To whom it may concern:

Im writing to request another opportunity to defend my case. I disagree with the decisions that were made.

From 1998 to late 2002 i lived in the property with my partner. also the mother of my children, the services were still on then shut off due to none payment. I never renewed the services thinking i could not due to the non payments at the time So i heated up the home with electricity.

I eventually ended up in another relationship where i would spend most of my time with my new partner. I also drove long distance for a living and spent most of my time over the road. So i had no reason to be home alone

It is why it never bother me to have services turned on at the time. My son had recently wanted to move into the property. so its why i had considered looking into having the services back on in the property in the future.

I had called pgw due to contractor digging the front of my home. yes i did try preventing what was going on because i was planning on getting services in the future.

They accused me with no proof of anything supposedly a red cap missing from meter and bike lock that looked new. The meter was in the house for over 20 years and looked just as new as the lock. There were photos shown to prove it.

But as for now Im asking for the debt to be removed and further investigation towards PGW accusations against me.
