Hawaii doctor accused of trying to kill his wife convicted of attempted manslaughter

By Jennifer Sinco Kelleher
Associated Press

HONOLULU (AP) — A Hawaii anesthesiologist who was accused of trying to murder his wife on a scenic cliffside hike with ocean views last year has been convicted of the lesser charge of attempted manslaughter.

A Honolulu jury returned the verdict against Gerhardt Konig, 47, on Wednesday after a day of deliberations. He was convicted of attempted manslaughter based on extreme mental or emotional disturbance, which carries up to 20 years in prison. Sentencing was set for Aug. 13.

Thomas Otake, his attorney, said he planned to appeal. Nevertheless, Otake said the defense respected the jury's verdict.

"We are thankful that they did not convict him of attempted murder, which would have been life in prison," Otake said. "We look forward to an appeal related to some of the judge's rulings throughout the case."

Distraught over her relationship with a coworker, Konig planned to kill his wife, Arielle Konig, during a weekend trip to Honolulu for her birthday in March 2025, prosecutors said. They said he tried to push her off a cliff and stab her with a syringe, and when that didn't work he struck her with a rock. The attack was interrupted by two hikers who heard her cries for help.

The defendant testified that it was his wife who first hit him with a rock, and he hit her back in self-defense.

Konig stood as the jury's foreperson announced the verdict, then closed his eyes and lowered his face. His parents declined to comment to reporters afterward. Arielle Konig was not in court.

Jurors explain conviction on lesser charge:

Jury foreperson Makalapua Atkins said deliberations focused on what transpired on the trail. She said jurors examined the testimony of those who were at the scene to see where they matched up and where there were inconsistencies.

"At the end of the day when it comes down to it, she was hit in the head. And a head injury can be serious. And that's a very deadly part of the body," Atkins told reporters after the verdict was read.

Jurors believed the relationship Arielle Konig had with a coworker was sufficient to cause "an emotional disturbance" and this affected their verdict, she said.

Under Hawaii law, if jurors believe a defendant committed attempted murder but was under the influence of an extreme mental or emotional disturbance at the time, they must reduce the charge to attempted manslaughter if they believe there was a reasonable explanation for the disturbance.

The defense's arguments:

During closing arguments, the doctor's lawyer repeatedly sought to cast doubt on Arielle Konig's account.

If Gerhardt Konig had wanted to kill his wife and had access to a syringe in a remote area, attorney Thomas Otake suggested to jurors during closing arguments, wouldn't he have drugged her and then thrown her from the cliff, rather than having started a scuffle before attempting to fill the syringe as he was wrestling with her?

"You would use the syringe first," Otake said. "It makes no sense."

The trial started last month, nearly a year after Gerhardt and Arielle Konig went on a hike on the Pali Puka trail in Honolulu that ended with her bloodied and screaming that he had tried to kill her.

Their two young sons stayed home on Maui while the Konigs were on the trip.

The Pali Puka trail has long been closed by the state of Hawaii due to its danger but social media sites feature it. People trespass on state land to take in its views and snap photos. Arielle Konig described it as having "narrow ridge sections with steep drop-offs on both sides."

Gerhardt and Arielle Konig testify:

The trial, with testimony livestreamed by Court TV, has aired the couple's marital problems leading up to the hike, along with their versions of what happened on the trail.

Gerhardt Konig testified that his wife was having an affair, which he confirmed by unlocking her phone while she slept. The relationship, which Arielle Konig characterized as an "emotional affair" involving flirty messages with a coworker, came up during the hike.

Arielle Konig testified that her husband grabbed her and moved her toward the cliff's edge, but she threw herself on the ground in an attempt to hold on. He straddled her and had a syringe in his hand, she said, but she batted it away. She bit his forearm and squeezed his testicles in an attempt to get him off her, she said.

Her husband denied pushing her toward the edge and testified that she hit him with a rock on the side of his face. He wrestled the rock away and hit her with it twice in self-defense, he said.

Gerhardt Konig also denied having any syringes on the mountain or trying to stab his wife. His defense attorney said no syringe was found at the scene because he never had one.

Otake said Gerhardt Konig was not someone who would try to commit murder, but someone who was struggling with infidelity and trying to do his best. Otake quoted from a heart-shaped birthday card Gerhardt Konig had written to his wife, calling her "the heart of our family" and saying, "The kids and I hit the jackpot with you."

Gerhardt Konig testified that as he watched his wife crawl away, he believed his marriage and career were over, and he decided to jump to his death. But first, he called his adult son from a previous marriage. The son told authorities that his father said he "tried to kill your stepmom" — a confession Gerhardt Konig denied having made.

Konig testified that he called his son to say good-bye.

During that call, the defendant made no reference to having struck his wife in self-defense, deputy prosecutor Joel Garner said.

He spent about eight hours hiding on the mountain before deciding to come down, and even then, he tried to flee when confronted by police, Garner said.

His wife has since filed for divorce.

US stocks rise and oil prices trim their gains on hopes for the ceasefire with Iran

By Stan Choe
Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. stocks rose Thursday, even though oil prices did too, as financial markets moved more modestly a day after surging on optimism about a ceasefire in the war with Iran.

The morning began with moderate losses for Wall Street following drops for Asian and European stocks. But the S&P 500 erased its dip and finished with a 0.6% gain after Israel's prime minister authorized direct negotiations with Lebanon. That eased worries that the two-week ceasefire announced late Tuesday may already be in trouble because of Israel's bombardment of Lebanon.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average added 275 points, or 0.6%, and the Nasdaq composite climbed 0.8% after both indexes likewise recovered from early losses.

Crude oil prices pared some of their gains, but they nevertheless remained higher for the day on uncertainty about when oil tankers can start fully flowing through the Strait of Hormuz. The narrow waterway has been at the center of President Donald Trump's demands of Iran, and blockages there have kept oil and natural gas stuck in the Persian Gulf and away from customers worldwide.

The price for a barrel of benchmark U.S. crude rose 3.7% to settle at $97.87 after briefly nearing $103 in the morning. Brent crude, the international standard, added 1.2% to $95.92 per barrel.

Given how far apart the United States and Iran seem to be in their demands, upward pressure on oil prices may be "here to stay for a while" according to strategists at Macquarie led by Thierry Wizman. Risks remain for renewed fighting, which could cause customers worldwide to hoard whatever oil supplies they do get. That could itself keep oil off the market, much like actual fighting targeting pipelines or oil tankers.

Oil prices have been swinging through sharp and sudden reversals for weeks with hopes rising and falling for the Strait of Hormuz to fully reopen and allow production of oil and natural gas to kick back into gear. Brent oil has gone from roughly $70 per barrel before the war in late February to more than $119 at times.

Despite all the swings, the U.S. stock index at the heart of many 401(k) accounts isn't far from its all-time high. The S&P 500 is just 2.2% below its record set in January.

Constellation Brands climbed 8.5% for one of the index's biggest gains on Thursday after reporting stronger results for the latest quarter than analysts expected. The company, which sells Modelo beer and Robert Mondavi wines, said it saw encouraging trends heading into its new fiscal year. But it pulled its financial forecasts for the following fiscal year because of "limited near-term visibility" and other factors.

CoreWeave rose 3.5% after announcing an expanded, $21 billion deal with Meta Platforms to provide AI cloud capacity through December 2032. Meta climbed 2.6%.

On the losing end of Wall Street was Simply Good Foods, which sank 18.1% after reporting a worse drop in revenue than analysts expected. CEO Joe Scalzo called the results unsatisfactory and said the company behind the Quest and Atkins brands is making immediate changes to turn around its performance.

All told, the S&P 500 rose 41.85 points to 6,824.66. The Dow Jones Industrial Average added 275.88 to 48,185.80, and the Nasdaq composite climbed 187.42 to 22,822.42.

Mixed reports on the U.S. economy also helped keep Wall Street in check. One said an underlying measure of inflation the Federal Reserve considers important was slightly hotter in February than economists expected. It decelerated before the war with Iran began, but not by as much as economists expected.

A separate report said that more U.S. workers applied for unemployment benefits last week than economists expected. The number was not very high compared with history, but it could indicate an acceleration in layoffs.

Treasury yields swiveled up and down in the bond market following the reports before pulling near where they were the day before.

The yield on the 10-year Treasury edged down to 4.28% from 4.29% late Wednesday. It's still well above its 3.97% level from before the war, which has sent rates higher for mortgages and other kinds of loans going to U.S. households and businesses.

If oil prices stay high and keep upward pressure on inflation, the Federal Reserve would have a tough time resuming its cuts to interest rates to help the slowing economy, even if the job market weakens. A growing number of Fed officials seem to be considering the possibility of a hike in rates, according to minutes of their latest meeting released on Wednesday.

In stock markets abroad, South Korea's Kospi fell 1.6%, and Germany's DAX lost 1.1% for two of the world's biggest moves.

The Last Word in Astrology

by Eugenia Last

FRIDAY, APRIL 10, 2026
CELEBRITIES BORN ON THIS DAY: Alex Pettyfer, 36; Haley Joel Osment, 38; Shay Mitchell, 39; Dion Phaneuf, 41.

Happy Birthday: Control your emotions, and avoid backlash. If you want to bring about positive change, go through the proper channels and document your every move. You can accomplish plenty if you are specific regarding your intentions and your needs. You can't buy love, but you can win favors if you are willing to meet others halfway. Compromise is your ticket forward. Don't sit idle when making a move is necessary. Your numbers are 3, 11, 20, 27, 32, 41, 43.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Refuse to let anyone talk you into something you don't need. Scams are prevalent, and overpaying for a hyped-up product or inflated quote will set you back. When in doubt, take a pass and focus on unfinished projects that you can do yourself. Choose what serves you best financially, emotionally and physically. Exercise and research are favored. 2 stars

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Take care of unfinished business. Follow the rules, instructions and regulations that may slow you down. An opportunity will surface if you apply for a position or go for an interview. Be sure to ask questions and get what you want in writing. A high-energy approach to your pursuits will be met with applause. Romance is favored. 5 stars

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Be part of the solution, not the problem. Consider the positive changes you can make if you fact-check and research the best way to proceed. How you help others will determine your popularity. Talk is cheap if you don't follow through. Problems with authority figures, investments and medical issues will surface if you step out of line. 3 stars

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Take more time to appreciate what is going your way, and spend less time worrying and criticizing what isn't. Attitude is everything when you want to get things done. Consider how you can make improvements to your life, your appearance and your relationships. Start with a plan that makes you look and feel your best. Romance is in the stars. 3 stars

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Buckle up and get busy. Traveling, making new friends and indulging in something that expands your mind, skills and perception of how you want your life to unfold will change your course. Don't share too much personal information; listen, absorb and determine what and who are in sync with you, your beliefs and your values. Equality is essential. 3 stars

VIRO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Network, interact with people who have as much to offer as you and implement positive changes that help you broaden your awareness regarding what's possible. Love is on the rise, and healthy discussions that share expectations will help solidify a meaningful relationship. What you do to encourage, support and help others or a cause will make a difference. 5 stars

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Slow down, and think before you spend. Only offer what's feasible and make promises you can fulfill. Discipline and ingenuity, along with completion, will lead to victory. Refuse to let laziness play a role in the outcome of a relationship. Surround yourself with those who share your expectations, and avoid a negative outcome. A change of scenery is favored. 2 stars

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Put on your thinking cap, and you'll come up with an idea that will encourage a new adventure. A personal or professional partnership opportunity looks promising, and taking steps to ensure it unfolds in a timely fashion is in your best interest. Social events and sensitive topics of conversation will require finesse and delicate monitoring. 3 stars

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Put some time, money and thought into your living arrangements. It's time to upgrade your surroundings to suit your needs. Do as much of the work yourself as you can, and enjoy the outcome. A proper workspace will help you be more productive. A change to how you earn your living will encourage higher income or debt relief. 3 stars

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Ease into whatever you want to do, and spare yourself taking on too much or upsetting a situation that is already festering. Work on personal growth, health and making positive personal changes. Nurture meaningful relationships, listen and compromise, and you'll find solutions that ease stressful situations. Don't dig yourself into a hole when it's time to climb out. 3 stars

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Keep a low profile, and you'll accomplish the most. A lifestyle change is on your agenda, and putting the pieces in place will put your mind at rest. Home is where the heart is, and the comfort and joy you aspire to will determine the outcome. A positive mindset will motivate you to open doors to new beginnings. 3 stars

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Keep life simple and affordable. Initiate positive change and healthy choices. A personal makeover will be uplifting and entice you to participate in events or activities of interest. Someone you encounter will offer insight into how you can use your skills more effectively. Personal gain is within reach if you set boundaries instead of going overboard. 4 stars

Birthday Baby: You are sensitive, creative and adaptable. You are proactive and entertaining.

The Last Word in Astrology

by Eugenia Last

FRIDAY, APRIL 10, 2026
CELEBRITIES BORN ON THIS DAY: Alex Pettyfer, 36; Haley Joel Osment, 38; Shay Mitchell, 39; Dion Phaneuf, 41.

Happy Birthday: Control your emotions, and avoid backlash. If you want to bring about positive change, go through the proper channels and document your every move. You can accomplish plenty if you are specific regarding your intentions and your needs. You can't buy love, but you can win favors if you are willing to meet others halfway. Compromise is your ticket forward. Don't sit idle when making a move is necessary. Your numbers are 3, 11, 20, 27, 32, 41, 43.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Refuse to let anyone talk you into something you don't need. Scams are prevalent, and overpaying for a hyped-up product or inflated quote will set you back. When in doubt, take a pass and focus on unfinished projects that you can do yourself. Choose what serves you best financially, emotionally and physically. Exercise and research are favored. 2 stars

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Take care of unfinished business. Follow the rules, instructions and regulations that may slow you down. An opportunity will surface if you apply for a position or go for an interview. Be sure to ask questions and get what you want in writing. A high-energy approach to your pursuits will be met with applause. Romance is favored. 5 stars

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Be part of the solution, not the problem. Consider the positive changes you can make if you fact-check and research the best way to proceed. How you help others will determine your popularity. Talk is cheap if you don't follow through. Problems with authority figures, investments and medical issues will surface if you step out of line. 3 stars

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Take more time to appreciate what is going your way, and spend less time worrying and criticizing what isn't. Attitude is everything when you want to get things done. Consider how you can make improvements to your life, your appearance and your relationships. Start with a plan that makes you look and feel your best. Romance is in the stars. 3 stars

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Buckle up and get busy. Traveling, making new friends and indulging in something that expands your mind, skills and perception of how you want your life to unfold will change your course. Don't share too much personal information; listen, absorb and determine what and who are in sync with you, your beliefs and your values. Equality is essential. 3 stars

VIRO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Network, interact with people who have as much to offer as you and implement positive changes that help you broaden your awareness regarding what's possible. Love is on the rise, and healthy discussions that share expectations will help solidify a meaningful relationship. What you do to encourage, support and help others or a cause will make a difference. 5 stars

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Slow down, and think before you spend. Only offer what's feasible and make promises you can fulfill. Discipline and ingenuity, along with completion, will lead to victory. Refuse to let laziness play a role in the outcome of a relationship. Surround yourself with those who share your expectations, and avoid a negative outcome. A change of scenery is favored. 2 stars

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Put on your thinking cap, and you'll come up with an idea that will encourage a new adventure. A personal or professional partnership opportunity looks promising, and taking steps to ensure it unfolds in a timely fashion is in your best interest. Social events and sensitive topics of conversation will require finesse and delicate monitoring. 3 stars

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Put some time, money and thought into your living arrangements. It's time to upgrade your surroundings to suit your needs. Do as much of the work yourself as you can, and enjoy the outcome. A proper workspace will help you be more productive. A change to how you earn your living will encourage higher income or debt relief. 3 stars

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Ease into whatever you want to do, and spare yourself taking on too much or upsetting a situation that is already festering. Work on personal growth, health and making positive personal changes. Nurture meaningful relationships, listen and compromise, and you'll find solutions that ease stressful situations. Don't dig yourself into a hole when it's time to climb out. 3 stars

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Keep a low profile, and you'll accomplish the most. A lifestyle change is on your agenda, and putting the pieces in place will put your mind at rest. Home is where the heart is, and the comfort and joy you aspire to will determine the outcome. A positive mindset will motivate you to open doors to new beginnings. 3 stars

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Keep life simple and affordable. Initiate positive change and healthy choices. A personal makeover will be uplifting and entice you to participate in events or activities of interest. Someone you encounter will offer insight into how you can use your skills more effectively. Personal gain is within reach if you set boundaries instead of going overboard. 4 stars

Birthday Baby: You are sensitive, creative and adaptable. You are proactive and entertaining.
