worth, and number of employees to determine the company's general health. Look at years in business, length of management tenure, and the people involved in the company to determine how stable it is. Note whether the company is involved in a relatively high-risk industry. You can also check to see if there are any special events, such as a management or location change, that could adversely affect the company's ability to pay its bills. ## Complete Detailed Trade Risk Insight

The Detailed Trade Risk Insight shows two important aspects of the company's payment behavior during the past year: 1) the aging profile of the company's accounts (Accounts Current and Past Due), and 2) amounts owed to creditors that have had to be written off or placed for collection (Derogatory Events).

Amounts Current and Past Due

The Accounts Current and Past Due section shows the aging profile of the company's accounts over the past year. This lets you determine the proportion of payments that were paid promptly versus those that were paid late. The chart allows you to see aging trends - has the company started to reduce or increase the proportion of obligations it pays promptly, or has this proportion remained constant over time.

Detailed Trade Payment History

This table shows the details of individual trade payment experiences that have been reported to D&B's during the past three months. Each record reflects the payment record to one creditor, and each record is updated when a new payment to that supplier is reported. It should be noted that in some cases, a payment may be delayed beyond terms as a result of a dispute, missing invoice, or other similar circumstance.

Each experience shown is from a separate supplier. Updated trade experiences replace those previously reported.

Date Reported (month/year)	Payment Record	High Credit	Now Owes	Past Due	Selling Terms	Receiv. of Last Sale
11/12	Prompt	50	50	0		1 mo

Anticipated - Payments are received prior to date of invoice; Discount - Payments are received within trade discount period; Prompt - Payments are received within terms granted; Slow - Payments are beyond vendor's terms. For example, Slow 30" means payments are 30 days due; Prompt-Slow - Some Payments are within terms, while others are paid beyond terms.

TO CERTIFICATE HOLDER

Our agency has issued the enclosed certificate of insurance on behalf of our client. We want to share with you some important information regarding certificates of insurance.

The Texas Legislature passed and Governor Perry signed Senate Bill 425 to become effective January 1, 2012. After this date it will be illegal for an agent or insurance company to issue evidence of insurance on a certificate form that has not been approved by the Texas Department of Insurance (TDI). It is also illegal for anyone to require an agent or insurance company to use a certificate form that has not been approved by the State.

The law provides some guidance on the content and limitations of certificates, as follows:

- A certificate is not an insurance policy and does not amend, extend, or alter the coverage afforded by the referenced insurance policy.
- A certificate shall not confer to a certificate holder new or additional rights beyond what the policy and endorsements provide.
- A certificate may not contain a reference to a legal or insurance requirement contained in a contract other than the underlying contract of insurance or endorsement to the insurance policy.
- A person may have a legal right to notice of cancellation, nonrenewal or material change or any similar notice only if (1) the person is named within the policy or an endorsement to the policy, and (2) the policy or endorsement, or a state or rule, requires notice to be provided.
- The law confirms that “a certificate of insurance that is executed, issued, or required and that is in violation with this chapter is void and has no effect.”

Additional information concerning the new law may be obtained by contacting the TDI (800) 252-3439 or visiting the web site <http://www.tdi.texas.gov/rules/informal1216.html>.

For this reason, we may not be able to provide some of the specific certificate holder requested information which is outside the scope of the approved document. We are willing to explain each of these items and provide policy endorsements or other information subject to our client's approval.

We hope you will understand our position and ask that you give us a call if you have any questions or comments.
