Response to Amended Initial Litigation schedule to present factual and expert testimony of any person other than Complainant

In response to the amended initial litigation schedule in which Judge Watson requests to Complainant to present factual and expert testimony of any person other than Complainant by August 12, 2019. At this time I have not confirmed witnesses, as it is still premature in my active case. Since there have been numerous complaints added to my amended formal complaint which are complex, they should not be rushed and require time for me to complete. The financial cost and means of attaining witnesses for my case is burdensome as it is expensive. I do not have the resources the Respondent has at their disposal since they are a multi-billion dollar company and I am not. I reserve the right to supplement this answer as more information becomes available to me.
