INTERIM ORDER
REQUIRING REPRESENTATION

On April 29, 2025, Joanne Miller (Complainant) filed a formal complaint against FirstEnergy Pennsylvania Electric Company (FirstEnergy) and requested a payment arrangement.

FirstEnergy filed an answer and new matter on May 21, 2025. FirstEnergy admitted that it provides a service to the service address but alleged that the account is in the name of Nora Hospitality, LLC, which is a commercial account. FirstEnergy attached, among other things, an account statement in the name of Nora Hospitality, LLC. FirstEnergy denied the remaining material allegations in the complaint. FirstEnergy also included a new matter along with a notice to plead which stated that the customer, as a commercial enterprise, must be represented by counsel.

By notice dated June 23, 2025, the complaint was assigned to me and scheduled for a hearing on August 6, 2025. On June 23, 2025, I issued my customary prehearing order which set forth the procedures for the conduct of the hearing.

The Commission’s regulations provide that only an individual may represent themselves.¹ However, a partnership, limited liability company, corporation, trust, association,
