RE: Paul, Mary
DOB: 4/25/1950

To Whom It May Concern:

I evaluated Mrs. Mary Paul's medical history via telephone consultation on 7/20/2016. About seven years ago, Mrs. Paul noticed her sensitivity to Wi-Fi transmissions when remote Wi-Fi meters were installed on her air conditioning unit. She fell sick as soon as the meters started operating. Her symptoms disappeared immediately after the meters were removed from the unit. After smart meters were installed in her neighborhood on August 28, 2014, she developed the following symptoms:

- Insomnia
- Nervousness and Anxiety
- Difficulty concentrating and thinking in the proximity of any Wi-Fi devices
- Muscle cramps lasting for hours causing her to be incapacitated
- Recurrent sore throat
- Irritability
- Heart palpitations
- Problems with short-term memory

Due to her severe sensitivity, it is difficult for her to leave her house. Whenever she is in an environment with heavy Wi-Fi pollution, such as in town, her symptoms described above are exacerbated.

From her history, it is clear that Mrs. Paul is suffering from severe electromagnetic sensitivity. It is my medical opinion that the installation of smart meters on her house will be detrimental to her health. She is obviously affected severely by the smart meters on the houses around her. My recommendations are that she live in an environment and neighborhood free from any smart meters or Wi-Fi devices and more specifically, that the Automatic Reading Meter (AMR) meter that has been on her house be replaced with an analog meter.

Please feel free to contact me if you need any further information.

Sincerely,

Hanoch Talmor, M.D.
