Exhibit 6: Experience, Plan, Structure

MVE Group had its start in 1973 when Meadow Valley Electric, an electrical contracting firm, was established in a small barn in rural Ephrata, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. The company grew and in 1984 we opened ESCO, Inc., specializing in commercial and home security and fire protection systems. KWReduction was introduced in 1999 to help businesses and municipalities reduce energy and save money with energy audits and energy saving lighting solutions. In 2009, we again introduced a new company, MVE Solar, combining our 37 years as electrical contractors with a focus on saving energy for area businesses. Our companies were united under a single corporation in 2011 and employees became employee-owners through an Employee Stock Ownership Plan (ESOP).

Our team has more than 500 years of combined experience in commercial and industrial electrical services, solar photovoltaic systems, energy saving lighting retrofits, and commercial and home security and fire protection. Our staff includes master electricians licensed in Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey and Delaware, journeyman and master electricians licensed to work in area municipalities including Harrisburg and Reading, NICET-certified fire alarm technicians, and technicians MSHA certified to work in quarries.

In applying for an electric broker license, MVE Energy Solutions seeks to expand our offering of energy and cost-saving strategies for our commercial customers in Pennsylvania. In addition to our extensive electrical experience, our team is well versed in deregulation and communicating pricing and supplier contracts clearly and accurately with customers. Michelle Mathason will be leading brokerage operations, using her experience leading the operations team at another PA electric and gas brokerage firm. Michelle is also a certified Energy Management Professional through TEPA, The Energy Professionals Association.

Exhibit 7: Oversight of Marketing

Our sales approach has always been driven by developing long-term relationships with customers who earn our trust by the quality of the product and service we provide. At no time will we be marketing door-to-door or cold calling. Our sales and operations staff are trained to communicate with clients and potential clients about electricity pricing, contract terms, and energy components in a clear and informative manner. Any questions we can't immediately answer about pricing or contract language will be directed to our supply partners for additional clarity. Our goal is first educating the customer, then assisting them in finding a solution that best fits their needs.

We host internal weekly sales meetings to gain insight on each of our employees' leads to ensure they are pursuing opportunities with new or existing customers in an ethical, relationship-based manner. We also plan to participate in webinars and other training opportunities provided by PJM or our supply partners to stay up-to-date on the current regulations and changes in electricity markets, specifically as they apply to Pennsylvania.

Exhibit 8: Chief Officer Biographies & Resumes

Tim Bollinger, CEO

From a young age Tim knew he wanted to be in business. He helped to start ESCO Security at age 21. At that point he did everything from sales to installation to bookkeeping and more. At age 25 he had the opportunity to buy into Meadow Valley Electric and has enjoyed working being a partner of MVE Group for many years. Tim believes in being a lifetime learner and has acquired his electrical journeyman and master's licenses, NICET certifications, and various other training during his career. He spent a large portion of his career as CFO of the organization but has recently moved to the position of CEO. One of Tim's strengths is the ability to lay out vision for the organization, and motivate his team members with it. His personal vision for MVE Group is to be the best electrical, security and energy contractor in the area. To Tim this means having the best customer service, having the most satisfied employees, and delivering the highest quality products. Tim encourages his employees that the bottom line shouldn't be the most important focus. If we excel in the three areas listed above, the bottom line will take care of itself. Tim's vision for the organization is to see it passed down to the next generation of leadership. He sees the organization continuing to grow, and he desires to see it continue beyond the original ownership. In 2009 he led the organization through the steps of implementing an Employee Stock Ownership Plan. He sees this increasing our employee dedication and work ethic even more. It's a fact that when you own something you take even greater care of it; and he feels the ESOP is an important factor to MVE Group's healthy growing future.

Jay Weaver, CFO

Jay began working at MVE Group as the Business Manager in 2002. In 2011, he took over the role as Chief Financial Officer. Jay's responsibilities include budgeting, planning, and financial management. He enjoys analyzing costs and ensuring that we are a financially responsible organization which our customers and suppliers want to partner with. He highly supports MVE Group's commitment to sustainability and cares about making smart decisions such as reducing our electrical usage. One change Jay assisted with in recent years was implementing MVE Group's Employee Stock Ownership Plan. Additionally, the Board of Directors appointed Jay as a trustee of MVE Group's ESOP which includes overseeing the ESOP trust and looking out for the best interest of all the employee owners. As the ESOP journey continues, Jay looks forward to seeing all MVE Group employees reach retirement with a sizeable retirement amount.

Ty Esbenshade, Director of Sales and Marketing

Ty brings teamwork to any MVE Group project as he oversees the sales, marketing and estimating departments, as well as the overall growth of the company. He has been involved in the technology industry for over 20 years, and has a wealth of knowledge which is valuable to finding cutting edge solutions for all MVE Group customers and their unique scenarios. Ty serves as a trustee of MVE Group's Employee Stock Ownership Plan. Additionally, he is active in the local community and the Associated Builders & Contractors, Keystone Chapter.

Alex Hurst, Operations Manager

Alex graduated from ABC Keystone's electrical apprenticeship program and went on to serve as a field foreman for MVE Group before stepping into the role of Operations Manager. Alex has experience working on high voltage and low voltage projects and now enjoys overseeing all of our various installation and service departments. His role is to implement and maintain processes to improve efficiency and quality.

Michelle Mathason, Energy Manager

Michelle recently joined MVE Group's team to apply her knowledge in energy markets to MVE's growing portfolio of procurement, lighting, solar, and battery storage projects. Michelle graduated from Penn State University with a B.S. in Energy, Business, & Finance. Prior to joining MVE, Michelle was the head of operations at an energy brokerage firm.
