1. DEFINITIONS USED IN TARIFF

Move: The job of a moving company moving household goods from the pick-up location to the destination location.

Mover: Move Me Moving, LLC including laborers, contractors or owner responsible for moving customer goods to and from pick-up location and destination location.

Shipper / Customer: The individual or entity contracting the Carrier for moving services.

Bill of Lading: A detailed breakdown of the “move” that documents all essential details of the service agreement, inventory, pricing and liability terms. The Bill of Lading serves as the legally binding contract between the moving company and the customer.

Estimate: A detailed description of pricing, inventory, equipment costs, labor costs and time estimated that the “move” will require to be completed. The estimate provided at the beginning of the “move” is only an estimate. Final cost of “move” may differ from estimate depending on the actual time and services required to complete the “move”.

Local Move: Transportation of household goods within a 40-mile radius, measured by the shortest practical highway distance, entirely within Pennsylvania.

Long-Distance Move: Transportation of household goods between points in Pennsylvania where the distance between origin and destination is in excess of forty (40) miles. Rates for long-distance moves are not hourly. Long-distance transportation charges are calculated strictly and solely based on two factors: (1) The net weight of the shipment (in pounds, determined by certified scale weight tickets); and (2) The exact mileage transported between the origin and destination.

Valuation of Goods: The process of determining the monetary worth or fair market value of the customer’s household items for insurance purposes.

5. VALUATION AND CARRIER LIABILITY
