

George Lomax began his career in leak detection and leak investigation with Heath Consultants in 1970. He has had a number of different responsibilities with Heath Consultants, including Area Manager, Area Sales Manager, Manager of Petroleum Industry Services, and Director of Engineering and Technical Services. He is presently the Sales Consultant for the Mid-Atlantic States.

Mr. Lomax is a member of the Gas Piping Technology Committee.