Dear Margaret:

Attached are documents I believe false statements were made in violation of clearly established law, and willing to subpoena Google records to prove. But first place you on notice so you can make an informed choice of whether the best interest of all is to make a reasonable settlement offer to avoid what might happen. I'm betting Google will prove those statements false? Let me know by Thursday 8/20-15.

John Kennedy made the business decision to restore service and attempted to reach the Complainant to schedule the restoration. He left a voice message for the Complainant on December 16, 2013 advising that service would be restored and if he returned the call before 3:00 p.m. that day, it could be accomplished that day. The Complainant did not return Mr. Kennedy's call until December 18, 2013. The restoration appointment was made and service was restored on December 18, 2013 at 3:30 p.m.

False

The Complainant alleges that Mr. Kennedy left him a voice message on December 18, 2013 and that service was only restored after he sent an email to Mr. Kennedy on December 18, 2013 questioning if Aqua knew it was illegal to terminate his service. In support, he relies on the email reflected on proposed Exhibit C-2. That document was edited and the proposed Exhibit C-2 does not indicate whom it was sent to or when it was sent. Mr. Nellom has not provided a copy of the complete email chain without redaction or any other documentation to support his claim. The only record evidence is his testimony that it had to be December 18, 2013 since the Company calls on the date it is going to restore service. TR 62.

Mr. Nellom's testimony regarding the events surrounding the December 18, 2013 restoration are based on his recollections. As the record evidence reflects, the Complainant is not credible and his testimony should be given little or no weight. His testimony is solely based on his faulty memory, opinions and/or assumptions. His testimony is self-serving, inconsistent, and completely unreliable. He provided conflicting testimony regarding the dates of the terminations and restorations, entering PARs with Aqua, and the filing his informal complaint.

Mr. Kennedy testimony is based on the business records of the company kept in the normal course of business. Based on those records and his review of those records, he testified that he is certain that he left the Complainant a voice message on December 16, 2013. TR 225. Aqua has no obligation under Chapter 56 to restore service for a med cert that does not satisfy the basic provisions of Section 56.111 that there is a medical need for the continuation of service. Aqua was in the processing of reviewing the conflicting med cert received on December 16, 2013 when Mr. Kennedy, acting within the scope of his job responsibility, made the business decision to restore the service. TR 225. Service was NOT restored because of the
