- (1) The total estimated cost of construction of facilities.

Penna. Public Utility Comm.

(C) indicates change APR 22 1993

(2) The present value of the carrying cost of income taxes paid with respect to the advance. The company will calculate the present value of the carrying costs that will be incurred by the company as a result of the delay between federal and Pennsylvania corporate income taxation of amounts recorded under item (1) and the income tax deductions over the tax life of the property to be constructed. In making the present value calculation, the company will use a discount rate approved for the company by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission or a return based upon the company's most recently-concluded rate case under Section 1308(d) of the Public Utility Code.

(3) An amount for additional income taxes to be paid by the company as a result of receipt of the amount determined in item (2), above, determined by multiplying the amount determined under item (2), above, by 0.6559 (based upon current tax rates). Following completion of construction, the total, actual cost of construction will be determined. The difference, if any, between the estimated cost and the actual cost of construction will be determined. Such difference, together with amounts for item(2) and (3) above, shall be recovered from, or refunded to, the customer, as appropriate.

b. The company will make refunds of advances for construction if all of the following conditions have been met:

(1) The developer claiming a refund has entered into a refundable deposit agreement with the company under which such developer advanced money to the company for financing of construction of facilities of advanced facilities and under which the company agreed to make the claimed refunds.

(2) The developer actually made the advances required under the agreement with the company.

(3) The period of time specified in the agreement between the company and developer for making refunds had not expired as to the refunds claimed.

(4) Total refunds made by the company to the entity, together with refunds claimed, pursuant to the agreement under which refunds are claimed, are not more than the amount advanced by the developer. The amount of refunds shall be determined in a manner that does not increase the revenue requirements to be borne by ratepayers that are not served by use of facilities which were financed by the advance. In addition to the amount of refunds explained above, the company will also refund an amount computed in the manner explained in item(2) and (3) above.
