Every driver needs to go through a drug test ran by Quest Diagnostics before getting hired and at random every year, if anything is to comeback positive at any of these random or yearly there will be an automatic termination that will be noted on their interview when they first apply for the job. Drivers need to go through a series of NEMT theoretical and practical training, like going alongside their senior driver leader on their runs to see how members/ customers are handled, how to react to certain situations and any operational training needed in case there are handicap accessible vehicles that need to be used. Alongside CPR and First Aid training, and the Passenger Assistance Safety and Sensitivity (PASS) test done through the CTAA.org
