Business Profile

Description of Business:

We provide consulting services and act as an agent for end users. We facilitate customer energy procurement and solicit bids on behalf of the end user from licensed suppliers. We act as an agent for suppliers as well as assist on both parties in contractual matters.

Targeted Market and Customers:

Our customers are larger industrial and commercial businesses that can benefit from our intimate knowledge of the energy industry. Typical clients require an independent partner for the dual purpose of providing timely energy advice as well as providing purchasing options. The businesses will be widely varied: from restaurants and schools to large industrial users.

Growth Trends:

The market for our services is growing at an increasing rate. With the ever-increasing volatility in the energy markets, customers require a higher level of attention that traditional means of management can no longer provide.

Pricing Power:

Our business has been and will continue to be built by favorable word-of-mouth as well as market advertising. As customers see the benefit of our services, we have been able to collect a somewhat higher schedule of rates than average. We collect fees paid directly to us through our suppliers or direct bill the customer quarterly for services rendered based on their energy requirements.

Vision and Experience

Through our work experience with local energy providers, we possess unique and intimate skills to provide specialized energy services to our customers. We can demonstrate competency in all aspects of regulated and deregulated energy sales, and we are passionately committed to the success of this business and have the realism to make intelligent adjustments as we progress.  Please see attached resumes.

Communications

Computer and Communications Tools:

Our business equipment requirements consist primarily of computer and communications tools. We have all of the following resources in place:

Website: www.tybecenergy.com

Telephones: Work and Smart (cell) phones

Facsimile: Fax Machine

Computers: Two dedicated machines

Business Organization

Business Structure:

We have been operating Tybec Energy Management Specialists, Inc. as an S-Corp. As our business continues to grow, we do not plan on making any changes to this election.

Business Name and Logo

Business Name:

Tybec Energy Management Specialists, Inc.

Logo:

TYBEC
ENERGY

Management Specialists, Inc.

Insurance:

We have employed Wealth Management Services, Inc. Our insurance “package” consists of typical coverage tailored for energy consultant organizations such as ours.

Office Location

Our office space requirements are minimal. All officers and agents will work from their place of residence until space becomes an issue. At that point we may look to lease a property locally.

Accounting and Cash Flow

Please see attached financial statements.*

Costs:

Since our consulting business is essentially intellectual property and advice, expenses consist of trade memberships, attorney fees, insurance, travel, customer entertainment, communications, and costs related to the maintenance of our website.

Internal Controls:

All officers of Tybec Energy Management Specialists, Inc. will be responsible for controlling expenses. Accounting will be handled by an independent party and all checks will require two officer signatures.

Finance the Business

Financing Strategy:

Our business costs will be paid from fees collected from suppliers and customers.

Competition:

Our competitors are individuals in the local market who moonlight as energy consultants and larger energy associations within and outside Pennsylvania who practice full-time. Tybec is a full-time operation that customers can look to as an ongoing and primary resource for procuring and managing energy supply.

Expansion and Acquisition:

Further out, we may find opportunities to grow by purchasing the consulting books of other energy consultants as well as hire independent agents who are compensated on a percentage basis by account.

Marketing

Marketing Plan:

Our marketing has been primarily through customer contacts. We spend approximately four hours per day on sales calls to businesses throughout Pennsylvania. The rest of the day is spent analyzing and servicing existing accounts. We promote and conduct free energy seminars that are addressed to local business owners. From these seminars we make follow-up calls to seek out clients. We collaborate with our energy suppliers in the conduct of these seminars.

Advertising and Promotion Plans:

Our advertising budget is limited to expenses connected to print media and local energy and manufacturing associations.

The Competition:

As already covered in this plan, our principal competitors will be individuals in the local market who moonlight as energy consultants and larger energy associations within and outside of Pennsylvania who practice full-time.

How We Plan to Take Advantage of Competitors Weak Points:

Our competitive edge will be constant communication in an increasingly volatile energy environment. We will provide ongoing market advice, load management, and new market opportunities to clients. The goal is to establish, in effect, an ongoing consulting relationship with our clients to keep them on the cutting edge of load management and procurement techniques. We will collaborate with licensed suppliers, NGDCs and EDCs to furnish winning energy procurement strategies as well as pitfalls to avoid.

Managing Employees

Employee Education and Training:

As already covered in this plan, we plan on hiring individual agents as their services present themselves and are deemed desirable. Future agents will be required to attend monthly sales meetings and will be evaluated every six months as to determine their value to the company. The company provides ongoing education for agents regarding procurement and Public Utility Commission requirements.

Our initial and ongoing training programs for new agents will include membership in and training provided by local energy associations, chambers of commerce, manufacture associations as well as NGDCs and EDCs.
