Dear Miss Chiavetta,

As per the letter that I have received, Docket No. C-2013-2316848, I am a little confused and thought this matter had been resolved from June of 2012. I am enclosing the original letter that was sent in July of 2013 from Jeff's Taxi to you, and also I am enclosing a copy of the letter that I have recently received. The letter that has recently been received was being sent to the wrong address, as the letter shows 132 Pike St. Port Jervis NY. This letter is stating that a fine is being issued for non-compliance. First matter at hand as per my original conversations with Mr. Andy Turriziani, and his further investigating of our company was that once the original letter was sent from us to you in July of 2012 that the matter would be resolved. Second matter at hand, apparently you have sent multiple letters to our company at the wrong address, with no response. Luckily the mail carrier finally brought it to us, so that I can address this issue. The original letters we received from PUC came to us with no issue, and I am confused as to how the address had become confused, although there was at one time another Taxi business located at the 132 Pike St. address years ago, and wonder if somehow our business name had gotten confused with their business which is now at a different address. Anyhow, our problem lies in thinking this matter had been resolved, and now getting a letter a year later, and wondering where the miscommunications came from. Furthermore we are currently in the process of closing this business completely.

Yours truly,

Jeffrey Norberg
Owner

Dear Mr. Turriziani:

After receipt of your letter of June 19, 2012, Jeff's Taxi, it's owners and employees have ceased to offer intra-Pennsylvania transportation to our customers. We sincerely apologize for any misunderstanding in this matter. We will, of course, follow all Pennsylvania regulations regarding this matter.

At this time, we will not be filing an application with the Pennsylvania Pubic Utility Commission for a para transit provider. If, in the future, we should expand our service to include intra Pennsylvania transportation, we will file the necessary applications.

Once again, we appreciate your understanding. If you should require any additional information, I can be reached at the above address or telephone number.

Yours truly,
