against any and all loss, damage, or expense (including, without limitation, tax liabilities or loss of tax benefits) arising directly or indirectly as a result of any transfer or purported transfer in violation of this Article X.

Section 10.2 Transferee Not a Member without Consent of Holders of Majority Interest.

(a) Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary (including, without limitation, Section 10.2 hereof) if Members holding a Majority Interest do not approve, by written consent, of the proposed sale or gift of the Transferring Member's Membership Interest or Economic Interest to a transferee or donee which is not a Member immediately prior to the sale or gift, then the proposed transferee or donee shall have no right to participate in the management of the business and affairs of the Company or to become a Member. The transferee or donee shall be merely an Economic Interest Owner. No transfer of a Member's interest in the Company (including any transfer of the Economic Interest or any other transfer which has not been approved by written consent of the Members holding a Majority Interest) shall be effective unless and until written notice (including the name and address of the proposed transferee or donee and the date of such transfer) has been provided to the Company and the non-transferring Members.

(b) Upon and contemporaneously with any sale or gift of a Transferring Member's Economic Interest in the Company which does not at the same time transfer the balance of the rights associated with the Economic Interest transferred by the transferring Member (including, without limitation, the rights of the Transferring Member to participate in the management of the business and affairs of the Company), the Company shall purchase from the Transferring Member, and the Transferring Member shall sell to the Company for a purchase price of $100.00 all remaining rights and interests retained by the Transferring Member which immediately prior to such sale or gift were associated with the transferred Economic Interest.

(c) Upon the death of any Member, that Member's heirs shall become an Economic Interest Owner only and shall have no voting or managerial rights in the business and affairs of the Company.

ARTICLE XI

ADDITIONAL MEMBERS

Section 11.1 Additional Members. From the date of the formation of the Company, any person or entity acceptable to Members holding a Majority Interest by their written consent may become a Member in the Company either by the issuance by the Company of Membership Interests for such consideration as Members holding a Majority Interest by their written consent shall determine, or as a transferee of a Member's Membership interest or any portion thereof, subject to the terms and conditions of this Operating Agreement. No new Members shall be entitled to any retroactive allocation of losses, income or expense deductions incurred by the Company. The Members may, by majority vote, at the time a Member is admitted, close the Company books (as though the Company's tax year had ended) or make pro rata allocations of loss, income and expense deductions to a new Member for that portion of the Company's tax year in which a Member was admitted in accordance with the provisions of Section 706(d) of the Code and the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder.

ARTICLE XII

DISSOLUTION AND TERMINATION

Section 12.1 Dissolution.

(a) The Company shall be dissolved and its affairs shall be wound up upon the happening of any of the first to occur of the following:

- (i) At the time specified in its Articles of Organization;
- (ii) Written consent of Members holding at least a Majority Interest; or
- (iii) An Event of Dissolution of a Member, unless there are at least two (2) remaining Members and the business of the Company is continued by the written consent of remaining Members holding a Majority Interest within ninety (90) days after the Event of Dissolution; and
- (iv) Entry of a decree of final dissolution under Section 43 of the Connecticut Act.

Each of the Members hereby agrees that within the sixty (60) days after the occurrence of an Event of Dissolution, they will promptly consent, in writing, to continue the business of the Company. Each of the Members further agrees promptly to consent, in writing, to continue the business of the Company upon a sale or gift either of a Member's entire Economic Interest to which all of the remaining Members do not consent within forty-five (45) days after the occurrence of such sale or gift or upon a sale or gift of a Transferring Member's entire Membership Interest. Such consents shall be mailed or hand delivered to the principal place of business of the Company set forth in Section 4.2 hereof (or to such other address designated by the Managers) no later than fifty (50) days after each Withdrawal Event or transfer by Member of its entire Economic Interest or Membership Interest. The sole remedy for breach of a Member's obligation to consent to continue the business of the Company under this Section shall be money damages (and not specific performance).

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Operating Agreement, if a Member or Members owning Company Interests which in the aggregate constitute not less than two-thirds of the Company Interests vote or consent in writing to dissolve the Company, than all of the Members shall agree in writing to dissolve the Company as soon as possible (but in any event not more than ten (10) days thereafter.)

(c) As soon as possible following the occurrence of any the events specified in this Section 12.1 effecting the dissolution of the Company, the Members shall proceed to wind up the Company's business in accordance with the Section 45 of the Connecticut Act.

(d) Except as expressly permitted in this Operating Agreement, a Member shall not voluntarily resign or take any other voluntary action which directly causes an Event of Dissolution. Unless otherwise approved in writing by Members owning a Majority Interest, and with the exception of Section 8.6, subpart B., a Member who resigns (a "Resigning Member") or whose Membership interest is otherwise terminated by virtue of an Event of Dissolution, regardless of whether such Event of Dissolution was the result of a voluntary act by such Member, shall not be entitled to receive any distributions to which such Member would have been entitled had such Member remained a Member. The Resigning Member shall only become an Economic Interest Owner to the extent applicable. Damages for breach of this Section 12.1(e) shall be monetary damages (and not specific performance), and such damages may be offset against distributions by the Company to which the Resigning Member would otherwise be entitled with.

12.2 Termination.

(a) No Member or Economic Interest Owner of the Company shall work for any company and/or business that competes directly with the Company.

(b) No Member of the Company shall provide the same energy consulting services that are being provided by the Company for his own private monetary gain or benefit independent of his position as Member of the Company.

(c) No Member of the Company shall solicit any existing or potential customers of the Company away from the Company for his own private monetary gain or benefit independent of his position as Member of the Company.

(d) No Member of the Company shall directly or indirectly compete with the Company's business while he is a Member of the Company.

(e) Any Member that violates any provision contained within this Section 12.2 shall have his membership and/or ownership interests in the Company terminated and forfeited immediately.

ARTICLE XIII

ABOUT US

Based in Clinton, CT, Kobiona is among the fastest-growing energy management consulting firms in the U.S. Our team of industry experts is fully committed to helping our customers become energy enthusiasts.

We support customers through the entire energy procurement process — from analyzing utility data to weighing various procurement structures and selecting the ideal supplier. Beyond procurement we also assist with bill pay and demand management to maximize efficiency and savings.

After years of putting energy buying decisions on the back burner, few things are more gratifying than hearing from our customers that they now view themselves as informed, confident buyers. That's when we know we've done our job!

A few key principles drive the actions of every one of our employees. This is the Kobiona way:

We believe in getting and spreading facts.

Let's face it, we're in a business of spin where "facts" are often predicated on the ability to close a deal. Not at Kobiona. We are going to present you with all available options and sometimes even advise that timing is not opportune to secure commodities.

We believe in listening.

Many energy management problems are embedded in organizational issues. The more care we take to understand the challenges you face the better recommendations we can offer.

We believe in education.

Despite our decades of experience, we consider ourselves humble students. We know markets can change on a dime largely influenced by politics, the economy, and technology. It's our responsibility to continue to educate ourselves as much as we educate our clients.

We believe in transparency.

Our clients do not commit to agreements or a strategy they don't fully understand. We make sure our clients can explain and advocate internally for whatever approach they ultimately decide to adopt.

KOBIONA

SOLUTIONS

Supplier and Contract Vetting

Actual unit costs per kWh or therm very often come down to contract terms and conditions as much, if not more, than different procurement approaches or quotes offered by different suppliers on any given day. This has become particularly critical in the past year when even some top-tier suppliers have elected to pass through costs to customers who thought they had secured fixed price agreements.

First, Kobiona is extremely selective about the supplier pool we have recruited to serve our clients, eliminating those without the suitable product suite, financial stability or experienced customer service to properly support our clients' needs. Next, Kobiona requires our supplier partners to submit any and all contract changes to our in-house counsel on a quarterly basis. This helps us to quantify and convey to our customers the potential risks associated with choosing one supplier over another- for equivalent products and rates.

Energy Procurement Strategies

Fixed price, block and index, capacity pass through are all procurement options you've likely heard about in the past. Helping determine which strategy makes sense at any given time requires an equally strong understanding of both current market conditions as well as your organization.

Understanding your organization to make the right recommendations is arguably a larger challenge. Our fundamental goal at Kobiona is to create informed, tailored and credible strategies based on the facts at hand. Those facts include the current climate at your organization, your firm's view of risk, desire for longer-term stability, ability to modify an agreement if the business sells, grows or shrinks. The better we can understand your specific organizational plans, hurdles, goals and idiosyncrasies, the better we can manage risk and reward on your behalf.

Budget Forecasting

Very often, energy buyers budget for 3-5% annual increases for costs — which is far out of line with actual market swings. Regardless of what term length for which you actually secure commodities, Kobiona can help you put together detailed budget forecasts for power and gas up to five years in advance.

Sustainability

From energy efficiency to demand response, capacity management to power sourced from renewable resources, Kobiona is poised to help your organization meet its sustainability goals and mandates.

KOBIONA

TRENDING

As we exit 2018 and start into 2019, here are five trends we're seeing among electricity buyers and in power and gas markets.

1 Volatility returns.

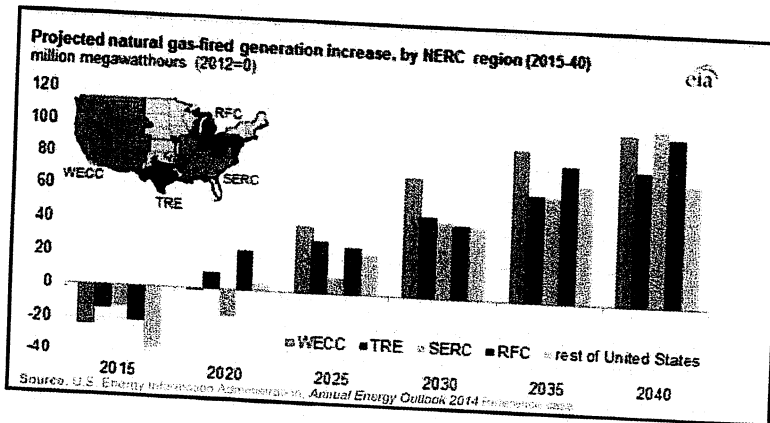

After a fairly flat market hovering close to the 5-year lows of 2016, natural gas rallied at the end of 2018 and power naturally followed. Why you ask? Three factors drove prices upward.

Weather. We had pretty normal weather throughout 2017, and unusual weather throughout 2018. From March 2018 onward, every month came in the opposite of meteorologists' expectations and many records were broken - the coldest April and November in history, the 4th hottest summer in history.

Domestic dependence on shale.

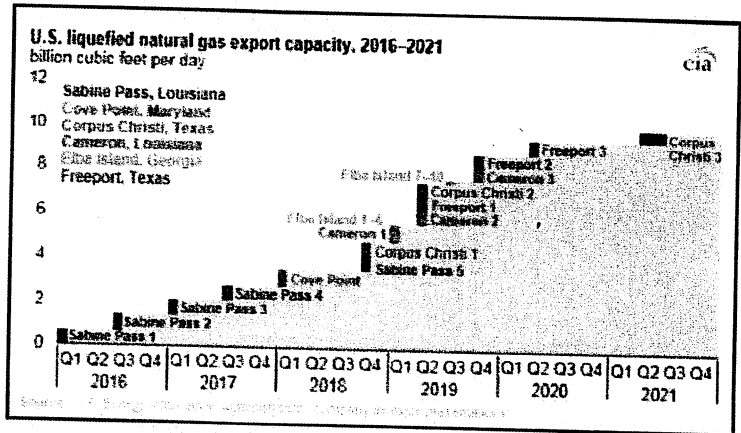

As a country we are now extremely dependent on all that "cheap" shale gas.

More coal plants retired in 2018 than any prior year, dropping installed capacity nationwide to only 246 gigawatts. This trend is expected to continue with coal capacity decreasing by another 15%, if not more, by 2024.

In turn, the EIA projects that natural gas-fired electric power sector generation in the U.S. will increase to 1,600 million megawatt-hours (MWh) by 2040, a 1.3% average annual increase.

Exports. Although we've known this was to come to pass for years, exports of that "cheap" shale gas started in 2016 and will continue to ramp up through 2021 in what we are calling "Phase 1" of Shale 2.0. By 2021, the U.S. will export about 10 BCF/day of LNG.

The net impact? As we entered the 18/19 winter, the U.S. had the least amount of natural gas in storage since 2002. Even an average winter would leave us in the Spring with the lowest inventories in history. The market is appropriately spooked and natural gas prices rallied to nearly $5/MMBTU.

2 Seasonality is out the window.

Buyers are realizing this was a long-held myth. There's no such thing as seasonal buying opportunities. The best time to buy forward contracts for any future term in 2018 was the end of February.

3 Supplier cost adjustments passed through to customers.

Owners and senior management have become increasingly frustrated with blown budgets after Paul in Procurement locks a 24 month "fixed" electric supply contract for $.092/kWh but Andrew in Accounting get billed $.098/kWh. Supplier cost adjustments were widespread in 2018 due to suppliers' miscalculation and under-collection of capacity and RPS, two expensive non-energy components in New England. Investigations of some suppliers are underway in CT and may expand to other impacted states.

Now more than ever we are being hired to vet supplier contracts, more of a concern to many customers in Massachusetts than rate differentials.

4 Customers seek new funding mechanisms as utility on-bill financing for efficiency projects diminishes.

As several major utilities scale back or eliminate their on-bill, no interest financing options for efficiency-related projects, facilities are seeking alternative funding mechanisms to get work completed. A few Tier 1 suppliers have begun offering funding programs for efficiency and other building improvements, allowing customers to pay off the project on their power bills over a 3-5 year period.

5 Sustainability is no longer a nice to have.

Most organizations are being pressed to meet mandates, whether driven by corporate policy or new state/city regulations. This is ranging from sourcing more green energy offset by Renewable Energy Certificates (RECs), installing electric vehicle charging stations, installing solar and other co-gen, and large-scale recycling.

KOBIONA

PRICE TRACKER

Why wait until your current electricity supply contract is about to expire to bid out your requirements?

Sample tracker for Masterfile's customers for whom we started monitoring the Dec 2019 to Dec 2021 term on October 2, 2019. Their strike price is $0.0921/kWh.

THE KOBIONA MONITOR

Markets move on a dime in New England. In understandable terms, our monthly email publication, The Kobiona Monitor, keeps energy buyers informed of market changes impacting future power and gas prices as well as regulatory and legislative changes specific to New England and Massachusetts.

May 2014 - December 2016

As a National Account Manager, I helped national retail chains design and implement their store lighting displays. This involved working with project management teams, third party freight companies, and design staff to ensure timely project completion. Retail store construction schedules have tight deadlines that need to be met, so my main responsibility was that we delivered on time and accurately.

I worked with large retail chains such as Dick's Sporting Goods, Foot Locker, and Carter's. I was heavily educated on the LED lighting industry, including retrofits, redesigns and efficiency upgrades.

Best Practice Energy LLC, South Kingstown, Rhode Island
Energy Sales Representative

January 2015 - January 2016

As an Energy Sales Representative, I worked with commercial, industrial, and non-profit clients on their energy procurement strategies. In this role, I was primarily responsible for new lead generation. My efforts focused on cold calling customers, setting appointments, and asking for engagements. I learned about the natural gas and electricity markets, and attended trade shows and seminars to keep up on market conditions. I managed clients during the entire sales cycle, from initial contact to renewal.
