Good morning Your Honor,

As an update, the Complainant was provided with the electrician's information and was advised to schedule the work to be completed when it is convenient for her schedule. The Complainant is working directly with the contractor. PECO will cover the costs of the meter relocation upon its completion.

I will advise when the meter move is completed.

Thank you,
Khadijah

Good afternoon Your Honor,

As an update, PECO identified an approved electrician to perform the Complainant's meter move at her property. The Complainant was provided with the company's contact information and was advised to schedule the work to be completed when it is convenient for her schedule. The electrician was advised that he will be contacted directly by the Complainant. I will advise when the meter move is completed.

Thank you,

Good afternoon Your Honor,

As an update, the Complainant's meter will still be moved at PECO's cost. Typically, the customer would contract with the electrician to have the meter relocated at their cost and PECO is not involved in the scope of work. In this case, PECO has agreed to carry the cost of the work for the Complainant. PECO needs to ensure that the scope of work is within its electrical standards. The contractor bids and scope of work are still being redefined by the contractors who submitted their initial bids. I will provide another update shortly.

Thank you,
Khadijah

Good morning Your Honor,

Yes, it will be resolved. The Complainant's meter will be moved at PECO's cost. However, the contractor bids that were initially submitted to PECO had to be revised as they did not provide an estimate for the correct scope of work required. All contractors were asked to reassess their submissions. PECO will move forward as soon as the revised submissions are received.

Thank you,
Khadijah
