I presently live next to an existing powerline situated in Handentown, Fayette Co. which has presented with a handful of problems. Over the years the spraying to keep the growth of weeds, trees etc, has been concerning. One year after spraying it killed the grass, changed the color of the outside walls of my above ground pool, as well my deck and garage! The noise is also unbearable, especially when it rains or snows. I have along with those that have resided around me have had various health issues. This is farmland so I have goats and our neighbors have cattle, horses, ducks, donkeys and chickens and I am concerned as to what could be happening to them. They have also taken away from the beauty of living in the country with placing windmills etc, us, which increases the noise, the depreciation of the value of what we own and treasure would be at great risk if get another transmission line would be placed here, along with the fact it would be unbearable to be able to try to reside here. It would also chase away the wildlife we see everyday. From our area, I have lived here most of my life (67 1/2 yrs) and would have never dreamt that the beauty of country living would have turned into what we have experienced over the years
