Re: Application of Reading Yellow Cab, Inc.

Dear Sir:

Federal legislation entitled the Federal Aviation Authorization Act of 1994 went into effect on January 1, 1995. Provisions of this legislation provide that no state will regulate rates, routes or service of motor carriers of property (except household goods) after January 1, 1995.

The application involved in this proceeding was filed as an amendment to already existing authority. By virtue of your existing authority, you now are authorized to provide service for the transportation of property (except household goods) between points in Pennsylvania.

We find that your amendment for additional authority is unnecessary. The application has been dismissed as moot and the record has been marked closed.

Sincerely,

John G. Alford
Secretary
