Re: Goodman v. PECO Energy Company – Electric
Docket No. C-2025-3053744

Dear Ms. Goodman:

On September 15, 2025, our office received an email message from you indicating you had concerns about your address being visible in public documents on our website. Please note that unless specifically requested via motion for protective order, filings with the Commission are deemed public documents. 52 Pa. Code §§ 1.71, 1.86.

Personal information is protected under the Breach of Personal Information Notification Act, 73 P.S. §§ 2301–2330 (BPINA). Section 2302 of the BPINA defines personal information as:

- (1) An individual's first name or first initial and last name in combination with and linked to any one or more of the following data elements when the data elements are not encrypted or redacted:
  - (i) Social Security number.
  - (ii) Driver's license number or a State identification card number issued in lieu of a driver's license.
  - (iii) Financial account number, credit or debit card number, in combination with any required security code, access code or password that would permit access to an individual's financial account.
  - (iv) Medical information in the possession of a State agency or State agency contractor.
  - (v) Health insurance information.
  - (vi) A user name or e-mail address, in combination with a password or security question and answer that would permit access to an online account.

Further, the BPINA also states that, “[t]he term [personal information] does not include publicly available information that is lawfully made available to the general public from Federal, State or local government records or widely distributed media.” 73 P.S. § 2302(2), “Personal information” (emphasis added).

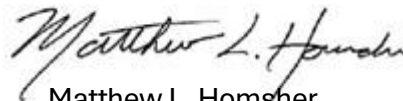

The Commission is required by its regulations to protect personally identifiable information. I would note that your personally identifiable information as defined by the BPINA was not published on our website. Although your personal phone number, email address, and home address may have appeared on various documents, your name and contact information did not appear in combination with and linked to any one or more of the data elements set forth in the BPINA. Further, as an active party and litigant in this proceeding, if you had questions or concerns about your personal information being published to the Commission's website, you were free to ask the presiding Administrative Law Judge for appropriate protections to be put in place. Unfortunately, you did not avail yourself of those protections and the Secretary's Bureau is not permitted to unilaterally modify documents that have been filed in a proceeding.

Your case was closed on June 19, 2025. So, at this point in the process, you would have to petition the Commission to open your case so you can file a motion for protective order to mark your contact information as confidential. The utility company will be provided with an opportunity to respond to your petition and motion. After due consideration of your petition and motion, and any response thereto, the Commission will issue a ruling either granting or denying the same. If the petition and motion are granted, your information can then be removed/redacted from the public record.

While I can appreciate your concerns, as I stated above, without an order from the Commission, the Secretary's Bureau cannot alter or modify public documents filed on the record before the Commission. Accordingly, absent an order from the Commission, we are unable to accommodate your request to remove your contact information appearing on the public filings of record in this formal complaint case.

Sincerely,

Matthew L. Homsher
Secretary
