To: Whom it May Concern on the PUC

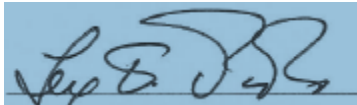

I writing to the PUC as part of the public comment period to voice my overall displeasure for the Mariner East Pipeline, the impact on our environment, proximity to residents along the path of the pipeline and the overall lack of any formalized emergency plan for residents to be notified should a leak occur.

I live along the path of the pipeline. I have participated in local meetings, gone to township meetings and kept a close eye on the continual missteps of this project. The mitigation to stop the inadvertent returns, sinkholes, and overall impact to our environment has been to fine Energy Transfer/Sunoco for countless of wrongdoings. Lately there have been documented incidents at Marsh Creek, the Exton Library and the pump station which is located at Boot Road and Route 202 in West Goshen. There seems to be little or no accountability for the litany of mistakes and it seems that there is a sense of inevitability that is sinking in that something catastrophic will need to occur for the PUC to respond. These highly volatile liquid gas pipelines have no odorant, can't be seen or smelled should a leak occur. In the densely populated areas that these pipelines are getting ready to be turned on, we as a community/state are staring down the barrel of something terrible that seemingly and statistically will occur before the brakes are put on this project.

So, by way of this letter I'm asking the PUC to call a time out and review where these pipes are located. Given the Karst topography and the ongoing sinkholes and inadvertent returns perhaps there should be a deeper dive of the location of these pipes and the potential risk as it relates to the reward (none for citizens of this state as I understand) that will be enjoyed by Energy Transfer/Sunoco.

Thank you for considering this request.

Respectfully,
