RE: Docket No. C-2024-3051393
Ronnie Gavarian v. Aqua Pennsylvania, Inc.
Answer and New Matter of Aqua

Dear Ms. Morris:

I received your letter this morning, via email, regarding the above-caption matter, and have to admit defeat. I know that must make you proud of what you do. After all, aren't attorneys the upholders of law? Those who intercede on the part of the downtrodden? The upstanding moral characters of society who work so hard on behalf of the people?

Clearly, without hiring an attorney I cannot continue, although I can respond to your boilerplate Answer, which you must churn out by the hundreds every month, but I won't. Do you ever think about what you do? Or has your profession become so rote and robotic that it means nothing more than pushing a button to produce another piece of legal paperwork designed to destroy an individual's concerns? Obviously, you know absolutely nothing about these newly designed meters, which in your own answer state that simply by "driving" by the house the meter can be read. If a meter can be read from approximately 100' away, what must it be emitting? But no one cares, especially not a law firm that is profiting from it. Just more corporate overlords doing their job to destroy society, aided and abetted by the likes of you.

I doubt I will be replying to this Answer in that I realize the citizens of this once great country no longer have a say as far as their rights are concerned. Imagine, I can no longer determine what I want or do not want in my own home! Imagine that. We are forced to do untoward things, or we will be punished like little children by the big bogeyman. The United States has become one big corporate leviathan, and you are one of the tentacles. The judicial system in this country has gotten so filthy and corrupt it is a sickening sight and you are part of the club.

Enjoy your win. You haven't earned it though. You've only destroyed someone's hopes and concerns regarding freedom of choice. With all your fancy citations and legal jargon, you continue to prove to me how empty, disconnected and selfish people have become.

There was a time when freedom was plentiful, pure, sacred and precious, but unfortunately those in positions of juris prudence robbed us of that. So happy with themselves and their next conquering, yet not realizing how they have whittled away at that freedom by perverting the law in their favor and forgetting about the common man.

I actually feel sorry for people like you who are stuck in boring, unfulfilling careers just to make money, and dismissing the true purpose of their original intent. Everyone goes on their career path with the best of intentions, but somehow along the way, they pollute themselves and fall prey to the evils of the world.

I will leave you with the quote from the true patriot, William Penn (just coincidentally from Pennsylvania): "Only free people have a choice. You are either governed by God or ruled by tyrants." How true.

Sincerely,
