Yes we will be withdrawing the complaint. I did not include Ms Morris in that email because she's the main subject in an active investigation. This court has also been made aware the changing "facts" that have been introduced as evidence as well as the bribe I was offered to drop the complaint. Since none of that seems to matter it will have to be dealt with at a higher level. I am confident the investigation will expose the parties responsible for continuing this fraudulent activity.

Thank you for the quick response.

Just to be clear, are you seeking to withdraw your complaint and stating that you will not appear for the hearing this week? Please confirm one way or the other.

I will not cancel the hearing and the court reporter until I receive a confirmation that you are officially withdrawing the complaint.

I have attached what we sent to Ms Morris. It is all pages from evidence she had previously submitted. It also shows that she both claims to have made a phone call and claims not to have made a phone call so one of those is fake. The department of welfare has opened their own investigation into Ms Morris's conduct in this matter and met-ed's culpability in the falsified paperwork that was supplied to the state apparently on our behalf. Based on the perjured testimony, falsified evidence, and bribe attempts, we have decided to drop this complaint and pursue a civil case against both Ms Morris and Met-Ed after she is formally charged.
