Act 129 of 2008 - Smart Meters

- Each EDC must file plans to replace all of its meters over the next 15 years (or sooner upon an individual customer's request and payment of cost, and on all new construction).
- New meters must be capable of "bidirectional communication," i.e., capable of allowing EDCs to measure usage at least an hourly basis and to communicate consumption and energy price to the customer.
- EDCs must offer optional time-of-use and real time rates to all customers on a voluntary basis.
