

This comment is regarding the greed and recklessness of Big Tech. Pennsylvania does not want or need largescale AI data centers. That we will be forced to subsidize this infrastructure through higher energy costs is unfair, and the threat they pose to the health of our planet is entirely immoral. The demand for AI has been completely fabricated by these tech interests, and is most likely a bubble they will profit from in the short-term while the long-term implications are catastrophic for the planet, for our water resources, and an unequitable burden for consumers.
