Good morning. I am trying to formally withdraw from this complaint and I want to do it properly. My neighbors are all starting to file theirs and we are hoping to file together because we have our state's representative's office involved now. Since last Thursday, I've called the PUC multiple times to find out how to do this. They keep directing me to the Secretary's Bureau. I called the Secretary's Bureau and left a voicemail on Thursday 10/19. I also emailed Ariel Wolf on Friday 10/20 (see chain below). Apparently she forwarded my voice mail to the Office of Administrative Law. I've still not heard from them. According to the docket, Judy Eranda Vero is assigned to my case. Could you please tell me how I can withdraw this complaint and have the ability to resubmit at a later date?

Hi Ariel. I still haven't heard back from the Office of Administrative Law. Is there someone specific I can email or call? I believe you said you forwarded my voicemail to them last week.

Thanks,
Darcy Jones

Thank you for your quick reply I did call the Judge's office yesterday. Is that the same as Office of Administrative Law? Because the judges office said I had to contact The Secretary's Bureau. And another call I made this morning they gave me your email and said I had to go through the Secretary's Bureau.

Hello,

The Office of Administrative Law Judge would actually be the best area to answer your question, I had already forwarded your voicemail to them and they should get back to you soon.

Thank you,

Hello Ariel. I was given your name by 2 people with the PUC that you maybe able to help me. I would like to drop this formal complaint. I cannot afford a lawyer to help me go against Peco. Since I was just trying to get insurance deductible back, it just doesn't seem worth it to hire a lawyer. I also don't feel that I'm capable to represent myself against Peco's big in house lawyers. They would eat me alive if you know what I mean. Most of my neighbors are now starting to file formal complaints and I'm hoping if there are enough of them, the PUC will realize there is a problem and Peco is at fault. We also have our state representative involved.

So I would like to withdraw this complaint with hopes that our neighbors will be able to file a joint complaint one day. Could you please instruct me how to do this and where to send the letter?

Thank you,

Darcy Jones
