RE: Formal Comments Objecting to Tentative Cancellation of Property Certificate of Public Convenience Authority

To the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission:

Please accept this letter as formal comments and objection to the tentative cancellation of our Pennsylvania Property Certificate of Public Convenience authority.

IRONCORE INDUSTRIES, through its operating divisions Keyser Valley Auto Wreckers and Milewski Towing & Recovery, continues to actively operate within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania providing towing, recovery, transportation, emergency response, and related services requiring PUC operating authority.

The reporting of zero net revenue was not intended to indicate inactivity or abandonment of authority, but rather was associated with revenue classifications, exemptions, and/or reporting connected to UCR registration and federally regulated transportation activities.

At no time has our company ceased operations under its PUC authority, nor do we intend to surrender or abandon such authority. We continue to maintain active operations, commercial insurance, equipment, personnel, and transportation-related services throughout Pennsylvania.

Our company regularly performs emergency towing and recovery operations, transportation services, incident response, and related public roadway assistance within the Commonwealth. Cancellation of this authority would negatively impact our ability to continue providing these services.

Accordingly, we respectfully request that the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission withdraw the tentative cancellation order and allow our Property Certificate of Public Convenience authority to remain active and in good standing.

Should the Commission require any additional information or supporting documentation, we will provide it promptly upon request.

Respectfully,

Michael Milewski

President
