Section 600 - Functionality in Emergency Situations

Under FCC Rules, an ETC must demonstrate its ability to remain functional in emergency situations. Since Boomerang Wireless, LLC d/b/a enTouch Wireless (Boomerang) is providing service to its customers through the use of facilities obtained from other carriers, it is able to provide to its customers the same ability to remain functional in emergency situations as currently provided by the carriers to their own customers, including access to a reasonable amount of back-up power to ensure functionality without an external power source, re-routing traffic around damaged facilities, and the capability of managing traffic spikes resulting from emergency situations.

Boomerang, along with their underlying carriers, have created back-up systems to ensure functionality in the event of a loss of power or network functionality. Boomerang's support facilities are housed in a carrier-class data center with fully redundant power and HVAC, a controlled temperature and humidity environment, fire-threat detection and suppression, year-round critical monitoring, and secure access with biometric security. The facility features redundant generators and redundant fiber optic connectivity. The data center is a reinforced concrete building located in a secure area and collocated with the area electrical generation plant. All systems within the facility are implemented on redundant servers, each with redundant data network and power.
